TO THE SONS OF WASHINGTON AND LEE WHO GAVE THEIR LIVES FOR OUR LIBERTY FROM 1941 TO 1945 THIS BOOK IS DEDICATED. THEY WALKED UNDER THE COLUMNS, AND DREAMED UNDER THE TREES, AND FORGOT THE PANGS OF LEARNING WHILE THEY DANCED IN THE GYM. WISE-ACRES SAID THEY WERE SOFT. AND THEN THEY PROVED AGAIN THE TRUTH OF WHAT PERICLES SAID ABOUT HIS ATHENIANS:

"THE PALM OF COURAGE MUST BE ADJUDGED TO THOSE WHO BEST KNOW THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN HARDSHIP AND PLEASURE AND YET ARE NEVER TEMPTED TO SHRINK FROM DANGER."

THEY WALKED UNDER THE COLUMNS AND WENT OUT TO EMBRACE IMMORTALITY, AND THE CHILDREN WHOM THEY NOURISH AND PROTECT ARE THEIR ALMA MATER AND THEIR COUNTRY.

To the Class of 1947:

I congratulate you, members of the graduating class, upon the distinction you have earned. It is a matter of distinction, of course, for a young man to complete successfully a program of studies designed to test and to strengthen his mental power and designed to give him introduction into the encompassing world.

It is your added distinction to have come into the heritage of having been made intellectually and even spiritually the adopted sons of George Washington and of Robert E. Lee. I rejoice with you in the richness of this heritage, but I venture to remind you that it is also a trust committed into your hands.

EDWARD PARKER (CY) TWOMBLY

RICHARD A. (CAP'N DICK) SMITH
Twenty-five years ago Richard A. (Cap'n Dick) Smith and Edward Parker (Cy) Twombly arrived on the Washington and Lee campus to strengthen the physical education and athletic departments of the University, and today they remain at the positions through which they have become recognized as outstanding coaches in the Southern Conference.

Cap'n Dick had been baseball captain during his undergraduate days at Washington and Lee and returned to his alma mater to manage the Generals' athletic interests after ten years service at Fishburne Military Academy as Graduate Manager of Athletics. Not willing to spend all his time in the office, Cap'n Dick welcomed an opportunity to coach the baseball team of 1923 and has been taking time off for that sport every spring since. Although seldom remembered, Cap'n Dick's coaching has not been confined entirely to baseball; his five year record as basketball mentor in the late twenties netted Washington and Lee two state and two southern championships.

Cy arrived at Washington and Lee by the way of Chicago where he had been successful as a rookie pitcher with the White Sox. Fitting in perfectly with the friendly atmosphere of the University, he has instructed thousands of students in various physical drills and has done much toward making the intramural program of athletics the complete one that it is today. Cy's coaching record has been a real credit to his teaching ability, and four conference championships in swimming and three undefeated golf teams over one four year period in the thirties offer true testimony to his achievements.

Cap'n Dick and Cy have won the friendship of all W & L men during their stay in Lexington, and it is the sincere hope of alumni and students alike that they have the opportunity to continue doing so for many years to come.

THE GENERALS
The close of the most hectic and unpredictable season in the history of American football finds the 1946 Washington and Lee Generals with a record showing six defeats and only two victories.

To the followers of what sports-writers like to call Washington and Lee's "football fortunes" this record is disappointing indeed. But to the observer who looks beyond the record—and beyond the traditional flurry of excuses and alibis—the football team was far from a failure this fall. For it is honestly believed here that this team was the best that has been fielded by Washington and Lee in a decade. There is no denying that it was a fine football team—it scored more points than any Blue and White aggregation since 1929, and employing a sensational, gamble-filled T-formation attack, it rolled up one of the highest offensive yardage totals in the nation.

Coach Art Lewis began the season at a school that had not played football in four years with a squad made up of freshmen and including only four lettermen. He sent this team into competition with schools that had continued football during the war and which were flooded with experienced talent. Yet this inexperienced squad crushed the only two teams which were also... reviving football after a lay-off, and it was never routed although playing some of the country's finest teams. Considering the circumstances, there is no reason to believe that the green squad which showed flashes of brilliance this year will not develop into a consistent unit in 1947. There is certainly on the Washington and Lee campus today the best football material that has been here in a great many years. And the distinctive, wide-open brand of football taught by Art Lewis has already received enthusiastic comment from all who saw the Generals in action. Thus, if we look on this season as a necessary beginning in the building of a good football team, it cannot be termed a failure. This season served its purpose—it showed the tremendous potentialities of the players and the system.

