PROLOGUE

SUMMARIZING THE PAST IN RETROSPECT, AND CONTEMPLATING THE FUTURE, THE EDITORS HAVE ATTEMPTED TO DEPICT OUR UNIVERSITY, ITS TRADITIONS, ITS FRIENDSHIPS, AND ITS CONGENIAL SPIRIT
ANNUAL PUBLICATION OF THE STUDENT BODY OF WASHINGTON AND
LEE UNIVERSITY AT LEXINGTON, VIRGINIA
DEDICATION

To the memory of

DR. EDGAR FINLEY SHANNON

this forty-fifth volume of The Calyx is respectfully dedicated
ECONOMIST

Glover Dunn Hancock, Ph.D.

A great student of commerce and economics, Dr. Hancock is an ideal Dean of the school of Commerce, and much of the credit given Washington and Lee in business affairs is due to his efforts. Future executives will appreciate the training received under his guidance.

---

SCIENTIST

William Dana Hoyt, Ph.D.

Dr. Hoyt's extensive knowledge of the Science of Biology aids infinitely in the undergraduate preparation of Washington and Lee's contributions to the field of science and medicine. His long service has qualified him for the respect and appreciation of student and colleague alike.

---

BARRISTER

William Haywood Moreland, LL.B., LL.D.

Dr. Moreland has aided immensely in the ranking of Washington and Lee's Law School as one of the nation's finest. The field of Law needs more men like him, whose wide judgment and complete training serve as inspiration and preparation for those in whose hands lies the progress of law. He is the head of a school which already has contributed many of the nation's leaders, and under Dr. Moreland's guidance should add many more to the list of the "Law's great."
LINGUIST
Thomas James Farrar, Ph.D.
A master linguist, Dr. Farrar knows his subject and his students. Those in his classes refer to him as the dean of Academic professors and dean of gentlemen, for his knowledge and his thirty years of service to the University. His might be the unofficial title—"Dean of Academics."

SALUTING OUR LEADERS

JOURNALIST
Oscar W. Riegel, M.A.
A knowledge of current journalistic methods, coupled with a background of practical experience, has enabled Mr. Riegel to continue the record of our Journalism School, founded, as one of the nation's first, by General Robert E. Lee in 1869. Under his direction, the Washington and Lee School of Journalism of the present day has annually extended its facilities to all interested in the field of newspaper work.

To the Seniors:

A recent writer has made a pertinent comment to the effect that Americans are great collectors; we collect antique furniture, old books, quaint glassware, and archaic prints—the writer might have added even walking-sticks. But few of us, this observation continues, collect the most precious item; few of us are "collectors of happy memories." It is strange and almost tragic that this statement should be true. The happy memory is more than a treasured pleasantness, more than a shadowy retreat to which we may flee from the devastation of the contemporary. Certainly for the college student, the happy memory should be the residence of inspiration. There we recall the sweetness of an ancient honor, the warmth of old friendship, the vividness of ideals once clearly seen but dimmed perhaps by later years. There we discover in original beauty the old purposes that once gave life great promise. From the happy memory we are refreshed and we are strengthened. As this book makes a visible record of your college days, so may the secure vaults of your memory safeguard the finest and loveliest of recollections.

Francis P. Gaines, President.

HISTORY

The Washington and Lee Forensic Union was formed in October, 1937, as an alliance of Graham-Lee and Washington Literary Society. Last year these organizations held joint meetings through the Union, but in other respects they kept their separate identity.

Now they have withdrawn from the Union. The Union still functions as a public speaking course for freshmen and sophomores, though upperclassmen also take part. It provided training for more advanced speaking and debate work at the University. Under the alliance it was found that competition between Washington and Graham-Lee was difficult, as each member supported his respective society. Under the present set-up each of the societies furnishes an executive committeemen and two floor leaders to the Union. Other members of the literary groups also attend, but debates between government and opposition are decided by a vote irrespective of societies. A delegate from one society may be on the same side as a delegate from the other. All questions debated are of a liberal or conservative nature.

The literary societies are now competing as separate honorary organizations. Additional membership will be limited and picked from the entire student body. It is hoped that the honorary status of the groups will stimulate interest in them.

The new system has proved much better than the old and is causing great revival in the work and prestige of the societies and the Union.

