HE 1959 graduates of Washington and Lee realize that the school is a different place from the campus they found so impressive as Freshmen. The sound of pile drivers and the debris left by demolition and new construction is very much in evidence as Washington and Lee begins the latest phase in its physical growth. This growth has been a long process. It is a fascinating story embodying a colorfully historic past, a progressive present, and an exciting future. When the class of 1963 enrolls next September, its situation will be quite different from that of the class of 1959 and the others which have preceded it. Soon, as architect's designs become realities, academic standards as well as living conditions will be greatly changed.

The process of physical expansion has been a slow one. It is difficult for us to conceive Washington and Lee without the colonnade, Lee Chapel, and all the other familiar landmarks, which we have come to take so much for granted. Yet, our university has developed under "loving care," so to speak, from a small germ. Born in a rude, bucolic setting, this germ was carefully nurtured until today we cannot grow quickly enough. The original frontier site at Mt. Pleasant is long forgotten by most of us; yet the spirit of intellectual adventure remains a guiding principle in the space age, even as in the days of our colonial predecessors.
Although Liberty Hall was actually constructed in 1793, this building is important because it represents the first permanent roots of an institution which has long since outgrown the slight boundaries of its decaying stone walls. This era may be said to have truly begun with the coming of Reverend William Graham in 1776 to assume the direction of Augusta Academy at Mount Pleasant. The Hanover Presbytery had previously decided to establish a permanent school at Timber Ridge. Samuel Houston, Alexander Stuart, and other public spirited citizens donated the necessary land; and the college trustees, imbued at the time with the spirit of the Revolution, changed the name of the school from Augusta Academy to Liberty Hall Academy. Understandably, the unsettled years of the Revolution put a handicap on the initial development of the institution. Both students, teachers, and trustees were very much involved in the war; and the course of affairs at Liberty Hall Academy was, at most, of minor importance to them. Under Graham's leadership, however, the institution was finally given a firm foundation with the construction of the first permanent buildings. Three years after Liberty Hall was raised in 1796, William Graham left the Academy to go west. His impetus, however, was a vitally important one, and one which should not be forgotten.
It was during the Nineteenth century that Washington and Lee assumed the form by which we recognize it today. George Washington's historic gift to Liberty Hall Academy of $50,000 in James River Canal Stock provided much needed income for the institution. In remembrance of this generous endowment, the Academy was renamed Washington College; and in 1824 the Washington College Buildings were constructed from the endowment of many friends of the institution. The Central building was named in honor of Washington. The two buildings flanking it were named for John Robinson and John Barton Payne. Robinson, a local financier, farmer, and successful businessman, served as a member of the Board of Trustees of Washington College. Payne, a native of Virginia, served as Secretary of the Interior under Woodrow Wilson. Although he was not an alumnus, he was sincerely interested in the school. The building constructed during this period which has perhaps the greatest intrinsic value is, of course, Lee Chapel. The building was built in 1867 under the supervision of President Robert E. Lee. Although Lee's term of service to the University was cut short by his death, the man's contribution is an unforgettable one. The Chapel, which was later extended to house the recumbent statue of Lee as well as the Lee family crypt, is a constant reminder of the debt of gratitude which the institution owes the man whose name it bears.
As Washington and Lee expanded, an increased student body naturally expressed a wider range of interests. Buildings constructed during the period bear the names of men and women whose influence and generosity did so much to make our university a great one. Newcomb Hall, constructed in 1882 and named in honor of Warren Newcomb, was built with funds given to the school by his wife, Josephine Louise. This building was used as a library before its renovation and use as the Commerce School. The present Tucker Hall was built in 1936. It replaced the old Law School, which burned in 1934, and was not in harmony with the general architectural theme of the campus. It is named in honor of John Randolph Tucker, once Dean of the School of Law. Reid Hall, erected in 1904 as a building devoted to the laboratory sciences, is named for William H. Reid of Chicago, who became interested in the university through friends close to the institution. The McCormick Library was constructed in 1906 as the Carnegie Library. In 1941 the McCormick family of Chicago sponsored extensive remodeling and renovation. The building is named for Cyrus McCormick, inventor of the reaper. Born in Rockbridge County, Virginia near Raphine, this man served as a member of the Board of Trustees during Lee's presidency. The Doremus Gymnasium was built in 1915 with funds left by Robert Packer Doremus of New York. The story of how an unknown student impressed the visitor to Washington and Lee so favorably is a well known one to us. On the death of Mrs. Doremus in 1936, the University inherited the entire family estate. The Doremus Gymnasium was built in 1915 with funds left by Robert Packer Doremus of New York. The story of how an unknown student impressed the visitor to Washington and Lee so favorably is a well known one to us. On the death of Mrs. Doremus in 1936, the University inherited the entire family estate. Howe Hall, constructed in 1924, was known for years simply as the Chemistry Building. It is now named in honor of Dr. James Lewis Howe, once head of the Chemistry Department here. DuPont Hall, erected in 1954 is named for Mrs. Alfred I. duPont in gratitude for her generosity to Washington and Lee over a number of years. All these people are important to our history as a university. Their memory has been justly perpetuated.
In 1959 our eyes and ears are constantly tuned to current growth. The handsome new dining hall and dormitories rising on the Washington and Lee campus are a constant reminder that our University has reached a new phase in its physical development. As the demand for higher education increases by veritable leaps and bounds, old systems become more and more obsolete. If we are to match these modern trends, we must face our situation with a realistic attitude. Doing this, we see clearly that the new commons and neighboring dormitories are not only desirable and attractive additions to our plant, but also satisfy a very basic need. As in the past, these improvements were made possible by a number of generous gifts and bequests made by friends of the University. The commons will be called the Evans Dining Hall after the late Mrs. Kelly Evans, who remembered Washington and Lee so generously in her estate. The dormitories are to be named Davis Hall and Baker Hall respectively after John W. Davis and Newton D. Baker. Davis, perhaps one of the University’s most distinguished graduates, followed a successful law career, and was president of the American Bar Association. He received the Democratic presidential nomination in 1924. Baker, also a prominent lawyer, was Secretary of War under Woodrow Wilson and later sat on the Permanent Court of International Jurisdiction at the Hague. Although great changes will be necessitated by these new buildings, we know they are timely, and realize their importance.
HE aforementioned space age has brought other problems than physical expansion. The search for knowledge has become specialized, with a hitherto unknown emphasis on the sciences. Ambitious plans have been drawn up to provide Washington and Lee with facilities for scientific pursuit that will rival those of any other institution in its class. In immediate view are construction of major buildings for Biology and Geology and Physics. Howe Hall is to be completely renovated with the addition of a new 200 seat auditorium. Reid Hall is also to be remodeled to provide new facilities for Journalism and pre-Engineering courses. Long range plans call for the conversion of Doremus Gymnasium into a badly needed University Auditorium, the building of new athletic facilities, an additional dormitory, and remodeling of the existing buildings on campus as well as other smaller improvements. Presently, a comprehensive fund-raising drive is in progress to hasten the actuality of the first phase of this sorely needed development. In realizing our needs and facing them with a positive attitude, Washington and Lee has once again demonstrated the qualities which, fostered over the centuries, have created the great seat of higher learning which exists today. The future is indeed an exciting one, one which we may face proudly and fearlessly.
The proposed science buildings, part of a ten year expansion program.
In deep appreciation, this book is
It is very difficult if not altogether impossible to express one's thanks for a memorable and invaluable service which has been rendered. Yet the debt of gratitude which we of the Washington and Lee community owe to Francis Pendleton Gaines is of such a nature.

Those of us who have known and been so profoundly influenced by this man realize that words are truly inadequate to the task. So completely has the personal character of Dr. Gaines permeated every phase of our life at college that any praise seems faint indeed. We know him to be a man whose principles and integrity have served both himself and each of us as a guide in our education and daily lives. These principles embody the pride, tradition, honor, and heritage which are our legacy as students at the institution whose course he has furthered so greatly.

His generation of service to Washington and Lee has been a period of great progress for the University. An enlarged faculty and student body coupled with impressive physical expansion have bettered our reputation in educational circles. High standards of learning have been constantly upheld. It is, then, to Francis Pendleton Gaines, educator, administrator, leader, and unforgettable friend and advisor that this CALYX is gratefully dedicated by the gentlemen of Washington and Lee.

In Memoriam

DR. WALTER A. FLICK

It is impossible to assess adequately the contribution that Dr. Walter A. Flick made during his lifetime of service to Washington and Lee. Beyond his primary work as professor and head of the Department of Psychology and Education, Dr. Flick was known and admired by the entire University family for his talents as a speaker and as a representative of the University in many areas.

His warmth, humor, and personal charm will be sorely missed by a large group of friends. Washington and Lee has lost a devoted teacher, but the impact of his personality on the University and its alumni will remain as a lasting contribution. The CALYX humbly joins with the entire family of Washington and Lee in remembering a dedicated and charming teacher and gentleman.

DR. MERTON O. PHILLIPS

The death of Professor Merton O. Phillips in the spring of 1958 was a sudden and tragic loss to the University. Dr. Phillips was widely known and respected as one of the nation's leading economic geographers, and Washington and Lee lost a beloved and admired teacher and friend. As head of the Department of Economics, Dr. Phillips brought high standards of scholarship into his work; and as a dedicated teacher of young men, he brought warmth and devotion into his classroom.

