Normally, each volume of the "Calyx" is dedicated to one particular individual who has proved of inestimable service to Washington and Lee or whose personality has enriched the college life of all W. & L. men. However, in these times of turmoil, when each individual is called upon to contribute to the common good, it would not be proper to single out one individual.

Rather this volume will serve as a tribute to the 1,800 or more Washington and Lee alumni who are actively engaged in the struggle for the survival of the Nation.

We particularly wish to pay tribute to the fourteen alumni who have given their lives for their country in the hope that their sacrifice has been a contribution toward a permanent peace in this world.

FOREWORD

This yearbook is an attempt to picture the final year of the class of 1943 at Washington and Lee—the last year of collegiate education for a class that never saw W. and L. as it was in a world at peace. For just about the time we entered the university in September of 1939, Hitler was completing his conquest of Poland in a struggle that was to affect materially this school and these United States.

The school year 1942-43 has not been an easy one for Washington and Lee. It began with an enrollment some 300 students fewer than normal and ended with scarcely 300 enrolled. We hope that this book in a way pictures the changes that have come to a war-time Washington and Lee and the effort the student body has expended in preparing for greater service in a world at war.
December 7, 1942, saw the dawn of a new war-time Washington and Lee University. The past two years had seen an accelerated program, the adaptation of courses to the war effort and a somewhat reduced student body. The first anniversary of the attack on Pearl Harbor, however, was the day when the Army School for Special Service came to the campus signifying a new and different W. & L. "for the duration."
Gentlemen of the Senior Class:

In the pleasant course of the normal years, a college annual is little more than a sweet agency of remembrance, to give permanence of record to the faces and the episodes that crowd the undergraduate epoch. For the Class of 1943, we hope, the memory of Washington and Lee will be as rich in quiet and unpretentious suggestion as for any group.

But something more will speak through these pages, something of the greatness of heart and the boldness of spirit that, characteristic of your Alma Mater in every period of crisis, remain as your own assets of inspiration. Draw deeply upon the assets of honor and faith and sacrifice; and go forth unafraid, go forth proud that you will write another chapter of comparable glory.

FRANCIS P. GAINES, President.

Several paragraphs of text are present, describing various students and their activities. Each student is listed with their name, hometown, and a brief description of their involvement in different clubs and organizations. The text is quite detailed, mentioning sports, academic societies, and other extracurricular activities. The paragraphs are formatted in a way that is typical of academic yearbooks, with students' names and descriptions arranged in a list format.

Dances, long one of the features of life at Washington and Lee, have been curtailed decidedly in this new war-time University. The bands aren't the "name bands" they used to be, the decorations have been much more modest than in the past, and replacing the once-popular flower corsages have been war corsages made of war savings stamps.
Miss Emily Loftis

Miss Alabama Edwards

Miss Betty Phillips

Miss Jeannette Pressley
Milton Caniff, the creator of "Terry and the Pirates," that popular comic strip, was not asked to select the beauties for the 1943 CALYX by mere chance. The CALYX staff knew from observation of the shapely women appearing in his strip each day that Caniff was a keen judge of female pulchritude. He wouldn't have 23,000,000 readers today were it not for that ability.

We also asked Mr. Caniff to select the beauties because we felt the authenticity in his comic strip indicated that his judgments are sound. Of course, it was not overlooked that Mr. Caniff is still a young man, 34, possesses tastes of a younger man, and is a college graduate. He was a Sigma Chi at Ohio State.

We appreciate the efforts of Mr. Caniff in choosing these beauties and in sending us the drawing of his "Dragon Lady" and hope that you agree that his has been a wise selection of beauties.
Washington & Lee's First wartime Openings in many ways was a good dance set. The effects of war could be seen—transportation difficulties, less elaborate decorations, censures of war saving stamps. But while these things were always reminding our subconscious minds of the great task before us all, they did not keep the boys and girls in the country surrounding Lexington from having a much earned party. And what a party it turned out to be! It began Friday night, November 20, when Sophomore Class President Holly Smith, led Holly Smith and Miss Jean Harris of Greenville, South Carolina, leaders of the Sophomore Prom.

