DR. SMITH ADDRESS-ES ASSEMBLY

"How To Succeed in Study and Yet Find Time for Outside Activities" Is His Subject

"How to succeed in study and yet find time for outside activities" was the subject of Dr. Smith's address which was the feature of the University assembly held on Monday, October the 27th.

Dr. Smith in his usual masterly and dynamic style, laid before the Student Body three great principles of college and life-time success, which are, first, to systematize work and play; second, to limit outside activities and cut out loafing; and third to learn to study always with white-hot concentration.

The assembly was opened with prayer by Dr. T. K. Young. Bob McDougle, manager of football, then explained the situation in regard to the special train, by which we are to go "On to Lynchburg." After this, President Smith rose and began his address by declaring that the problem of how to take part in outside activities without neglecting his regular work was a problem which every successful man would have to face throughout his life.

The only people, said Dr. Smith, who are left free to do their life work without interruption, are those who are so worthless that nobody wants their help. If you solve this life long problem now, you will have achieved a thing that will be worth your weight in diamonds to you in after life.

In solving this problem, according to Dr. Smith, we must learn three things. The first is to systematize our daily program of work and play. Time is our most valuable possession. The habit of not utilizing fifteen minutes because it is short is one of the most pernicious customs of our campus.

WORK ON CALYX IS UNDER WAY

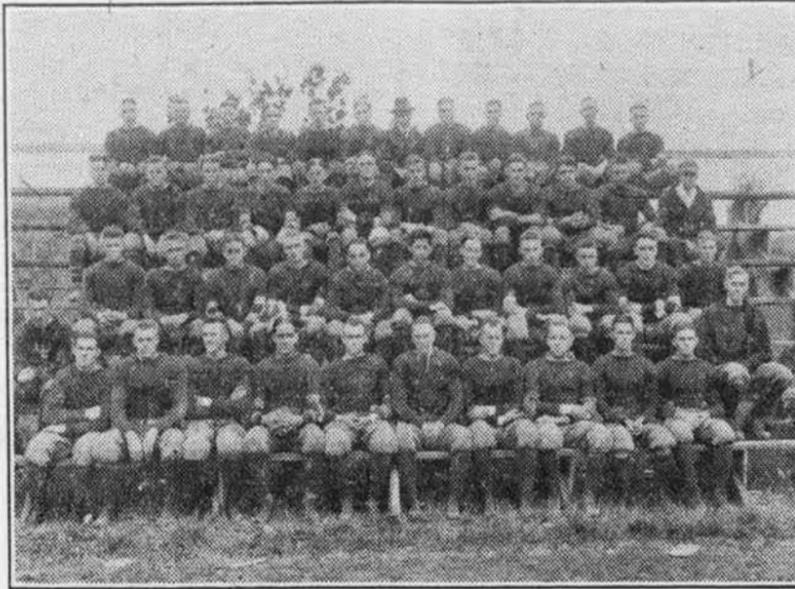

Editor Announces Much Larger Volume This Year—Prospects Are Bright

Work has already begun on the 1920 "CALYX" and the editors are promising a worthy book. The prospects were never so bright. In the first place the Student Body this year is larger than any since 1911. And most important the fact that the editorial staff is composed almost entirely of veterans of former years. Every section of the Calyx will receive the attention of an editor experienced in that particular work. So there will be nothing amateur about this year's production.

The editor-in-chief has announced as an additional feature to the regular book a large and comprehensive

GENERALS DEFEAT ROANOKE COLLEGE IN LOOSE GAME

W. & L. Piles Up Thirty-two Points in Game Slowed by Muddy Field—Forwarded Passes Successful

The Generals concluded their first sojourn of the 1919 season on Wilson Field Saturday, with a victory over Roanoke College in a game slowed up considerably by the muddiness of the field. The lines lost all their charge and simply piled up in a mass in such a way as to greatly impede the offensive team. Line bucks meant practically no gain, except when the runner dived over or happened to start from ground dry enough to allow the regular drive of the back to bore through for a yard or two.