The passing of Dr. Phillips leaves a real void in the University community, but his lifetime of devotion to the University will be remembered in the hearts of scores of students and friends. Washington and Lee will continue to benefit from the life and work of Dr. Phillips, a scholar and friend of hundreds of students. The CALYX joins these many friends in mourning his untimely passing.
WITH what a genius for administration
We rearrange the rumbling universe
And map the course of man’s regeneration
Over a pipe.”

—William Ernest Henley
To The Class Of 1959:

Once more a class of seniors, who have earned the best accolade we bestow, goes into the world. This particular class moves into a world ever more unpredictable and mysterious.

Humbly but confidently we believe that we have given you some competence for triumph. In the normal collegiate procedure you have achieved a measure of knowledge, of appreciation for beauty, of the disciplines of inquiry, of the loveliness of living with other people.

If, however, the traditions of your Alma Mater have influenced you, then Washington and Lee has done more for you than all of these things. You have been fitted into a mighty line who know how to live through grim days and gay, who can face the ultimate in tranquility and in distress.

For these boys have had the spiritual energies of dedication and the deathless dream of faith. With affection and with respect, I greet my last class. You will represent the fruitage of your training and you will enter into the heritage of your Alma Mater.

O Fair,
She takes the breath of men away
Who gaze upon her unaware."

E. B. Browning
Dear Mr. Proctor:

Under separate cover, you will be receiving the beauty selections (marked on back of photographs, queen and six in court) made by Burt Lancaster who is on location in Mexico on THE UNFORGIVEN.

Burt found it a difficult task to select the girls because they were all most attractive, and he sincerely hopes it will not cause too much unhappiness.

Sincerely,

Harry Mines

Rho Chapter of Beta Theta Pi was founded on the Washington College campus in 1856. It was forced to disband in 1860 when the Civil War closed the college, but it was reactivated in 1876 and again in 1921, when it became Alpha Rho.

Diversity and excellence in a wide field of activities again marks another year of success for the Betas. The highest organ of student body government, the Executive Committee, has the services of two Betas. Dick Gwathmey is representative from the senior class, and Bob Lancaster received this highest office that a freshman can hold. O.D.K., national leadership fraternity, tapped Frank Surface; Frank also was Assistant Head Dormitory Counselor. Dick Gwathmey and Walter Burton were named to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

Owen Harper, vice-president of the senior class, and Sandy Larson, Dean's List student and spark of the baseball team, is president of this year's junior class. Frank Surface gave one of the best dance sets of the year at Spring Dances, Rut Lilly was sports editor of the Calyx, and Eddie Ladd was an editorial assistant. Bob Colgan and Roy Flannagan wrote for the Ring-tum Phi.

Jack Groner was the one spark on the "improving" Washington and Lee football team. Hunter Tracht and John Dinkel were in the backfield, and Tom Moore and Gordon Rountree were in the line. Frank Surface was playmaker for the basketball five. Ned Baber captained the W&L golf team, and Ollie Cook was number two man. Maury Purnell and Jim Parker swam varsity, and Hilly Thompson, Hunter Tracht and John Dinkel starred on the lacrosse team. In intramurals Betas swept the I.M. trackmeet, and our football team went into the football finals.

This year socially, we feted Frank Surface at Springs Dances, and our "medieval" party was as colorful as any house party ever seen on the campus.

Our indebtedness to our house mother, Mrs. Frances D. Martin, is great. Her twelve years of "restraining influence" on the Betas have helped us achieve our high standards on campus.

Nearly a century ago a group of undergraduates at Bethany College in West Virginia founded a fraternity which was to become one of the largest in the nation, Delta Tau Delta. From that small beginning it has grown to such an extent that it has chapters in most major universities in the United States and Canada. Since it was founded at Washington and Lee in 1896, Phi Chapter has distinguished itself by its leadership in all fields of campus activities.

In the 1958-59 school year the men of Phi Chapter upheld the Delt tradition. Corky Briscoe was elected Secretary of the Student Body, while Frank Hess was chosen Historian of the Freshman Law class; and George Ward was executive committee representative of the Senior Law class. Ned Ames held down two posts on student publications: Class Editor of the CALYX, and executive editor of the Ring-tum Phi. Ned and Tom Gowenlock were members of the Assimilation Committee, while John Towler was on the Student Library Committee. Gowenlock was also a Freshman Camp counsellor, while Bill Young and Conrad Lemon were Dormitory Counsellors. Conrad Lemon was president of Sigma Delta Chi, an honorary journalism fraternity. Briscoe was also a member of the Student-Faculty Athletic Commision and of ODK.

In sports, Delts held down the captaincies in many sports: football—Bill Young and Clark Lee, co-captains; lacrosse—Briscoe; tennis—Gowenlock; and baseball—Charlie Broll, co-captain. Bob Lathrop was high scorer on the soccer team, and Delts comprised 35% of the Varsity football team. Twenty-six Delts received varsity letters throughout the year, while cheerleader Leigh Allen supported them.

Under the leadership of Don Thalacker, the Delts for the second straight year won first place in both Homecoming events—Best House Decoration and greatest spirit shown at the Homecomings game.

Behind us all the time, giving that extra push when it was needed, were our House Mother, Mrs. Smith, and our advisor, Dean Farrar. They helped in making 1958-59 a great year for Phi Chapter.

This year began well for the Washington and Lee Chapter of Delta Upsilon with a very successful rush week and the pledging of twenty-two men.

Among D.U.'s in campus activities, Jerry Susskind was managing editor of the Southern Collegian. Lash LaRue, Hugo Hoogenboom, Susskind, Bob Holley, and Dick Ranc contributed to the Collegian and the Ring-tum Phi.

Tom Alexander served as treasurer of the Interfraternity Council and was vice-president of Openings Dances. Art Grove was director of the University Religious Conference and sports editor of the Calyx. Grove, Alexander and LaRue are on the Student Service Society. Tom O'Brien was chairman of the Assimilation Committee. Jay Hickman, Bob Holley, Jim Nye, Ted Magee, and Herb Sapp were active in the Glee Club.

In intramurals, Gene Girard won the golf tournament and sparked the intramural football team. Bill Broadbent was outstanding in both intramural and varsity swimming.

Joe Hess did a fine job as intramural chairman. In varsity athletics, Gene Girard served as basketball captain while Joe Hess and Dave Beale were regular starters. Graham Fulton, Jim Cone, and Jerry Gordon were outstanding on the football, soccer and baseball teams. John Cherrybone and Joe Hess were both on the track team and were elected to Sigma Delta Psi.

Art Grove, who is a member of Alpha Epsilon Delta and is treasurer of Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatic fraternity, was on the honor roll again this year. Bill Hughes and Gene Girard were named to Scabbard and Blade. Gene was also honored by being listed in "Who's Who," Art Grove was selected as one of the University's candidates for a Rhodes Scholarship. Lew John, '58, is now studying in Scotland under a Fulbright Scholarship.

This has been some of the picture of 1958-59 at D.U., a satisfying and enjoyable year for us all.

At Washington College in 1865 in Robinson Hall, Kappa Alpha Order was founded. Guided by the ideals and the inspiration of General Robert E. Lee, President of the College, Kappa Alpha has grown until today there are over eighty-five active chapters. Alpha, the mother chapter of the Order, is now in its ninety-third year at Washington and Lee.

Today, as always, Alpha Chapter of Kappa Alpha Order is active in all phases of campus life. Duby Ausley is Chairman of the University Party, President of the Commerce Fraternity, and a member of the Executive Committee. Murray Wadsworth is President of Fancy Dress, a member of the Dance Board, and past President of the Junior Class. Charlie Hurt is President of the Interfraternity Council and of Phi Eta Sigma. John Bradford, Carter Fox, and Murray Wadsworth are members of SWMSFC. Fox is also serving on the Cold Check Committee, while Charlie Wadsworth is on the Assimilation Committee. John Bradford is the Treasurer of SWMSFC and Secretary of Phi Eta Sigma.

In athletics Alpha is also active as Bob Funkhouser, Dick White, and John White ably helped the football team, while Sandy Messereau, Bob Wyatt, and Tom Rankin played on the Freshman team. Kent Frazier, Sandy Messereau, and Bill Snyder are on the wrestling squad. Bob Funkhouser and Nathan Simpson are on the track team, and Charlie Hurt is on the tennis team. Also, Alpha has participated actively in Intramurals as usual.

Academically, Kappa Alpha is tops as usual, having won the scholarship trophy for eight of the last twelve semesters and also holding the Kappa Alpha Order Scholarship Trophy.

Of particular significance are our faculty advisor, Dr. W. M. Hinton, and our Housemother, Mrs. Ethel Lewis, who have added a great deal to our fraternity and to all of us. More significant than any of this, however, is that all the members find the fraternity to be a source of lasting friendship which forms the basis of a wholesome and enjoyable life.

Kappa Sigma concludes its 85th year on the Washington and Lee campus this spring with members of the brotherhood again assuming roles of leadership and active participation in a wide variety of University activities.

Joe Budd Stevens, president of the house for two semesters, was elected vice-president of the Science School in last spring's elections. In addition, Stevens served as secretary of Phi Eta Sigma his junior year, and was a member of Alpha Epsilon Delta.