The beginning of this school year found the Troubadours with little, or no, organization. Mr. Watkin, former director, had left the group to its own management, with Tom Tennant in charge. The latter took hold at once, however, and through his efforts the dramatic club continued smoothly. Now the Troub theater is in good condition, with new lights and scenery, which will doubtless benefit future productions.

Under the direction of Tennant, the group produced, "Criminal at Large," as its fall production. Featuring James Faulkner, Jack Stuart, and Mike Watt in the male leads, with Dolly Burks and Mrs. Mary Maulsby in the female parts. This play proved to be an immense success. In the supporting parts were James Clark, Dick Danahy, and John Friedlander.

With the coming of Spring also comes the latest in the Troubadour productions, Valentine Katyanu's "Squaring the Circle," an amusing piece about Communist Russians. Featured in this play is John Alnutt, whose return to the stage this year has added much to the Troub personnel. Other leading members of the cast are: Ernest Woodward, John Friedlander, and Francis "Slugger" Sugrue, of football fame.

Coupled with the excellent work of Tennant as director, Kenneth Moxely's sets must be given much credit for the success of these plays. Other valuable men to the organization are Ernest Woodward, who works as publicity man as well as actor, and T. K. Helm, who handles the business end of the group.

EDWARD PARKER TWOMBLY

Four consecutive conference championships and a string of 54 successive dual triumphs attest to "Cy" Twombly's ability as coach of swimming. A natural athlete himself, he has participated in almost every branch of sports, and while his record serves as an example for the athletes under him, his leadership and personality earn for him the respect and admiration of all who know him.

THE COACHES

RICHARD A. SMITH

Being Director of Athletics and baseball coach meant a lot of work, but "Captain Dick" Smith takes time off from duty to prove an able leader of athlete and student alike.

HARRY K. YOUNG

"Cy" Young, who is secretary of the Alumni Association and varsity basketball, freshman football and baseball coach, was one of the Generals' greatest athletes, and his reputation as a coach overshadows even his achievements as a participant.

WARREN E. TILSON

Not the world's best coach of the world's best football team, but all who have ever worn the Blue and White on the football field will remember him for his leadership, his inspiration, and his ability.

A. F. MATHIS

The man responsible for the national recognition of W. & L's wrestling teams is Coach "Archie" Mathis. A former Illinois-wrestling star himself, Mathis has taken questionable material and built it into championship teams.

FOREST FLETCHER

A former Notre Dame trackman and participant in the World Olympics, Coach Fletcher, the mentor of W. & L. track teams, always has his boys giving their best in tribute to his ability as their guiding spirit.

RESUME OF SEASON

Washington and Lee’s fighting Generals, termed the Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde of Virginia football, ended a mediocre season of up and down football by winning four games, losing four, and tying one. The Blue gridders finished fifth in the state standings and eighth in the Southern Conference. They placed one man, Joe Oschie at tackle, on the first team Associated Press All-State, while Boisseau, Bishop, and Harrison Hogan were awarded second team honors on the mythical eleven.

Despite their up and down season, Tilson’s streamlined sophomores and veteran seniors showed plenty of potential strength on numerous occasions. In three of the four games lost the Blue were the victim of bad breaks and the score might have easily been reversed. The weather twice intervened to cramp the Generals’ most potent and dependable offensive weapon—passing.

The first rough break of the season came when Dick Pinck, outstanding freshman back in the state the previous year, was lost to the team through an operation before the season started. Pinck came back in time to dash 88 yards and defeat VPI but was out for the remainder of the season when he injured a knee against Richmond the following week.

Washington and Lee opened its season on September 23 by nosing out a surprisingly... aggressive Hampden Sydney eleven by a close 7-6 score. With Virginia scouts in the stands the Blue kept the lid closed on their bag of tricks until the waning minutes of the third quarter. The Tigers scored first when Walden skirted end for eight yards and a touchdown after picking up 22 yards on a punt exchange. With the Berniermen boasting a 6-0 lead and the fourth quarter rapidly approaching, the Generals opened up their offense. Using a shovel pass from Craft to H. Hogan to reel off most of the yardage, they marched 62 yards in six plays, the score culminating in a twelve yard heave over the goal to Dobbins. The latter, playing in his first varsity game, calmly converted from placement to give the Blue a hard earned one point victory.

Virginia downed W-L for the first time in eight long years the following Saturday before 8,000 Wahoo Homecoming fans. The score was 13-0. The rejuvenated Wahoos were on top throughout and constantly threatened to pile up a larger score. Only the heroic efforts of Oschie, Boisseau, and Brown in the middle of the line kept the game from turning into a rout. Virginia tallied twice in the first quarter, one on a pass from Beveridge to Gillette and again on a 39-yard gallop off tackle by Cardoza.