Earl Alverson and Miss Jane Harris of Decatur, Alabama, leaders of the Cotillion Club, figure at openings.

the Sophomore Figure at the Sophomore Prom with Miss Jean Harris of Greenville, South Carolina. Again Saturday afternoon Doremus gymnasium rang with the good time of the Kappa Alpha dantzant. The Saturday night dance proved to be the perfect way to end the set. The Cotillion Club Figure was led by Earl Alverson, President of Openings, with Miss Jane Harris of Decatur, Alabama. And all this time Bobby Byrnes and his orchestra had been giving his characteristically good music. Yes, it was indeed a good start of the year's social activities.
FANCY DRESS DANCE

Led by Beverly Fitzpatrick and Miss Helen Chewning of Roanoke, the 1943 Fancy Dress Ball had as its theme the American spirit. Music for the dance set, cut from the usual three nights to two, was played by Jack Teagarden and his orchestra. Costumes were of military and naval heroes of the period in American life from 1776 until 1918. Fitzpatrick and Miss Chewning were dressed as George and Martha Washington. Other set officers who portrayed such men as Andrew Jackson, Robert E. Lee, Stonewall Jackson, Admiral Farragut, Theodore Roosevelt and General Pershing were Vernon Millsep, Joe Ellis, Leo Signaigo, Zip Wheeler, Bill Noonan, Tom Wilson, Bates Bryan, and Jug Nelson.

Saturday night's dance was the Final Ball for the University's first mid-year graduating class. Larry Galloway, secretary of the student body, and Miss Jacqueline Bernard of Baltimore, led other January graduates in the figure that night.
SPRING DANCES

Spring dances, the first set attempted at Washington and Lee when its student body had reached the 300 student level, was considered a success despite its modest setting.

Music for the dances was played by Johnny Satterfield and his North Carolinians, a band of considerable prominence in this section of the South.

Bill McKelway and Miss Frances Taylor of Clinton, S. C., who led the Junior Prom figure at Spring dances.

Millsap was appointed by the Dance Board to replace Leo Signaigo as president of the Spring set when Signaigo was called to active duty in the Army Enlisted Reserve Corps.

McKelway led the Junior Prom figure as executive committee man of his class. All of the other officers of his class are now in the service of their country.
The first wartime finals in years was shortened from three to two days. But what a glorious two days they were. The set began Monday night, May 25, 1942. The Senior figure that night was led by Senior Class President Bliss Scott and Miss Roberta Billups of Mary Baldwin. Following the midnight intermission the Interfraternity figure was led by Interfraternity Council President John Walter Stowers and Miss Martha Bowman of Hollins.

The following afternoon, Tuesday, May 26, old Do-ramus gymnasium was alive with the gay Phi Delta Theta dantast. Hal McIntyre and his fine young band played for all dances of the set and made a big hit. And then, as the setting sun played across the green campus, the one hundred and ninety-third Commencement exercise was held in Lee Chapel.

That night everyone was gay, but many were sadly aware that they were entering their last dance of their last few days at good old W. & L. The Tuesday night figure was led by Finals President Brad Dunson and Miss Elizabeth Lemon of La Grange, Georgia. On into Wednesday morning we danced. Not only the seniors but many others knew that with the ending of this dance ended the long acquaintances and great experiences of Washington and Lee. Finally, as the sun began to peep over those Virginia mountains we all stood together and sang College friendships to end a good dance set and an eventful school year.

Four major sports—football, basketball, wrestling and baseball—were the only athletics at Washington and Lee that were able to last through the 1942-43 school year. Along with the reduced emphasis of intercollegiate sports came greater stress on an intensive intramural athletic program and physical education classes which emphasized physical fitness of the individual. Running the obstacle course, as pictured above, was a common sight during the year now ending.

