TO THE ALUMNI

A Vital Matter to be Determined

A FULL REPRESENTATION NECESSARY AT THE MEETING DURING COMMENCEMENT

During the past week the following letter has been received from the President of the Alumni Association. Its contents should be carefully considered by every graduate of the Institution who is interested in its welfare:

Editor RING-TUM PHI,
Lexington, Va.

Dear Sir:

As Commencement time is near at hand the Alumni Association would be glad to have you call the attention of the alumni whom you reach through your columns to the pending movement for alumni representation on the Board of Trustees. This matter will be settled finally at the regular meeting of the Alumni Association and of the Board of Trustees, to be held during Commencement week. It is of such vital importance to the University, and should be of such great interest to the alumni, that every alumnus who can do so should be present at the meeting on the 16th day of June, and give the movement the advantage of his counsel and the moral support of presence. The alumni of the University, as an organization, have offered their services to the University, and however loyal their support may have been in the past, or however well some of them may have discharged the duties which they owe to their Alma Mater, it is undoubtedly true that those duties are best performed which are coupled with responsibility, and that the best guarantee of continued interest is the opportunity for continued service. We want the alumni to feel not only that they belong to the University, but that the University, in some measure at least, belongs to them.

As most of your readers know, a committee of the alumni was appointed last June, of which the Hon. Ernest B. Kruttschnitt of New Orleans, is chairman, to prepare a plan for the election of five members of the Board of Trustees, of and by the alumni, and the

An Explanation

In reporting the party at President Denny's house last week, through these columns, there was a reference to the serving of "punch", which we hardly felt it necessary to say was composed of lemonade flavored with pineapple, and absolutely nothing more. Since, however, certain innocent (?) individuals, who were not present, have suggested that there might have been an infinitesimal alcoholic ingredient, we take pleasure in disabusing their minds of such an impression with the suggestion that the real facts were within easy reach, if they had desired to learn them.

It is also true that it would have been very much easier to have learned the facts than to have taken the trouble to circulate, and then of moral necessity have felt constrained to correct, false statements.

NOTICE

University Assembly

There will be no University lectures on Friday morning, May 22, from 9 to 10 o'clock. The student body will assemble in the Chapel at 8:45 a. m., to participate in the reception tendered the members of the General Assembly, and to hear an address by a distinguished member of that body.

GEORGE H. DENNY,
President.

University Monogram

At a meeting of the Athletic Executive Committee, held Tuesday, May 12, the following men were awarded the University Monogram for faithful service on the diamond:

Bagley, Baker, Pancake, Shields, Dawson, Hereford, Boogher, Wysor, Pipes, Campbell, M. D., Tabb, Foard, and Trimble.

SEASON ENDS WELL

W. & L. U. 8, V. M. I. 7

The baseball season was brought to a close on Saturday with a victory over our neighbors of the V. M. I. Like the two previous games between the same teams this season, the result was in doubt until the last man was out, but unlike them, the fielding was very ragged and each team won and lost the game several times by rank errors. Baker's steady pitching and timely hitting by Wash. & Lee in the last two innings saved the day and enabled us to chalk up one victory out of our series with the V. M. I. The game was marked by an entire absence of bad feeling and the little rooting indulged in was of such a character as could give offense to no one.

The game by innings was as follows:

First Inning

W. & L.—Dawson struck out, Hereford went out from pitch to first, and Shields was out second to first.

V. M. I.—Goodloe flew out to Boogher, Porter went out second to first, Couper made a hit, and Hill flew out to Dawson.

Second Inning

W. & L.—Boogher got to first on an error, stole second and came home on Pancake's double after two men were out.

V. M. I.—Allport scored a run for V. M. I. by the aid of two wild throws, a stolen base, and a passed ball.

Third Inning

W. & L.—Dawson fanned, but Hereford made a hit, stole second, and scored on Boogher's single.

V. M. I. tied the score on Goodloe's three-bagger to deep center, and a passed ball.

Fourth Inning

Neither side was able to get a man beyond third in this inning. Baker made a hit but was left on third base.

Fifth Inning

Dawson made a hit for W. & L., but couldn't get beyond third.

For V. M. I., only three men went to bat, two of them striking out.

Sixth Inning

W. & L. was quickly disposed of in this inning.

V. M. I.—This was the cadets' inning. Couper and Hill knocked long flies to the outfield, which ordinarily would have been caught but by misjudgment and good luck they were good for two and three bags, respectively. Two errors followed and the inning closed with the score 5-2 in favor of V. M. I.