Voigt Smith, senior, served as editor of the Southern Collegian this year. He was also active on Home Edition, and served as secretary of Sigma Delta Chi.

Another senior, Mike Norell, concluded four years of activity on the Troubadour stage by holding the lead in the Devil's Disciple in the fall and directing the SWMSFC musical comedy show this spring.

Other brothers active in campus activities were Rardon Bevill, who served as executive officer of the Gaines Guard; Phil Grose, Managing Editor of the Ring-Tum Phi; Jim Jeter, a member of the Assimilation Committee; and Harvey Allen on Home Edition. In the Glee Club were Bevill, Rick, Frisbie, Rick Bernard and Dunlop Ecker.

In athletics, Kappa Sigma relied largely on the freshman class for its representation. Joe Murphey and Allen Curran were members of the cross-country team; Dunlop Ecker played freshman soccer; Erling Speer was on the varsity wrestling squad; and Robin Dunlap was a member of the swimming team. A senior, Joe Ulrich, was one of the returning lettermen on the golf team this spring.

Socially, the big event of the year was the Annual Black and White Ball, along with a smattering of house parties. We had a party for parents and alumni, as well as winning one of the top awards for homecoming displays.

Through it all we must give a large "Thank you" to our housemother Mrs. Frank Pace, and also to our alumni adviser Professor Buford Stephenson for all his help during the year.

The Gamma Phi chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha is greatly indebted to the service of its housemother, Mrs. Bess Smith. During her years at Gamma Phi, "Smitty" has never ceased to display her charm and graciousness combined with invaluable assistance.

Installed at W&L in 1921, Gamma Phi uniqueness has always been found in the diversity of the interests of its members which combine to form a strong, united brotherhood. Lambda Chi's are found in all campus activities. Bob Shepherd captained the debate team and was chairman of the Independent Party; Peyton Middleton was elected to Scabbard and Blade; Dave Poteet functioned as treasurer of the Glee Club; Jere Williams was a freshman dorm counsellor, while Pres Rowe was an alternate counsellor; Pete Merrill held the position of Head Intramural Manager for the second consecutive year. On the Ring-tum Phi Eddie Webster was assistant managing editor of the Tuesday Edition while Rob Frames was photographer and Rick Anderson, a reporter, on the Friday Edition Tom Howard was assistant managing editor; Pres Rowe, news editor; Stan Cook, copy editor; John Boyle, technical assistant; Rock Boyle, cartoonist; and Dick Jones, reporter.

Jim Hughes, Rock Boyle, Ed Cochran, and John Boyle ran track; and Muaricio Glauzer added his experience to the tennis team. Jerry Lindquist and Rusty McNab played varsity lacrosse, and George Card and Dave Halsett made the baseball team.

The 37th year of Lambda Chi Alpha on the Washington and Lee campus was indeed a momentous and memorable one.

Virginia Zeta of Phi Delta Theta was established at Washington and Lee University in 1887, thirty-nine years after Phi Delta Theta was founded at Oxford, Ohio, in 1848. The present house was built in 1929 with the invaluable assistance of Earl S. Mattingly, Secretary of the Board of Trustees, and Treasurer of the University.

The members of Virginia Zeta have spread themselves throughout all phases of campus life and have proven themselves leaders in athletics, scholastic, and extra-curricular organizations. Irby Walton, who was president of Virginia Zeta in the fall term, is president of The University Christian Association, on the Dean’s List, and was elected to “Who’s Who in American Colleges and Universities.” Ike Smith, vice-president of the Student Body, member of Omicron Delta Kappa, and elected to “Who’s Who.” Tom Foltz is Secretary of the Interfraternity Council, a member of SWMSFC, the 13 Club, and Sigma. Rocky Gaut is a dormitory counselor, letterman on the basketball team, and co-captain of the soccer team. Billy McWilliams is sophomore representative on the Executive Committee, a member of SWMSFC, and an outstanding letterman on the tennis team.

In the athletic department approximately twenty-five members of Virginia Zeta participated in major sports. Jim Pickett, Charlie Smith, Bill Offutt, and Kay Thomas represented Virginia Zeta on the football team. Eddie Meyers starred on the swimming team, track team, and is one of the seven members of Sigma Delta Psi, Jay Stull captained the Phi Intramural football team, which played well despite rough competition.

Outstanding social activities that highlighted the year included the fall Beat Generation house party, Spring Hawaiian party, and the outings to Goshen Pass and Twin Fall in the Spring.

Virginia Zeta wishes to thank its housemother, Mrs. Henry Eichelburger, and its faculty advisor, Dr. Harvey Wheeler, for their invaluable aid and assistance which have played a large part in making this another extremely successful year for Phi Delta Theta.

The Phi Epsilon Pi fraternity was founded at the City College of New York in 1904. The Delta Chapter at Washington and Lee University was established in 1920. Mrs. W. C. Flournoy, affectionately known to the members of the House as “Mom”, has been House Mother for twenty years. Her name has become synonymous with that of Phi Ep itself in the minds of scores of fraters who have graduated from the University.

Delta's long tradition of scholastic achievement was centered under the spotlight for the second time in the course of four semesters by once again winning the University Scholarship trophy. Joel Kocen, '59, a Phi Beta Kappa in his junior year, and Milford Schwartz, '61, a Phi Eta Sigma were the House's academic leaders.

Delta chapter has excelled extra-curricularly as well as scholastically, with representation in almost every phase of student activity. Malcolm Lassman, a junior, is a starting member of the basketball team, a Student Representative to the Faculty Committee on Athletics, and on the Cold Check Committee. Alan Corwin, a freshman, was a member of the Varsity Soccer Team this fall.

David Goller is the Associate Editor of the Ring-tum Phi, and along with Jerry Verlin and Alan Corwin is a member of the staff of Home Edition. Milford Schwartz, a member of the Student Library Committee, is the Office Manager of the Southern Collegian; and freshmen Ralph Elias and Stephen Chernay are members of the Business Staff of the same publication. Jimmy Applebaum, a feature writer for the Ring-tum Phi, is also a member of the Glee Club and is on the promotional staff of the Shenandoah.

Socially, the year was another typical Phi Ep success. The music of Melvin Harris and the Knights provided the entertainment for many of our house parties.

Looking to the past only as a source of inspiration, we of the Delta Chapter now turn our thoughts to the future, confident and proud to serve the ideals of our University and of the National Order of Phi Epsilon Pi.

Second Row: Budd, Rietz, Bredehoft, Smaill, Smith, Matthews, Mrs. Smith, Robrecht, R. Brack, Aiken, Brennan, Ballance.

At Washington and Jefferson College in 1848, Phi Gamma Delta's initial chapter established its foundation. Since the fraternity has expanded rapidly until now, it boasts of 84 chapters throughout the nation. In keeping with traditional good taste the Zeta Deuteron chapter, founded at Washington and Lee in 1868, has established itself as a recognized leader in campus activities and scholarship.

October marked the selection of Jim Thompson and John Alford to represent Washington and Lee in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." Jim is head dormitory counselor and is aided by Will Newton. Dennis Brack serves with the King-tum Phi. Don Partington and Bill Remington are publicity directors of the Glee Club, and Buck Aiken is secretary of the Independent Party. Ray Robrecht handles the funds of the "13" club.

This year's cabinet consisted of Ray Robrecht, Reg Brack, Buck Aiken, Jordan Smith, and Barry Epperson. The Fraternity's accomplishments are indicative of both good leadership and an active participation in campus as well as chapter functions by the members. Intramurals provided a notable outlet for Fiji accomplishments in '58-'59, while in varsity athletics the chapter's contributions were outstanding also. Among those responsible for W&L's achievements in sports were Tom Budd, Sandy Walton, Jack Daughtrey, Phil Palmer, Ven Proctor, Steve Rutledge, Tony Brennen, Ray Robrecht, and Rick Kurz. These men were active in fall and winter events while we were represented during the winter and spring sports by Chuck Bowie, Ken Brethauer, Pete Dubose, and Chuck Day.

The social calendar was quite full as Fijis focused their main attention on the annual Champagne Party, and Fiji Island function. Contributing a great deal to the success of the chapter's parties was our charming house mother, Mrs. Virginia Stover Smith.

Phi Gamma Delta looks back at another successful year and is confident of maintaining its prestige and outstanding record of accomplishments as an integral part of Washington and Lee's future.

This is the 104th year for Virginia Beta of Phi Kappa Psi. Founded at Washington and Lee in 1855, the chapter was the first at Washington and Lee and is the third oldest of sixty in the Phi Kappa Psi National fraternity.

The chapter is among the top in all phases of University activity. Phi Psi pledged eighteen men this fall; we now have the largest fraternity at Washington and Lee. Mention cannot possibly be made of all of Virginia Beta’s campus leaders. Among them are Charlie Swope, president of his Law School class, Owen Neff, recently elected editor of the Law Review and chosen for “Who’s Who in American Colleges”; Joe Graycroft, also in “Who’s Who,” is president of the Student Service Society and business manager of the Dance Board. Ray Wooldridge is secretary of the Student Service Society. Other members of this organization are Dan Leonard and Jimmy Vann. Davis Reed is sports editor of the Friday Edition of the Ring-Tum Phi.

