[1940s handwriting and scribbles]
In presenting the Forty-sixth Volume of the CALYX the editors have attempted in some measure to portray the New South—a land of promise and opportunity which until recently was virtually untouched by the march of progress and industry. Fast dispelling the old idea of its backwardness, the South is now considered the New Frontier of America. And all of us who have had contact with Washington and Lee through the years realize that she has played an important part in this new development and can be counted on for an even more significant role in the future. For Washington and Lee, though cosmopolitan, is after all a southern university both in setting and in influence. Appropriately, then, the theme of the 1940 CALYX is the effort to capture momentarily the contributions of our institution to the New Day.
Dr. Livingston Waddell Smith

WHO, identified with Washington and Lee longer than any other member of the faculty now in active service, has left pleasant and grateful recollections in the hearts of the generations of students who have known him by his gift of keen, incisive, yet kindly humor, by his single-minded devotion to his duties, by his accuracy in scholarship, by his willingness to counsel helpfully, by his fairness and impartiality, and by his genuinely warm humanity.

For sixty years industry in the South has developed and multiplied, and in recent years its industrial progress has become a national sensation. Today the South boasts of most of the cotton spindles in the nation, the largest and best equipped shipbuilding plant in the world, a large portion of the country's tobacco factories, and important iron foundries and steel mills. Science has made possible the widespread development of rayon and nylon plants and factories for the manufacture of newsprint paper from the abundant southern pine. These and hundreds of smaller industries are having so much effect on the South that the section realizes as never before that economic health as well as wealth depends on a sane combination of agriculture, industry, and commerce.

To the Seniors:

Fresh from the press, this book on some spring morning will engage your attention primarily for you to determine how accurate are the likenesses of your friends and yourself, how shrewdly the snapshots of current history were chosen, how many of the lovely campus visitors are preserved in pictured similitude. As the years pass, however, this volume will yield other values. You will find reminiscence of happy experiences, renewals of ancient fellowships, recollection of faces dearly loved but seen only through the deep mists of memory. It is my hope that from these pages you will draw also a sense of the dominating influences which give to your Alma Mater its character, honor in conduct, friendliness in personal relations, acceptance of the moment's duty, fidelity to the enduring purpose, faith in the meaning of life, human and divine. To this end may the 1940 Calyx be not only a record of your college days but a stimulus for the fulfillment in your own life of the Washington and Lee ideal.

Francis P. Gaines, President.

TRANSPORTATION

The New South is a part of the New Nation, and industry, commerce, and free enterprise have made it so. But these developments could not have come without the phenomenal progress made in transportation and communication since 1870. Today the South is bound to the rest of the country by steel rails, truck and air lines, and the most advanced means of communication. It is indeed a far cry from the small wood-burning locomotives of the eighteen-seventies to the mammoth steam and electric trains of today, from the mounted messenger of the slave era to the telephone and radio now in use. These forces have destroyed isolation, have broken down prejudices, and improved understanding—have made possible a New South as well as a united nation.

ILLUSTRATIONS: (1) Modern Norfolk and Western Coal train with thousands of tons of the unexcelled coal mined along the railway's lines en route to Tidewater at Norfolk, Virginia, and the N. and W. extensive coal piers on the Atlantic Coast. (2) "The Pocahontas"—crack Norfolk and Western completely air-conditioned passenger train passing the Palisades along New River in Virginia. (3) S. S. "Margaret Lykes" of the Lykes Bros. Ripley S. S. Co., discharging Cuban raw sugar at New Orleans. (4) A dawn take-off by one of the Eastern Air Lines Silverliners. This service covers the entire South. Large picture—A giant Douglas DC-3, 21-passenger Silverliner of Eastern Air Lines is shown soaring above the Magic City of Miami, Florida.

WATER POWER

One of the vertebra of the backbone of any region lies in its power development. In this regard the New South is fast outstripping other sections as the recipient of the benefits of the vast Tennessee Valley Authority experiment. The Authority's power lines stretch into the most rural areas of the South and bring light and all of the comforts of electricity to these districts as well as to the more populous centers. Consumption has doubled under the TVA, while cost has been cut in half. But beyond merely lighting the homes, it has terraced the lands, cleared streams, and prevented millions of dollars of annual flood loss. A general betterment of the standard of living of the Southern people has resulted from the TVA activities and the other modern power developments of the South.

ILLUSTRATIONS: (1) The force of falling water becomes electric power at Norris Dam. A portion of the switch-yard and powerhouse at the TVA's Norris Dam may be seen in the foreground, while beyond, the waters of the Clinch River cascade 207 feet down the face of the spillway section—a drop almost forty feet greater than Niagara Falls. (2) Wilbur Hydro Plant of the East Tennessee Light and Power Company. (3) Construction scene at TVA's Hiwassee Dam on the Hiwassee River in Southwestern North Carolina. When completed, this project will help control seasonal floods, will aid navigation on the Tennessee in months of low flow and will provide for the incidental production of electric power. Large picture—Downstream face of the TVA's Guntersville Dam on the Tennessee River in Northern Alabama.

John Alnutt was the dramatic star of the past Troubadour season, taking the leading role in both plays. He portrayed the suave Sandor Tura in Molnar's "The Play's the Thing," and was Mio in Maxwell Anderson's "Winterset."