The game was cleanly fought, though poorly played. Roanoke played hard and clean. Chapman, the captain of the visitors, smiled at adversities and was a general favorite. Defensively, he was in every play, and his punting and passing was likewise good. Graham likewise showed lots of grit, and Altrup uncovered a world speed.

For W. and L. none of the men played the game they were capable of, mainly because they didn't have to. There are hard games in front of us from now on, and the Generals knew it. They played hard enough but no more. The defense was as impregnable as ever, but W. and L. did not score the points she could have, had Coach Raftery turned them loose. Silverstein's passing was good, and Corbett and Daves dragged them down in great fashion, but the backs took things slowly and easily, Sinclair furnishing the only thrilling run, when he skirted left end behind great interference, and carried the ball 55 yards to the 1 yard line.

Davis made a great play at the close of the first half.

Hottel had received the kick-off after the fourth touch-down, and had gotten into an open field behind good interference and was speeding down his right side line, but General's plucky little quarter-back planted himself firmly, cast the interference aside, and grasped Hottel by one leg, staving off a sure score. This is the second time that Davis has prevented a touch-down in the same manner.

PREPARATIONS MADE FOR V. P. I. GAME

"No Special, No Holiday," Says Dean Campbell—W. & L. To Parade in Lynchburg

In facing the V. P. I. aggregation next Saturday in Lynchburg Washington and Lee will meet one of her three worst opponents of the gridiron for the 1919 season, and she needs every student in college to back those "Fighting Generals" up on the field that day. Yet, if the number of men who have signed up to go on the special train is any indication of the number of men that will go to Lynchburg, then the true W. and L. spirit that you read about has taken wings and flown far hence. For only 70 some odd men signed up and many

UNIVERSITY GIVES BANQUET

Campaign for Increased Endowment Opened in Lexington—Dinner and Speeches Enjoyed By All

The banquet held in honor of the campaign for an increased endowment of $1,000,000 for the University last Friday night at the Washington and Lee Dining Hall was a big success. The banquet was attended by approximately two hundred alumni and business men of the town, and after the feasting and the speeches were over it was felt by all that much which was of real value, had been accomplished toward the furthering of this all important campaign. The serious parts of the program were delightfully varied with selections rendered by the University Jazz band led by that brave and handsome Captain, E. L. Graham.

Acting on the principle of eating first and talking later, the devouring of a huge spread of fruits, nuts, celery, ice cream, cake, etc., was the first feature of the evening. The tables were tastefully decorated with beautiful chrysanthemums, and the room as a whole presented a charming appearance. Credit is due to Mrs. Thompson, E. S. Mattingly, C. M. Peale and the student waiters for the success of this feature of the entertainment.

An address of welcome to the guests by Mr. Frank Moore, was followed with a talk by Dr. Henry Louis Smith in which he quoted statistics as to the comparative per capita endowment of Washington and Lee and other leading universities of the country. There were enough to show that the present endowment is insufficient to meet W. & L.'s present needs and among the many things that she needs badly by next year might be

TROUBADOURS HOLD INITIAL MEETING

E. S. Mattingly Elected President—Organization Perfected and Constitution Adopted

The first meeting of the "Troubadours" was held in the Y. M. C. A. room last Tuesday night at eight o'clock with about a hundred men in attendance. "Ted" Shultz acted as temporary chairman and presided over the meeting. The constitution as previously drawn up was adopted with a few changes and officers pro-tem, were elected. E. S. Mattingly was chosen to be president, Bruce Woodruff, business manager; Stuart Moore, recording secretary; Ned Graham, Alumni treasurer, and Dr. J. L. Howe was selected as the faculty adviser. These men will serve until next January, when they will be succeeded by regularly elected of-

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION SECURES SECRETARY

Eddie Parks Davis is Alumni Secretary—Will Have Office in Newcomb Hall

One of the chief ambitions of the Alumni Association, Incorporated, has at last been realized, and it is with extreme gratification that it is able to announce that an Alumni Secretary has been secured in the person of Eddie Parks Davis, a member of the Executive Committee of the Association.

