Stevens and McDonald Stars of Game for W. & L.—South Carolinians Fight Hard, But In Vain

Home-coming Day was a great day, and the Generals made it all the greater by running rough-shod over the South Carolinians, the work of Stevens and McDonald being brilliant. That grand line was in evidence again, as usual. The South Carolina attack was turned back with numerous losses, and their defense was unable to cope with the versatile W. and L. offensive.

During the opening period the South Carolinians gave the Blue and White team one of the biggest scores they have had this season. One of the prides of the University is the clean slate that the big team has kept this season, and the boys from the Palmetto state certainly threatened to dirty it last Saturday. After advancing the ball from the kick-off to South Carolina's fifteen-yard line, the big team fumbled and Blount, opposing half-back, picked it up and raced down the side line. It looked as if there were nothing but interferences around him and the cheer which arose from the spectators showed that we felt sure it would be a score. But Stevens dashed madly down the field, circled in front of the interference, and flung Blount on W. & L.'s ten-yard line. A truly narrow escape. There the line yielded but two yards in three assaults upon it, and Bailey blocked Goodman's place-kick.

This was the only time the visitors even came near scoring, but they played a splendid article of football and never ceased to fight. Goodman was the out-standing star of the team, playing tackle on the defense, and proved a hard man to box out of Comparative Scores and Newspaper Comment Bright for W. & L.

"Georgetown Next" is on the tongue of every Washington and Lee man and if comparative scores have anything to do with the outcome of the game, the Generals supporters will not be disappointed. V. P. WHITE FRIARS GIVE INFORMAL DANCE

P. A. N. Ribbon Society and Fighting Generals Honorees of Occasion

Concluding the events of last Saturday, the White Friar Ribbon Society gave a dance in the gymnasium between 8:30 and 11:30 p. m. for the P. A. N. Ribbon Society and the "Fighting Generals." The visiting football team as well as the visiting cross-country teams from U. Va., V. P. I., and Johns Hopkins University were invited and a very enjoyable evening was spent.

The music was furnished by the W. & L. Jazz-King Orchestra and their debut as dance music artists was very successful. Those attending the dance were:

Dr. and Mrs. H. D. Campbell, Dr. and Mrs. D. B. Easter, Miss Annie White, Miss Martha Carr, Hollins, Va., with Floyd Locket; Miss Walton, Sweet Briar College, with G. W. VIRGINIA WINS CROSS COUNTRY RUN

Gantt, of U. of Va., Wins Race —W. & L. Holds Second Place in the Meet

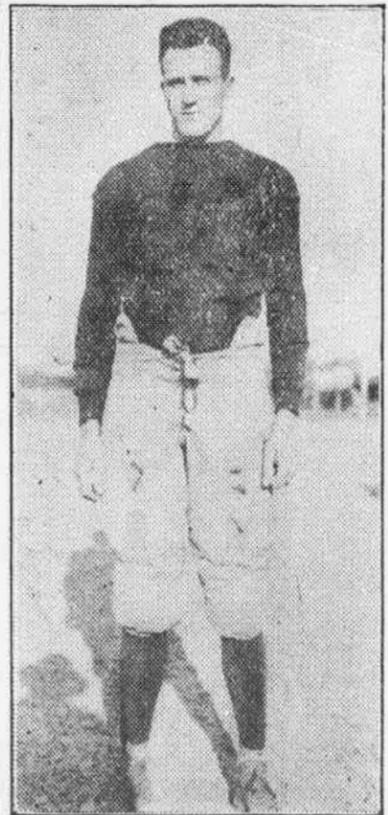

The University of Virginia with the lowest score of 39 points won the fifth Annual South Atlantic Cross Country Run which was held last Saturday afternoon. Washington & Lee was second with 50 points, John Hopkins next with 66 and V. P. I. last with 71.