The former of these was directed by Kenneth Moxley, who did the settings for both productions, and took an important role in the latter, "The Play's the Thing," a ribald comedy, also featured Miss Dolly Burks included in the cast. James Faulkner, Ernest Woodward, II, Fred Farrar, Dusty Millar, and Maurice Bostwick. The production was quite a success, and was also played at Sweetbriar, Hollins, and Randolph Macon.

"Winterset" was probably the standout play of the last several seasons, playing to capacity crowds, each performance. Miss Burks starred as Miri-anne opposite Alnutt. Giving outstanding performances in supporting roles were Francis Sugrue as Track, Moxley, Latham Thigpen, Bob Renick, and Ed Boyd. Pat Warfield and Ted Lawrence, newcomers, received plaudits for character parts. Sugrue also did the direction.

In addition to these two plays, the Troubadours inaugurated this year a series of weekly broadcasts over radio station WDBJ in Roanoke. "Tales from Maupassant" were done for the first thirteen weeks, after which original dramas written by the students were presented. These programs were all directed by Ernest Woodward, II, who handled the publicity with Fred Farrar.

Agriculture in the South has for decades meant cotton and tobacco. But farm leaders of the New South, trained to new ideas and possessing new vision, are making important progress in the diversification of crops and the development of animal husbandry. While the price of cotton and tobacco still determines success or failure for most Southern farmers, the section is producing for itself and the national market more and more vegetables, fruit, poultry, dairy products, beef and pork. Much needs to be done. Baffling problems defy solution. But the South is making the realistic self-examination and is laying the foundation for its declaration of independence from the one-crop system. It now knows that better farming and better business lead to better living.

DICK BOISSEAU
Football Captain

A high school prodigy, Dick has lived up to early promises in every way. A standout performer on a team that only broke even on its schedule, he was awarded a tackle post on the Associated Press All-American at the end of the season. He was impregnable on the offensive and covered half the line on defense. Dick comes from Petersburg, Virginia, where he was chosen as the best high school player in the state. He has been a member of the athletic council.

RESUME OF SEASON

The 1939 edition of Washington and Lee football teams ran through an eight-game schedule with three wins, four defeats, and a tie. Yet, while it was statistically inferior, the Big Blue eleven was considered a vast improvement over last year's outfit. Tex Tilson's new regime may be classed as a success. Lack of reserve material and getting the bad breaks at crucial moments were the detriments. Next year should see the team realize the potential greatness it has given evidence of in streaks this year: with only five lettermen gone, with a powerful freshman team coming up, and with Dick Pinck ready to have that great year he has delayed so long.

W. & L., 9; Sewanee, 0

The Generals started their season brilliantly by pushing Sewanee all over a muddy field to the tune of 9-0. A heavy rain failed to repress an enthusiastic crowd which were well rewarded when Bobby Pinck crossed the double lines for a touchdown and Courtney Wadlington tackled an enemy back behind his goal for a safety. Dick Pinck led in ground gaining.

W. & L., 0; Richmond, 7

Keenest disappointment of the season came the following Saturday when a fighting Blue team far outgained a highly-touted University of Richmond outfit, which was to go undefeated until the final game of the season, only to lose 7-0. With Pres Brown sparking the attack, W. & L. pushed deep into scoring territory four times but couldn't make pay dirt. At one time the oval rested inside the ten-yard line. Then early in the third period a heretofore docile Spider outfit struck suddenly from midfield, and on two passes, Moore to Burge, the enemy had a touchdown. Dick Boisseau's great work in the line went to no avail as the General's failed to score in the remainder of the fray, and the game ended with Richmond up.

W. & L., 7; Southwestern, 7

Dan Justice was the triple-threat man of the hour when the Lynx of Southwestern held the Generals to a 7-7 tie at Memphis after the latter had substantially outgained them. The home team scored first, but the Generals immediately retaliated with an 81-yard touchdown drive starring Justice with Pres Brown going over for the marker. Joe Baugher kicked goal. Other scoring attempts of the visitors were foiled by intercepted passes. In the waning moments of play the Lynxes had the ball inside W. & L.'s five-yard line, due to another intercepted pass, and threatened to put the game on ice. However, the stalwart General line yielded only two yards in the four downs, and Justice kicked well out of danger. Mangan, Hanasik, and Boisseau starred in the line.

W. & L., 9; West Virginia, 0

Coach Tilson's proteges reached the highest point of their football year on the next week-end when they thoroughly stifled the West Virginia Mountaineers, 9-0. The 24-year jinx, in which no W. & L. team had been able to subdue a Mountaineer eleven, was shattered in fine style. Pres Brown took a short pass from Justice in the third play of the game and galloped 79 long yards to score. Howard Dobbins converted. To complete the scoring, Kelly Litteral tackled an enemy back in the end zone for a safety. Bobby Pinck's line-bucking and Ronnie Thompson's coffin-corner booting were outstanding factors as were Boisseau's and Trueheart's work in the line. Bert Nelson did some fine utility work at tackle.