Seventh Inning

This was the shortest inning of the game, only 6 men, in all, batting.

Eighth Inning

Wash. & Lee tied the score on two singles, a double, and three errors. The V. M. I. team went up in the air as did Wash. & Lee, in the sixth.

The cadets forged ahead again in their half, by the aid of a hit, two stolen bases and a close decision.

Ninth Inning

W. & L.—Wysor struck out, Dawson was hit by a pitched ball, Hereford took first on an error and Shields on a fielder's choice. Boogher rapped out a pretty single, scoring Dawson and Hereford, and Bagley's single brought home Shields.

V. M. I.—Goodloe scored for V. M. I. by the aid of a base on balls, a stolen base and an error.

The score in detail is given below:

W. & L.	R.	H.	E.
Dawson, s.s.	1	1	2
Hereford, 3 b.	3	1	1
Shields, 2 b.	2	1	0
Boogher, c. f.	1	3	1
Bagley, c.	1	2	1
Pipes, r. f.	0	0	0
Baker, p.	0	2	1
Pancake, 1 b.	0	1	0
Totals	8	12	6

V. M. I.	R.	H.	E.
Goodloe, c.	2	1	1
Porter, c. f.	0	0	0
Couper, 1 b.	1	2	1
Hill, 3 b.	2	2	0
Love, r. f.	0	0	0
Johnson, 2 b.	1	1	0
Allport, l. f.	1	0	1
Crowdus, s. s.	0	0	1
Totals	7	6	4

Stolen bases—W. & L. 4; V. M. I. 5. Base on balls—W. & L. 3; V. M. I. 2. Struck out—By Baker, 10; by Carnel 13. Umpire, Capt. Peyton. Scorer, Phillips.

EDITORIAL

On behalf of the student-body the RING-TUM PHI desires to call to the attention and careful consideration of the graduates and alumni of the University, the letter from the President of the Alumni Association, which is published on the front page of this issue. The matter of alumni representation upon the Board of Trustees has been agitated for several years, and the final test will be had during the coming Commencement. It is our firm conviction that the appointment of alumni upon the Board will make for the advancement and prosperity of the University. The having of men upon the governing body who have recently been a part of the University life, who know intimately its most pressing needs, cannot but be of great assistance to the other members of the Board in the consideration of questions affecting the government and welfare of the institution. It is of vital importance—it is the moral duty of every alumnus to be present at the Commencement meeting, or if this be impossible, by letter or otherwise, attest his support to the alumni and to the student-body in their effort to secure representation upon the Board of Trustees.

The literary societies are deeply indebted to Professors Burks, Latané and Howe, the faculty committee, and to Miss Annie White and to the ladies of the faculty for their efforts in making yesterday's exercises a success. Without their assistance it would have been impossible to entertain the Randolph-Macon girls. We cannot but feel, however, that it was unpardonable in Dr. Howe in not working in harmony with the plans of the committee, since he was primarily responsible for the visit of the college. We trust, however, that there was no feeling of discrimination among our guests as everyone reported having "a lovely time."

We firmly believe that our delinquent subscribers are going to pay their subscriptions, but we would like to have some real data upon which to base the faith that is in us.

We trust that no one will bring forth the charge that the Randolph-Macon girls were proselyted by their visit yesterday.

Those who contemplate studying any more this term, would do well to withdraw to some of the neighboring summer-resorts, for every evening before commencement is about filled for some kind of an entertainment.

We trust that the proper authorities consulted Mr. Light before the Randolph-Macon College girls were permitted to come to Lexington.

AT WASHINGTON & LEE

Field Day Exercises, Reception at the Chapel to the Randolph-Macon College Girls, Debate With Randolph-Macon College

They came, they saw, and they went back home; to say that they conquered is superfluous. Now that's the Randolph-Macon girls. They came, they spoke, they won, then they went home. That's the Randolph-Macon boys.

The girls from Randolph-Macon Woman's College came to Lexington on a special train yesterday morning and were the guests of the literary societies during the day. They were shown the points of interest on the campus and elsewhere during the morning and at two o'clock attended the field-day exercises in a body.

The Field Day Records

100 yard dash—Smith, H. H., 1st, Dawson 2d, Morse 3d. Time 10 1/2 seconds.