The race started at 3:35 from the front of the grandstand on Wilson Field and 34 minutes, 32 seconds later the first man who was Gantt of Virginia crossed the mark, closely followed by his captain, Brand. The third man was Linkous of V. P. I., fourth Buckner of Johns Hopkins and fifth was Wharton the V. P. I. captain. Then the white and blue team sent across Peale, Robbins and Partlow in the order named. The other W. & L. men finished: Girard, 14th; Caldwell, 15th; Hawkins, 16th, and Bishop 17th.

The Washington and Lee team showed up well and but for an injury to Hawkins' ankle would probably made a much better showing.

This makes the second time that the University of Virginia has carried off first place, Washington and Lee having won the other three of the five Cross Country meets that the South Atlantic Intercollegiate Athletic Association has held.

NEW LOCAL CLUB IS ORGANIZED

Gamma Gamma To Be Its Name
—Membership Composed Entirely of Jewish Students.

Just recently a new club has been organized on the Washington and Lee Campus whose membership is to be composed entirely of Jewish students and it will bear the name "The Gamma Gamma Club."

The purposes of the Gamma Gamma Club are purely fraternal and social. Such an organization has been a long felt need on the part of the Jewish students of the University and its appearance will be a great asset to the members and doubtless to the University as well.

As yet the Club has not rented a house but it has very comfortable club rooms located in the Stuart Building on the floor just above The Boley Book Company on Main Street.

The founders and members of the Gamma Gamma Club are: Louis D. Cohn, Joseph M. Glickstein, Al. B. Levin and Joseph, L. Silverstein.

Two new members were initiated last Saturday night: Louis S. Joel and A. J. Lubliner.

NEW MOVIE OPENS NEXT SATURDAY

The Lyric Annex to Show Cheaper Grade of Pictures Than the Lyric

Ten cent movies will again make their appearance upon our shores when the new Lyric Annex, situated on East Main Street, near Sheridan's Libery Stable, opens on Saturday, Nov. 22.

The new Annex, which is to be under the same management as the Lyric, will cater to those who desire movies at a lower price. Students will have to put on short pants if they expect to get in for five cents, but the regular admission price will not be more than ten cents, plus war tax, except when very special features are shown.

The class of pictures shown at the Annex will necessarily be lower than the class seen at the higher-priced Lyric, but there will generally be one feature picture lightened by comedy, and there will no doubt be enough of those hair-raising incidents to keep young men awake during the show and make them dream at night. The stars of the screen will also appear here in their older pictures, for the benefit of those who have the champagne appetite with the Bevo pocketbook.

At the Lyric, a new simplex machine and a new curtain are being installed. With these two classy movies and the new Theater, Lexington bids fair to rival Buena Vista as a center of gaiety and attraction.

member that they did not tally even a field goal on the Generals the result looks extremely favorable.

Homer George (who has seen both teams in action), writing for the Atlanta "Constitution," states that in the Navy game the Navy had no trouble gaining against Georgetown in the first part of each half, but on account of their easy schedule the men were not in the best of condition and weakened toward the latter part of the halves. He further states, "I do not believe Georgetown has tackles any way comparable with Big Bethel and Lindsay Moore, who broke up so many of Tech's plays. Again W. and L. showed a set of ends which stood out supremely. Her tackling was as sure as that of any team in America and her men followed the ball more closely than many teams follow it. Nothing could bewilder those Virginians. I DO NOT BELIEVE GEORGETOWN HAS A DEFENSE THE EQUAL OF THAT SHOWN BY W. AND LEE."

Help Make Your Paper a Success

On last Friday evening a large sign was placed on the bulletin board in front of Main Hall asking that bits of news, personals, good jokes, etc., be written on paper provided there and dropped in the box which was tacked under neath the sign. But during the four days that the sign has been up only four men have taken the trouble to hand in anything at all.

Now the Ring-tum Phi is not a private enterprise, but it is "by the students and for the students." And it is up to each individual student in college to help make it a success. If you fail to do your part, you not only do not help but you hinder that which is yours. We have been asked to print some jokes in the paper each week and this we are going to try to do, IF you will help.