Phi Psi is also well represented on the athletic field. Last year’s Intramural Championship Trophy and Combined Varsity and Intramural Athletic Trophy were brought home by Virginia Beta. “Flash” Danko is a varsity wrestler, and John Kirk is a starter on the basketball team. Skip Horst will play his third year as a regular on the lacrosse squad. A. C. Hubbard is a returning stalwart for the tennis team, Tom Broadus is co-captaining the swimming team, and Dwight Chamberlain is a fine runner for the track team.

In the social sphere, social chairman George Lockie led us to another successful year. Parties very successful were Homecomings, the annual Christmas Party, and, of course, all of the Dance Sets.

We cannot fail to mention our housemother, Mrs. Carol Evans, who continues to be a guiding light behind every phase of Virginia Beta’s activity.

Phi Kappa Psi is more than proud of its record and we look forward to continued success in the years to come.

Alpha Alpha Chapter of Phi Kappa Sigma was founded in 1894 on the Washington and Lee campus. Since its founding, the chapter has always been a leader in the many different phases of campus activity.

This year Phi Kappa Sigma has continued this tradition of campus leadership. Under the appreciated guidance of our faculty advisor, Dr. L. J. Desha, our house mother, Mrs. J. V. Cogbill and our president John Schenkkel, we have shown our interest in all phases of college life.

Several Phi Kaps hold political offices on campus. John Schenkkel is president of the Senior Class; Charlie McCormick is president of the Intermediate Law Class; and Jon Peterson is secretary of the Sophomore Class. Our two team captains, Charlie McCormick in Golf and Warren Nuesle in Soccer, and participating team members, Ralph Weigandt, Bill Stanley, Chris Clark, and Ralph Harvey, exemplify our interest in varsity athletics. Our intramural teams' efforts have captured the tennis and ping-pong trophies for our house.

Our house last semester ranked high among the seventeen fraternities for scholastic achievement. This was due in part to our representative to Phi Eta Sigma, Bill Hickam, who is also treasurer of that honorary freshman fraternity.

Phi Kaps also exhibit leadership in other campus activities with John Schenkkel and Jon Peterson as representatives to the I. F. C. and Charles McCormick on SWMSFC. Helping with campus publications are Hal Jennings, Larry Keech and Dick Watts. Other Brothers, too numerous to mention, belong to such honorary fraternities as "19" Club, Mongolian Minks, PAN and White Friars. Also, our pledge class took second place prize in the homecoming decoration contest.

Through this active participation in the organizations of the campus and a full social life, Phi Kappa Sigma feels that it has fulfilled its purpose to the school and its members by being an integral part of life here at Washington and Lee.

Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity was founded in 1868 at the University of Virginia. The fraternity has grown in size until today it includes 122 chapters throughout the nation. Pi Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha was founded here in 1892.

Leadership has become a tradition with Pi Chapter. The 1958-59 year saw its members continuing its tradition throughout the various campus activities. Royce Hough, first on the leadership list, was President of the Student Body, and was tapped to both Phi Beta Kappa and Omicron Delta Kappa in his junior year. He was secretary of SWMESC and was also a dormitory counselor. Dave Schaefer was secretary of the senior class, and Tim Ireland was secretary of the junior class. Tim was also on the Assimilation Committee, the Student Service Society, and was a dormitory counselor. Jack Herrmann was managing editor of the CALYX, and Bill Davis was on the Cold Check Committee.

In sports, Skip Rohnke, holder of the Forest Fletcher Individual Track Trophy, was a member of the varsity soccer, swimming, and track teams. Skip, captain of the track team, holds the Southern Conference record in the javelin throw. Eliot Maynard, also on the swimming team, holds several school and conference records. Tiff Tiffany and freshman Dan Blaine played football, and Bob Bourdeaux managed. Along with Skip Rohnke, Warren Helwig, Art Smith, and Eliot Maynard were on the track team, which was managed by John Powell. Royce Hough, Bill Savers, Mike Keating, Russ Pritchard, and Al Folcher played lacrosse.

A large amount of variety characterized the year's social events. The PiKA Ball in Richmond, the various house parties, and the incidental gatherings at Goshen made the social year a full one.

Much of Pi's success was directly attributed to the enthusiasm and understanding of our house mother, Mrs. Ruth Browne, and to our faculty advisor who last year celebrated his 50th year as a member of Pi Kappa Alpha, Law School Dean Clayton E. Williams.

Founded at the College of Charleston, Charleston, S.C., in 1904, Pi Kappa Phi is a relatively young fraternity. As such, it contains youthful vigor as evidenced by the growth of Rho Chapter, established at Washington and Lee in February of 1920. Rho Chapter has grown from a small beginning and is today one of the larger houses on campus.

This year was an especially active one for Rho. Cross-Country captain Bill Loeffler aided by brothers Holt Merchant, and Cope Schellhorn, captured the Cross-Country trophy for the House. The Inter-Collegiate Rifle trophy was also acquired for Rho through the efforts of letterman Irv Ebaugh, Roger Holden, and Bob Park. Bill Young and Ted Hardin are candidates for top honors on the Wrestling team.

Rho brothers again moved into the positions in campus journalistic activities. Bill Clark and Jack Hopkins are senior editors on Home Edition. Paul Plawin is director of Kaleidoscope and also associate editor of the Ring-Tum-Phi. Brothers Clark, Loeffler, Hopkins, Plawin and Mason were elected to Sigma Delta Chi, Honorary Journalism Fraternity.

This year’s freshman class, led by pledge President Tom Sherwood accepted a deep interest in campus activities. Among their accomplishments were a fourth place finish in the Turkey Trot, and fourth prize in the annual Homecomings Display competition.

The Chapter will long remember the numerous, bright moments of the past social season. The Homecomings Party, the Rose Ball, and the Spring “grain party” well.

Our thanks go to our housemother, Miss Helen Gardner, for her help in making this year a successful one. To her we owe a debt of deep gratitude for her understanding and encouragement through the year.
Sigma Alpha Epsilon

VIRGINIA SIGMA CHAPTER

The Virginia Sigma Chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity was founded at W. & L. in 1867 by Frank Bell Webb. In its ninety-one years, Virginia Sigma has always maintained an excellent record in all phases of campus life at Washington and Lee. Wide interests are apparent by its members’ participation in many social, athletic, and extra-curricular activities.

Ed Woodson, 1958 chapter president, was elected President of Finals Dances. Jim Crews was given the highest R.O.T.C. rank as Regimental Commander of the W. & L. R.O.T.C. Cadet Corps and elected President of Scabbard and Blade. Both Ed and Jim were elected to “Who’s Who Among American Universities and Colleges.” S.A.E. was also proud of the fact that both the Tuesday and the Friday editions of the Ring-tum Phi were headed by Peter Lee and Jon McLin, respectively. Peter also serves as a member of the Executive Committee from the Junior Class, and Jon is chairman of the Student Library Committee. Billy Schaefer was named Commander of the Gaines Guard. Nearly one-third of the dormitory counselors this year are S.A.E. members: Jon McLin, Peter Lee, Jim Boldrick, Tom Gilliam, and Jim Duckett.

In athletics, Sam Knowlton captained the soccer team; Rosie Page was captain of the Freshman Football team; and Dee Detering won the school tennis championship.

Social leadership also is evident by the popularity of the S.A.E. House on party weekends. Every member looks forward to such events as the Christmas House Party, the Pajama Party, and of course the many trips to Goshen Pass in the spring.

Not enough can be said for the kind guidance of Mrs. Felde Wagner, who has served as S.A.E. house mother for the past nine years. In Dr. Cook and Dr. Starling, S.A.E. has expert counsel from well-liked faculty members.

S.A.E.’s enlighting past holds forth a great challenge for the future. S.A.E. looks forward to succeeding years for continued success and friendship.

Sigma Chi was founded in 1855. Zeta Chapter was established at Washington and Lee in 1866, just eleven years after the fraternity started. Zeta has had a long line of contributions to the campus since that time.

This year, rush was again in the capable hands of Mike Winston, assisted by Darracott Vaughan and went more smoothly than in years past. Bob Doenges presided over the pledge class with Chris Hutchins as pledge trainer.

Athletics saw Ron Randel back as fullback and Paul Knox in as J.V. quarterback. Clem Gunn, Jack Blakeslee, and Hunter Thompson saw action on the soccer field; Butch House wrestled; and Chuck Springer was back to defend his breaststroke record in swimming. Bob Doenges and Mark Sellers played freshman basketball.

Academically, Henry Harrell, Bob Moeller, and Max Elliot were high on the Honor Roll; and Don Morine was tapped ODK.

In campus activities Chris Rehlen, Henry Harrell, Tom Branch and Bob Moeller sang with the Sazearns; Jesse Webb was made ROTC Battalion Commander; John Mor-

Sigma Nu, founded at Virginia Military Institute in 1869, is one of the largest national collegiate fraternities in the U.S., having chapters in all but two of the forty-nine states. The Lambda chapter has been on the W&L campus since its establishment here in 1882.