Hard pressed by the failure of their captain along with several lettermen and the entire coaching staff to return to school, the 1942 Generals played their first wartime season under the tutelage of Jerry Holstein, who gave time from his law practice to take over the reins. Despite the team's record, all observers agreed that this was the most spirited team that Washington and Lee has seen in many years.

The Generals traveled to Charleston, W. Va., to battle Bill Kern's Mountaineers in the opening game. At the end of a hard-fought game the Generals were on the short end of a 21-7 score, which, nevertheless, doesn't tell the true story.
The hard-charging line, led by Big John Rulevich, continually smashed the Mountaineers' attack, while the W. & L. backfield sparked by the brilliant passing of Sophomore Dick Working threatened the West Virginia goal throughout the tilt.

The following weekend found the Generals in the heart of the Blue Grass, arrayed against a powerful Kentucky eleven. The teams struggled on even terms throughout the first half, but injuries to several key players and a lack of adequate reserves spelled doom for the Big Blue as the Wildcats scored almost at will in the second half to chalk up a 53-0 victory.

Showing the effect of 3,000 miles on the road since the beginning of the season, the travel-weary Generals were no match for the fast, hard-charging Rollins' Tars, falling by the score of 46-0 at Winter Park, Florida.

Playing the first home game of the season, W. & L. won its initial victory with a clean-cut 20-13 triumph over a scrappy Hampden-Sydney team. "Lighthorse Harry" Harner paced the Generals' attack with a brilliant performance, galloping fifty yards for a touchdown on a punt return early in the first quarter and later passing to End Pinky Norman for another score. Bill Babcock starred also with his spectacular line plunges. The Big Blue line crashed the Tigers' line consistently, once breaking through to score a safety.

In the annual Lynchburg classic against VPI, the Big Blue played a brilliant game in defeat as VPI outscored, but never outfought, the Generals, 19-6. The heavy Blue line, stabilized by Alior and Rulevich at tackles, and aided by a brilliant aerial attack, held the favored Techmen to a 13-6 score as the final period opened. An intercepted pass deep in VPI territory halted what appeared to be a game-tying drive by W. & L., and it paved the way for the final VPI tally.

A favored W. & L. eleven suffered a fatal letdown the following Saturday and was upset by an inspired Richmond team by a score of 8-6. Two W. & L. touchdowns were called back early in the game, and the Spiders outfought the disheartened Blue for the rest of the game.

The team entered the Virginia game with high hopes of victory after a week of hard preparation. The Wahoos, however, outplayed the Generals at their own game—passing—to rack up a 34-7 win. Tabb Gillette, connecting for 23 passes in 35 attempts, was directly responsible for four Virginia scores and set up another. Harry Harnar scored the only Blue touchdown of the game on a beautiful 25-yard broken-field run.

The Generals, using a two-team system, lost to a strong Davidson squad by a 21-13...

score at Charlotte, N. C. The first W. & L. tally came on a pass from Dick Working to Paul Cavaliere. The outstanding play of the game was responsible for the Generals’ second score when Harry Harner connected on a long pass to Pinky Norman, who lateralled to Dave Russell, who crossed the goal line.

The final game of the year saw Clark Shaughnessy’s Old Liners build up a 26-7 lead at halftime as just about everything the Blue did went wrong. With the start of the second half the Generals suddenly began to click and filled the air with passes that brought the score up to 32-28. Dave Russell personally accounted for sixteen points in the game and turned in the outstanding performance of a Blue back for the season.

The loss to Maryland marked the final appearance of a Washington and Lee football team on a college gridiron for the duration of the war. Early in December the Athletic Committee, with the approval of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees, decided to discontinue the sport until the war is won, thus abandoning the battles on the playing field for a greater fight.