The Generals hit the comeback trail at Charleston by fighting a heavily favored and surprised West Virginia eleven to a 6-6 tie. The entire Blue line was charging hard throughout and the Generals completely outplayed their Mountaineer rivals to earn a moral victory. Harry Hogan drew first blood for the Tilsonmen by skirting end for eighteen yards and a touchdown but the Hillbillies uncorked a fourth period passing attack to retaliate and tie the score. Jim Lindsey was a bulwark in the line for the Blue while Dan Justice called signals to near perfection.
Still playing inspired football, the Generals moved into Lexington, Ky. to completely overpower a surprised bunch of University of Kentucky Wildcats by a 8-0 score. Joe Oschie and Sims Truehart led an aggressive Blue line that time after time refused to yield yardage when the Kantuck boys needed it the most. The Tilsonmen began twisting the Wildcat's tail early when they tallied in the second quarter on a four-yard plunge by Bishop. Truehart added the safety by spilling a Kentucky back behind his own goal. The victory came as ample revenge to the Generals for the 41-6 shellacking handed them by the Cats last year.

The Generals returned to their own backyard the following Saturday to award 8,000 Homecoming fans with a 6-0 victory over VPI. Dick Pinck was in the Blue lineup for the first time since his operation and provided the winning margin with a beautiful 88-yard punt return in the third quarter. With the game bearing all the earmarks of an uninteresting stalemate, Pinck took a low punt on his own twelve, shook off four would-be tacklers, and reversed his field twice to score standing up.

The unpredictable Tilsonmen lost a 6-0 decision to Richmond the following Saturday at Richmond in the mud. The Spiders, cavorting cleverly before a Homecoming audience, ran the opening kickoff down to the Blue twelve-yard line. Two plays later Pinck intercepted a Spider pass and dashed 68 yards before he was hauled down from behind. With Pinck out with a knee injury, the game settled down to which team would be the best mudders. The Spiders struck suddenly in the third quarter. Jones fired a 38-yard pass to Humbert, who was dragged down on the one-yard line. Hoskins took it over on the first play for a touchdown. Dan Justice led a Blue offense that was constantly threatening to score while Joe Oschie played the game of his life at tackle.

On November 6 the Generals took their second trip of the year into the Blue Grass state but this time came back on the short end of the score. Centre did the trick, winning over the Blue in Louisville by a 7-0 score. W-L rolled up more than twice as many first downs as the Praying Colonels and camped in the shadows of the Centre goalposts all afternoon but could not muster up the scoring punch to put over a tally. The Kentuckians scored through the line two minutes before the game ended. The Blue came right back, and with Craft tossing to Dobbins, had moved the ball up to Centre's fifteen-yard line as the final whistle blew.

W-L's dead offensive punch was revived with a bang the following Saturday as the Blue rolled up 27 points in crushing a hapless William and Mary eleven by a 27-0 score. Harry Hogan tallied first when he took a shovel pass from Craft and ran 79 yards through a broken field for a touchdown. The Blue scored again in the second quarter by marching 56 yards on straight running plays. The score resulted in a pass from Craft to Dobbins. Two more tallies were recorded on drives of 26 and 75 yards respectively, culminating in scores by Bishop and Blanding.

Playing before only 400 shivering fans in Baltimore on Thanksgiving day, the Blue lost their final game of the year to a horde of victory starved Terrapins representing the University of Maryland. The score was 19-13. The game was played in a blinding snowstorm and cold wind that forced the men on the bench to seek shelter in the bus. W-L tallied first on a pass from Justice to Harper, but the lead was short-lived, as the Terrapins, sparked by Hewitt, came back to tie the score at 6-6 at halftime. The second half was all Maryland as the irrepressible Hewitt tossed strikes to Beamer that resulted in two more Black and Gold tallies. The Generals tallied again in the fourth quarter when Craft flipped a pass to Gary who made a beautiful catch and dashed forty yards for the score.