This office will be maintained with funds of the Alumni Association, and is intended to become the mainspring of Alumni interest and enthusiasm. It will fill a long felt want in coordinating the work of alumni all over the country and in keeping them in touch with one another and it is up to them individually to make this a success through their co-operation.

The Alumni are "peculiarly fortunate" in their choice for this office, since no one person is more a part of the institution than Eddie. He is a native of North Carolina, entered Washington and Lee in 1910, and since this time has been continuously identified with the University in more different and varied capacities than usually falls to the lot of a student, and alumnus; varsity football, assistant coach of football and baseball, cheer leader, manager of several branches of varsity sports, member of Athletic Council, member of numerous musical organizations, and manager of the Combined Musical Clubs, Executive Committee member, and a general promoter of affairs for the interest of Washington and Lee. He is also a member of the following clubs: Kappa Sigma, Phi Delta Phi, Sigma, Pan, Cotillion Club, "The Circle," and Monogram Club.

Davis has recently been discharged as Lieutenant of Infantry, U. S. Army, and will enter upon his duties at once. His office will be located in Newcomb Hall.

A University Assembly in the near future will be devoted to the Soldiers and Sailors Memorial to be erected on the campus this year and to be dedicated on Alumni Day, Finals 1920. At this meeting, the present student body, as prospective alumni and as participants in the world war, will be called upon to help finance this enterprise and make its success assured. The date will be announced in a later issue.

Dr. C. B. Pritchett, of Danville, Va., familiarly and better known as "Chick," was a visitor in Lexington a few days ago. He graduated in the class of 1912, and later attended Johns Hopkins University. He has been highly successful in the practice of medicine in Danville. "Chick" was lately relieved from active duty with the medical corps of the Navy.

Mercer Graham, '19, and Dick Smith, '12, were in town Saturday with the team from Fishburne Military Academy, which played the V. M. I. scrubs.

Drop a line to Eddie Parks Davis, Alumni Secretary, W. & L. U., tell him what you are doing and where you are, and ask him to reserve you a room in Lee's Dorm for Finals 1920, which will witness the greatest gathering of alumni in the history of the school.

Jim Somerville, who has been in Russia for two years in Y. M. C. A. work, stopped over for a glimpse of the old school, on his way to his home in Mississippi.

STUDENT BODY MEETS IN CHAPEL

Important Resolution Passed About Hops—Social Relations With V. M. I. Served

Last Thursday afternoon, the student body assembled in Lee Chapel, at the request of the executive committee, and unanimously accepted a resolution, previously adopted by the Cotillion Club, to the effect that all distasteful and exaggerated forms of dancing such as the "shimmy," etc., be absolutely prohibited at all future Washington and Lee dances. The Cotillion Club committee, consisting of M. W. Paxton, Jr., J. B. Waters and L. P. Collins, will be responsible for such dancing and will take whatever steps are necessary to prohibit it at the next hops.

After a good bit of discussion, a second resolution of probably still greater importance was likewise adopted, by which all student body social relations with the Virginia M. I. are hereafter severed, just as the athletic relations have been severed for some time past. This action was taken as being best for both institutions, because friendship between the student body and the cadet corps has not been any too sincere or genuine for a number of years. This action, however, should in no way affect the manner with which students treat the cadets while they are on our campus. Treat them courteously at all times.

ficers to preside and direct the Club during the last term of the session.

The main provisions of the constitution as adopted at this meeting are: (1) The officers of the club shall consist of a president, four vice-presidents (one from each of the divisions, which are Dramatics, Glee Club, Band and Orchestra), a business manager, a treasurer and a faculty adviser. (2) Membership in the organization is to be awarded at the end of each school year by the above officers in the same manner as a monogram is awarded to members of an athletic team. (3) The officers are to form the executive committee of the "Troubadours," with the president acting as chairman.