To the Right, Top to Bottom: Paul Cavaliere is off to Washington and Lee’s first touchdown as two Davidson men trail him. Davidson won, 21-13. . . . Harner stops Buck Miller of Maryland after a five-yard gain. . . . Harry Harner picks up considerable yardage before Alf Tyler of Davidson brings him to a stop. Cavaliere (22) and Working (61) are also in on the play. . . . Harry Baugher (51) makes a fruitless effort to stop Maryland’s Red Wright as latter plunges over for first score as Maryland ekes out a 32-28 win at College Park.

Rulevich, Allor, Diloreto, Daves, and R. Norman.

Crucial moments as Washington and Lee's luckless basketball team loses an overtime decision to George Washington's Southern Conference Championship team.

WASHINGTON AND LEE'S UNPREDICTABLE BASKETBALL TEAM EXPERIENCED A SEASON MARKED BY HEART-BREAKING LOSSES AND SPARRING WITH BRILLIANT WINS. HANDICAPPED BY THE LOSS OF SIX VARSITY SQUAD MEN DURING THE SEASON—CAPTAIN LEO SIGNAIGO, DICK WORKING, LEON HARRIS, BILL BRYAN, GEORGE WOOD, AND JACK KIBLER—THE GENERALS UNDER THE ABLE COACHING OF "GUMMY" PROCTOR FOUGHT A HARD BUT DISAPPOINTING SEASON.

IN THE OPENING GAME THE GENERALS PACE BY CLANCY BALLANGER'S 19 POINTS, WON AN ARTISTIC VICTORY FROM ROANOKE COLLEGE. IN THE OPENING SOUTHERN CONFERENCE TILT, HOWEVER, THE GENERALS DROPPED A THRILLER TO THE INDIANS TO THE TUNE OF 33-34, DUE TO A CONTROVERSIAL PLAY AND A LAPSE ON THE OFFICIAL SCORER'S PART. TRAVELING TO CHARLOTTESVILLE, THE PROCTOR-LED EXPERIENCED A SECOND CLOSE DEFEAT AS THEY WERE EDGED OUT 35-34 BY THE Wahoo TEAM.

THE BLUE REBOUNDED TO WIN FIVE IMPRESSIVE VICTORIES FROM MARYLAND, THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA, CAMP PICKETT, HAMPDEN-SYDNAY, AND LYNCHBURG COLLEGE. THESE GAMES WERE MARKED BY SPIRITED TEAM WORK AND AN IMPROVED OFFENSE, CENTERING AROUND CLANCY BALLANGER AND SOPHOMORE HARRY HANER. FRESHMAN FRED VINSON FIGURED PROMINENTLY IN THE WIN OVER THE FAVORED SOLDIERS FROM CAMP PICKETT.

THE GENERALS SUFFERED THEIR SECOND SOUTHERN CONFERENCE SETBACK AS THEY BOWED TO THE TECHMEN DESPITE A LAST PERIOD RALLY AT THE VPI GYMNASIUM AT BLACKSBURG. THE SLUMPING W. & L. TEAM WAS UPSET BY ONE POINT BY A SURPRISING SPIDER QUINTET. Riddled by the loss of CAPTAIN LEO SIGNAI GO AND DICK WORKING AND SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED BY A LACK OF RESERVES, THE BLUE TEAM LOST TO DUKE, GEORGE WASHINGTON, AND MARYLAND IN QUICK SUCCESSION.

AN INSPIRED W. & L. TEAM Fought ITS GREATEST GAME OF THE SEASON AS IT LOST 45-51 IN TWO EXTRA PERIODS AGAINST GEORGE WASHINGTON'S CONFERENCE CHAMPIONSHIP TEAM. IN PROBABLY THE BEST GAME OF THE YEAR, HARRY HANER TURNED IN THE GREATEST PERFORMANCE OF HIS CAREER AND WAS HIGH SCORER WITH 18 POINTS. DESPITE A DISCOURAGING LACK OF REGULAR VARSITY STARTERS AND RESERVE MATERIAL, COACH "GUMMY" PROCTOR'S BOYS PLAYED HARD IN THE NEXT THREE ENCOUNTERS, BUT THE FIGHTING BLUE LOST TO VPI, W. & L., RICHMOND, AND ROANOKE COLLEGE. THIS LOSING STREAK WAS BRIGHTENED SOMEWHAT BY A SENSATIONAL SCORING SPREE BY SHARP-EYED HARRY HANER.