W. & L., 7; V. P. I., 0

Playing a purely defensive ball game after their score in the first period, the Generals earned their third victory against V. P. I. at Lynchburg. Once again Dan Justice was the bright and shining offensive star, figuring in every play of the touchdown drive and holding the Gobblers at bay for the remainder of the game with his long-range booting. Junie Bishop proved a spark-plug in his first game of the season, and Mangan, Sugrue, Waddington, Boisseau, and Lindsey starred on defense. The Generals were outgained 14 first downs to five, but most of the Gobblers' success was done in midfield.

W. & L., 6; Washington U., 12

In the only intersectional tilt of the season the Generals showed up badly and succumbed 12-6 to a fighting Washington U. team in the waning moments of play. Joe Baugher, back in shape after an injury, led the way and culminated a 56-yard drive in the second period with a pass to Howard Dobbins in the end zone. Again the Blue outgained their opponents, but the lack of capable reserves coupled with the long ride to St. Louis proved too great an obstacle. Again Boisseau, Mangan and Hanasik sparked the line play.

W. & L., 0; Virginia, 7

Next came the Homecoming classic against the University of Virginia, and for two periods the Tilson men camped in enemy territory, ran up nine first downs to none, and rarely gave the latter a chance to run the ball. Joe Baugher and Junie Bishop pounded the line for substantial gains and continually threatened the Virginia goal, but the pressure punch just wasn't there. But once again the absence of enough good substitutes made a sorry tale for the Blue, and Virginia was finally able to send Gillette over from the 1-yard line. Bad passing and receiving ruined several possible touchdowns for the far more aggressive Generals. Baugher, Bishop, Trueheart, and Boisseau stood out.

W. & L., 14; W. & M., 18

The William and Mary Brave played inspired ball to topple the Blue by 18-14 in the last game of the season. The winners' passing attack was too potent, and Waldo Mathews, brilliant back, accounted for all the points. With W. & L. leading 14-12 and less than two minutes to play remaining, this sophomore turned defeat into victory by scoring from his own twenty on a pass play. A Baugher-to-Brown pass and a blocked kick recovered by Dobbins accounted for the Generals' touchdowns. Dobbins also converted twice. Dick Pinck also showed up well. Dick Boisseau, Francis Sugrue, Kelly Litteral, Jim Lindsey, and Ronnie Thompson closed their football careers.

The Frosh

The Brigadiers, with four wins to one loss, tied for the state championship. This club showed up well and will provide plenty of able material for next year's varsity. Especially in the line, with Ailor and Rulevich ready to step into tackle positions and Bill Gray well groomed for Lindsey's old post, does talent abound. Bob York and Cal East will also give the ends plenty of competition. In the backfield Frank Socha, Bud Drake, and Lugger Ligon stood out.

After the season Captain Dick Boisseau and Jim Lindsey were awarded tackle berths on the Associated Press All-State eleven and Boisseau made their All-Southern selection. Jack Mangen was elected to captain the 1940 Washington and Lee eleven.

THE TALE OF THE BLUE COMETS

Handicapped by the loss of three top-flight courtmen when Nelly Parks, Ed Cuttino, and Bobby Stein failed to return to school, W. & L.'s Blue Comet basketball team, under the eagle eye of new coach Harold B. "Cookie" Cunningham, turned up the silver lining on the dark horizon by moving out from behind the eight-ball to cop the Virginia State Title and the third spot in the Southern Conference standings in its 1939-40 campaign.

Prospects for nothing better than a mediocre season were in the offering for the Blue Cagers when Cunningham turned up on the campus. Stepping ably into the shoes vacated by the great Cy Young, who gave up coaching to act as full-time Alumni Secretary, "Cookie" changed the Washington and Lee brand of basketball from the old fast-break to a methodical, slow game, with emphasis on passing and steady floor work. The new game paid dividends in the form of 13 wins and 4 losses as a season's record.

A small squad, hindered by a noticeable lack of reserves and height, greeted the new mentor on his first day in his coaching capacity. From the 1938-39 team remained forward Dick Pinck, outstanding scorer; center Howard Dobbins, known for his versatility and pass work; forward Bobby Gary, little man about the court, noted for his one-hand shots; Captain Leo Reimartz, scrappy guard and leader of the defense; Ronnie Thompson, a dead-eye on a set shot; reserves

Syd Lewis, Bobby Hobson, and George Gasman; and rising sophomores from last year's freshman aggregation in the persons of Stan Carlson, Jack Mallory, and Rob Pinck (brother of Dick). These squadmen turned from the "Five Little Boys in Blue" into the State's outstanding basketball team. The W. & L. five had the state crown tucked away a week before the season ended, thereby destroying all the work of early season dopesters who saw little chance that the Generals would break through for more than a so-so season.

In state competition, Washington and Lee took Virginia Tech twice, Richmond once, William and Mary twice, Virginia once, and Randolph-Macon once to amass a total of seven victories to a single defeat by Richmond. Runner-up in the Virginia title chase was the University of Virginia, whose team fell before a close-guarding Blue team by a score of 33-30.

Pessimistic statements issued from Doremus gymnasium for days before the opening clash of the season took place on December 11. An independent team from Danville, the Red Rockets, had the privilege of being the first club to fall before the deliberate play of the Blue Comets. The new slow break was unveiled, and the Comets walked off the court victorious by a 39 to 30 count. Their play was disappointing and seemed doomed to live up to pre-season prognostications.