To try to be analytical about the season is as foolish now as it always has been, but a summary is hardly complete without an amateur attempt at it. The two victories, obviously enough, were against teams that Washington and Lee completely outclassed. The losses could be attributed, also fairly obvious, to (1) inexperience, (2) high calibre of competition, and (3) the traditional bad breaks.
Inexperience seems to apply to the losses to Richmond and West Virginia. A cool, experienced team could never have collapsed as completely as the Generals did against Richmond. If they did anything right, we weren't looking. At West Virginia, under the most atrocious playing conditions we have ever seen or heard of, the Generals' tricky T-formation attack bogged down completely in a sea of mud. A more experienced team might have operated from punt formation, thus eliminating so much ball-handling, or might even have improvised a single-wing offense.

Category number two can be applied quite safely to the losses to William and Mary and Miami. Against these power-houses the Generals were clearly outclassed. However, it is from the showings against these two teams that we can draw the most encouragement.
Against the mighty Indians, who snowed every other team in the state under a huge score, the Generals staged one of the greatest offensive shows we have ever seen to score three times and almost steal the ball game. Before 25,000 at Miami, the Blue and White team scored three times in a game which a Miami writer called "one of the greatest offensive battles ever staged in the Orange Bowl Stadium."

Bad breaks will have to come in for a larger share of the blame in the losses to V. P. I. and Maryland. Trailing the General 7-6 with only a few minutes to play, the Gobblers completed a pass to a man lying flat on his back. This set up a touchdown which was plunged over with less than a half-minute to play. At Maryland W. and L. trailed 12-7 when a drive carried them deep into Maryland's territory. Then the fabulous Tommy Mont stole a pass from the arms of a W. and L. end on the 2-yard line and ran 98 yards for a touchdown. Their spirit broken, the Generals were never again in the game.

"T" FORMATION BOGS DOWN IN MUD

Two Mountaineers stop Brian Bell after short drive through mud. In center picture, a West Virginia back is chased by Fahey, at far left, and Norman, number 23.
In the opening game which foretold the "one extreme to the other" erraticism which was to mark the Generals' play for the rest of the season, Washington and Lee did everything wrong in a dismal first half and then bounced back after the intermission to bury the Tigers under the score of 41-6. Freshman Charlie Harrington scored the first time he ran from scrimmage on a quick-opener for 11 yards. "The Plainsman" from Auburn, Nebraska,
Bell opens General scoring against Indians scored another touchdown on a winding broken-field dash after taking a flat pass from Dick Working. The score snowballed as Mike Boyda completed long passes to Jim Fahey and Bill Chipley for six pointers. After Hampden-Sydney had wedged in a touchdown on an end-zone pass completion, Harry Harner circled end for five yards and six points. Brian Bell ended the slaughter by trotting 23 yards with one of Hampden-Sydney's flat passes. Bob Riley kicked five extra points with one going astray.

W. & L., 0; West Virginia, 6

On October 12, the Generals and a torrential rain arrived in Charleston to renew the historic rivalry with West Virginia. Under unbelievable playing conditions the Mountaineers' more amphibious offense produced a touchdown and their twenty-fifth victory in the thirty-game series. W. and L.'s tricky attack was completely bogged down in the mud, and plagued by nine fumbles, the Generals never threatened seriously.
MARK GAME WITH INDIANS