Eight seniors ended their collegiate football careers at W-L in the Maryland game. These men were: Harper and Lykes, ends; Brown, Wilson, and Parrish at guards; Oschie at tackle; and Craft and Roy Hogan in the backfield. Despite the loss of these eight men the coaches will have a wealth of material back to form the 1939 club. The sophomores, after a year's seasoning, should show up much better next year; the frosh are sending up another first rank club, and prospects are bright for a good year. Among the men returning are: Dobbins and Truehart at ends; Boisseau, Littoral, Pipes, and Keland at tackles; Hanasik and Mangan at center; Lindsey, Sugrue, and Walker at guards, and Pinck, Bishop, Wadlington, Justice, Blanding, Gary, and Kiem in the backfield. The frosh are sending up some stellar performers in Searfoss and Nelson, ends; Priddam and Yokum at tackles; Boden and Hunt at guards; Littlepage at center; and a horde of first class backs including Didier, Brown, Bob Pinck, Baugher, Kadis, and a placekicking expert, Worthington.

"Ronnie" Thompson, who had performed brilliantly at guard for the Big Blue during three successful seasons, was elected honorary captain of the team after the completion of the 1938-39 schedule. Also a steady performer in baseball and football, "Ronnie" is one of the very few triple monogram winners in major sports in school, and his unofficial leadership in basketball was rewarded at the close of the season by his election to the captaincy.

SUMMARY

Washington and Lee's streamlined Sophomores, talented but inexperienced, ended a fairly successful season on the hardwood on March 4, winning 13 games and losing 9.

The 1938-39 squad was entirely void of Seniors and boasted only four Juniors. The rest of the aggregation was made up of Sophomores, who performed brilliantly at times.

Coach Young's charges finished third in the state race, trailing Roanoke and Virginia, and tied for second place in the Southern Conference standings with Maryland. The Comets, however, were ushered out of the conference tournament at Raleigh the first day, bowing to Davidson, 43-32.

Dick Pinck, Sophomore forward from Paterson, N. J., led all Comet scorers, amassing 311 points in 22 games, and as a result of his high-scoring tactics was awarded a place on the All-State five at the end of the year. Big Howard Dobbins, center from Louisville, Ky., was next in line with 196 points. Ronnie Thompson, who was chosen acting captain at the end of the season, and Leo Rinehart, the two regular Juniors on the team, were a steadying influence to the other Sophomores, Bob Gary, Nelson Park, Ed Cuttin, and Bobby Stein.

The Comets started off in high gear by winning their first two warm-up games before Christmas against Bridgewater and National Business College of Roanoke. The former offered little opposition and were convincingly trounced, 61-16, but N. B. C., state A. A. U. champs, put up a spirited battle before succumbing to the Comets’ fast break by a 38-34 score.

The Generals headed into Kentucky during Christmas holidays and won two of their three games. Louisville was swamped, 62-38, in the first game; the Comets found Kentucky too tall and experienced and dropped the second game by a 67-47 score; but the Blue came back strong to down Xavier in Cincinnati the next night, 50-38. The highlight of the trip was the playing of Dick Pinck, who totaled 60 points in the three games.

The Comets made it seven out of eight by winning their next three games in a row. Lynchburg was downed, 67-47, Duke’s defending champs were eked out, 46-41, at Durham, and Howard Dobbins led the attack to swamp William and Mary by a 62-42 score.
Carolina handed the Comets their first conference defeat before 1,000 fans in Lynchburg, winning 46-39, largely due to the spectacular playing of Glamack, their elongated center.

Roanoke's five smart boys thoroughly bottled up Pinck & Co. in Roanoke to win an easy 40-21 decision. The Comets sought revenge in the next... game humbling V. P. I., 66-29, with Dob­bins scoring 22 points.

A combination of George Washington University and midsemester exams took care of the Comets in the next contest by a 51-41 score, and Wake-Forest's high-stepping Deacons ran wild at Danville in the next game before a packed house to trounce the Blue, 59-44. The Deacons were led by their phenomenal Waller, who dumped in 20 points.

The Generals lost a heartbreaker to Maryland at College Park in the last fifteen seconds of play, after leading the entire game. The score was 39-37. The team bounced back hard against Richmond, and with Pinck tossing in 34 points to break a state, school, and conference record, downed the Spiders, 49-26.

Duke invaded Lexington for the next game in what turned out to be the most exciting one of the season. Ten points behind at the end of the third quarter, Bobby Gary opened up from all angles with his one-handers, finally sinking the winning goal in the last forty seconds. Gary's sixteen points were high for the night. The score was 36-35.