Sigma Nu is outstanding in all phases of campus life. Some of the outstanding leaders on campus are Dave Weaver, elected to the outstanding honors of president of Openings Dances and president of the Sazeracs; Al Broaddus, secretary of the Sophomore class; and Jack Barnes, vice-president of Openings Dances. In campus publications, Thorns Craven and Sport Cox were on the staff of the Ring-tum Phi, and Ed Boatner contributed to the Southern Collegian. Glenn Fidler Wes Ostergren and Bud Lee were in the Glee Club; also, Bud Lee had the honor of being elected into the Sazeracs.

In sports Sigma Nu was widely represented. Letterman Bill Willes, Bill Bedsole, Dave Tharp, and Wes Ostergren were gridmen. Steve Coates, past captain of the cross country team, returned to the team this year and letterman Al Broaddus was also on the team. John Koedel, captain of the rifle team, was aided by Lou Burford, Dan Chitwood, and Pete Straub. Ned Glenn, Dave Fuller, and Robin Dingwall were members of the soccer team. In the intramural handball contest last spring, Sigma Nu took top honors by winning first place.

On the social side some of the most outstanding events of the year included the cocktail party given for Dave Weaver during Openings Dances, and the "Beat Generation" house party held after Thanksgiving; the annual White Rose Ball held in the spring was also a huge success.

The Sigma Nu's are extremely fortunate to have had Mrs. C. A. Spence for their house mother. Through her patience and understanding, "Mom" Spence has been invaluable during her thirteen years with the house.

But of primary importance at Lambda, Sigma Nu, was a feeling of friendship and unity.

Zeta Beta Tau had its beginnings on the Washington and Lee campus in 1920 as an outgrowth of the Gamma Gamma Club which was formed in 1919 by six students. Granted a charter by the national fraternity, it became the Alpha Epsilon Chapter. From this humble beginning the chapter has expanded notably in size and prestige and was recently awarded the Fraternity Cup as the outstanding chapter of ZBT for 1956-57.

This year we have continued our fine record in both scholastic and extra-curricular activities at W&L. ZBT presently stands third on campus in scholarship.

The installation as pledges of 14 freshmen, bringing the total membership of the chapter to fifty-two, inaugurated the fraternity's successful year. ZBTs have continued to climb to the top on university publications and largely through their positions in this field three seniors were chosen to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities," and elected to ODK. Steve Friedlander, past business manager of the Ring-tum Phi is the Publications Boards representative to the Executive Committee of the student body. Don Sigmund is editor of the Calyx and Head Cheerleader. Ralph Evans is business manager of the Calyx and also serves as Chairman of SWMSFC.

Active elsewhere are Henry Hecht, president of the Concert Guild; Jerry Sklar, president of the Graham-Lee Society; Frank Glaser, vice-president of the Junior class, and Merv Silverman, vice-chairman of the Dance Board.

ZBT was also widely represented in sports. Recent varsity lettermen include quarterback Rich Aberson in football; Al Osher and Art Blank in swimming. Other varsity participants were Don Levy and Firth Spiegel in football, Jim Freund and Steve Paley in soccer, and Moose Applefeld in lacrosse.

Intramurally our softball team copped the Championship Trophy last spring and our basketball team won the championship this winter.

Captains Bill Young and Clark Lea discuss coming game with coaches William, McLaughlin and Harrington.

1959 Generals

Washington and Lee opened the 1958 football year with an optimistic view on their chances for the coming season. The football ranks had been strengthened by many promising freshmen, whom Coach McLaughlin had recruited. But, the generals had also lost such stars as Jim Lewis and Tudor Hall by graduation and injuries. Even though the Generals did not better their 1957 season by much, it was felt by all that they would have done much better had it not been for frequent injuries.

For the second year under the regime of Lee McLaughlin, Washington and Lee used the "Go-T". Also, many plays were initiated to utilize the passing arm of Jack Groner, and the "I" formation, used towards the end of the season, proved effective in many cases.

Throughout the year the Generals were capably led by captains Clark Lea and Bill Young. On offense W&L was engineered by Groner's sensational passing and the consistent running of Lea and Bob Funkhouser. On defense Terry Fohs led the team in tackles, with Gordon Rountree and Tom Budd furnishing the leadership among interior linemen. In perspective the Generals were a much improved team; and if it had not been for consistent injuries, they would have probably had a much better record.

The Generals opened their 1958 season by bowing to Centre 27-8 at Danville, Kentucky. Plagued by bad breaks, the Generals trailed by 13-0 at the half, after having two tremendous drives stalled. Despite fumbling away two scoring opportunities, W&L managed to score on a beautiful down-the-middle pass from quarterback Rich Aberson to fleet-footed Clark Lea. Aberson then ran for the extra points and cut Centre’s lead to 13-8. Centre scored twice in the second half to assure the victory.

W&L’s opening home game at Wilson Field found the Generals on the short end of a 14-13 verdict to Franklin and Marshall. Victory was in the grasp of the fighting Generals until the last minute of play, when Franklin and Marshall scored from the three. W&L did all of its scoring in the second period. Co-captain Bill Young blasted over the first touchdown and mammoth freshman tackle Bob Harrison kicked the extra point. The second touchdown was scored on a powerful dash up the middle by fullback John Dinkel. Franklin and Marshall scored in the closing minutes of the first half. Jack Groner celebrated his return to the gridiron by completing four out of six passes, good for eighty-one yards. One of these was a forty-seven yard pitch to injured back Hunter Tracht. Despite the efforts of Groner and Bobby Funkhouser, as well as a magnificently playing General team, W&L did not get the victory.

Finally the gridiron gods smiled on the Washington and Lee Generals and granted them the first victory of the season as they beat the Randolph-Macon Tigers, 13-12. Paced by the pin-point passing of star quarterback Jack Groner, and the running of freshman Doug Martin, the Generals took their first victory. The spirited and hard-fought play of the defense accounted for at least fifty per cent of this victory. Groner scored W&L's first touchdown on a twenty-three yard dash around right end. The pass for the extra points was blocked. The first half ended with W&L riding on top of a 6-0 score. Randolph-Macon came back in the opening minutes of the second half to tie the score. Again in the fourth quarter Randolph-Macon scored, but the vital extra point was blocked by freshman Steve Suttle. This set the stage for the Generals' victory. In the last minutes of the fourth quarter, Groner completed two passes to wiry end Frank Hoss to set up Doug Martin's scoring plunge. Injured tackle Bob Harrison came off the bench to add the game-winning thirteenth point. This victory was due to the perfect playing of both offense and defense. The Generals had at last proved that, despite tremendous odds, they could find victory.

The Generals next travelled to St. Louis to play the powerful Washington University Bears. Despite the great passing effort of Jack Groner, W&L came out on the short end of a 12-6 score. Groner completed fourteen of twenty-seven passes for 179 yards, which was more than twice the distance the Generals gained on the ground. Washington scored both of its touchdowns before the Generals crossed the double stripes. W&L's score came on an eleven yard pass to end Frank Hoss in the fourth quarter. Groner led the team in the air, and on the ground, Lea and Funkhouser turned in creditable performances. The Generals' defensive unit was led by diminutive line backer Terry Fohs, end Jim Pickett, and guards Barton Dick and Tom Budd.

Carbondale, Illinois was the scene of Washington and Lee's next game which was against Southern Illinois. Southern's fleet-footed halfbacks and rock-ribbed line defeated W&L 36-7. Groner's passing again carried the team as the offense gained only thirty-nine yards by land. For a brief time in the second quarter, the Generals led the scoring on a twenty yard toss from Funkhouser. Groner completed fourteen out of twenty passes, most of which were aimed at his favorite target, Frank Hoss. The Generals had played well but they suffered another defeat.

In their next encounter Washington and Lee's Generals battled Sewanee's Tigers to a deadlock in the second half, but the two Tiger touchdowns in the first half helped give Sewanee a 12-0 victory before a huge Homecoming crowd. W&L fought the unbeaten Tigers mightily but was not able to match their twelve point lead. At the midpoint of the third quarter W&L's only serious bid to score was cancelled when Bob Funkhouser was stopped inches short of the goal line on the fourth down. Groner's passing again accounted for much of the Generals' total offense. Harrison, Hobbs, Mauzy, Willes and Rountree were stalwarts in the General line. For the second consecutive year, Jack Groner won the Ty Rauber Homecoming Award for being the outstanding W&L player in the game. At halftime Washington and Lee's Cy Young received a plaque for being voted into the Football Hall of Fame. This game was dedicated to the former General great. Neither Mr. Young nor the fans were disappointed by the performance of the Generals against the subsidized Sewanee team.

The Generals' last home game of the season ended in defeat at the hands of the Hampden-Sydney Tigers by a score of 12-6. A wet playing field greatly hindered the Generals' chief offensive weapon, the passing ability of Jack Groner. Hampden-Sydney drew first blood in the game by receiving the opening kickoff and marching to a touchdown. They scored their second touchdown on an eighty-five yard run in the second half. W&L scored in the first half when end Tom Moore blocked a punt in the end zone and Harrison fell on it. Freshman Jim Hickey played an outstanding
Lea off for a long gain.

...game at left half on offense and defense, as did fullback Ronny Randel, Terry Fohs, Courtney Mauzy, and Clark Lea led the consistently good W&L defense.

The last game of the year found the Generals receiving their worst defeat of the season at the hands of powerful Wittenburg by a score of 51-0. The Generals were playing without the services of their main offensive threats. Freshman quarterbacks Steve Suttle and Robin Wood turned in creditable performances substituting for the injured Jack Groner and Rich Aberson. The power laden Ohio team scored most of their points in the first half against the injury riddled line. Coach McLaughlin substituted freely in the second half, giving his freshman team experience, which will be valuable in the coming seasons.