A wooden box is now being made to take the place of the paper one and will be placed on the bulletin board permanently for the purpose of receiving these. Take a minute or two each week and write out a good joke, or a bit of news about an alumnus or anything else and hand it in. The Ring-tum Phi will furnish the paper—all you need to furnish is the idea.

All criticisms and suggestions that are signed will be given careful consideration and the changes will be made, if feasible.

The Proper Spirit

In this issue of the Ring-tum Phi is printed an article giving the name and amount of donation of each of the local merchants who made contributions to W. and L.'s million dollar endowment campaign at the short business meeting of the canvassing committee held last week.

These men have contributed generously to help make our University a bigger and better place to get an education, and the only fair and honorable thing that we, as students, can do is to note who these merchants are and trade with them whenever possible. They have boosted us—now let's show the proper spirit and boost them.

Each week we will publish the names and amount of donation of any additional subscribers in order that the student body may know just what stores in town are backing us up.

Sane Giving

(By E. B. S.)

Practically every enterprise is in need of money at this time in order to continue to live and to carry on its work. When a request is made for funds to enable an organization to live and promote its program, the questions to be decided are, "Is it well that that organization should live? Is its work useful? Are the efforts beneficial to me or to others in whom I am interested?" If any or all of these questions can be answered in the affirmative, then the claim upon me is a just one, and if possible I should respond sanely and with good feeling. Money given without good will is not worth its face value. Money given with good will is worth more than its face value. A splendid response was made last week when the students were asked to commemorate the service and sacrifice of students and alumni of this institution.

In the near future the Washington and Lee Y. M. C. A. must approach the Student Body for its local budget. Apply the three questions cited above, and if it stands the test, the "Y" has a claim upon you. It is trying to fulfill all the opportunities which it sees, and will continue to do so. This year is an experiment with a full-time secretary. If the Student Body wants the work to continue on this basis it can show it by contributing to the budget. Giving is a privilege. We should use it wisely. If an organization is doing good work, support it for this reason, not merely because you are asked. In addition to the religious work program, the present organization has enabled the Student Body to have Lyceum Entertainments, a reading and recreation room, a canteen, and other things which you can possibly think of. If you want the Association to continue on its present basis, be ready to do your part. One dollar of your college fees went to the Y. M. C. A., put the above activities cost at the approximate rate of six dollars a man. Some help has come from outside, but there is still a fair sized portion to be contributed by students.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

November 12, 1919.

To the Editor of the Ring-tum Phi:
During the week of Nov. 10-15, the sporting sections of the Atlanta Constitution, the Times Picayune, and the Roanoke Times which contained full accounts of the W. & L. U.-Georgia Tech game were torn from the files in the reading room of the General Library, thus making it impossible to carry out the library's plan to mount and frame all clippings descriptive of the victory and to give them to be hung in the trophy room.

The usual legal penalty for such an offense is three months in jail or one hundred dollars fine. It is not thought necessary, however, to resort to legal authority in this case, since the unfailing courtesy and consideration shown by practically all the men who use the library would indicate that some one of a very few unformed or irresponsible people is the guilty person. Instead it seems best to put the matter thus publicly before the student body and to ask them to bring to bear upon such flagrant violations of the honor system sufficient disapproval to stamp them out.

(Signed):

MISS ANNE R. WHITE,
Librarian.

To the Editor of the Calyx, 1920

There are names and lives associated with Washington and Lee University sacred to and cherished by all the followers of the old institution. It has been the privilege of the constituents of the college to do honor from time to time to these heroes.

One of the latest names to go down on this list of immortals in the annals of the University is that of Lieutenant Clovis Moomaw, who gave his life gallantly leading his men into action on the battle front in France. Circumstances have not permitted the respect and honor due him to be paid until the present time, as his death was not confirmed till recently.