A committee was appointed to make a careful study of this constitution and recommend at the next meeting of the Club such changes as are deemed necessary. As the various sub-divisions of the "Troubadours" had not been organized, president Mattingly named Messrs. Gibbons, Hill, Raines, and Wamsley to act as temporary chairman of the Dramatic Club, Orchestra, Glee Club and Band, respectively, and to call meetings of these for the purpose of organization. As soon as the four vice-presidents are elected the executive committee will meet and discuss plans for beginning operations in the immediate future.

It is urged that all men of any histrionic ability, or musical talent who have not already handed in their names as prospective members do so at once. More than likely several short trips will be taken during the year by the different clubs, while many local performances will be given.

"Y" CHANGES LYCEUM PROGRAM

Concert Company To Be Presented Instead of Lecturer

The social department of the Y. M. C. A. was not thoroughly pleased with its opening entertainment and through correspondence with the Piedmont Lyceum Bureau has arranged that Mr. Lowry, a lecturer who was to have been next on the Lyceum program, will give way to the Sipher-Schwartz Concert Company. This company is a $25.00 higher priced entertainment than the lecturer and is composed of two young ladies of exceptional musical ability. It is rumored that they carry 700 pounds excess baggage which is all in the nature of novelty musical instruments. Although the exact date has not been set, this entertainment will be presented to the students about the first week in December.

mentioned two new dormitories, a new dining hall, and a Y. M. C. A. building. Several new professors are needed to give the students the training that they have a right to expect.

This was followed by spirited addresses by Mr. M. W. Paxton, Jr., and Captain Greenlee D. Letcher, who advocated that each of the Lexington business men should pledge himself to give ten or fifteen dollars for every $100,000 that is pledged outside of the town. Aside from all altruistic motives, this would really bring into the town more than it would pay out, because an increase in the size of the college must have its reaction on the business of the town.

Judge M. P. Burks spoke on the extraordinary accomplishments of Washington and Lee men in after life. He stated that in spite of its comparatively small size that its Law School had sent more men to the Supreme Bench than any other school in the country, regardless of size. He was followed by Hon. Harry St. George Tucker, who was enthusiastically in favor of pushing the campaign to a success.

Professor Hall then gave details as to the organization of a committee for the furthering of this campaign. He also made public some of the results of his canvassing. In Covington six alumni had contributed $3,300 to the campaign, while Lynchburg had pledged $100,000, Roanoke $60,000, and Atlanta, $75,000. "Wherever you find an alumnus, he is always ready to 'come across' with anything for his Alma Mater." The banquet closed amid enthusiastic cheers.

PUSH BALL FIGHT POSTPONED INDEFINITELY

The push ball fight between the freshmen and sophomore classes has been indefinitely postponed. The deflated ball was placed in front of Newcomb Hall on last Wednesday morning and each freshman that passed by was instructed to aid in the pumping. Such was the zeal of these men, but all in vain, for a small leak in the bladder soon became a good-sized rent, thus effectually preventing the contest that afternoon. A new bladder has been ordered and as soon as it arrives the fight will take place.

The Honor System Canteen

Last January at the request of a number of students the Young Men's Christian Association provided the space, and opportunity for a small canteen for the convenience of the students of Washington and Lee University. It was agreed that 75 per cent of the net profits should go to student manager or managers and 25 per cent to some student body activity as recommended by the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet.

A financial statement for last year's business has been audited and approved by the Executive Committee, and the funds placed to the credit of the Student Body Account in the absence of a specific recommendation from the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet.

At a recent meeting of the Executive Committee, it was voted to devote the entire net profits of the canteen for the present college year to the local Y. M. C. A. budget.

It is significant to see the value of the one campus religious organization officially recognized by a student government in the above way. The Y. M. C. A. is making every effort to serve the student body in whatever way it can. It exists primarily for a religious purpose, but its points of contact have been multiplied by athletic, social and scholastic activities. Since it has and still is serving the student body so nobly in so many different ways, it certainly deserves the support of every member of the student body and the faculty.