W. & L. capitalized on its second home game and defeated a small Alfred Holbrook College five in Lexington by a close 31-27 margin. The Dairymen refused to be downed until Bob Gary put the game on ice with a snowbird late in the final period.

Perched next on the schedule was the George Washington University team. The Colonials played host to Washington and Lee in Washington on Saturday, December 16, long enough to hand W. & L. a crushing defeat after a disappointing showing by the Generals.

The obvious lack of height began to tell, and the Comets fizzled before their opponents' attack.

With the coming of the Christmas holidays, the cagers embarked for points west, stopping off in Charleston, West Virginia, to administer a 52-40 defeat to Morris Harvey. The Blue men moved on to Louisville, Kentucky, where they took the Western State Teachers' team into camp by a 44-34 score. Western State has long been known as one of the top clubs in the Southern Intercollegiate Association but tumbled before the attack led by Finck and Dobbins, who garnered 14 and 13 points, respectively.

After vacation, the Comets moved down to Danville for their first Southern Conference tilt with the touted Wake Forest Demon Deacons. The Deacons proved too hot for the Generals and rolled up 38 points to the Blue's 29.
Then the methodical play began to pay off for the Comets, and the nets twanged as the boys began to hit the basket, running up successive victories over Virginia Tech, Randolph-Macon, and Maryland. The Maryland Terps were leading the Conference at the time, but the Generals weren’t to be denied and throttled them by a 44-25 score in College Park, Maryland.

On January 27, in the midst of examinations, W. & L. smashed Tech by 42-22; then, bounding back into action after exams, the Comets crushed Maryland for the second time, 39-19. Played on the Doremus gym court, the game went 13 minutes before the Old Liners scored a field goal, the Blue leading by a 29-5 count at half-time.

Virginia’s mighty state leaders bucked up against the Comets in Lynchburg on the night of February 10 and fell back after a 33-30 defeat. Playing like champions, the Blue passed like automatons and froze the ball during the final three minutes of play to put the game on ice.

The Generals made it eight straight wins with triumphs over Richmond’s Spiders and William and Mary’s Indians on the Lexington court. Then Duke fought off a stubborn Comet challenge to scratch out a 28-27 victory in Durham and maintain their Conference lead, while the services of Bob Gary were lost to the Blue due to an ankle injury.

The Virginia State title was cinched when the Comets caught William and Mary in a thrilling overtime game and eked out a 36-31 win. Richmond spoiled the Generals’ clean state record the next night when they took advantage of the loss of Gary and rang up 12 counters to W. & L.’s 26 to end the scheduled season.

A bid to the Southern Conference tournament in Raleigh on February 28, 29, and March 1 was issued to the Comets, seeding them the third position. Meeting again with Maryland and hampered by Gary’s injury, which slowed up the team’s playing, the Comets were retired in the first round by a 43-30 score. The tournament ended active play for 1949 and the careers of four seniors, Captain Reinartz, Thompson, Lewis, and Hobson.

Since he first came to Washington and Lee as head wrestling coach in 1929, Archie Mathis has compiled a record on the mat that is nothing short of miraculous. During the 12-year span, his varsity grapple have lost only 3 meets and have claimed eleven state and ten conference titles.

Under the remarkable tutelage of Coach Archie Mathis, Washington and Lee's blue-clad wrestlers ended their eleventh straight undefeated year in Southern Conference circles with a smashing 29 to 5 triumph over the Virginia Tech matmen ending to an unmarred season and giving W. & L. a tie with V. M. I. for the Conference crown.

The Generals glided through six matches without a single blemish on a record scratched by only three defeats in eleven years. W. & L. has met 67 opponents since Coach Mathis took over in 1929, dropping only three matches and tying one other, while 63 wins have been chalked up, 53 of them in Conference matches.

Captain Henry Braun, George McInerney, Barney Farrier, Jimmy Hammett, and Kelly Litteral, all seniors, hung up their mat togs for the last time after service in the V. P. I. meet. Farrier has been undefeated during three years of mat work, while McInerney and Braun made 1939-40 their standout years, both going through six meets without a loss. Tom Fuller, in his first year of varsity wrestling, walked off the mat a winner in every meet, while Harold Reed, Bob Schellenberg, Charlie Lanier, and Johnny Morgan, all sophomores, handed over commendable first-year varsity records. Eddie Wagg and Charlie Bowles, both standouts as grapplers, were lost to the squad early in the season due to injuries.

The string of victories began on January 6 when a touted Richmond Y. M. C. A. team came storming into Lexington, only to go down before the superior skill and better-coached Blue wrestlers, 33 to 3. The Y. M. C. A.'s only markers came from a decision in the 118-pound class.

A week later, on January 13, the grapplers traveled across the hills to Morgantown, West Virginia, where the University of West Virginia promised a standout team that would menace the Generals’ long-standing record. Three thousand people turned out in Morgantown and went away disappointed, for the mighty Blue methodically crushed the Mountaineers by a 28 to 8 score, losing only in the 118-pound and heavyweight divisions.

