Fishburne Game—March 24th, 1902.

SORE DISAPPOINTMENT OVER THE PREVENTION OF PENN'S GAMES—NEXT WEEK, MONDAY AND TUESDAY, HOBART COLLEGE.

The game of last Monday week with Fishburne was not at all the game the spectators would have liked to have seen—too much one sided—though it was in W. L. U's favor. It was a case of superiority of the home team over the visitors, an excellent display of stick work by "Smut," Boogher, "Breck," Spencer and "Oom," an almost perfect fielding record, and the good control both pitchers had of the ball—"Polly" fanning seven in the three innings pitched; neither giving up a hit; only two visitors reaching 2nd—Hudgins on a slide in the fourth, and Hart on the single error in the fourth.

It was, nevertheless, a good game for W. L. U's beginning.

So encouraged were the student body over the initial game, and from the result of the V. M. I.-Pa. game on last Thursday week, the boys were about preparing themselves for a glorious celebration on Friday night. But Friday morning was very gloomy. It was drizzling rain, and by 11 o'clock that morning everything was in a slush. The Pa. team left us that morning, though to our regrets, yet with our best wishes for a successful season.

HOW IT WAS DONE.

1st Inning: Fishburne—Fetzu found, thrown out; Hudgins got hit, stole 2nd, but was left there by Lambert fanning, and Hart hitting to pitcher and out at the initial bag.

W. L. U.—Smith hit for three bases; Boogher fanned; "Polly" hit into centre garden for a hit, "Smut" scoring. "Breck" flew out to short; Spencer lined it out for a single, went to 2nd on "Oom's" single, went to 3rd on pitcher's error in handling Mason's delivery; "Oom" went to 2nd on same error; Wysor lined it out for a single,

Charley and "Oom" scoring. Wysor was caught napping at 1st.

2nd Inning: Fishburne—Hughes Taylor and Meadows fanned, Hughes being thrown out at 1st.

W. L. U.—Campbell hit to pitcher, out at 1st; "Smut" did likewise; Boogher got hit, went to 2nd on a shortstop's error in handling "Polly's" delivery to him; "Breck" hit for single; Boogher scoring, Polly going to 3rd; Spencer fouled out to catcher.

3rd: Fishburne—Smallwood and Paxton struck out; Fetzu hit in Swartz' territory, out at first.

W. L. U.—Oom opened up with a nice one over left field fence; Moore got a single; Wysor flew to left; Campbell got his base on error, Moore having gained his 2nd on a similar error; "Smut" got a single; Moore scored on error of centre in trying to catch him at home; Boogher hit in deep centre for three bags, Campbell and Smith scoring; Andrews hit to 3rd, who errored, Boogher scoring; "Breck" fouled out to catcher; Spencer got hit, went to 3rd on "Oom's" second hit in the inning, and scored on catcher's error in attempting to trap "Oom" at 2nd; Moore fouled to catcher.

4th: Fishburne—Hudgins bounded it to Charley; Lambert flew out to the ex-Captain, Baker having taken his place in the box; Hart walked to 1st, went to 2nd on an error, and was thrown out at 3rd on an attempted steal.

W. L. U.—Wysor hit to 3rd, out at 1st; Baker out from pitcher to 1st; "Smut" got a single, was advanced by Boogher's single, but both were left by Polly fouling out to left.

5th: Fishburne—Hughes hit to "Smut," who threw him out; Taylor hit a "beaut" into "Breck's" hands; Meadows out from short to 1st.

W. L. U.—"Breck" opened up with the second home run; Spencer flew out to centre; Bagley got a double; Moore flew out to left, and Wysor went out from 3rd to 1st.

6th: Fishburne—Smallwood

flew out to "Smut," Paxton down to 1st, Fitzu followed suit.

W. L. U.—Baker hit down to ground, out at 1st; "Smut" got hit and went to 3rd on error, Boogher going to 1st on player's chain; Andrews hit to 3rd, who threw Smut out at home, Boogher having stolen 2nd; "Breck" hit for another single, Boogher scoring, Andrews going to 3rd; "Breck" stole 2nd; "Polly" and "Breck" then scored on Charley's double; "Oom" fouled out to 3rd.

7th: Fishburne—Hudgins and Lambert walked to 1st, but went way back and sat down for their indiscretion in attempting to steal 2nd; Hart out from Breck to Charley.