W. & L., 18; William and Mary, 34

Before 9,000 spectators in the Roanoke Stadium, Washington and Lee gave the mighty William and Mary Indians their toughest battle and ran up the largest score against them on their way to the state championship. Although humbling every major team in the state by huge margins, the Indians were content with a 34-18 victory over the Generals. This game was called by many observers the greatest football game ever played in Roanoke. W. and L. completed 21 passes in 27 attempts for a gain of 237 yards in a spectacular aerial display acclaimed by all who witnessed it. William and Mary scored in the first four minutes of play but Mike Boyda passed and ran the Generals to the 1 yard line from which Brian Bell dove over for a W. and L. touchdown. As the spectators got back into their seats, William and Mary carried the next kickoff 82 yards for a touchdown. Then before the half, the near-unstoppable Indians moved the score up to 27-6. At the beginning of the second half Dick Working began a passing barrage that didn't end until he hit Bill Chipley in the end zone. Then, five minutes later, as the crowd went wild in the best story-book fashion, "Lighthorse" Harry Lee Harnar scored the third W. and L. touchdown with the most sensational broken-field dash we have ever seen on any football field. The score stood 27-18, and soon the Generals were on the move again, completing passes almost at will. Then came a weird trick of fate that broke the heart of a fighting team—Working was hit in the arm as he faded to pass and the ball went less than a yard into the arms of a William and Mary lineman. He galloped, untouched, for the touchdown that clinched a win for the Indians.

W. & L., 0; Richmond, 20

Playing Richmond’s surprisingly powerful Spiders before a Homecoming crowd of 8,000, Washington and Lee gave the worst possible exhibition as they lost 20-0. Still bruised and beaten from the previous week’s battle
PROVES DISAPPOINTING

Brian Bell makes long gain against Davidson with William and Mary, and possibly a bit overconfident, the Generals fumbled their way to a 14-0 deficit before half-time. After the half the fumbles merely came oftener, and while Richmond scored again, the home team never could muster an offensive threat.

passes and picked up 220 yards rushing to spoil Davidson's Homecoming, 25-6. After the game Wildcats had beat off a scoring drive in the first quarter, the Generals' deceptive T-formation attack clicked for two quick touchdowns in the second period. The battery of Working and Chipley connected for the first six points, and a few minutes later Brian Bell took another pass in the end zone. After the half, sensational broken-field running by Charlie Harrington carried the ball deep into Davidson's territory and Bell plunged over from the four. Then in the fourth period Working lateraled to Bell who began what appeared to be a wide run around left end. But leaping high into the air, the south-paw from Washington, D. C., passed to Harrington who was all alone behind the Davidson safety man. Davidson scored on a desperate pass in the waning minutes to make the final score 25-6.

W. & L., 7; V. P. I., 13

In the most heart-breaking loss of the season W. and L. led V. P. I. 7-6 with less than a minute to play only to lose 13-7. Before 12,000 fans in the Lynchburg Stadium the two old rivals fought up and down the field in a scoreless first half. In the third quarter an interception deep in W. and L. territory led to a Tech touchdown, the try for the extra point was wide. Early in the fourth period Harrington took in a V. P. I. punt at midfield and zig-zagged his way to the Tech 29. On the next play Working passed to Harrington who was finally pulled down from behind on the 10. Then Bill Chipley, probably the greatest end ever to play at Washington and Lee, outran the V. P. I. defenders and pulled down a pass from Working for a touchdown. Bob Riley's try for the extra point couldn't have been better and the Generals led 7-6. The W. and L. line held against the desperate Gobblers and with time running out V. P. I. attempted a long pass. The receiver seemed to trip and fall and the ball was caught as he lay on the ground. This brought the ball to the W. and L. 14-yard line and V. P. I. scored on line plays with only seconds remaining.
W. & L., 7; Maryland, 24

Playing in Baltimore Stadium the Generals lost to Maryland, 24-7, although at one point they appeared on the road to victory. After Maryland had rolled up 12 points in the first half, the General’s passing attack pushed to a quick touchdown in the third period. Brian Bell, W. and L.’s leading scorer for the year, took Boyda’s pass on the Maryland one and fell across the goal line. Riley converted and Maryland led 12-7. The next time W. and L. laid hands on the ball a varied running and passing attack carried to the Maryland 10 yard line. Working passed to Fehey who got both hands on the ball on the two, but Tommy Mont of Maryland stole the ball out of the big end's arms and galloped 98 yards for the touchdown that changed the entire complexion of the game. Maryland scored once more against the disheartened but still-fighting Generals and the final score stood at 24-7.