Virginia's new deal Wahoos nipped the Comets twice by scores of 30-25 and 33-29 in hard-fought games.

The Comets swamped V. P. I. in a high-scoring game at Blacksburg. The score was 65-51. Dick Pinck went on another scoring spree to tally 28 points. The team ended its season at Raleigh in the Southern Conference tournament, when they were upset by Davidson, 43-32.

With all of the lettermen returning next year, prospects are bright for one of the strongest court squads in the history of Washington and Lee basketball.

Short in stature, serious on the mat, happy and carefree off the mat, "Bob" has been one of the mainstays of the wrestling team for his college years. He claims Shamokin, Pennsylvania as his home. His greatest thrill was the Olympic Trials on the campus in the spring of 1936.

Washington and Lee’s matmen enjoyed one of their most successful seasons the past year, breezing through a six-game schedule undefeated. The Generals were co-claimants to both the state and conference titles along with V. M. I. The tournament was abandoned this year due to the lack of interest of any of the conference teams to hold the meet.

In sweeping through their six-game schedule, Coach Mathis’s grapplers presented a well-balanced squad from the 121-pound class through the heavyweight division.

The heavyweight problem was solved early when Al Szymanski reported as a candidate. “The Bruiser” proved to be quite a find, losing only one match in his first year of wrestling. Brud Crane, in the 121-pound class, and Captain Bob Kemp, in the 126, both acquitted themselves brilliantly, losing only one match each. Tiger McInerney, in the 136-pound division, was a newcomer to the squad, and, along with Jack Broome in the 145 division, won the majority of their matches.

The wrestler possessing the best record on the team was Charlie Bowles, in the 155-pound class. Bowles, a reserve last year, won all of his matches on falls, using his favorite “figure four” to apply the extra pressure.

There was no weakness in the 165-pound class, where Barney Farrer held sway. He was one of the cagiest men on the team and usually did his best when the pressure was on. Henry Braun, a “tried and true” performer in the 175-pound division, showed up well, winning five of his six matches.
Szymanski, in the unlimited, dropped only one match, that to a much heavier opponent from Northwestern.

The team got off to a good start by overpowering the Richmond Y by a 31-5 score. The Generals won every weight, excepting the 155, where Von Kalonowski, a reserve, put up a good fight before succumbing.

North Carolina was conquered in Lexington in the next match by a safe 26-10 margin. The feature meet of the season came next when Northwestern's powerful Wildcats, victorious in five of their six previous matches, succumbed to the Blue by a 21-11 score. After forfeiting the 121-pound class due to illness and losing a close bout in the 126 class, Mathis's boys won five straight matches, four by falls, to clinch the meet.

N. C. State offered first class competition to the Generals in Raleigh, but the Blue managed to pile up enough points in the middle weights to win out. The score was 17-11.

The Generals won their second and final state victory over at Blackburg when they experienced little difficulty in downing V. P. I. by a 26-6 score. Two close decisions accounted for the six Gobbler points.

In the final match of the season, Davidson fell before the Blue at Davidson by a 19-11 score, but only after the Generals pulled away in the heavier divisions.

Only three men will be back next year for Mathis to build his 1940 club around. These are Jack Broome, Barney Farrier, and Henry Braun, the rest being lost through graduation. But prospects are not too dark. The frosh are sending up a couple of first-rate grapplers in Fuller and Pud­dington, and Mathis has very seldom put a team on the mat that didn't win the majority of its matches.

After the failure of Roy Dart, diminutive pitcher, to return to school, Johnie Dill, second baseman, was awarded the captaincy of the rejuvenated General diamond-men. John is expected to plug a gap in the infield as well as supply the necessary spark that all well oiled ball teams need. In this dual capacity, Dill should prove himself an able field general.

AL SNYDER
Senior Manager
While the 1938 season was not a brilliant one for the Washington and Lee baseball team, it marked a great improvement over 1937. Under the capable leadership of Co-Captains Frank Frazier and Mike Tomlin, the team turned in a season record of five wins and twelve losses. Outstanding wins of the year were registered against the state champion Richmond team, and in the last game of the season against Virginia. The capable pitching of Roy Dart was the most important phase of the Generals’ work.

In the opening game against Ohio State the Generals worked a perfect squeeze play in the ninth inning to win the game, 3-2. Behind Dart’s perfect pitching, which allowed only six scattered hits during the game, the General nine gave promise of a very good season.