W. L. U.—Moore out from pitcher to 1st; Wysor got a single, went to 3rd on Baker's double and was thrown out at home. Smut got a single, but the team was retired by Boogher flying out to centre.

8th: Fishburne—Hughes out from 3rd to 1st; Taylor struck out; Meadows out at centre.

W. L. U.—Polly got his base on balls, stole 2nd; Breck fanned; Spencer flew out to centre; Oom hit it into left garden, who muffed, Polly scoring. Oom retired the side by being forced out at 2nd on Moore's delivery.

9th: Fishburne could do nothing in her half—Smallwood flying out to Smut, Paxton out from Breck to Charley, and Fitzu out at 2nd on an attempted steal, having gone to 1st on Baker's balk.

Below is the score:

Easter German.

The Cotillion club of Washington and Lee gave its annual Easter german Wednesday night in the gymnasium. The german began at 9 o'clock with about 16 couples dancing. It was pleasing to all who were there to know that the Cotillion club will have no more trouble in finding a leader, as Mr. J. W. Bagley led the couples through many beautiful figures and with no hitches. The ladies were beautifully dressed and the music much better than usual, so that all in all it was one of the most pleasant dances given by the Cotillion club in years.

At 12 o'clock a lunch was served, after which it was turned into a hop until 1 o'clock, when Home, Sweet Home, was played.

Those present were as follows Messrs. Wilson, Withers, Osborn, Bridges, Swartz, Shively, Tucker Pries, Crawford, Bagley, Barclay, Feamster, Witherspoon, Arbuckle, Keeble, Rouss, Breckinridge, Wise, Waddell, Barnwell, Mason, Capts. Watts and Cavell, the first class of the V. M. I., and Misses Pancake, Glasgow, Dunlap of Roanoke, Mary and Martha Moore, Howe, Jordan, Houston, the Misses Harman, Lee, Patton, Miller, Davis of Lynchburg, Brockenbrough, Maguire of Winchester, Crawford of Strasburg, and Witt.

The chaperones were Mesdames Howe, Pendleton, Witt, Walker and Turner.

The census embraces 17,000,000 women. How would you like to be the census?

Money talks, as we've all heard tell, But to most of us it says "Farewell."

Communicated

As the election of the editors of the Southern Collegian is drawing near, I wish to make some suggestion as into whose hands the Collegian should be placed for the ensuing year.

The Collegian takes a high rank among Southern college magazines, and it is necessary that a man of ability should have it. For the past year the magazine has been conducted in an able manner, and not exactly in the same old rut in which many of the magazines are. Although Mr. Ott has labored under difficulties, he has succeeded in getting out a magazine which has won the praise of the student body and of the contemporary magazines and the approval of the faculty. On account of these facts and to show our appreciation of the present editor's diligent work to further the interests of the magazine and through it of the University, I think that it would be proper to place the magazine in his hands for next year, if he will accept it. In suggesting this I voice not only my own sentiments but the opinion of the students who take an interest in college affairs, and it is at the request of these that I have made this suggestion.

Y. M. C. A. Hall.

There was an audience numbering 45 who assembled in the lower Chapel to hear the talks of the delegates from the Toronto convention. Mr. McDowell led the services and introduced the speakers. The subject was, "The needs of the Foreign field." Mr. Hamilton gave as his subject the countries which are prevaillingly Roman Catholic in its most degraded form. To show the call for workers in South America, he stated that there was only one missionary to 95,000 people. The responsibility of the West Indies seems to call upon us especially. Their faith in Catholicism is wavering. Cuba has been apportioned among the denominations. Yet the Southern Presbyterian church has called in vain for one representative in that island. The speaker stated that in Mexico representatives of almost faith could be found. This most difficult and pressing field is greatly neglected. Four years ago the first protestants entered the Philippines. We have peculiar advantages in these islands now. The need is for men.

Mr. McClure, after giving a graphical description of Africa, stated that of the three prominent religions 1.7 per cent. of the people are Christians, 36 per cent. are Mohammedans, and the rest are steep in sin. The future of Africa is very encouraging. As to the methods of reaching these people, medicine is a great aid, evangelistic work is almost essential and literary pursuits are needed, since the Bible is now translated into 150 of the 600 dialects.

Mr. Thompson gave a vivid description of the undeveloped resources of India. Although the people are indolent and thriftless, there is reason to be encouraged; for converts are increasing four times as fast as the increase in population. Education is a pressing need. The people are capable of receiving civilization. The most effective method of reaching them is by training natives for the work.