W. & L., 20; Miami, 40

Before 25,000 cheering spectators in the Orange Bowl Stadium the Generals staged a wild offensive battle with the powerful Miami Hurricanes, and although trounced 40-20, gave their best showing of the year with the possible exception of the William and Mary game. (William and Mary, incidentally, was not able to score a touchdown in losing to Miami earlier in the season.) The three W. and L. touchdowns were all scored on sensational plays straight out of Art Lewis' pro book. Working tossed a looping basketball pass to end Jim Lukens for one six-pointer and shovelled one in the flat to substitute halfback Bill Woods for another. On the latter, Woods caught the pass behind the line of scrimmage and with excellent blocking threaded his way 76 yards to score. The other W. and L. touchdown came on one of the trickiest plays pulled anywhere this season. Quarterback Working, who had done any passing that was done while he was in the game, handed the ball off to Harrington, who ran wide to the right. Meanwhile, unnoticed, Working circled left end and was in the clear when Harrington passed to him for the touchdown.

This game was the last for guard Paul Cavaliere, back Harry Harner, and end Bill Chipley. The rest of the squad will be on hand next season. Chipley was named to the All-State and All-Southern first teams and rival coaches were unanimous in calling him one of the finest college ends seen in action this season.

TEAM SCORES OFTEN

BUT NOT ENOUGH
WASHINGTON AND LEE'S 1947 BASKETBALL TEAM

Washington and Lee's 1947 basketball team with a regular season record of 16 wins and only 6 losses gave all indications of being strong enough to challenge the oft-times brilliant accomplishments of pre-war predecessors.

Coach Carl Wise appeared dubious concerning the chances of his first W & L basketball team at the start of the school year, but the return of lettermen Clancy Ballenger, Harry Harner, Fred Vinson, and Bill Bryan, the enrollment of freshmen Don Hillock, Reggie Crockett, George Pierson, and Steve Ulaki, and the transfer of Bill Chipley from Clemson put the Generals on a par with any of the power-laden squads of the Southern Conference.

Coach Wise employed a fast breaking offensive from his man-to-man defense, but for scoring points the Generals worked to give set-shot artists Pierson, Harner, Ballenger, and Ulaki opportunities to practice their long range tactics or pivot men Hillock and Crockett occasions to display their large variety of hook and underhand shots. Chipley and Vinson were outstanding in getting rebounds offensively and defensively.

Hillock hook shot toward basket against Terps. Chipley, No. 26, and Harner, No. 27, prepare to follow.
Christmas vacation found Washington and Lee on the undefeated lists following the injury-riddled squad’s victories over Fort Belvoir, 58-56; Quantico Marines, 67-39; Langley Field, 43-38; and Camp Lee, 72-31. Brilliant play by high-scoring freshmen Hillock and Pierson and the polished performances of veterans Ballenger and Vinson were encouraging signs to the General’s coach.

W & L’s basketball squad easily downed the professional House of David aggregation and a Bridgewater College five on Wednesday and Friday nights respectively after the return to classes by 62-47 and 88-34 counts. Co-captain Harry Harner set a fast pace for his teammates, scoring 39 points in the two contests.
Monday, January 13, found our traditional rivals from Virginia invading Doremus Memorial Gymnasium, and in the most exciting game of the year, the "Wahoos" were defeated by a 54-52 margin in the last three seconds of play. Don Hillock was carried off the court on the shoulders of jubilant spectators, following his two game-winning field goals in the last thirty seconds after Virginia had knotted the score twice in the same period of time. The final Hillock goal was a pivot shot several paces beyond the foul circle.

Three games before the semester's end saw the Generals drop their initial contest to a fast-breaking Maryland team, 65-60, despite a three field goal superiority, and then come back strong to trounce V. P. I., 53-46 in the season's first away game and to wallop DuPont of Waynesboro, 109-55 in an exhibition the Saturday during exams.
A trip to Washington between semesters and a drive over the mountains to Lynchburg with the new session just one day old resulted in losses for Washington and Lee at the hands of Maryland, George Washington, and Duke by 59-50, 67-56, and 71-57 decisions respectively. Reggie Crockett commenced his high-scoring sprees on the Washington sojourn, scoring 42 points in two nights, but lack of height and condition told on the Generals in these two affairs. The Duke game can be summed up in one word, Kaffenberger. The big Blue Devil center scored 30 points besides playing excellent defensive ball and setting up scores for his teammates. Harner and Vinson performed well in keeping the game in doubt up to the last minutes of play.