During the spring trip Washington and Lee was able to win only one game to its opponents’ three. Roy Dart lost a tight 7-6 game to Randolph-Macon at Ashland on the first leg of the trip. Charlie Skinner’s and Stan Nastri’s pitching were unable to keep William and Mary from running up a 9-8 score against the Blue on the following day. In their first game with the Apprentice School the Generals were beaten, 6-3, with Frank O’Connor pitching. The tide was turned the next day, however, when Stan Nastri pitched a 6-3 win over Apprentice. The game was marked by errorless playing on the Blue's part.

On April 12th the University of Michigan racked up a 12-1 victory over the Lexington boys, in spite of Captain Dick Smith's use of Stan Nastri, Charlie Skinner, and Frank O'Connor. The University of Virginia held the Generals to four hits on April 13th to win by 6-2. Roy Dart pitched the whole game. On April 16th the combined pitching of Dorsey Wilson, Frank O'Connor, and Lea Booth was unable to stop the North Carolina nine from registering a 14-1 win. The game was marked by two well-executed double plays by the Generals.

On April 21st the Generals scored an upset victory over the state champion University of Richmond team. Dart pitched the first shutout for Washington and Lee in three years, while Breckenridge's home run enabled his team to win, 2-0. North Carolina State, however, turned the tide against the Generals by registering a 17-1 win on April 29th. Lea Booth, Charlie Skinner, and Frank O'Connor pitched the game, which was marked by twelve errors for the Blue. On the next day Jack Dangler's home run in the ninth inning beat the V. P. I. team at Blacksburg. Dart pitched for a 7-4 win.

In the return engagement with V. P. I. on the field in Lexington, the Blue was defeated, 8-2. Roy Dart's pitching was unable to save this game, which was played on May 4th, for the Generals. The Washington and Lee team then took a trip to the East for two tough games with Maryland and Georgetown on May 5th and May 6th, respectively. In the first day's game Roy Dart's pitching was unable to overcome the handicap of his teammates' eight errors, and the University of Maryland was able to turn in a 15-4 victory. On the following day the powerful Georgetown University team overcame the combined pitching efforts of Dorsey Wilson, Frank O'Connor, and Charlie Skinner in a game at Washington. Georgetown kept its record intact with a 22-6 victory.

The powerful Wake-Forest nine was able to hold Washington and Lee to a 5-0 score on May 11th. Charlie Skinner pitched, but was unable to match the no-hit, no-run score turned in by the Wake-Forest pitcher. In the final game of the season the Generals showed more ability than at any time during the season. Roy Dart’s capable pitching, coupled with perfect field work, held the University of Virginia to a 5-3 victory for Washington and Lee. The rally in the seventh inning was the most exciting of any during the season, and the fine showing of the team gave promise of an improved showing during the 1939 season.

For 1939 the baseball prospects are much cheerier than they have been for several years. With the addition of promising newcomers from last year’s powerful Freshman aggregation, the Big Blue should find itself uplifted, especially in the pitching and infield positions. With Ernie James and Bob Gregerson as worthy supporters of the returning veterans, and Kiah Ford to bolster the catching department, the Generals should find the needed combination in hitting as well as in the field. With the return of John Dill and Jimmy Humphries to the infield, the diamond men are looking for power to be added to this part of the game as well. Johnny, who played second base during the disastrous 1937 season, was one of the more consistent players on the team, and with the strength added to the other departments of the game should prove a decided asset. Jimmy Humphries, one of the smoothest infielders to matriculate at Washington and Lee in several seasons, will doubtless see much action at shortstop. With these new men added to the returners from last year’s roster, the squad should find itself in much better condition than it has been for several seasons. With Jack Dangler behind the bat, Jack Jones, Ronnie Thompson, and Charlie Hart returning to infield duty, and Al Davis, Bob Watt, and Bud Schriver available for outfield duty, the team will doubtless find a nucleus from which to work.

So with the prospect of another baseball season facing him, Captain Dick should find a much more promising organization with which to work. The team again has a long, hard schedule, and will find some difficulty in finding enough pitchers to carry them through the opening games. With nine games in eight days being the first problem for the rejuvenated team to face, they should receive the acid test before very long. However, at this writing the season has yet to begin, and as to the results we may only speculate.

RESUME OF SEASON

The Big Blue track team's 1938 season was one of the most successful in years. Although getting off to a slow start in dropping the first meet to Maryland, Coach Fletcher's speedsters quickly hit their stride and won all the remaining dual meets by decisive scores.