Lieutenant Moomaw entered Washington and Lee as a native of Roanoke, and graduated in law with honors. His entire college career was one of useful effort with crowning achievement. He captained the football team; was a member of every honorary organization in the school; and won such a staunch and widespread group of friends by his dignified unassuming manner and ever-ready smile as to be voted by a large majority the schools most popular student.

After his graduation, he returned to accept a chair in the law faculty, giving his spare time to assisting the coaching of the football team. Here again, he won the undying affection and respect of his students, his faculty associates, and the townspeople with whom he came in contact.

Well knowing the prominent and fruitful part Clovis Moomaw has played in ever upholding the right, and lending his influence to all enterprises which concerned the interests of his Alma Mater—his unfaltering loyalty—his sterling integrity—his strong personality—his useful life—and his untimely but heroic death, we, the undersigned, hereby petition and earnestly request that his memory be perpetuated and honored by a memorial—worthy of his name and justly due—in the dedication to him of the Calyx of 1920. We hereby address this to the proper authorities in charge of the annual.

WASHINGTON AND LEE IN CHINA

In past years W. & L. has sent quite a few of her Alumni to foreign fields in one capacity or another and an especially large number of them have gone to China to live. Some of these are engaged in private business, some are Ministers and still others are negaged in the various forms of missionary work.

The Alumni in China have always been very loyal to their Alma Mater taking a great deal of interest in all of her activities. In order that the student body might keep in close touch with these men and at the request of the Y. M. C. A., the Ring-tum Phi will print a short article each week on "W. & L. in China." Most of these articles will be written by some one of the Alumni in China.

The following is a letter received by the Editor several days ago:

August 26, 1919.

Editor Ring-tum Phi,

Washington and Lee University,
Lexington, Va., U. S. A.

Dear Sir:

Even in a boiling August in the tropics it puts life into a fellow to feel that you men are behind us. It also makes me eager to see old W. & L. U. again. I sail from Hongkong for San Francisco on November 23. I do not know what the Trustees may want me to do, but I shall certainly head for W. & L. U. as soon as I can. That may be in the winter or later in the spring.

I am enclosing a little something about Canton Christian College. I shall send more from time to time. You must use, not use, cup up, or edit as you like. I am not thin-skinned. Your interests as a college paper are first. I shall try to supply material that will be clay in your hands for whatever shape you choose to give it.

You ought to see the students reading the "Ring-tum Phi" out here in the East of Asia. By the way, I get the "Ring-tum Phi" irregularly. Put my name on the mailing list regular. I will pay for a period of years in advance when I get there.

With best wishes, I remain

Yours sincerely,

(Signed):

SILVERSTEIN TO HEAD ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Little Interest Manifested in Election—Bethel Defeated By Close Margin

At the student body election of a president of the Athletic Association held during the past week comparatively little interest was manifested as indicated by the fact that only a few over 400 of the 600 men in college voted. Joe Silverstein, the hero full-back of the Fighting Generals, was elected president by a plurality of only twenty votes over Turner Bethel, the Captain of the big team.

Both men are well in order to fill the office—each having made a most enviable record on the gridiron. And the popularity of both was indicated by the close outcome of the election.

the play. His punting was very good, though he was forced to hurry them considerably. Skinner was unfortunate in dislocating a shoulder in the third quarter. B. Smith played good ball, also.

Stevens and McDonald shone most brilliantly for W. & L., as stated formerly. The latter smashed the Sand-lappers' line to bits, tearing in viciously, and after apparently halted, would shoot out on the other side for substantial gains. Stevens made several spectacular runs through a broken field and his punting gladdened the hearts of the Blue supporters.

After the unfortunate fumble which so nearly resulted in a touch-down, and Stevens had kicked out to safety, Washington and Lee lost her second chance to tally when Stevens stepped off forty-five yards around left end, and put the ball on the fifteen yard line. A fifteen yard penalty saved the visitors on this occasion, but after a short punt by Goodman, Corbett went over for the first touchdown, on a pass from Mattox. Mattox missed goal.