To Our Subscribers

The Ring-tum Phi management has been receiving a great many complaints from subscribers, both local and out-of-town, that they do not get their Ring-tum Phi on time and some of them that they have not gotten them at all on certain occasions. A special effort has been made to find out the reason for this.

Both last week and the week before the manager and his assistants, after addressing papers to all of the subscribers, rechecked the list very carefully to see that no name had been omitted. And yet, after this quite a few complaints were made that no Ring-tum Phi had been received. The fault lies entirely with the Postoffice officials—so blame them for it. Their attention has been called to this and it is hoped that it will not occur again. Should you not receive your paper at any time please notify the Manager of the Ring-tum Phi in order that he may find out the cause and prevent it happening again, if possible.

The Staff

After three weeks of keen competition the Ring-tum Phi takes great pleasure in announcing the selection of the editorial staff for the session of 1919-1920. An unusually large number of men have tried out for positions and it is sincerely regretted that there are not places for more of them. Every manuscript was handed in his been carefully kept and the editor, in consultation with the assistant editor and managing editor, based the final choice on the merit of these papers. To the successful candidates, the editor extends congratulations.

"Have a daily program and have the backbone to stick to it. Drive your ship of life under its own steam along a self-chosen course toward some definite goal, regardless of wind or tide."

In the second place, we must limit our outside activities and cut out purposeless loafing and useless recreations. It is better to belong to a few good organizations and get the most out of them than to belong to a great many organizations simply in order that you may have a string of letters after your name in the Calyx.

Sedentary recreations are good for farmers and people who are leading a strenuous life physically, but the college man should take part in red-blooded, fresh air recreations, that develop his mind, body and spirit while they refresh and invigorate his whole body.

"Therefore choose both recreations and organizations with reference to their real and permanent value in your own all round development and future welfare rather than their present pleasantness or temporary value."

In the third place, we must learn to study always with white-hot concentration: The average college man can learn to master his lessons in half the time that he now spends upon them. In doing this, three suggestions will be helpful.

We should make our surroundings favorable to concentration. We should invent and adopt methods of stimulating our concentration. To study against time with your watch open before you; to read a paragraph with intense attention and then to shut your eyes and spend the same number of minutes recalling its contents—are tricks for stimulating concentration.

Finally, we must learn to concentrate our attention on a subject as a matter of will-power, regardless of its intrinsic interest or attractiveness. "To master a distasteful study by sheer power of will, is the most valuable exercise in your whole college curriculum."

DR. HOWERTON TO ADDRESS "Y" MEETING

"School Spirit" Will Be Subject— All Are Invited

On next Thursday evening, Oct. 30, the Y. M. C. A. will offer a rather old subject in new way, when Dr. James R. Howerton addresses the regular weekly religious meeting on the subject "School Spirit." We have all been to student rallies and the school spirit has been thoroughly discussed by students, but on Thursday evening Dr. Howerton will give us the faculty's view of school spirit. Among the questions he will discuss will be "My college right or wrong my college," "Can we always depend on school spirit?" and "Can college spirit ever be wrong?"

There is no more popular speaker on the faculty than Dr. Howerton, and as this is a subject of vital importance to every W. & L. student, all are cordially invited to be at the Y. M. C. A. room promptly at 7:45.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MAKES RULING

"Y" Canteen Officially Placed Under Honor System

The Executive Committee of the Student Body in session Wednesday, Oct. 15, officially placed the Y. M. C. A. Canteen under the government of the Honor System and takes this means of making this action public to avoid any possible misunderstanding which might arise.

Furthermore, the financial report of Canteen for last year was audited and approved and the proceeds placed to the credit of Student Body Fund.

It was furthermore voted that the proceeds for the current college year should be placed to the credit of the Y. M. C. A. as a student body activity, after this committee shall have approved the financial report.