In the season's first meet on April 11, the Generals lost to Maryland by 84-43. Captain Jim Rogers placed first in his high hurdle specialty in exceptionally good early season time, 15 seconds. Charlie Curl easily won the 440 in 50 seconds flat. Boisseau's winning shot-put was 41 feet 8 inches.

Journeying to William and Mary on April 16, the Generals defeated the Indians 80-40, capturing ten out of fourteen events. Captain Rogers won the high hurdles, Charlie Curl the 100 and 220, Heartsille Ragon the 440, and Bill Whaley the low hurdles. "Flash" Harvey, with a beautiful three hundred-yard finishing sprint, took the mile run, and tied with Bill Hillier in the 880. Lang Skarda won the broad jump and Arnold the pole vault.

The following week-end on April 23, the Big Blue trounced the undefeated Richmond Spiders, 85-41. "Cap'n Jim" won the high hurdles, his 14.7 unofficially breaking his own Southern Conference record of 14.8 seconds and officially setting a new school record. Charlie Curl won the 100 and 220, Ragon won the 440 and tied with Warren Edwards in the mile. Ted Riggs took the high jump, Bob Nicholson the broad jump and Dick Boisseau won the shotput.

Coach Forrest Fletcher celebrated his birthday in witnessing his thinlilys finally emerge victorious from an exciting nip and tuck duel with V. P. I., 71-55. The high point of the day was Heartsill Ragon's 49.6 quarter mile, setting a new school record. "Flash" Harvey, Warren Edwards and Mike Crocker took a clean sweep in the mile, Harvey equalling the school record of 4:29.2. "Flash" also won the 880, Curl the 100 and 220. "Cap'n Jim" took both the high and low hurdles, Bob Nicholson the broad jump.
On April 30, the General's mile relay team took off for the Penn Relays. W. and L. track fans listened over the radio as Curl, Melville, Harvey and Ragon earned themselves each a first place cup and a plaque for the school. A crowd of four thousand watched our boys overcome Wayne University's early lead and win first honors.

The tenth annual State meet at Blacksburg found the Generals off their usual form, although they finished a strong second to the highly favored Virginia squad. Ragon settled a questionable title to the 440 supremacy by nosing out Mast of V. P. I., and Duke of William and Mary in 49.6. Rogers met with bad luck in upsetting four hurdles, which disqualified him. Frank Fuller, Virginia's ace, took first with 14.8. Whaley took third for W. and L. Fuller again was first in the 220 lows with Whaley taking second place. Harvey took second in the mile. Charlie Curl ran second to V. M. L's Herr in the 100 and 220. Mike Crocker did brilliantly in his first two-mile race by winning second place, Nicholson was second in the broad jump, Riggs and Gwyn tied for third in the high jump.

On May 21, only nine Generals traveled to the Southern Conference meet in Durham and they won sixth place. "Flash" Harvey ran the best half mile of his life, setting a new school record at 1:54, although he placed fourth in the field. Bill Hillier also ran his best race and placed sixth at 1:58. Ragon broke his own school record of 49.6 and turned in a 48.9, for third place. Jim Rogers grazed the last hurdle and was nosed into third place. Curl finished fourth in the 100 and 220.

George Foote  Junior Manager

J. B. Edwards, Manager
Washington and Lee’s usually powerful swimming team weathered a disastrous season in the 1938-39 campaign, as it lost four out of five dual meets and placed sixth in the Southern Conference tournament at N. C. State in Raleigh. It was the first time in five seasons that the Generals failed to win the conference title.

Lacking the usually plentiful material of other seasons, Coach Cy Twombly could not find enough point winners to give him the necessary well-balanced team. Brent Farber, last year’s conference titleholder in the 440, and Captain Charley Hart did yeoman’s work this season. Farber, swimming any free-style distance, lost but one race in the dual meets and took seconds in the 100 and 200-yard free-style events at Raleigh. Hart starred in the back-stroke and sprints all season.

Jack Warner, who broke the school record for the 200-yard breast stroke in an early season meet with V. P. I., was also a consistent point winner in his event. He was aided by Jack Akin.

In the dives Bob Boyce and Bob Shreve performed capably, the latter taking fifth place in the tournament.