HENRY BRAUN
Wrestling Captain

The Mexican adonis has been a consistent winner for Coach Archie Mathis' wrestlers during three of their best seasons. Though usually groomed for the 175-lb. weight, Henry has also performed in other divisions when it has been necessary. He has also been an athletic councilman.
The third straight win came when the North Carolina State Wolfpack invaded Doremus gymnasium long enough to be bumped by the Boys in Blue, going back to Raleigh on the short end of a 25 to 5 count. State's only counters came in the 118-pound class, while the meet was highlighted by the appearance of football captain Dick Boisseau in his first and only performance as a varsity wrestler. Boisseau roughed and tumbled his man through the nine minutes to gain a decision.

The high-flying Generals were on their way to an undefeated year and took the Apprentice School of Norfolk, Virginia, on the night of February 9 without any difficulty, 24 to 10. The Shipbuilders picked up hard-earned points in the 155-pound and heavyweight divisions.

The strong University of North Carolina mat artists played hosts to the Generals on February 17 but found their guests more than they had bargained for. The Tarheels bowed out of the picture when the Generals garnered 18 points to the Carolinians' 12. This was the toughest bout the W. & L. squad had all year.

The curtain-lowerer on the 1940 slate was the Gobbler wrestling team from over Blacksburg way. They came to Lexington on February 24 to be disappointed when Washington and Lee piled up 29 points to their meager 5. Litteral forfeited because of injury in the heavyweight class to give the Techmen their markers.

Stars for the season were Tommy Fuller and Barney Farrier, who each amassed a total of 28 points to tie for the individual point trophy awarded each year.

Washington and Lee's neighbors in Lexington, Virginia Military Institute, produced a fine wrestling team too, providing the Generals' partners in ownership of the mythical Southern Conference wrestling title.

RONNIE THOMPSON

Baseball Captain

A native of Rockwell Center, Long Island, Ronnie has proved himself to be the most versatile athlete in school. He has sparked the nine for two years and is also a letterman in basketball and football. Last year Ronnie was honorary captain of the court squad, and is now president of the athletic council.
Washington and Lee's baseball team again failed to "bat .500" in the won and lost column, finishing the 1939 season with a record of seven wins against eleven defeats. However, the Generals turned in some spirited performances and their record showed a marked improvement over the 1938 season.

The Blue nine, under the capable leadership of Captain Johnny Dill, functioned smoothly at times as a unit, and boasted several individual stars. Frank O'Conner, a reserve pitcher in 1938, won all four of his starts, to lead the Southern Conference in this department. Bob Gregerson, sophomore hurler, was badly overworked, but raked in three victories and pitched outstanding ball in several close defeats. Bob Keim and Jimmy Humphreys paced the batters with averages of .345 and .339 respectively.

W. & L. opened the season in impressive style by winning its first two games—downing Ohio State 8-6, and coming from behind to defeat Lynchburg 5-4 in the tenth inning on Kiah Ford's triple. The team then took its annual spring trip, losing to Randolph-Macon, William and Mary, and Richmond, while salvaging the final game from N. C. State, with O'Conner and Gregerson scattering eight hits. The score was 5-3.

The next game was with Michigan's wandering Wolverines, who turned in an easy 9-4 victory. In the next affair with North Carolina, Bob Gregerson pitched one of his best games of the year, only to lose a close 2-1 decision as an attempted squeeze play in the ninth failed. Gregerson's efforts were rewarded in the following game, as he pitched the Blue to a close 4-3 victory over William and Mary.

Frank O'Conner scattered six V. P. I. hits as the Gobblers invaded Lexington in a Southern Conference tilt and the Generals fattened their batting averages at the expense of four visiting hurlers to win 13-2. Keim and Humphreys paced the attack.

The Generals continued their slugging the following Saturday at Charlottesville but played erratic defensive ball, and bowed to Virginia, 10-8. A long home run by to trounce the Blue 9-2 in a game at Lexington. Walter Smith held the Generals to six hits as the Cavaliers registered their second triumph of the year over Coach Smith's charges.

In their final home game of the year, the Generals played inspired ball against a heavily favored Randolph-Macon team, only to lose out in the ninth by an 8-7 score. The Generals sent Henry Pedigo, Yellow Jacket hurler, to the showers in the Doug Simpson with two on kept the Blue right in the game until the last. Richmond's state champions, having downed the Blue 21-0 in the first game in Richmond, found a much improved team in the second clash with the Generals, and were forced to the limit to eke out a 3-1 win. Ned Butcher of the Spiders opposed Gregerson in a beautiful mound duel that saw Richmond bunch three of their five hits in the sixth to win. A long home run by Gregerson robbed Butcher of a shut out.

Roanoke's surprising Maroons were next on the schedule and walked away with a 7-4 win as the Generals committed six errors and secured only one scratch hit. The Blue bounced back in their next encounter by winning their second game of the season from V. P. I., by a 4-1 score. The game was played in Blacksburg and was Frank O'Conner's second win over the Gobblers. V. P. I. threatened in the ninth as O'Conner weakened, and after Smith, who replaced him walked in one run, Bob Gregerson came in to squelch the rally.

