THE RING-TUM PHI.

BY THE STUDENTS AND FOR THE STUDENTS.

VOL. VII

WASHINGTON AND LEE UNIVERSITY, SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1903

NO. 8

University Assembly

Last Wednesday morning the regular monthly services were held in the University chapel. After religious services by Dr. Quarles, President Denny came forward and made a few remarks in regard to the recent class squabble which had caused such wholesale destruction of college property. Pointing out the clear distinction between the individual man and the mass or multitude, he made a strong appeal to the men of the classes.

Dr. Willis was then presented. He wore the doctor's gown, which the student-body has long been vainly trying to introduce at Washington and Lee, and made a few prefatory remarks upon his subject, "The Meaning of the Present Political Situation in the United States."

After outlining the varied political developments of the last few weeks, he showed that their import lay deeper than the surface consideration of numerical majorities. It was an awakening of the Democratic party. It had been said that the Democratic party lacked both an issue and a man; it had scores of issues and also a man to lead it—ex-President Grover Cleveland. If he himself were not the man, just such qualities as he possessed would be needed in its leader. T. B. Reed and Senator Hoar had both stated that what the country needed was a strong opposition by one party or the other; this would put an end to factions. Democracy under the leadership of Cleveland would make this strong opposition, would cease to be lulled into inaction by specious arguments of the "full dinner pail sort."

Notice—Mass-meeting

Mr. T. A. Bledsoe, editor-in-chief of the Calyx, requests that the students hold a mass-meeting in Tucker Hall Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 17, for the purpose of filling vacant officers on the Calyx board. This is an important matter and all the students should be on hand.

Bradford Debate

The Bradford Debating Society met as usual on Thursday night. The case argued was Smith v. C. & O. R. R., a hypothetical case, the facts in which were about as follows: A, in Lexington, ships over the C. & O. two boxes of goods to B in Richmond and sends the bills of lading to him. While the goods are in transit A demands of the railroad that one of the boxes be returned to him and this is done without the surrender of the bill of lading by A. On Oct. 4th, B sells both bills of lading to Smith and on Oct. 6th the box of goods reached Richmond, and was delivered to B, from whom the bill of lading was not demanded. In a few days Smith demanded his property and when it could not be obtained brought his suit.

The attorneys for the appellant, Messrs. Hardy and Hamilton contended that because of its negligence in not taking up the bills of lading, the railroad should be held liable. Messrs. Green and Huds-peth for the appellee, contended that the bills were not negotiable and that negligence was not shown when the goods were delivered to the consignee.

The court, consisting of Chief Justice Howell and Justices Dillard, Duncan, English and Daily, decided that Smith could recover from the railroad. Professor Long concurred with the court.

A Box of Monkeys

During Thanksgiving week the play, "A Box of Monkeys," will be presented under the direction of Miss Annie White. Those who have seen Miss White's plays before will go, those who have not should take this opportunity to witness what will be the best entertainment at the University this session. The proceeds will be devoted to the payment of the note, now due, 'on the new boat, purchased last spring.

On account of the concert at the Chapel the literary societies did not meet Saturday night.

Death of Ernest C. Zirkle

Ernest C. Zirkle, who left here some four weeks ago with typhoid fever, died at his home at Fauquier Springs, Tuesday, November 10th. After reaching his home pneumonia complications developed which resulted in his death.

Ernest Zirkle had just entered the University, and while his stay here in college was only of short duration, he had made many friends who will learn the news of his death with deep regret. Twenty-one years of age, just on the threshold of manhood, his was a promising career. His work here at the University had given every promise of success, only to be cut short at the beginning.

Death of Fred Lamar

Fred Lamar, of Selma, Ala., a student at Washington & Lee during 1901-2, died last week at Las Vegas, New Mexico from consumption.

Fred Lamar will be remembered by his fellow students as a bright and lovable man, always glad to do a favor for a friend. His year here was cut short by illness during the spring, which forced him to leave before the end of the session. Since that time his health has continued to fail, and he went to New Mexico to try to regain his declining health.