SITES FOR NEW DORM BEING SURVEYED

Construction Will Begin Before Next September, Thinks President Smith—R. E. Royall in Charge of Survey.

Plans are being formulated for the erection of a new dormitory on the campus to meet the great demand for housing Washington and Lee students. The large growth of the student body has made the present facilities absolutely inadequate and only the erection of a new dormitory will obviate the difficulties. There are at the present time two sites in view for the building and in all probability by next year Washington and Lee will have added a new dormitory to her beautiful campus.

The time has come when another dormitory is necessary to take care of the students. There are no more available rooms in Lexington within a mile of the University, and, in spite of the high cost of building, additional accommodations must be provided or the growth of the University arbitrarily halted.

A survey, under the direction of R. E. Royall is being made of the newly acquired property of the University just across Jefferson street opposite the main drive way entrance. This is one of the proposed sites and the building may be located there.

The other location is the choice of Mr. Bacon, a landscape architect of great renown, who was instrumental in selecting the location of the Doremus Memorial gymnasium. Mr. Bacon shows on his map of the grounds, a dormitory, corresponding to Lee's Dormitory just across the Road with entrances on the street and front.

The building commission which consists of the following men, President Smith, P. M. Penick, Prof. D. C. Humphreys and John St. Clair Munce, will decide in the near future where the dormitory will be placed.

WASHINGTON AND LEE IN CHINA

Since the raising of a fund of $1,000 last year for the benefit of Canton Christian College, Washington and Lee men have had a special interest in China and our alumni in that country. We have 25 live, loyal representatives in China and we should become acquainted with each one of them.

In Canton Christian College, where W. & L. money is invested, we find Andrew H. Woods, '93; H. B. Graybill, '02; and Y. T. Kyoh, '14; P. T. Lau, '14, was at the college but is now in the tobacco business in Singapore.

In business are J. D. Keeler, '09; P. T. Lau, '14; and Richmond Bryant, '09, U. S. N. Harry O. Stone is with the British and American Tobacco Co. D. L. Anderson is with the Standard Oil Co.

SWIMMING TESTS BEING GIVEN IN GYMNASIUM

Every Student Must Pass Them Before Getting Any Degree From W. & L., Mrs. Doremus Requested Blain in Charge

Tests, to determine the number of freshmen and sophomores that must take swimming lessons have commenced in Doremus gymnasium under the supervision of Dan Blain, one of the University's expert swimmers. The tests will be given on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays at three o'clock and those who can already swim are asked to report first in order that as much time as possible may be given those who have not, as yet, mastered this art.

It is interesting to note that these tests are being given in compliance with the one request of Mrs. Robert Parker Doremus, the donor of our beautiful gymnasium. Her only request when she gave it to the University was that every W. & L. man, before graduation, should learn to take care of himself with ease while in the water and save another if necessary.

To pass these tests the student must be able to make a plain dive, swim the length of the pool twice, carry another man across it and remain for ten minutes in the water without touching the bottom or sides of the pool.

An indoor swimming meet is an assured thing for this year and we will also take part in one or two intercollegiate meets. By means of these tests our coach will be able to "get a line" on likely representatives.

TENNIS CLUB HOLD IMPORTANT MEETING Officers Elected and Plans for Year Discussed

At a meeting of the Tennis Club called by the retiring President, Harry Baber, on Monday afternoon, in the Commerce Hall, the annual election of officers took place and an opportunity was given to new men to join the club. The officers elected to serve during 1919-1920 are: L. Cohn, president; W. Knebalkamp, vice-president; H. D. Jones, manager; and J. M. Glickstein, secretary and treasurer.

At this meeting much of interest was discussed, chief of which were plans for the holding of the College Championship Tournament and also arrangements for a number of intercollegiate matches. While, in years past, interest has been keen, yet intercollegiate competition has been lacking and it is now the plan of the organization to arrange a series of matches with various colleges that have been and judging from the number of racket wielders on the courts every afternoon there should be no lack of material.