Deceptive line bucks advanced the ball from mid-field to the second touchdown, Raines carrying the ball most of the time. Jim Mattox plunged over the line, for the tally, and booted the leather through the posts after doing it. The third came after a forward pass, immediately following the opening of the second half. This time Raines counted for W. and L. Mattox kicked the goal.

Then, as in former games, having the game sewed up, the Washington and Lee team refused to get up drive for immediate other scores, though Stevens made a long run for thirty-five yards, and McDonald one for thirty-eight. It was not until the last three minutes of play that the team realized it had been some while since they had had a touchdown; then they made a quick drive from the Game Cocks' forty yard line, in which a pass to Ollie Daves figured prominently. Cogbill, who had relieved Mattox, made the touchdown on a beautiful run through left tackle for seven yards. Moore missed the goal.

The line-up is as follows:

Daves	B. Smith

STUDENT BODY RALLY HELD IN GYM

Much Pep and Enthusiasm for Last Home Game of Season in Evidence

A big rally full of pep and enthusiasm for the South Carolina game, the last home game of the season, was staged in the Gym last Friday nigh, Nov. 14. And the true spirit with which the student body was backing "The Fighting Generals" was plainly in evidence by the vigorous manner with which every yell was given.

Coach Raftery expressed his fear that the team would get the "fat-head" over the Tech game and might lose to an inferior team through over confidence. He announced his intention of making every player back up his statements that he made when his turn came to speak. Whereupon Pat Collins, "he of the placid brow," who had already spoken, arose and retracted his statements.

Charles Moss, who played half-back for Washington and Lee in 1917, was present and addressed the meeting for a few moments. He spoke of his pride in the team for the victory over Georgia Tech and his assurance that they would win from South Carolina.

FOOTBALL STARS SPEAK AT "Y" MEETING

Stevens, Moore and Bailey Tell
Large Audience of Effect of Prayer

Three of the stars of the Fighting Generals, Bill Stevens, Lindsay Moore and Ed Bailey, addressed a large audience at the Y. M. C. A. meeting last Thursday night. The subject upon which they spoke was Prayer.

They told of the part that prayer had had in their own lives, giving illustrations of answered prayer and practical examples. Lindsay Moore mentioned the fact that before both the V. P. I. and the Georgia Tech games, a short prayer circles of the Assistant Coach and some of the players was held, in which they asked that the best team might win. You certainly missed an interesting, helpful meeting if you were not there.

Perhaps the best Pan and White Friar parade that has even been pulled off here was executed on Wilson Field between the halves of the football game Saturday. The parade was ably led by Mat Henderson, impersonating that light-haired Jazz King, Harry Burns, who put Sweet Briar on the map. A hair-raising exhibition of rough riding was rendered by Tillar, astride of a steed, whose speed was only retarded by its rather lengthy ears. Two biers were brought upon the field, representing the dead champions of the South, one being mourned by the sad personage of Coach Heisman, who was impersonated by Harry Roberts. The country folks visiting their city relatives made quite a hit. The feature of the parade was the race between the latter's white, lightning-like steed and Jesse Ball's pair of thoroughbreds. The parade was brought to an abrupt close by the return of the cross country runners.

GYM CLASSES BEING ORGANIZED

4 p. m., beginning today. The gymnasium classes will be under the immediate instruction of Mr. Forest Fletcher, Associate Professor of Physical Education. He will be assisted by Mr. John L. Kinnear, W. & L., 1921, who won the University Scholarship in the Department of Hygiene and Physical Education in 1916-17. While these classes are planned primarily to satisfy the required work of the First and Second Year men, they are, nevertheless, open to all students and members of the Faculty.

Swimming instruction has been given on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays since Oct 1. These classes will continue on these days and the pool will be open from 3 to 4 o'clock for the purposes of instruction during the entire indoor season. At the present writing approximately fifty of the First Year men have satisfied the compulsory swimming requirements. These classes are under the immediate instruction of Mr. D. Blain, W. & L., 1921, who won the W. & L. all-round swimming championship in 1917, and are open to all students and members of the Faculty.