The last speaker, Mr. Spencer, spoke of Korea first. Twenty years ago her doors were shut; but now Christ is welcomed. They are progressive people. They aid the cause of Christ (1) by giving willingly, (2) by teaching, and (3) by self-support. We should go to them now, because they have at present lost faith in everything; and there is great danger of skepticism. Japan has made many advancements. A great force of workers are now in the field. Of the seven leading officials four are Christians. With all this success there are many obstacles to be overcome. Mr. Spencer laid great stress upon the need of the prayers of God's people for the advancement of the work in all these fields.

After prayer by Professor Hogue, the Rev. Mr. Sydenstricker closed this interesting and instructive service with the benediction.

A Waiter's Experience With Liquid Air.

Professor L. Orville Davis, B.L., the Liquid Air expert, (who will visit this city in the near future) recently had no end of fun at a hotel where he was breakfasting with some college friends, while awaiting railway connection to the town where he was scheduled for experiments and lecture that night.

A rare steak was among the things ordered and the same was soon on the table before Wizard Davis who, while the waiter was bringing coffee poured a little liquified air over the steak, quickly freezing it as hard as a rock.

"Waiter, where's the rare steak I ordered? And what is this you've brought me?" said Mr. D., tapping the adamantine piece of cow with his knife, while a well assumed air of indignation masked his usually happy countenance.

"I d-don't k-know, b-boss," the waiter faltered; "I d-didn't do it," and he started for the head waiter, who quickly appeared.

"Does your hotel usually serve steak this way?" and Mr. Davis picked up the meat between two fingers and struck it with a knife, causing it to ring like a bell.

"No—I don't—perhaps it that fool of a cook; he's a new man. I'll find out what it means," and he hurried with the icy beef to the kitchen, where consternation reigned for a while.

Mr. Davis unobservedly turned a little from his bottle into the tumbler of water, which being nearly 400 degrees warmer than the liquid air, the latter was caused to quickly evaporate and what looked like "steam" arose from the tumbler.

"Waiter, I didn't ask ask you for hot water; please bring me a glass of ice water."

By the time the astonished waiter had brought this the water in the first tumbler was nearly frozen solidly, ice bulging nearly an inch above the tumbler's rim, glass and ice both chilled to about 200 degrees below zero.

"Now there's too much ice in this glass; put in a little water please," said the professor, passing the ice-burg to the waiter, who eyed him suspiciously but took the tumbler in his hand without first looking directly at it. When he beheld the ice his eyes opened wide and his jaw dropped as though it had a ball-bearing hinge. Another opening and another drop quickly followed—the low temperature of what his hand held causing him to give forth a yell that was no respecter of dining rooms, and to drop the congealed water as if it was a red-hot iron. He fled for the kitchen.

"For de tan' sake alive, dat man in dare must be de debbil hisself or neah kin shuah. I know I got 'nough and I don't go near him no more—not if he done starves entirely"—and he was true to his assertion; though he afterwards admitted "perhaps he's only one of those hypnotesters."

The hotel proprietor now appeared and recognized Mr. Davis as the liquid air exhibitor, repeated the waiter's kitchen remarks and kindly requested that he not scare away all the hotel help, adding that good cigars were in the office awaiting the party's pleasure.—Warren (O.) Tribune

The Liquid Air entertainment will be here April 19th. All those desiring reserved seats should subscribe now, as subscribers get first choice of seats. The prices are: Reserved seats, 75 cents; general admission, 50 cents.

Recital in the Chapel.

Yesterday evening a very satisfactory and, afterwards, satisfied audience was entertained by Herr Falkenback and Miss Bell Palmer. The music was distinctly of a high class and was accordingly enjoyed by the cultured people of Lexington. Miss Palmer displayed not only thorough understanding of the masterpieces she played, but expressed her knowledge by a very good touch, bringing out the meaning in an exquisite way. Herr Falkenback was only disappointing in that he sang so few pieces.

Personal and Social

Miss Vance of Shelbyville, Ky., visited her brother, Professor Vance, during the past week.

Miss Grace Ellen Glasgow entertained her lady friends at a tea Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Eva McGuire of Winchester, is visiting Mrs. Morgan Pendleton.

Miss Monterey Thomas of Christiansburg, is the guest of the Misses Shanks.