SCRUBS LOSE TO A. M. A.

The "Little Generals" lost to A. M. A. in a well played game yesterday afternoon by a score of 7 to 0. The ball was kept in A. M. A.'s territory throughout the game, except one time during the second quarter, when A. M. A. scored the only touchdown of the game by means of a long forward pass.

W. and L. seemed to be able to gain ground through the center of the line, seldom losing the ball on downs, but lost it in many instances on account of intercepted forward passes.

WHY AND HOW SHOULD LIBRARY BE USED

(By B. M. C.)

Why and how should you use the Library? A library has been defined as a laboratory for work with ideas. Under this definition our Carnegie Library has three main functions:

First: To supplement class work. This function covers the use of encyclopedias, such as the Britannica, general reference books such as Brewer's Handbooks, dictionaries and periodical indexes, as well as material assigned in connection with parallel reading and sources for the preparation of themes, reports and theses.

Second: To provide means for that general culture and breadth of mind which it is fatally easy for the most highly specialized student to be a narrow-gage man. The Library contains great biographies, histories, dramas, novels and the recorded thoughts which have helped to develop the master minds of all time. Since one great aim of college education is to enable a man to educate himself, the habit of free and democratic contact with books is an asset of supreme value.

Third: To accomplish for the brain worker what rest does for the body workers, i. e., to provide recreation in the form of books not immediately connected with University work. President Wilson reads detective stories, Taft plays golf, General Pershing enjoys dancing, and every man in this University has a hobby or favorite pastime. It is difficult to find a subject upon which some one has not written a book good enough for several hours of concentrated interest.

A few of the assets with which our Library meets these demands are given below, and the Library Staff insists that every man in the University use them to the full extent of his needs.

The Library's book collection numbers 44,743 volumes, 1,022 of which were added last year. A rapidly growing pamphlet file where valuable material on such subjects as the League of Nations, the H. C. of L., and Shantung may be found, is at the disposal of every student.

A number of general books on Missions, and several on debating and physical culture have been secured recently. A new Seminar room has been opened for the Department of Biology, where a growing collection of valuable books and pamphlets is shelved. The subject and title catalog begun last year is growing rapidly.

The periodical list includes 56 magazines and 15 newspapers. Among the newspapers are those covering every section from New York to New Orleans and from Lynchburg to Memphis.

LAW CLASS ELECTS OFFICERS

The Intermediate Law Class held its annual election of officers on last Friday afternoon, Oct. 17, in Tucker Hall. The following men were elected: Tarrence Walford, President; Stuart Moore, Vice-President; Bruce Woodruff, Executive Committeeman; W. F. McCoun, Secretary and Treasurer, and H. B. LeVey, Historian.

First Quarter

Washington and Lee kicked off and held Roanoke, and Chapman punted. After a few short gains a fumble by Cobb lost several yards, then Silverstein threw a long pass to Corbett, who slid over to the first touch-down. Joe kicked the goal. After kicking off again, Roanoke was again forced to punt. Then, beginning a series of bucks and end runs, W. and L. marched steadily down the field from their 30 yard line until Cobb was pushed over for the second score and Silverstein again sent the ball squarely through the cross-bars. Davis, Mattson, McDonald and Robinson relieved Cogbill, Cobb, Raines and Silverstein. The period ended before a play could be run.

Second Quarter

Roanoke was forced to punt after receiving the third kick-off and a long pass to Corbett put the ball close to the goal line, whence McDonald bucked it over. Mattson slipped in handling Bethel's punt-out and the ball was grounded.

Bethel kicked off and tackled the runner. In punting, Chapman missed the ball and W. and L. recovered. After two or three plays, Marshall replaced Robinson, but W. and L. was penalized 15 yards for Marshall communicating with Davis on the first play. Sinclair went in for Marshall. A pass was intercepted, but Roanoke had to punt and after one or two plays Peters was hurt and was replaced by Collinson. Daves made a great catch of McDonald's pass over the goal line, but Sinclair missed goal.