This year for the first time W&L had a regular junior varsity team composed of freshmen. The team ended a five game season with a 1-3-1 record. The JV's started slowly, but they rapidly improved until they reached their climax by defeating Woodbury Forest 22-13. The team was efficiently led by captains Grantham Couch and Rosewell Page. Besides Couch and Page, the outstanding players were: Richard Mosby, Phil Sharp, Dave Tyrrell, Buddy Jones, George Gruger, Worthington Brown, and Wayne Bradshaw. Coach McLaughlin believes that experience received by these players will be of great value to them next year in varsity action. These progressing freshmen are the hope of Washington and Lee in the future, and they certainly were a credit to their school in their first year of play. They face powerful schedules in the coming years, but the spirit these recruits possess is an asset which cannot be bought with scholarships. Washington and Lee looks to these men of the class of '62.

Soccer

Washington and Lee's soccer team enjoyed a fine season under Coach John Poston, in his first year with the Generals. Captains Rocky Gaut and Sam Knowlton, along with high scoring Bob Lathrop and fullbacks Mal Burton and Skip Rohinke, led the booters to six wins against three losses and one tie.

The season opened with a 6-0 victory over Randolph-Macon. The Generals' second game ended in a 1-0 triumph over Davidson. Left wing Bob Lathrop scored the lone goal and goalie Jack Blakeslee led a brilliant defense with 15 saves. With a number of starters out of action because of injuries, the team tied Duke 3-3 in a hard fought overtime battle.

The first home game of the season resulted in a 3-2 victory over the University of North Carolina. Coach Poston credited the victory to Blakeslee's work as goalie. The next three games were wins for the Blue and White. The team registered a 2-1 win over Frostburg College, with Lathrop scoring both goals and increasing his team leading total to six. Last year's captain Warren Nuesle, Mal Burton and Glenn Gunn turned in fine offensive and defensive performances. Roanoke College and Davidson College were defeated by scores of 2-1 and 5-2, giving the W&L team an undefeated mid-season mark of 6-0-1. Jim Freund starred in these last games along with co-captains Knowlton and Gaut.

The season’s first defeat came when Lynchburg College scored a 7-5 win over the Generals. Dave Knight, assisted by Chris Clarke, tallied two of the goals for W&L, followed with three more by inside Bill Stanley and Bob Lathrop. Our last home game resulted in a 0-2 shutout handed us by the University of Virginia. Mal Burton and Rocky Gaut spearheaded the defense against UVa. The Generals traveled to College Park for their last game, against a powerful University of Maryland team. Maryland, the titlist of the Atlantic Coast Conference, registered an 11-1 victory, giving W&L a 6-3-1 record for the season.

Four members of the team were picked for this year’s All-South team. Selected were Mal Burton at left fullback, Bob Lathrop at outside left, Rocky Gaut at right halfback and Skip Rohnke at right fullback. Lathrop, who starred on offense as a leading scorer all season, will represent the United States in the Pan American Games.

The record which the team earned for itself in 1958 was an improvement over the 5-4-1 season of the previous year, in spite of the fact that Coach Poston was new to W&L. A number of injuries among the principal players hurt the Generals’ chances toward the end of the season and may have contributed to their defeats. Nearly all of the lettermen from this year’s team will be returning, giving prospects of an even better season in 1959.
Coach Dick Miller and Captain Bill Loeffler

Cross-Country

Washington and Lee's Cross-country team, led by Captain Bill Loeffler, completed one of its most successful seasons since 1945. The Generals journeyed to Morgantown for their first encounter, completely outmatched by the powerful West Virginia Mountaineers. Their second defeat, at the hands of Lynchburg College, was by a much closer margin. The Generals then bounced back and thoroughly trounced the Randolph-Macon Tigers. The most talked about victory of the season was over the University of Richmond, which was definite proof of the team's strength. After being outmatched by Virginia, Washington and Lee finished second in a triangular meet with Virginia Military Institute and Davidson, narrowly outdistancing a powerful Davidson team. The Generals then easily defeated the Randolph-Macon Tigers.

The Generals hold much promise for the future with their outstanding nucleus of freshmen. The three top scorers, Cope Schellhorn, James King, and Harry Kurtz, were all first-year men. Ray Robrecht, the only senior on the team, had a very good season for his first attempt at the distance run. Bill Loeffler, who was re-elected captain for next year, placed consistently and added much to the team's strength and unity. Sophomores Al Broadus and Holt Merchant both ran well and showed much improvement over the season. No one individual was responsible for the team's success; instead, it was a combination of team effort and balance.

With the return of these men and the possible addition of some more freshmen, Coach Dick Miller hopes to obtain an even better standing in the Big Six next year.

Basketball

The Washington and Lee hoopers began early practices this year, as they faced a powerful schedule. For the first time in W & L history, the Generals were all amateurs up against strong Southern Conference teams composed almost entirely of scholarship players. The Generals were to play the same teams they had played with scholarships, and they were out to prove that they, as amateurs, could compete with the pros.

For the first time, young Bob McHenry was to coach the team. McHenry, a former W & L star, was apprehensive about his basketballers, and he worked hard to get them in shape for the opposition. McHenry was relying on Mal Lassman, a guard, for the major part of the scoring. Frank Surface was to hold down the other guard position. In the front court, Phil Palmer was center. Gene Girard was the top forward, and John Kirk was to start at the forward position. In all, the Generals had a spirited, talented five with a good, quick-thinking coach. But, the team was supposedly outclassed; and the controversy raged as the Generals opened against William and Mary.

The general opinion was that W & L surely would be defeated by powerful William and Mary; but the Blue and White quintet was far from a defeat that night. The spunky Generals fought their way to a tie, then into two overtimes before being defeated 63-60. The second half ended in a 52-52 deadlock, the lead having changed four times and the score tied six times. The first overtime ended in a 56-56 tie. In the second overtime W & L sprang ahead 59-56 with one foul shot and Palmer's dropping in a jump shot. William and Mary then tied the score, and a hook shot by Jeff Cohen put the opponents in front and set the stage for their vic-
Lassman shoots
McHenry shows his disapproval

Lassman did a beautiful job of setting the Generals up, as well as being high scorer with seventeen. Palmer dominated the boards and hit for twelve, while Girard dropped in sixteen. The Generals had played a great game, but William and Mary's depth had edged out the Blue.

The overtime period proved to be a hazard for W & L again when the Blue quintet met Hampden-Sydney. The Generals had gone into a depressing slump after the William and Mary game, but the old spark again flared in this Hampden-Sydney game, for the Blue had previously bowed to the Tigers 84-86. In the later game, the first half ended with W & L leading 37-34, but the Generals could not hold the lead and the game ended 64-64. In the overtime, Hampden-Sydney jumped ahead by two points, but Lassman hit a jumpshot and then a free throw bringing the score to 67-66. The game was over pointwise for W & L, and Hampden-Sydney moved to a 76-67 victory. The Generals had hit a good forty-one per cent of their shots to Hampden-Sydney's thirty-three per cent. Girard, Lassman, and Surface hit for twenty, fifteen, and eleven points respectively.

The Generals suffered a heart-breaking defeat against Davidson College. A last-second Wildcat jumpshot tied the game, and again the overtime proved disastrous for the men in Blue. Lassman put the Generals ahead with an underhand lay-up to make the score 66-64 in the final minutes. The ball then changed hands twice. With one second to go, the Generals were ahead 66-64 with Wildcat's ball out of bounds. The ball was passed in to the Wildcat's Huiie; Huiie sprang into the air and as the buzzer sounded, the ball swished through the net for the score. It was all over for the exhausted Generals, and Davidson won 84-75 in the overtime. Lassman had, to quote McHenry, "played as fine all around game as has been seen at Washington and Lee in recent years."

The Generals played one of their best games against powerful Richmond. Richmond had just nearly upset West Virginia, the number one team in the Southern Conference. Due to this fact, many feared the Blue would be trounced. But the Blue did more than play a creditable game against Richmond. They defended and shot their way through a game that would have been excellent in any league only to bow 69-62 in the final minutes. Surface led the shooting with nineteen while Gault and Palmer sailed up for rebound after rebound. The W & L five had pulled out of their early season slump and were now playing one excellent game after another. Probably one of the most ironic games ever played by W & L occurred when the Blue met V.P.I. in Doremus Gymnasium. V.P.I. for the most part, was depending on All-American candidate Bob Ayersman for the major part of the scoring. But Coach McHenry had planned well and assigned Frank Surface to harass Ayersman. Surface not only harassed, but also out-guarded, out-dribbled, and out-shot this All-American candidate. Ayersman was held to four points, while a capacity crowd cheered Surface on. Chunky Phil Palmer kept huge Chris Smith from the backboards, and led the W & L scoring with fifteen points. Rocky Gaut and Gene Girard played fine games in the forward positions, scoring ten and twelve points respectively, while Moore and Kirk aided when necessary.