AN AMBITIOUS FINAL WIN OVER "THOSE Wahoos" PARTIALLY STONED FOR A SEASON MARRED BY DEFEATS, AS HANER HELD DICK WILLSHIRE, HIGH-POINT MAN IN THE STATE, TO THREE POINTS. HARRY BOUGHER LED THE GENERALS TO VICTORY WITH 18 POINTS TO HIS CREDIT.

OUTSTANDING FOR THE BLUE TEAM DURING THE 1943 SEASON WERE HARRY HANER, WITH A TOTAL OF 203 POINTS; CLANCY BALLANGER WITH 175 POINTS, AND HARRY BOUGHER WITH 100 POINTS.

Washington and Lee's varsity wrestling squad added another successful season to its consistently good record, as they won three of their four dual meets. This record was compiled in spite of the loss to the Navy of Archie Mathis, W&L's famous coach, and with the aid of only two lettermen. During the season four varsity men including the co-captains, Bud Robb and Sammy Graham, were lost to the service.

The season opened with a trip into North Carolina. The Generals dropped a close meet to the 1942 conference championship team of the University of North Carolina by the score of 9-17, with Graham, Robb, and Burger winning decisions over their opponents. The Blue matmen then rebounded to win a clean-cut 22-6 victory over N. C. State at Raleigh. Graham, Stieff, Robb, Bird, Crockett, and Lawrence winning their matches; Graham and Bird obtaining falls over their opponents.

In the first home meet of the season, the Blue matmen showed much promise in handing a 23-11 defeat to the Blue Devils of Duke. Graham, Bagley, Robb, Bird, and Crockett won for the home team, all but Graham winning by falls. For their next and last dual meet of the season, the W&L grapplers traveled to Blacksburg to face the Techmen. W&L won a hard-fought meet by a 19-13 score, with Graham, Bird, Crockett, Lawrence, and Burger starring for the victors.

Riddled by losses to the armed forces and by an epidemic of measles, W&L was able to enter only four men in the Southern Conference Tournament held at Waynesboro, Va., with W&L acting as host. Of these four men, Bob Crockett came second in his weight, while Joe Simpson, Ned Lawrence, and Holly Smith all were fourth in their respective weights.

Outstanding for the Blue team during the 1943 season were the co-captains, Sammy Graham and Bud Robb, who also acted in a coaching capacity; and also such sophomores as George Bird and Bob Crockett. Much of the success of this wrestling season was due to the tireless aid given to coaching the squad by Captain Clifford Gallagher of the Army School for Special Service.

The 1942 edition of Washington and Lee's baseball team completed a rather mediocre season, winding up with three wins, eight losses, and a tie. With only five returning lettermen, Captain Dick Smith had to rely heavily on sophomores. Also the team was late starting outdoor practice and further handicapped by Cap'n Dick's early spring illness.

Nevertheless the Blue opened by playing a strong Virginia team to a tie, with Jay Cook making an auspicious debut on the mound in his first varsity game. In the second game of the season, the Generals played the Wahoos a second time and gained a deserved 6-4 win. Temporarily on top of the Big Six, the Blue lost to Richmond, William & Mary, and V. P. I., before breaking into the win column against William and Mary on Wilson Field for their second win. Then followed a loss to the Lynchburg Senators, a professional ball club, in the only night game played by the Generals. In the next game they lost a tough 2-1 decision to V. P. I.'s Big Six champions, in what was probably the best game played on Wilson Field all year. Jay Cook, in top form, pitched one of his best games of the season.