Sinclair kicked off and after returning the ball 40 yards, Hottel was downed by Davis. Half ended. W. and L., 26; Roanoke, 0.

Third Quarter

Collins and Mattox went in for Corbett and Daves. Roanoke kicked off and Davis made a long return. On the first play after it Sinclair ran around left end 55 yards to the 1 yard line. Mattson took the ball over. Sinclair missed the goal. After Sinclair kicked off, and the ball had changed a few times, a pass from Chapman to Roades made the only Roanoke first down. There were held after that, however, and Chapman punted out of bounds. They captured a pass but had to punt again as the quarter ended.

Fourth Quarter

Silverstein, Raines, Cogbill and Cobb returned to the fray. Chapman soon kicked again but a forward pass was intercepted by the Roanoke bunch. Here Jimmy Mattox returned after a three weeks lay-off, and was greeted by the cheers of the students. The game ended amid the series of substitutions, both attacks rendered powerless by the rain which had soaked the field towards the close of the half. W. and L., 32; Roanoke, 0.

of them have since scratched their names off of the list. Now it is a very evident fact that unless at least 125 men signify their intention of going on the special train by Wednesday night there will be no special run. And "NO SPECIAL, NO HOLIDAY," was the decision made by Dean Campbell when he was asked last night.

Preparations for one of the biggest days in W. and L.'s football history have been made for next Saturday and you'll miss a great deal of fun if you are not there to see us defeat V. P. I. The Varsity team consisting of 20 players, accompanied by Coach Raftery, Assistant Coach Shultz, Dr. Pollard, Manager McDougle, and Bryan and King, the two Junior assistants will go down to Lynchburg on Friday afternoon. While ten more players, together with the Band, will go down on the special on Saturday morning.

The special train, if secured, will leave Lexington at nine o'clock on Saturday morning and will leave Lynchburg, returning, at nine p. m. that night. There will be a huge parade staged in Lynchburg beginning at the depot, when the special arrives, headed by the W. and L. Band. The parade will go up the hill from the station and after marching down Main street for a short distance will return to the Virginian Hotel, which will be the headquarters of the team while in Lynchburg.

At the game the students will occupy the Grandstand and the Cadets the Bleachers. Admission will be $1.25 for students and Cadets and $1.50 for the general public.

Railroad fare on the special is only $3.18, including the tax, so show your true W. and L. spirit and ride on the special train.

WORK ON CALYX UNDER WAY

Alumni section. A campaign is just now getting underway by which the CALYX hopes to get in personal touch with the old Alumni; thereby connecting the past and present in such a way as to bring the "old men" in closer touch with their Alma Mater.

It will be the especial aim of the editors to include every phase of College activity; to allow nothing to escape its attention. In order to do this between sixty and one hundred new pages will be added to the usual number. Thus it will be the summary of the year's work in detail.

Completed the 1920 ANNUAL will be a distinct addition to anybody's library. It will contain over three hundred and fifty pages, attractively arranged and elegantly bound.

The subscription campaign has already begun. In the first day's rush over three hundred and fifty subscriptions were announced by the Business Manager. It is believed that the Alumni, in return for the interest shown them will subscribe generously. And if present prospects are realized this year's sales will break all records. Because of the enormous advance in publishing costs together with the increase in number of pages and quality of cover the management has found it necessary to charge five dollars for the ANNUAL.

The editor-in-chief has not yet appointed his assistants; but it is understood that the following men will be included: Hartzo, Musgrove, Rushton, J. F.; Paulette, Kemp, Joel, Wisdom, Snively, Blain, Flournoy, Patton, J. L.; Tisdale, Bowyer, Rolston, Hesseltine, Rushton, W. J.; Hariss, E.; Stone, Smith, W. K.; Stubbs, Raymond Smith, Harriss, A.; Vinson, Osborne.