The Generals climaxed their road to recovery by defeating Randolph-Macon 62-56 in an upset contest in Macon territory. The game was give and take until early in the second half when Mal Lassman set up a three point play that put the Generals ahead 37-35. The W & L men handled the ball superbly under a full-court press and widened the gap to 54-44 in a matter of minutes. Gene Girard sparked the Blue with a total of eighteen points. Lassman and Surface skillfully set up the Generals despite the constant jeering of a capacity Yellow Jacket crowd. Palmer and Gaut dominated the boards on both offense and defense, while Kirk played an excellent game as a reserve. On the whole, the Generals dribbled, shot, and rebounded their way through an excellent game, and thus climaxed a controversial season.

Young Bob McHenry had coached the Generals well, and they had played many fine games. As far as the victories are concerned, the Generals had an unsuccessful season, but, they proved that as amateurs, they could play fine basketball against the pros. If badly beaten by a team in their first meeting, the Blue and White would play their finest games against them in the return match. Spirit helped the Generals where scholarships helped their opponents. This spirit gained national recognition for them in a feature article in Sports Illustrated magazine. W & L had for the most part played well against teams which supposedly far outclassed them. Now, after testing themselves, they look forward to more success in future seasons.
Swimming

This year's swimming team, sparked by a number of returning lettermen and a group of outstanding freshmen, finished the season by winning six out of nine dual meets. Led by co-captains Al Osher and Tom Broadus, Coach Cy Twombly's swimmers scored a total of 463 points against 309 for their opponents during the season. The varsity tank men have compiled a four year record of twenty-eight wins and only eight defeats.

In the season's opening meet, the Blue team met Roanoke College, defeating them 70-16 and winning eight out of ten events. Two pool records fell to W&L swimmers as Bill Broadbent, Chuck Springer, Elliott Maynard and Bill Robertson took a first place in the 400-yard medley relay; and Maynard won individual honors in the 200-yard butterfly. The Generals hosted the University of Virginia for their second meet, losing in the afternoon's final race which clinched a close 46-40 victory for the Wahoos.

W&L's mermen smashed Catholic University over the Christmas holidays with a 68-16 victory. The Blue took first place in nine out of ten events, as Skip Rohnke won the 50-yard freestyle with the same speed and power that has marked him as a bulwark of the team since his freshman year. In the beginning of January, the team met West Virginia at the Greenbrier Hotel Pool and downed... them 60-26, defeating the Mountaineers for the second straight year.

In the season's last home meet, the Generals defeated William and Mary 62-24. In addition to the victory that they helped score over the Indians, three W&L swimmers set new pool records. Bill Robertson broke the 100-yard freestyle record, freshman Elliott Maynard set a new mark in the 200-yard breast stroke, and Art Blank earned a new record in diving. In the sixth meet of the season, against Davidson College, the Blue took a 60-25 victory. W&L's swimmers grabbed five individual first places and won the two relay events.

Against Duke, the Blue tankers could only tally 30 points compared to 56 for their opponents. Two individual victories were scored for the Generals, one by Art Blank in diving and a second by freshman Bill Deal in the 440-yard freestyle.

Boasting a 5-2 season record, the Generals encountered a powerful VPI squad in a meet which W&L had not won since 1948. In this year's battle both teams picked up five first places, but W&L showed enough depth to take sufficient second and third place spots to score a 49-37 victory over the Gobblers.

The final meet of the season saw the University of Pittsburgh hand the Generals a 24-62 defeat. Maynard and Springer led the scoring in the 200-yard breast stroke by taking first and second places, but the Panthers proved to be too strong for the Blue in most of the events.

Prospects for next year look very bright, with nearly all this year's lettermen with the exception of the co-captains returning. Freshmen Maynard and Deal, along with mainstays such as Rohnke, should form the nucleus of a powerful team in 1959-60.
The 1958-59 wrestling team entered the season with a team composed primarily of freshmen and sophomores. The largely untired squad had at its base only two upperclassmen, and these two were seniors. Led by team captain Dennis Patton, the team turned in a creditable 5-5 record, leaving coach Dick Miller highly satisfied and looking forward to next year's campaign.

Washington and Lee got off to a strong start as the team masterfully overpowered the University of North Carolina 29-3. However, the next three outings did not result in such fortunate circumstances. W & L came up on the short end of a 26-10 score against Franklin and Marshall. Turning next to powerful V. P. L, Washington and Lee's grapplers suffered a 31-3 defeat. Gallaudet College provided the Generals with the third setback, 21-11.

Against Duke University it was a far different story. The Generals racked up an 18-12 victory. The next weekend found W & L at Morgantown, West Virginia, where the Generals dropped a 22-8 verdict to the Mountaineers. The next two engagements found W & L in Lexington before a very partisan crowd. The first of the home meets was with Wake Forest, and the Generals downed the Deacons by a 31-3 margin.

W & L again turned in a sterling performance by the identical score, 31-3, against the Citadel. Looking for another win, the Generals travelled to Davidson where the team brought a 16-14 victory to add to the season's laurels. Washington and Lee then faced Virginia, in Lexington, in the final match of the 1958-59 season. After a strong effort, the Generals dropped a close 18-14 decision to the Cavaliers.

Coach Miller looks forward with optimism to next year's season. Patton, Dyer, and Mersereau compiled the best records of the year. Dyer won nine and lost one match to lead the team for the season, while Patton and Mersereau completed the campaign with eight wins and two losses each.

At the conclusion of the season, Dennis Patton was awarded the Mathias Memorial Trophy. He was voted the annual award for his outstanding contribution to this year's wrestling squad.

Rifle Team

Washington and Lee’s rifle team, coached by Sgt. James F. McMillion, compiled a five win, four loss record for the 1958-59 season. The team was co-captained this year by John Koedel and Irv Ebaugh.

The Generals opened the season with a victory over William and Mary, but the next two meets, the Blue lost to Richmond and V.P.I. In their fourth match, the W&L squad registered a win over Davidson. The Generals dropped a match to Virginia and then rebounded to defeat William and Mary again. The Blue outshot George Washington for their fourth win of the season; however, they were beaten in their next match by Georgetown. The team closed out the season with a win over Richmond.

In the Second Army Match, Ashby Morton led the Blue squad by firing a 287. Koedel shot a 275, and Ebaugh fired a 270.

With some outstanding freshmen prospects for next year, the Generals look forward to an even more successful season.
Washington and Lee embarked on an unusually rough lacrosse schedule for the 1958 season. However, a polished, superb team emerged from the campaign ranked as the number ten squad in the nation, and contributed goalie Jim Lewis to All-American honors. Dave Nichols, Henry LeBrun, and Ned Pendleton figured in the annual North-South Lacrosse Game, each giving a sterling performance.

W & L opened its season by grinding out an 8-6 decision over Williams. The game proved to be a defensive struggle, and Lewis came off the field with twenty saves. Midfielder LeBrun turned in a fine performance by netting three goals.

Coach Corrigan's stickmen then took to the road. The first engagement was with Harvard. The Generals turned in a superb performance and mauled Harvard 12 to 3. Midfielder Dick Gwathmey led the scoring with two goals and two assists. LeBrun and attackman Sam Merrick also contributed two goals to the rapidly mounting score. Hilly Thompson turned in an outstanding performance on the attack. Against Hofstra, Honorable Mention All-American LeBrun gave a fine clutch performance and nearly turned the defeat into a victory by scoring four goals in the final period. The Generals finally dropped a 10-9 decision to Hofstra after making six goals in the final period of the game. Dave Nichols provided another bright spot in the crease as he made four assists.

Turning to the most difficult part of the season, W & L faced a strong Maryland contingent. In a hard-pressed, mud-splattered duel, Maryland emerged as victor 9-4. Midfielders Jay Stull and Bill Caspari proved to be the highlights in W & L's attack.

Defending National Champions Johns Hopkins emerged with a 14-11 victory over the Generals in the next encounter. Hopkins was hard-pressed...

after W & L drew first blood, Ned Pendleton and Henry LeBrun paced the Generals with three goals each. Defensemen Briscoe, Doyle, Corn, and Leagave excellent clearing performances.

The Generals then travelled to Durham where they soundly drubbed Duke 11-4. Lewis and Gwathmey led the W & L team in the rout. Against powerful Mt. Washington, Jim Lewis made an astonishing thirty save record for himself before W & L was edged 8-7. Chuck Crawford starred on the crease-defense, making vicious checks and providing strong defensive work to maintain W & L’s offensive drives. LeBrun led W & L scorers with two goals. Sam Merrick, Ned Pendleton, and Dave Nichols controlled the ball with ease before the Generals dropped the tough decision.

The next week Washington and Lee met Washington College. The game resulted in many complaints by both teams over the officiating. W & L’s Nichols drew first blood, but the Generals came out on the short end of another close decision, 9-10. Dick Gwathmey accounted for three timely goals while Jay Stull proceeded to run Washington’s midfielders ragged.

Turning next to Loyola, the stickmen hammered out a 13-6 victory. Nichols led the scoring as W & L broke Loyola’s back after the early stages of the contest. Sam Merrick, Dave Calvert, and Jay Stull each accounted for two goals. Dave Noble turned in a fine game on the attack. Travelling next to Baltimore University, the Generals dropped a crucial 16-8 decision as they prepared to conclude the season. W & L grabbed an early lead on the fine play of Pendleton and Nichols. However, the Bees caught up and led at half time 6-3. Going into the final period, the score was 8-8 due to the efforts of Skip Horst and Pendleton, but a sudden relentless burst of power enabled Baltimore to emerge with the victory.