Virginia hopped all over Gregerson in the next game.
sixth with a three-run rally, but Hugh Stevens came in to hold W. & L. in check the remainder of the contest. Gregerson was on the mound for the Generals.

The Generals journeyed to Washington for their final game of the year and handed Joe Judge's Georgetown nine a close 5-4 defeat. Frank O'Conner hurled eight innings and received credit for the win before giving way to Gregerson in the ninth, who protected the slim lead. An engagement with Maryland at College Park the following day was rained out.

While the 1939 record was far from impressive, the Generals continued to show a marked improvement over the past few years. After losing seventeen straight in 1937, their stock rose in 1938 as they won five of their twenty-two games. The past season's record of seven wins against ten defeats shows a continued, gradual climb.

Prospects for the 1940 season are far from bright. Johnny Dill, Charlie Hart, and Jack Jones will be gone from the infield and Al Davis, Jim Humphreys, and Bud Schriver from the outfield. Captain Dick will also be confronted with the problem of finding a battery for this year's nine. Jack Dangler, who caught part of the games last year, will be back to handle the receiving duties, as will Bob Gregerson to handle the pitching chores. But reserve batterymen will be scarce as Kiah Ford, catcher, failed to return to school, and Frank O'Conner graduated. Doug Simpson, a hard-hitting outfielder, also failed to return to school. Add to the loss of these key men the fact that the frosh team was the weakest in years, and it is possible to comprehend that the Generals will be woefully weak in 1940 unless some hidden talent develops.
CHARLIE CURL
Track Co-Captain

Charlie has been a heavy point-getter in the dashes during his sophomore and junior years, and should be headed for a big season in '40. Charlie also serves on the athletic council this year. He hails from Helena, Arkansas.

MIKE CROCKER
Track Co-Captain

A steady performer in both cross-country and track, Mike has been elected to the captaincy in each sport. A Phi Beta Kappa, he will leave behind him enviable records in both athletic and scholastic work.

RESUME OF SEASON

Purported to have been the finest assembly of thin-clads to wear the blue and white in ten years, the Big Blue track squad swept over all dual meet competition with one-sided scores until an upset late in the season by Maryland.

Taking only a picked squad to the Southern Conference Indoor Meet at Chapel Hill, N. C., on February 25, Coach Fletcher's speedsters finished fourth behind North Carolina, Maryland, and Duke. Whaley was the Generals' main claim to fame with a new record in the 70-yard high hurdles of :08.7.

In the opener of the outdoor season on April 15, the Big Blue cindermen made an impressive debut by defeating William and Mary 78-48. The Generals won seven of the eight track events, with George Murray, Jim McConnell, and Ross Hersey sweeping the mile; Harvey and Ragon taking the top two places in the quarter. Muller, Bill Murray, and Flash Harvey swept the half-mile, while Bill Whaley won both high and low hurdles, Crocker took the two-mile, and Curl crossed first in the 220.

Journeying to Richmond the following weekend, the Generals continued their steam roller tactics, by crushing the Spiders 80½-45½. An ideal day for running saw Murray, McConnell, and Hersey... again repeat a sweep in the mile, in 4.38. Therefore, Harvey, Muller and Bill Murray decided to follow suit which resulted with a sweep in the half-mile, and to keep the ball rolling, Gilbert, Kately, and Foote followed suit in the pole vault. Notwithstanding Whaley's absence, Soule and Collins placed first and second in the high barriers, while George Melville, and Bill Gwyn finished in that order in the lows. Other outstanding performances were Bill Gwyn's 6 feet, ¾ inch in the high jump; Ragon's 50.4 in the 440, and Curl's win of 22.2 in the 220.

On April 27, the Generals invaded the V. P. I. Gobblers' lair to extend their winning streak one more by trampling them, 82-44. The Blue thin-clads won all but three events, the discus, the two-mile, and the javelin. Easily the outstanding performance of the meet was the setting of a new track record in the half-mile by Flash Harvey in the time of 1:56.5. Ragon also turned in a very nice win in the quarter in :49.8. Harvey, Muller and Murray's sweep of the half-mile was the third consecutive time that they had shut out their competition. Nicholson, Soule, and Adams captured all places in the broad jump, while Whaley won the high and low hurdles, George Murray the mile, and Gwyn the high jump.

Charlie Curl, a dependable point-getter, raced first to the tape in the 100-yard dash in 9.9 seconds. He also romped in ahead in the 220 with a time of :21.8. This meet, as has become tradition, was a birthday present to Coach Forest Fletcher.

Washington and Lee's mile relay team, composed of Charlie Curl, "Butch" Thuran, Flash Harvey, and Heartsill Ragon went to Philadelphia the next day and won first place in the Class B mile relay championship for the second consecutive year.

Although two of the Blue's thin-clads established new school marks, a strong Maryland squad outclassed them at College Park, 79-48. Charlie Gilbert set a new vault record of 12 feet, 2 inches to break the old mark set in 1929 of 12 feet. Bob Nicholson set a new record in the broad jump by leaping 22 feet, 8½ inches, but lost by a referee's decision by a quarter of an inch. Harold "Flash" Harvey lost a heartbreaker in the last fifty yards when Jim Kehoe, ace distance man of the Terrapins, outsprinted him to set a new track record of 1:54.3. Gilbert, Kately and Foote swept the pole vault, and Bill Whaley won the high hurdles. Big Joe Ochsie took first in the shot-put while George Murray and McConnell were forced to bow to Chronister.