Putting shot—Conover 1st, Smith 2d, Stone 3d. Distance 32 feet, 10 inches.

Throwing hammer—Smith 1st, Stone 2d, Payne, L. C., 3d. Distance 86 ft. 3 in.

Running long jump—Smith 1st, Dawson 2d, Conover 3d. Distance 19 ft. 8 in.

Pole vault—Haw 1st, Dawson 2d, Shields, M. M., 3d. Height 9 ft. 4 in.

Standing broad jump—Smith 1st, Morse 2d. Distance 9 ft. 8 in.

Standing high jump—Smith 1st, Conover 2d. Height 4 ft. 7 in.

440 yard dash—Conover 1st, Smith 2d, Dawson 3d. Time 59 1/2 seconds.

Number of points scored, Smith, H. H., first, 27; Conover second, 12; Dawson third, 10.

At the conclusion of the field-day sports came the New Market Memorial exercises at the V. M. I. after which the girls were entertained at tea in the lower chapel by the ladies of the faculty. Immediately following this was the debate with Randolph-Macon College. At the close of the debate, the girls were escorted to the train by the student-body.

THE DEBATE

The debate between Randolph-Macon College and Washington & Lee University last night was a happy close to a happy day. The debate in itself was one that held the attention and interest of the audience from the start; the officers and speakers are to be congratulated.

Mr. W. Jett Lauck introduced

Dr. Denny of the University, who welcomed the visitors and this address was responded to by President Smith of the College. Mr. Jones read the question, "Resolved, That the Abolition of Tariff Duties on Trust-made Goods Would Result in Lower Prices to the Consumers of Such Goods."

Mr. Westcott of Randolph-Macon opened the debate for the affirmative. His speech was clear-cut and straight to the point, and he made good use of authority and drew some plain and forcible conclusions.

Mr. Day of the Varsity was the first speaker for the negative. The power with which he expressed his arguments made a forcible impression and he defended his side well, spoiling the effect somewhat by too frequent reference to notes.

Mr. Kellam of the College was the next speaker for the affirmative. He delivered his speech probably better than any one, except that he did not speak loud enough for the whole audience, and hence much of his argument was lost to them.

Mr. Rolston spoke for the negative. In his appeal to the judges, "he stooped to conquer," and the clear, forcible manner in which he delivered his arguments looked as if he was out for that purpose. He did well, as was expected.

Five minutes for reply was then given to each side and after that the question was left with the judges, Cols. Nichols and Marr and Major Foard. The debate was decided in favor of the affirmative.

We trust that this is but the beginning of an annual event and that the debates will always be of the high class order the one last night proved to be.

Dawson Elected Captain

At a meeting of the team on Wednesday afternoon, Mr. Dawson was unanimously elected captain of next season's baseball team. The selection was a wise one. Mr. Dawson has demonstrated his fitness for the position by his work on the diamond this Spring.

Prof. Humphreys of the University of Virginia, spent Friday in Lexington with his daughters, who are students at Randolph-Macon Woman's College.

Where is the Hypercritic
(Communicated.)

Editor RING-TUM PHI:

In your issue of May 9, appears a puerile, preppish criticism of my review of the April Collegian. The head would seem to call for a reply.

The first point the writer strives to make is that "nowhere in his (i. e. my) article does he point out a merit or defect in the Collegian." The most cursory perusal of the article will show that these 'merits and defects' were specifically noted:

1. "'The Legal Way' . . . is able, scholarly and just in its treatment of an important subject."
2. In "'Retaliation' . . . the dialogue is Utopian."
3. "'The History of the First Bank of the U. S.' is a good, clear statement of connected facts."
4. In "'Playing the Devil' the setting is good; . . . a fine story . . . the story falls flat."
5. "'A Story of Witchcraft' is on its face impossible."
6. The one-sidedness of an editorial on the cosmopolitan man and the university.

By reference to the review it will be seen that I have here cited only the most overt cases. Do not these rather conclusively show that some 'merits and defects' were pointed out? By the way, has our critic read the article he sneers at? "We believe firmly in the good effects of good, honest criticism, but we are as firmly convinced of the ill effects of articles—they are not criticisms—such as that to which we have reference."

Of course I pass over the abundant and redundant personalities with which the article is maculate;—Lucretius is right,—ex nihilo nihil fit. The writer should, however, be congratulated on his exquisite taste in metaphors.