Then came the final game with Virginia in which W & L annihilated the Wahoos 12-5 to cop the state lacrosse crown. The completely outclassed Virginia team succumbed rapidly to a superb attack led by Merrick, Pendleton, LeBrun, and Charles.

The Virginia contest concluded the W & L season and earned Washington and Lee its high national standing after an extremely difficult schedule. Coach Gene Corrigan’s inspiration had again brought W & L distinction as a lacrosse power, as did the superb playing of All-American Jim Lewis.
Baseball

Washington & Lee's baseball team got off to a slow start in its 1958 season by dropping both decisions in a doubleheader to Davidson, 5-4 and 4-1. In the first game, lack of enough pre-season practices cost W&L the ball game. Freshman Roy Carpenter's pitching proved to be spotty, but Tom Moore and Frank Hoopes slammed out two hits each to pace W&L. In the second game Tom Moore continued to set the General's pace as he rapped out three hits and provided W&L with its only run. Al Gitter was credited with the loss.

In the tournament at Paris Island, the Generals got off to a slow start by dropping the first game to the Marines 11-1. But under the powerful pitching of Roy Carpenter, a different story appeared as W&L knocked off Cornell 6-5. Carpenter threw only ninety pitches, while Haslett, Hoopes and McCallum provided a hitting battery to sustain the victory. Next the Blue and White turned to face powerful St. Johns. Freshman Jerry Gordon gave up only four hits as W&L came from behind to pick up a 4-3 victory. Trailing 3-0 in the last inning, W&L staged its biggest rally of the early season. Ball, Broll, and Larson walked to load the bases. Hoopes then singled Ball in. McCallum lined in Broll. Carpenter reached first, and Larson scored. Lemon's sacrifice scored Carpenter, allowing the Generals a hard-earned victory.

W&L next turned to West Virginia and split a doubleheader, taking the first game 4-2 and dropping the second 16-0. In the first game, Sandy Larson first broke the ice with a single which scored Hoopes and Broll. Carpenter clinched his own victory in the seventh inning by smashing out a double which scored Broll and McCallum. The second game proved to be W&L's undoing as the fielding became riddled with costly errors while no coordinated hitting effort could be raised.

These same features plagued the Generals for their next five games against Richmond, Citadel, Hampden-Sydney, and V.P.I. In succession, each game was riddled with costly errors for W&L. Moore, Hoopes, and Chandler provided a strong hitting attack, but it proved to be too spotty to result in a serious scoring threat. But W&L's dark moments were to begin to take a turn for the better. The Generals carried the George Washington game into extra innings. Although this game was also filled with errors, Roy Carpenter provided some brilliant pitching before W&L finally dropped a 6-5 decision in the top of the eleventh inning.

Turning next to face powerful Richmond, W&L snapped the Spiders' ten game winning streak by a score of 7-6. George Chandler singled to center to score the tying run. In the eleventh, Hoopes was on second when Moore singled to right to score the winning run.

W&L finished the season at a fast clip by slamming out seventeen hits to rout Virginia 11-5. This resounding victory was the finale for coach Weenie Miller's squad, which concluded the season with a 5-9 record. After the third inning W&L grabbed a commanding lead which was lengthened as the game progressed. W&L lost only one senior from the team at the conclusion of the season—Frank Hoopes, who has been strong support in both fielding and hitting. The team looks forward optimistically to its 1959 campaign, which should prove to be a highly successful year for Washington & Lee.
Tennis

The Washington and Lee tennis team opened the 1958 season by dropping a 7-2 decision to a powerful Colgate squad but two days later bounced back to trounce West Virginia 8-1 as Stuart, Gowenlock, Glausser, Hubbard, McWilliams, and Bowie swept the singles.

After wins over Virginia Tech and William and Mary sandwiched around a loss to University of Virginia, the Generals hit full stride with a 5-4 upset of a strong Davidson squad. Stuart and McWilliams won both their singles matches and then teamed to win the number one doubles.

The team then traveled to Williamsburg for the Southern Conference Tournament. The darkhorse Generals swept all six first round matches and at the end of the first day were in a tie for first place. The next day Stuart was eliminated in the semi-finals by tourney favorite Jim Tarr of George Washington, and the Generals took third place in the tournament.

Closing the season with wins over Hampden-Sydney and Virginia Tech, the team had achieved a fine 7-3 win-loss record. With only Stuart missing, 1959 should be another fine season.
Golf

Washington and Lee's golf team, under the guidance of Coach Cy Twombly, finished another highly successful season. Showing steady improvement throughout the spring, the golfers compiled a record of seven wins and three losses.

Led by Ted Baber W & L opened the season by coasting to an easy victory over Lynchburg College. Turning next to face West Virginia, W & L lost by a narrow 6-1 margin. The loss was avenged in a sparkling 9-0 victory over Hampden-Sydney, led by Joe Ulrich, who was low man for the afternoon. Unable to settle down, the golfers dropped another 3-4 decision, this time to William and Mary.

The second half of the season's schedule was marked by a pattern of consistent wins. The Generals racked up a 7½-1½ victory over Richmond in a match highlighted by the outstanding performance of Ollie Cook and Baber. Turning to face V.P.I., the golf team forged a 3½-2½ margin. Washington and Lee then extended its win marks by defeating both George Washington, 3½-2½, and V.M.I., 5½-1½, in a triangular meet.

Turning into the season's home stretch, W & L again defeated V.P.I. by a score of 3½ to 2½ before bowing to Virginia 3½-2½ in the final match of the year.

The golfers, captained by Charles McCormick, can look back on a highly successful campaign. The White Sulphur Invitational Tournament saw W & L finish fourth in the face of superb competition. Baber was voted the outstanding golfer award for the season.
The Generals' thinclads, dominated by freshmen and sophomores, finished the season with a respectable record of four wins and three defeats. Led by captain Skip Rohnke, W&L's track team romped over Lynchburg, Randolph-Macon, High Point, and Guilford College. In other meets during the season, the Generals took a third place in the Freshman Mile Relay at the Florida Relays and finished fourth in the Big Six meet with 17 points.

John Cherrybone, Joe Hess, and Jack Blakeslee turned in fine individual performances. Dwight Chamberlain, who has two more years ahead of him at Washington and Lee, was an all-round point winner along with Rohnke. Chamberlain was particularly outstanding in the shorter events, and took the season's records in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Next year, with many returning lettermen, should result in an even more successful season.

Intramurals

The Intramural program, under the direction of Manager Pete Merrill, has provided an athletic program for all students and faculty members at Washington and Lee.

The policy of this program is to serve all of the students in the University throughout the year by giving them a competitive sports schedule outside the field of Intercollegiate athletics. To serve this purpose Washington and Lee has a plan which includes the seventeen social fraternities, the Campus Club, and the faculty in competition with each other.

For each sport the twenty teams are divided into four leagues, with the winner of each league meeting in the playoffs to determine the school champions. Each team winner is given a trophy by the Intramural Board and the winner of the most points during the entire year receives the championship trophy.

To set up and carry out the program an Intramural Board has been organized with representatives from all twenty participating Intramural teams. The Executive Committee of the Board, made up of members of the Physical Education department and the Intramural Board, serves as the executive body for the overall program.

The 1957-1958 school year saw the championship trophy awarded to Beta Theta Pi. The Beta’s won the football and track championships and finished third in swimming, giving them the necessary margin for victory.

This year has been a year of surprises. The faculty won their first championship in many years by winning the handball trophy.

Top: ZBT softball winners
Bottom: Beta track champions
The SAE's have won the golf title and retained their swimming trophy from the previous year. The ZBT's copped the basketball crown and are favored to retain the baseball championship. The Betas won the track title and the Phi Kap's swept the tennis laurels with surprising ease. The football championship, still undecided after two playoffs between the SAE's, Phi Psi's and Betas, proved inconclusive, will be continued this spring.

In addition to the Intramural trophy, an Intercollegiate cup is awarded to the fraternity with the largest number of representatives in the intercollegiate athletic program. The Intramural and Intercollegiate boards also award a Grand trophy to the fraternity which is outstanding in both fields.

Through the Intramural program Washington and Lee offers an opportunity to all students to participate in athletics, and the coveted Intramural crown is an incentive to all fraternities to encourage their members to make use of the athletic facilities offered at Washington and Lee.
With its glorious heritage of two hundred and ten years, how inappropriate it would be to write finis at the conclusion of any record of Washington and Lee. Rather may it be said that we have reached the close of this period of our brief life at our beloved college. It is hoped that in years to come, these pages may help to recapture fond memories of the joys and disappointments, the enthusiasms and perplexities, the spirit and the ambitions that were our rich experience at Washington and Lee.

THE SKY'S THE LIMIT

Graduation is only the beginning of your future. From now on, the sky's the limit. We hope that your graduation is truly only a "commencement" of greater things to come.

You can look forward to a good and prosperous life because in America we enjoy the world's highest standard of living.

There is one thought we should never lose sight of, however. If our prosperity and freedom are to last, we must develop trained, responsible men and women.

We must work to preserve our way of life so that when our children graduate they, too, will be able to say—"the sky's the limit."