On the 13th of May, in a cold drizzle at Richmond, the Generals were forced to lay aside their high aspirations of a state crown and give way to a strong University of Virginia team. Although Bob Nicholson did take first in the broad jump, and Harvey upset Goodall, Virginia ace, the men who were counted upon by Coach Fletcher before the meet as sure points, failed to materialize. Both Charlie Curl and Bill Whaley, who were heavy favorites in their events, failed to point. Ragon dropped a decision at the tape in the 440 by a hair, but the mile relay team of Curl, Gwyn, Harvey and Ragon crossed first. The Generals had been a strong favorite to win this meet, but finished second, followed by V. M. L., Richmond, V. P. I., and William and Mary.

To wind up the season, the Fletcher cinder- men traveled to Chapel Hill, N. C., to take part in the Southern Conference Meet, which North Carolina won and the Generals took fourth place in.

Three of the contingent turned in the best performances of their careers and set new school records. Heartsill Ragon broke the tape in the good time of 48.9 to become Southern Conference champ in the 440. Harvey, running his last race for Washington and Lee, set a new school time of 1:54.4, but was forced to take third behind Hendrix of North Carolina and Kehoe of Maryland. The third mark was set by George Murray, hard driving sophomore, who crossed the line in fourth place, but in the time of 4:28.

With Co-Captains Harvey and Ragon the only men being lost by graduation, and a wealth of sophomores and juniors to fill their shoes, the track prospects for 1940 loom as the most promising in years. The team will miss the guiding hand of Forest Fletcher, who is on a temporary leave of absence, and who has piloted winning track teams at Washington and Lee since 1916.

Won 1, Lost 4.
Handicapped by a scarcity of material, Washington and Lee's varsity swimmers finished the '40 season with three victories, three defeats, and a sixth place in the annual Southern Conference swimming competition.

It will take Coach Cy Twomblly a long time to find someone to fill the berth left vacant by Captain Brent Farber due to graduation. During his three years of varsity competition, Captain Farber has made quite an amazing record which was climaxedit this year by his brilliant performances in dual meets as well as in Southern Conference competition.

The services of Jake Warner, consistent point garnerer for the Big Blue for the past three seasons will be missed when Coach Twomblly starts practicing his breaststrokers next year. Although this marked his first year of varsity swimming, Alec Thompson gave a fine account of himself in the backstrokes department. Though he started off slowly at the beginning of the season, Thompson rapidly improved and was a mainstay for the Generals in every backstrokes race. Captain Farber, Warner, and Thomson are the only men graduating from this year's squad.

Coach Twomblly will be counting heavily on his present freshman squad for next season at which time he plans rebuilding the Big Blue which has not been up to par for the past two seasons. In addition, Coach Twomblly will have ten lettermen to work with in 1941. For the dashes he can look to Jim Snobble, Ed Samara, Evans Jasper, and Fred Pitzer. In the distance races, Bob Schultz and Jasper will be on hand. Herb Friedman will carry on in the backstrokings department, while Pitzer will be the only returning breaststrokings veteran. Captain-elect Bob Boyce and "Chick" Pierce will be on hand to tee the board for the '41 session. From this year's freshman squad, Coach Twombly plans to use backstroker Bill Webster, who set a new Doremus pool record for the 100-yard backstroke in the time of 1:02.9. Charles Murdock, breaststroker, and Ross Benson, dash man.

The Washington and Lee varsity opened its season with an impressive 42-33 victory over North Carolina State by winning the 400-yard relay event. After a three-week lay-off for exams and Fancy Dress the Big Blue met William and Mary at Williamsburg and tasted their first defeat of the season, 43-32. It was during this William and Mary meet that Captain Farber started his series of record breaking performances, by lowering the Indian pool record for the 60-yard dash.

On February 14, the Big Bluemen journeyed to Blacksburg to whip V. P. I. by the score of 55-20. This time, swimming in the 220-yard free style, Captain Farber broke the V. P. I. pool record in this event. Three days later the Twomblymen met University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. The Tar Heels, present Southern Conference swimming champs, handed the Generals their second defeat of the season by a score of 40-35.

A week later a well balanced swimming team from Duke University conquered the Blue varsity, 46-29. It was during this Duke meet that Captain Farber broke his third pool record when he slashed through 50 yards of the Doremus pool in 21 seconds flat.

The greatest surprise of the season came when Washington and Lee decisively turned back a formidable swimming squad from University of Virginia, 52-23. This was the worst defeat the Wahoos felt except at the hands of Navy. Captain Farber led the Generals to take every first place while he personally set a new record in the 100-yard dash.

Twelve points gave the Big Blue swimmers a sixth in the annual Southern Conference swimming meet which was won by the University of North Carolina who amassed a total of 60 points. Captain Farber, scoring seven of the Blue's 12 points, won a second in the 50 and a third in the 100-yard dashes. Bob Boyce, elected captain of the swimming team immediately before the Southern Conference finals, gained a fourth in the diving while Bob Schultz swam a nice 440 to get a fourth in this race. Jake Warner touched in fifth in the breaststroke.