Clancy Ballenger begins one of his famous flights toward basket, as astonished William and Mary players look on.
With a Southern Conference record of one win and four defeats, Washington and Lee’s five needed to begin a win streak in order to reach the annual tournament. A vengeful General team led by Bill Chipley outplayed George Washington on the home court to regain its winning ways, 69-59.

Richmond and Clemson were handed their worst beatings of the year by an offensive-minded W & L squad, 74-47 and 101-56 respectively, as Fred Vinson and Clancy Ballenger played their best games of the campaign.

Triumphs over Wake Forest and William and Mary all but assured Washington and Lee a bid to the conference tournament. The Wake Forest tilt ended in a disappointing 65-56 win after the Generals had led by 23 points with only five minutes remaining. A strong finish by Hillock and Harner enabled W & L to barely catch the Gobblers and decision them, 61-56.

Co-captain Harner and Reggie Crockett provided the offensive punch during that all-important five-game winning streak. Averaging 15 and 20 points a game respectively.

Virginia snapped this streak and gained revenge at the same time with a 53-51 victory over the Generals. Playing one of their worst games of the season offensively and defensively, Washington and Lee was unable to ever get started. Hillock’s hook shots looked for a while as though they might once again turn the trick, but calmness on the part of the Cavaliers prevailed.

Billy Cadle in the process of pinning his Maryland opponent
Washington and Lee's wrestlers commenced their first season in four years under the tutelage of former Oklahoma University grappler, Harry Broadbent, with a young, inexperienced squad led by lettermen Bob Crockett, Charley Stieff, and Jim Evans. The Generals have given a good account of themselves despite injuries, youthfulness and academic shortcomings and have won five of seven dual meets.

Loyola of Baltimore was the first victim of Coach Broadbent's initial W & L team, losing the first eight matches and managing to salvage the unlimited class only in the 31-5 trouncing.

Bill Cadle came through for the Generals in his first collegiate match after Christmas, as he pinned his Virginia opponent in the heavyweight class in 40 seconds of the first round. The win enabled the W & L squad to triumph by a close 17-9 count.

Right, top to bottom: Harry Broadbent, coach; Charlie Stieff, co-captain, 135 pounds; Ed Shelmerdine, 145 pounds; Billy Cadle, heavyweight; Jack McCausland, 175 pounds; Judge Sutherland manager.
The weekend following examinations Washington and Lee's matmen defeated Maryland University and Apprentice School on successive nights by 17-11 and 22-10 margins. The only pins by the Generals were made by Bill Townsend against his Maryland opponent and by Lindell and Metzel in the Apprentice meet. Nevertheless, Bob Crockett looked impressive in remaining undefeated.

The weekend of February 7 was to spell disaster for the W & L wrestlers. North Carolina State trounced the Generals 17-9 on Friday night with Crockett earning a decision, but on Saturday evening, no one could stop the North Carolina onslaught as the Tarheels shut out their adversaries 28-0.
A trip to V. P. I. the following Saturday enabled the Generals to even up their Southern Conference record at 2-2 after the Gobblers had been made to taste defeat, 17-9. Co-captains Crockett and Stieff showed up well in winning their bouts, and in one of the more amusing events of the day Ed Shelmerdine, 145 pound wrestler, received a draw with Tech's heavyweight.

The season's outcome has been most encouraging upon taking into consideration the handicaps under which Coach Broadbent has mounded his first General team. With Co-captain Bob Crockett and Jim Evans the only men lost for 1948, all indications point to an experienced squad which might well compare with the many pre-war championship ones.

(6 Wins; 6 Defeats)
Handicapped only slightly by half the normal enrollment of students at Washington and Lee, Coach Cap'n Dick Smith picked up where he had left off in the spring of 1943 and organized one of the better baseball teams in the state. Inexperienced pitching and injuries were to hamper the Generals' success throughout the season, but despite these shortcomings W & L won half of the 12 games played, placed two men on the all-state nine, and had the satisfaction of defeating Virginia in the final contest of the season to destroy the "Wahoo's" chances for the Big Six Title.