The Blue managed to obtain one win during the remaining four games on the schedule, defeating Maryland 2-1 in a tight ball game. For Washington and Lee, the season was bright only in spots. Injuries, bad breaks, and inability to come through at the crucial moments proved costly in the games lost. Bob Cavanna, Harry Baugher, and Captain-elect Ted Ciesla led the team in batting; and Jay Cook and Captain Pres Brown turned in outstanding performances on the mound. Brown and Cavanna were the only losses through graduation, leaving a wealth of material on hand. With nine lettermen returning and several good players coming up from the freshman squad, prospects are bright for 1943.

Although Washington and Lee's 1942 track team lost its three scheduled meets to Richmond, William & Mary, and V. P. I., there were a number of noteworthy individual performances during the season. The team was greatly weakened by losses through graduation and the failure of several men to return to school.

The General cindermen dropped their first dual meet to Richmond. Although Captain Bud Yeomans captured both hurdles, the broad jump, and 220-yard dash, his brilliant feats could not offset the points racked up by the Spiders in the middle-distance races and field events. It was in this meet that Hank Woods broke the school record for the discus, but had to be content with second place to Griffin, who set a new Southern Conference record in the event. The Blue Thinclads met William & Mary in their second scheduled meet, succumbing by a 74-52 score. Again Captain Yeomans was high scorer of the meet, winning the broad jump and 220-yard low hurdles, and placing second in the 220-yard dash and high hurdles events. William & Mary's seven first places in the eight running events built up a lead that the Generals' advantage in the field events could not overcome. Ken Rippedge, Lillard Allor, Hank Woods, and Hal Keller came through nicely in the javelin, shot put, discus, and high jump to record firsts in those events. In the third and final meet, V. P. I.'s well-balanced aggregation proved too much for the Generals and decisively defeated them on Wilson Field, by a score of 97 to 29. Led by Paul McMullin, Southern Conference Indoor sprint champion, the visitors swept all the track and field events but two. Captain-elect Allor and Hank Woods respectively came through to take firsts in the shot put and discus, preventing a complete rout.

In the Big Six meet at Charlottesville, Captain Yeomans and Hank Woods were the only Generals to place in their events, as the team finished sixth and last. Yeomans gave an outstanding performance for the Blue, in pushing Virginia's Todd to a new meet record in the 220-yard low hurdles, to take second place. Woods tossed the discus far enough to garner fourth place in that event. Track prospects for 1943 remain very uncertain with the graduation of Yeomans, Woods and others, and the loss of Coach Hennemier to the Navy.

INTRAMURALS

The aims of the Intramural sports program at Washington and Lee are the creation of interest in recreational sport and participation in them by the mass of students, regardless of their skill and ability. This program is of special value now that our nation at war calls for maximum physical development and health for the young men soon to be in the armed forces. The decrease in intercollegiate competition during the year caused a corresponding increase of interest in the Intramural sports program.

FOOTBALL

The Pi K. A. team showed surprising strength in clinching the football championship, having allowed five opponents only a single touchdown while they rolled up 102 points. In the championship game, the Pi K. A.'s defeated the Phi Dels, who after dropping the first game, rebounded to win the consolation and advance to the finals. Captain Leo Signaigo and Red Gorman were outstanding for the champions.

VOLLEY BALL

The NFU won the volleyball championship from the PEP team in a hard-fought match. The Puerto Rican duo of Ramon and Adolph Luina starred for the champions during the season, while the PEP team was paced by Ben Kaplan and Leon Garber.
INTRAMURALALS

BASKETBALL
A strong S. A. E. team had little difficulty in retaining the basketball championship by defeating the Delts in the finals by a score of 23-9. The S. A. E.'s defeated the A. T. O.'s, Sigma Chi's, Sigma Nu's, and N. F. U.'s to enter the finals. Ambrose Givens was outstanding for the champions. The N. F. U.'s defeated the Lambda Chi's to take the consolation.

PING PONG
Led by Bob Gaines and Bill McKelway, the Delts retained the ping pong championship by defeating a strong N. F. U. team in the finals by the score of 3-1.