Miss Mary Campbell Moore entertained Thursday evening in honor of her guests, Miss Nellie Dunlap and Miss Jennie Miller of Roanoke.

Miss Josephine Allan gave a delightful entertainment on last Tuesday evening in honor of her guests, the Misses Goucher of Baltimore, and Miss Francina Campbell from McDonogh, Md.

Miss Nellie Dunlap and Miss Jennie Miller of Roanoke city, are guests of Miss Mary Campbell Moore.

Mr. J. Preston Allan, who is teaching in South Carolina, spent the Easter holidays at home.

Miss Josephine Goodwin of Arrington, is the guest of Miss Bruce Houston.

Miss Nannie Crawford of Strasburg, sister of Student R. W. Crawford of Washington and Lee, is visiting Misses Mary Preston and Martha Moore.

Dr. Jas. Lewis Howe spoke Saturday evening in Richmond at the closing session of the state Christian Endeavor convention, on the significance of the Christian Endeavor movement. The Dispatch speaks of his effort as a "rare" address and continued, "Dr. Howe is the 'bishop of Virginia Endeavorers.' He is looked up to and revered by those who know him, and delegates got much consolation from his effort." Dr. Howe also spoke Sunday afternoon in Richmond at the meeting of the railway branch of the Young Men's Christian association.

Graham-Lee Society.

Although the faithful few were again the only ones present at the society meeting Saturday, March 12th, the program was the best of the year. Mr. Guthrie responded to the call of declamations, and under the head of debate: Messrs. Preston and Witherspoon upheld the affirmative and Oberlin and Sale the negative on the question, Resolved, That the jury system should be abolished. The society then adjourned until the first regular meeting in April.

$130,000 for Washington and Lee

WILLIAM L. WILSON MEMORIAL FUND COMPLETED.

A telegram yesterday afternoon from President Denny in New York to Secretary J. L. Campbell announced that the Wilson Endowment fund for the chair in Economics had been formally completed. A meeting of the fund committee, of which ex-President Grover Cleveland is chairman, was held on that day.

The occasion of the meeting was a luncheon given by Mr. George Foster Peabody, a substantial contributor to the fund.

$30,000 FROM MRS. LEES.

President Denny was informed last week by the executors of the will of the late Mrs. Lees of New York, that $30,000 had been bequeathed to Washington and Lee University. This was given for no particular purpose, but for the general endowment. It will not be available for some time yet, and it has not been decided to what use it will be put. These two funds, amounting to $130,000, mark an important day in the history of our University.

Dr. Andrew H. Woods of Martinsburg, who is now at home in America after a two years sojourn in China as a medical missionary, is to be married in May to a Philadelphia lady, Miss Fannie Sinclair, who will return with him then to China as a missionary. Dr. Woods was educated at Washington and Lee several years ago. His bride-to-be is a prime mover in the smart set in Philadelphia.

Ball Musings on Base.

The baseball season has actually opened notwithstanding the activity of the "adverse elements." Fishburne's decisive victory over the V. M. I. team, and their decisive defeat at our hands seems to promise well for an opportunity to continue the policy of taking revenge for football casualties. But no one can express the extreme disappointment of the students, which was universally felt on account of the cancelling of our date with Pennsylvania. The closeness of the score in last year's game and the fact that V. M. I. scored on these giants of the North gave us grounds for reasonable hopes that we could here pick one of the largest leaves for the '02's crown of laurel.

Virginia's game with the Pennsylvania team was practically a defeat for them, since Captain Carter (Va.) refused to play when Pennsylvania had two men on bases and one of their strongest hitters at the bat. The "darkness" ruse worked better with Yale, but it wouldn't go with Princeton for obvious reasons. Its all in the game, we suppose, and Virginia can play that sort of game to perfection, as we may observe from experience. But in thinking the matter over from the standpoint of "Twenty Years After," it does look a little childish. No offence, Virginia, although you are younger than we.

Its a good thing, however, that "big man" Walker is back at U Va.

If the way (and weather) be clear we are to cross bats with Hobart on Monday afternoon next. Hobart went down pretty roughly before the University of Georgia a few days ago. We want to win by a still larger score if possible. For don't let's have any hinky-dinky playing this season as we did last, as in the fourth Roanoke game for instance. Play for all the blood that will come naturally, and then squeeze the victim. For drop by drop is the goblet to be filled, and drunk to the health of old Washington and Lee.

The war department has appropriated $100,000 for the establishment of a New Way College at Washington.