Lettermen, Jim Humphrey and Floyd McKenna, served as alternate captains of the General nine and together with infielder-lettermen, Ev Schneider and Stu Smith, they led their team through an exciting season. Humphrey was named on the all-state team by virtue of his .439 batting average and excellent fielding ability, and freshman catcher, Johnny Bell, received a similar honor for his outstanding play behind home plate.
Washington and Lee played host to Hampden-Sydney in the season's opener on April 13 and were impressive in downing the Little Tigers, 7-1, behind the four-hit pitching of freshmen hurlers Sam Brackens and Mike Boyda. With three days rest and a staff of pitchers sporting sore arms, the Generals visited Blacksburg only to be mauled by V. P. I. in a two game stand, 17-4 and 18-13. Brackens hurled the W & L nine back into the win column with a 5-4 decision over Davidson two days later.

In three games on the road, Boyda pitched two, dropping an 8-1 verdict to a vengeful Hampden-Sydney squad and edging a good William and Mary ball team 5-6, on the hitting of Smith and Humphrey. Seventeen free passes issued to Richmond batters by the General mound corps enabled the Spiders to walk away with a 15-5 triumph in the other contest.

Two more losses were in the cards for W & L, and in spite of a brilliant one-hit masterpiece by freshman pitcher Graham "Buck" Leslie, the Marine Corps from Quantico bested the Generals, 2-0. Boyd received the final defeat for W & L, as an almost-foul home run by Virginia's Caine with one man on in the eighth, gave the Cavaliers a 5-4 win in Charlottesville.

V. P. I. visited Lexington for another two game series with W & L, but the General mound staff were prepared for the invaders this time. Behind the pitching of Leslie and Boyd, the hitting of first baseman Johnny Via and Humphrey, and the fielding of third baseman Schneider, the home team avenged its earlier defeats in trouncing the Gobblers, 9-2 and 8-5.

The season was brought to a glorious end as the Generals defeated a favored, though not better, Virginia nine, 2-1, before cheering supporters of The Blue. "Buck" Leslie hurled masterful ball in holding the hard-hitting Cavaliers to four safeties and one run while his teammates were making the most of three hits to tally twice.
Prospects for the 1947 baseball squad are the best since Emerson Dickman pitched the Generals to a Southern Conference crown in 1935. Last year's entire pitching staff, all-state catcher Johnny Bell, and .300 hitter Ev Schneider are all ready for action in the spring. The return of lettermen Harry Harner, Fred Vinson, John Ligon, and Willis Newcomb to Washington and Lee and the enrollment of freshmen Don Hillock, Brian Bell, Jim Fahey, and John Dillon brighten the chances for a successful year.

In arranging the baseball schedule Cap'n Dick has matched his team against such standouts as Michigan, Penn. State, and Trinity College in addition to the usual state and Southern Conference opponents.
Mike takes a lusty swing.

Highlighting the "Petrified Forest" was the death of Frank Markee as witnessed by Russ Thomes, Peggy Bayliss, Leonard Wild and Jack Schaeffer.

THE TROUBADORS

The brilliant performance of Robert Sherwood's "Petrified Forest" marked the opening of the little theater in the Troubadors' first production since 1943. The organization, bolstered by the return of the seasoned thesibians Jack Lanich and Jim Stanfield, in keeping with the traditions of the Troubadors gives promise of many successful vehicles yet to come. The participation of the students' wives was a major contribution to the success of the production.

Tension mounts in the entire cast of the "Petrified Forest" as police arrive to give battle to Arizona badmen.

The Troubadours are grateful to all those who have rendered assistance toward this production.

NO SMOKING IN THE THEATRE

Producers Jack Lanich and Director Jim Stanfield confer over the script of the "Petrified Forest."

Ben Riddle, Sherry Hamilton and Leonard Wild match DeWitt Becker and Peggy Boykin as they have one on the house while Charlie Robertson expounds the Russian theories to Everett Easter.

We have supplied the costumes for the Fancy Dress Ball since it was first inaugurated by Annie R. White.

Get Acquainted—with the West "Key Number System" during your law school years—it will repay you over and over again in your "practice" years. Virginia lawyers use and recommend South Eastern Reporter and "West's" Virginia and West Virginia Digest. Both include the nationally-famous "Key Number."