The 1939 intramural season was one of the most successful ever experienced at Washington and Lee. A new record for the number of participants and keen competition which lasted through the last event characterized the entire program.

There were 770 eligible participants, 624 of which took part in one or more sports. Four hundred eighty of these scored one point or more in competition. Vance Funk of the Deltas and Rand Duncan of the Betas garnered the greatest number of points, followed by Nielson, Delt; Ford, Delt; and Wing, Beta.

The Interfraternity Council sponsored an all-star basketball game with a player entered from each house and the sponsors of winning players receiving points toward the intramural trophy. It is hoped that this idea will be extended to other sports in the intramural system.
One hundred years ago the South was agricultural; cotton, sugar, rice, and tobacco were the major products. Science made available the phosphates of the Southeastern States; this led to great plants for sulfuric acid manufacture. Waste cotton-seed furnishes oil and vegetable lard. Pine forests are turned into paper; other forests become wood-pulp, and that pulp becomes rayon, cellophane, masonite, and a hundred other products. The Avery's Island salt mine led to vast fields of petroleum, natural gas, and sulfur, and from these have come enormous industries. The West Virginia brine wells were the germ of one of the world's centers of industrial chemistry. Last century's little charcoal furnaces made possible Alabama's steel. The South has become industrialized.

A WORD OF THANKS

As the 1940 CALYX goes to press it is the earnest hope of the editors that it will more than meet the expectations of the student body. On a very limited budget we have made every effort to produce a complete and attractive yearbook. We feel that the 1940 CALYX has an appropriate theme, which we have attempted to develop as fully as possible. Although the theme is not entirely bound up with the university it does represent a new era to which Washington and Lee is making great contributions. So we hope that the CALYX of 1940 will be a prophesy of both a greater South and a greater university.

Among the innovations of the book are the individual snapshots of the girls in the Beauty Section, which, we feel, will help endorse the selections of the Annapolis Hop Committee. It might be said that the Hop Committeemen proved to be very good judges of beauty, and the staff itself could hardly have done better. Also competition was very close for the eight places. We should like to thank Sam Forter, chairman, and the Hop Committeemen who made the selections.

There are numerous other individuals who have greatly assisted in the publication of the 1940 CALYX. Mr. Bill Daniel of the Benson Printing Company rendered invaluable assistance in the laying out and planning of the book. His long service to Washington and Lee in this capacity has earned for him a position of attachment which few outsiders enjoy. Mr. Len Glover of the Lynchburg Engraving Company also had a great part in the work. The willingness of both of these men to cooperate and to guide the staff out of various difficulties which naturally have arisen from time to time has been responsible in no small measure for the successful meeting of the printing deadline. Mr. Andy McClung and his staff at the Andre Studio have rendered fine service in turning out a fine group of photographic prints. The staff relations with them have been most pleasant throughout the year. We should like to thank Mr. W. K. Deighton of the Smith-Molloy Company for his assistance in designing an appropriate cover in keeping with the CALYX theme. Behind the scenes Mr. Robert G. Benson of the Benson Printing Company has efficiently handled the great mass of copy details which crossed his desk.

Here at the university three faculty members in particular have graciously aided the editor when called upon. Dr. Moffatt of the English Department ably assisted in the preparation of the opening section and the printed matter contained therein. In the development of the theme material Mr. Moger of the History Department and Dr. Howe of the Chemistry Department rendered invaluable advice and assistance. Dr. Gaines as usual gave the graduating class a timely word of farewell.

Of course the backbone of any yearbook is the Business Staff. In this connection Business Manager Lee Kenna and his assistants, Dick Day, Thornton Strang, and Benton Wakefield, comfortably reached the advertising goal in spite of the isolated nature of Lexington and the limited clientele.

On the Editorial Staff two men in particular contributed heavily to the successful publication of the CALYX. The untiring efforts of Sonny Heartwell and Jim McConnell in capably handling every type of assignment deserve nothing but praise. It has been a real pleasure to work with these two men. Al Fleishman, as sports editor, capably supervised the compiling of the complete copy for this section. Keith McMurran, Mike Watt, Charlie Carter, Ned Burks, and many others always worked diligently in the work to which they were assigned. Sam Ames' assistance in the photographic department as well as Dick Shepherd's ever-ready camera were definite assets.

We should like to thank the student body as a whole for its cooperation in the picture drive and assistance in submitting photographs for the beauty and snapshot sections. This cooperation has made possible the successful completion of these phases of the book. In closing, let us wish you all many hours of pleasure with the CALYX in years to come.

TAKE A TIP FROM Mahommet...

Go to the Mountains—THE ALLEGHANIES!

Since 1773, generations of Americans—seemingly harkening to the famous words of a prophet—have seen the wisdom of going to White Sulphur Springs, in the heart of the Alleghanies. For, as long as the mountains here, like Mahommet's, won't come to you, it's folly to stay away and miss all the pleasures they afford—riding or hiking over forest trails, playing golf or rounds in truly bracing air, joying life as seldom before! So, away to The Greenbrier—right now! Rates are extremely moderate. Write—or wire collect—for reservations.