For all First Year men who qualify in swimming on or before Dec. 1st, a series of competitions will be held in the pool on or about Dec. 10. The men making the best showing in these competitions will be selected as the nucleus of the 1923 class swimming team. It is the desire of the Department to have at least one dual meet between the Freshman swimming team and that of some other college or university, to take place during the latter part of January.

An inter-class swimming meet, open to all students of the university, will be held during the latter part of January. The men making the best showing in this competition will be selected as the nucleus of a Varsity team which it is planned to match against the Varsity team of some other college or university. This meet is planned to take place during the month of February.

Another feature of the indoor activities is the addition of regular and systematic instruction in boxing and wrestling. Classes in these forms of exercise are now being organized and are open to all. These classes will be under the direct instruction of Mr. E. P. King, Senior Law, who received special instruction in boxing and wrestling while a student at West Point. Mr. King held a commission as Captain and was in command of Company I, 62nd Infantry during the late war. In addition to his duties as commanding officer of his organization, he acted as instructor in boxing and wrestling in the 62nd Infantry during the sixteen months' sojourn of this regiment in France. Mr. King is now organizing his classes. He will have as his headquarters the boxing and wrestling room on the second floor of the North wing of the gymnasium, where he will meet these classes daily, except Saturdays, from 4 p. m to 6 p. m. These classes are open to all members of the student body.

The annual hand-ball tournament will begin with the opening of the winter term. This tournament will continue during the active indoor season, and the scores will be posted weekly. The tournament is open to all.

Competitive activities of the indoor season will be brought to a close with the annual Heavy Gym, which will take place the latter part of March. This will be the big interclass affair of the season. The list of events will contain individual competition on the horizontal bar, parallel bars, flying rings, side horse, mats, 50 yd. low hurdles, 50 yd. dash, putting the indoor shot, pole vault, running high jump, running high dive, fence vault, bantam-, light-, middle- and heavy-weight boxing and wrestling, and an inter-class pursuit relay race.

TROUBADOURS HOLD BUSINESS SESSION

Gill Elected Secretary of Dramatic Club—Play To Be Presented Soon

At a business meeting of the Dramatic section of the Troubadours held last Thursday night in the Y. M. C. A. room Mr. Carl Gill was elected to fill the office of secretary made vacant by the resignation of Mr. Harry Roberts. Mr. Roberts' resignation was due to already having an excessive amount of study and outside work.

The Troubadours expect to present several entertainments this winter, the first of which will be given at the opening of the New Theater. The management of the New Theater has allotted thirty or forty minutes to this entertainment and it is expected to be one of the big events of the year for aspiring young actors.

The dues of this division will be one dollar and such men as wish to try out will turn in this amount to Mr. Gill who has now assumed his office of secretary.

Rev. B. Craig Patterson, D. D., Presbyterian missionary to China, at home on a furlough, and family arrived in Lexington early last week and they occupy a home on Lee Avenue. Dr. and Mrs. Patterson were accompanied by three younger children, who have entered the Lexington schools. An elder son, William B. Patterson, is a student at the University now. The oldest son, C. H. Patterson, '19, is now assistant principal of the Danville High School.

Arch Persons, who was a Law student at W. & L. last year, was in town a few days during the past week. He is at present connected with the Alabama Power Co.

To the cross country meet and the football game

The calic from all the country came. I don't mean the maidens who drive the sheep,

Nor a pastoral maiden a-kin to Bo-Peep,

But the queens of the villages, cities and towns,

Who came to go the ball room rounds. The pep of the music, the joy of the dance,

The feminine laughter, the maids' coy glance,

The breaking of hearts by an S. Y. T. As the dance progresses so merrily.

An S. Y. T. is a Sweet Young Thing, Who has a dozen strung on her string;

The joy, confusion, din and roar, The night's dissipation and frolic o'er,

The dancing of music 'n' everything through,

We find it quite dull at our W. & L. U.