HANDBALL
Luke Smith of Phi Delta Theta captured the intramural handball tournament by defeating Rick Kiendl, Phi Psi, 21-13 and 21-9, after downing George Bowers, Lambda Chi, in the semi-finals.

SWIMMING
The Delts kept the intramural swimming championship for the third successive year by winning first place in six out of eight events and tallying 50 intramural points. The S. A. E.'s and Phi Psi's came second and third with 22 and 20 points respectively. Outstanding were Bob Gaines and Dan Ball for the Delts and Bill Olendorf for the S. A. E.'s.

WRESTLING

There were 80 boys registered for the 1943 intramural wrestling tournament which started April 5 with the Sigma Chi's defending.

GOLF

Luke Smith, Phi Delt, advanced to win the 1942 golf championship against a strong field of contenders. He defeated Stu Smith of N. F. U. in the final playoff.

TRACK

Sigma Chi nosed out Phi Psi, 30 1-2 to 28 1-2, to win the 1942 track title. Sigma Chi took firsts in the broad jump, the 100-yard dash, and the 220-yard dash. Jack Roehl starred for the champions. The S. A. E.'s ranked third with 28 points.

BASEBALL

A strong Phi Kappa Sigma baseball team defeated Pi K. A. 15-11 after taking an early lead in the first inning for the 1942 championship. The A. T. O.'s defeated the Delts in the finals of the consolation.

TENNIS

Bob Gaines, Delt, won his final match against Cy Ingraham, Beta, to claim the 1942 tennis championship.

Social fraternities at Washington and Lee passed through a trying year that saw several of them close their chapter houses completely. The others operated under a curtailed program. One of the changes brought about by the war was a friendly and cooperative attitude that existed between fraternity men and the officers of the Army School for Special Service.

GAMMA PHI ZETA CHAPTER

Established 1922
THE CYRUS MCCORMICK STATUE AND THE COLONADE
Most of the campus organizations continued their functions during the 1942-43 school year but virtually all were forced by conditions to modify their activities. Most important organizations at Washington and Lee this year were the various reserve units, which cooperated in a mass recruiting drive on the campus last October. The Army, the Navy, the Marines, and both the Army and Navy Air Corps asked for volunteers at that time.

During the 1942-43 season the Troubadours gave two plays: the first, "Ten Nights in a Barroom," was directed by Jack Lanich, and the second, "Arsenic and Old Lace," by Jim Stanfield. The directors were assisted by Seymour Smith, director of religious activities, and Lieut. Paul Baker of the Army School for Special Service. The players operated under the sponsorship of J. G. Varner, director of musical and dramatic organizations.

KROGER'S GROCERY AND BAKING CO.
In Appreciation

This book is the product of the combined efforts of numerous people. Among those to whom we are indebted for the success of this volume are Bud Robb, Lynch Christian and Jim LaPlante, the first three business managers of this book, who insured its financial success. Particularly do we wish to thank LaPlante for pulling us through a dark hour. From the editorial staff of the 1943 Calyx appreciation is due Bob Moore, Harry Orgain, Holly Smith, Dick Watson and Bob Burriss, and many others. Cal Bond, editor of the 1942 Calyx helped us with advice and assistance in financial matters. Charley Devine and Roger Winborne provided us with many photographs used in this Calyx.

From outside the student body came assistance from Mr. L. W. Adams and Mr. J. H. Williams, the faculty members of the Publications Board; M. L. Glover of the Lynchburg Engraving Company, who largely designed the book; Mr. R. G. Benson and Mr. Dan Edie of Benson Printing Company, who offered much appreciated advice; Mr. Andrew McClung and his staff at Andre's Studio, Mr. Sam Rayder, student body treasurer; and Mrs. Willard King, his secretary, and Mr. Henry K. Tice of the Kingscraft Company, the designer of the cover.

To our advertisers we also owe a debt of gratitude.

A. D. DARBY, JR., Editor.