So much for the article as it stands, but there is another consideration. Why does the writer make this blatant attempt at scurrility? Josh Billings said, "Throw a stone up a dark alley and only the hurt dog will yelp";—he did.

In conclusion let me say that this 1908 Zoilus will find the author of the Collegian review not cloaked in a borrowed Greek dictum, but waiting as

WILLARD NEAL GRUBB.

Societies Again Fail To Elect

A joint session of the two literary societies was held last Saturday evening in Graham-Lee Hall, for the purpose of electing 1903-'04 Southern Collegian officers.

The election was by ballot with roll-call. There were two candidates for the editorship, Mr. D. H. Rolston of Virginia and Mr. D. V. Guthrie of Miss. Twenty-six ballots were cast for each candidate, and President Wallace then announced the result, declaring his vote for Mr. Rolston. Immediately a Grahamite affirmed that the president had no right to vote after the ballots had been counted, and pointed to a foot note in Roberts' Rules of Order as authority. Thereupon much confusion and contention took place. No agreement whatever could be reached, and the Graham-Lee men refused to continue the joint session. The Washingtonians returned to their hall, convinced that Mr. Rolston was legally and rightfully elected editor-in-chief.

The Grahamites then sent envoys who expressed the desire of their society to arbitrate the matter, but the Wash. men failed to see the justice of this. No further joint action followed, and the two societies adjourned without having even nominated men for the other offices.

Board met this half way by the appointment of a like committee of its own body, of which Mr. John S. Munce of Richmond, is chairman, to confer with the committee of the alumni. These two committees expect to hold a conference prior to the regular meeting of the Board of Trustees on the 16th day of June; and in the meantime, the alumni committee has prepared a plan for representation authorizing the alumni to elect five trustees in the outset and one each year thereafter as the terms of those first elected expire. The plan provides first for the nomination by ballot of ten candidates at large, after which there will be submitted to vote of the alumni on like ballot these ten nominees, the five receiving the largest number of votes to be declared elected; provided, that at least one hundred votes shall be necessary to an election. Of the five so elected, the one receiving the highest number of votes shall hold for the full term of five years and the remainder in succession. Such is, in brief, the plan outlined, which will give every alumnus the opportunity to record his wishes and by a process of progressive selection will insure the highest care in making choice.

It is hoped and believed that the plan thus outlined will prove satisfactory and acceptable to the Board and that the time when the alumni will become constituent parts of the University organism is close at hand.

Will you not urge upon every alumnus to be present at the annual meeting on the 16th day of June?

Yours very truly,
JOHN W. DAVIS,
President of General Alumni Association.

Mr. Welsh Addresses The Student - Body

The student-body had the pleasure last Wednesday morning of hearing another very opportune address by one of its most energetic benefactors and friends, Mr. Herbert Welsh. He took as his subject "American Opportunities and Dangers," and proceeded to trace the story of a subject vital to every American citizen—the violation of civilized codes of warfare by our soldiers in the Philippines, showing how our officers there had adopted tactics more worthy of the Spanish Inquisition than of a liberty-loving nation.

He narrated how, when the first stories of torture reached this country, very little faith was put in them. But later, when they became more frequent and on unmistakable authority, they could not be doubted. Further investigation by prominent men in this country, showed their unquestionable accuracy. When the president and secretary of war had their attention called to the state of affairs, in a quiet way at first, so as not to injure the good name of the army, investigations were made of such a nature that the real truth was not brought to light. Later, when the only method for their prevention was the arousal of public sentiment open letters to the secretary of war were published, but he firmly refused to investigate in more than a mere formal way, in order to convince the people that the stories were false. Undisputed testimony of the water-cure had been given before a Senate committee a year ago, of the state of affairs, but this was not employed to punish the guilty offenders. He further showed that the cause and responsibility for the various methods of torture rested not on the private soldier but on the commissioned officers, and especially on those well-advanced in rank, who not only countenanced such methods, but gave open approval in their orders to subordinate officers to inflict such punishment in case the desired information was not immediately forthcoming from the captured Filipinos.

He showed their great love for their country in losing their lives from such torture because of their refusal to do such.

He closed with an appeal to the student-body to strive to raise the moral tone of their communities to discountenance a degradation of the principles which the founders of this country had given as the cause of its establishment.

Causey and Kellam broke all previous records by taking 46 girls to the soda fountain at one time. And now they are also 'broke.'