Veterans Gary Hiers and George Vanta supported Farber in the free-style races, while newcomers Vance Funk and Ben Lawton also added strength to the lineup. Sophomores Herb Friedman and Jack Crawford aided Hart in the back stroke. The medley team was made up of Captain

Boyce, Campbell, Farber, Aiken, Friedman.

The team opened up with a victory against V. P. I., with Farber, Warner, Funk, and Hart taking firsts along with the medley relay team. William and Mary's strong squad defeated the Blue in the next meet, 54-21, to break the Generals' consecutive winning streak of 53 dual meets. W. and L. lost again to Duke, 52-23, despite the efforts of Farber, Hart, and Boyce, who won their events. The last two losses in dual meets were at the hands of North Carolina by 42-33 and Virginia by a 52-23 score. At Raleigh, with only Farber, Shreve, and the medley team taking points, the Blue could do no better than sixth place.

Prospects for next season are much brighter, with a strong Freshman squad ready to step into weak spots on the varsity. Brent Farber, backbone of this year's outfit, will return as captain next year. The addition of yearlings Bob Schultz in the free-style distances, Bruce Dunfield, Ed Samara, and Evans Jasper in the dashes, Fred Pitzer and Harry Baugher in the breast stroke, and Chick Pierce in the dives, should give Coach Twombly the material he needs to build another championship team.

The greatest loss to the team through graduation will be Captain Charley Hart, who has won many races for the Blue in three years of competition. Gone also will be free-stylers Gary Hiers, George Vanta, Vance Funk, and Ben Lawton.

In Appreciation

WITH the completion of the 1939 CALYX, the editor wishes to take this opportunity to express sincere thanks for all who have cooperated to such a degree as to make this book possible. To the staff members of the Benson Printing Company in general, and to Mr. Bill Daniels in particular, we owe the greatest debt. It was only through Bill Daniels' efforts that the editor was able to produce this edition of the CALYX. His technical advice and artistic abilities were invaluable. Len Glover of the Lynchburg Engraving Company is another who has given valuable assistance. To Andrew McClung and his staff at the photography studio we may say nothing but praise. His willingness to cooperate with the staff at the slightest notice make him almost warrant a place on the official staff. Without the aid of "Andy" the CALYX would never go to the presses. To Mr. H. F. Beckett, of H. K. Smith and Co., who made our attractive cover, we must give all the credit for the cover. Mr. Bradshaw Crandell of Cosmopolitan magazine we owe a debt of gratitude for his splendid choices of the girls whose pictures appear in the beauty section. We think he did a fine job, and wish to thank him for his efforts.

To the student body at large, the editor wishes to take this opportunity to thank them for making this book possible. Because of continued interest in their publications, the student body of Washington and Lee University has proven that they are interested in the welfare of their school.

Next, bouquets to certain individual students who performed as members of the staff in an advisory capacity. To Hugh Avery and Dave Miller, both of whom helped in preparing some of the more important copy material, I am greatly indebted. To the members of the staff in general I owe the greatest kind of debt. Through the efforts of every man on the staff, the CALYX has managed to reach the presses before the deadline. However, in particular, I wish to thank Ed Brown, "Teke" Helm, Jim McConnell, and Sonny Heartwell. These four men have taken upon their capable shoulders the majority of the work, and without their aid there would be no CALYX.

Then to the business staff I wish to express my sincere and heartfelt congratulations for making this book a financial success in the face of the recession. Buddy Foltz and his staff have made the editing of this book a pleasure.

In conclusion, then, I present this book to the student body, thanking them for their cooperation, and hoping that they will bear with me in my hour of trial.

ROBERT J. WATT, JR., Editor.

MAKERS OF

PALM BEACH SUITS

From the moment we pick up your Palm Beach suit until we deliver it at your door, it is handled exactly according to the official Goodall formula. It is cleaned or washed to remove every trace of stain and perspiration. Soap, water, chemicals, all conform to Goodall's standards. That's why you're safe in sending your Palm Beach suits and slacks to us.

"QUALITY MILK FOR WASHINGTON AND LEE STUDENTS"
An Invitation
FROM NEW YORK'S
MOST DISTINGUISHED
RESIDENTIAL HOTEL

A visit to New York this year demands more than ordinary care in the selection of a hotel. May we call your attention to the quiet dignity and gracious charm of The Carlyle, which will allow you to enjoy not only the World’s Fair, but also New York itself.

A limited number of smartly furnished rooms and suites are available for transient visitors. Your early reservations are suggested. Buses and literature will be sent upon request.