Stone Elected

On Tuesday afternoon the football team met in the Latin room to elect a Captain for next season. Three nominations were made and 19 votes were cast as follows:

Stone, 10; D. W. Alexander, 6; Campbell 3.

T. G. Stone, '05, of Washington D. C., the new captain, has played center on the Varsity for two seasons. In that position he has always "held his man," and many times has "played all around" the strongest centers of the South. That he will make a good captain and turn out for us a winning team stands beyond a doubt.

Glee Club

The University Glee Club is in full swing now. Through some slight delay in securing suitable music the interest of the men seemed to lag somewhat, but this was only temporary, and now that the quartet books have been received no further lack of enthusiasm is anticipated.

Several changes have been made in the assignment of the parts to the men. R. E. Johnson, has been put on second tenor, and W. A. Webb on first bass, so at present there are three men to each part, making 12 men in all, the ideal number it seems for the club here.

The management has offered the services of the Glee club in connection with the play, "A Box of Monkeys," to be presented under the direction of Miss Annie White about Dec. 1st, and some four or five musical numbers will appear on the programme at that time. As this will be the club's first time before the public, it is hoped and expected that it will meet with a warm reception and a full house.

Manager Moseley has in view a trip for the club between now and Dec. 10, and if the necessary arrangements be completed it can be secured.

Ladies Military Band

Miss Helen May Butler's ladies military band gave a most enjoyable concert at the University Chapel last Saturday night. The band is composed of sixteen young ladies from 9 to 25 years of age, dressed in jaunty military costumes and using brass, reed and string instruments.

The large and appreciative audience was delightfully entertained for over two hours by a varied program of solos and well chosen popular selections by the band. The solos were especially good and well rendered, showing the young ladies to be musicians of the highest rank.

The entertainment was for the benefit of the boat club.

EDITORIAL

Last Wednesday morning Professor Willis set an example which the rest of the faculty would do well to follow. That of which we speak was the wearing of his doctor's gown. While, of course, it is not the attire that makes the man, nevertheless proper dress undoubtedly adds dignity to any occasion and the wearing of gowns by Washington and Lee faculty would certainly make public occasions more impressive, not only to the students but especially to any visitors that we may have. Unless the faculty does decide to wear gowns on public occasions they cannot expect the senior classes to adopt such a custom.

Missing.

A volume of Hudson's Shakespeare was taken, uncharged from the library early in September. Miss White requests its return at once.

The Freshman decided upon the style of their class cap at their meeting on Thursday. It is to be black with the numerals, '07, in old gold.

Ignorance may be bliss, yet the real self-satisfied chap is the one who thinks he knows it all.

Concert at Chapel

The John D. Beall Concert Co. will be at the Chapel Wednesday night Nov. 18. The hour has been set for 8.30 o'clock, so as not to conflict with prayer-meeting. This company was here last year but under a different name, and all who attended the concert remember that the music was of a very high quality. The proceeds will be used for athletics. The following are testimonials as to the merits of the company:

Ludlowville, N. Y., }
Sept. 30, 1903 }

The concert given by the John D. Beall Concert Co. last night at the Presbyterian church of Ludlowville, N. Y., was excellent in every way. The artistic skill combined with musical talent of the first order, made a deep and lasting impression on all who had the privilege to attend.

Yours sincerely,
Rev. JOHN F. HUMPHREYS

The John D. Beall Concert Co. gave us a very superior entertainment, and each part was given with great skill. The members of the Company are thoroughly equipped by nature and have cultivated themselves under the best instructors. The singing, the playing and the reading were of the highest excellence.

Rev. JOHN W. SANBON
Oct. 8, 1903.

Your company did themselves and the management great credit at our church this evening. They gave us a pleasing and refined concert. When placing another company this way give us a call.

Very respectfully,

In Memorium

Whereas, our fellow classmate, Ernest C. Zirkle died on Tuesday, November 10th, we, the class of 1907, do hereby adopt the following resolutions:

That, although in college only one month, Ernest C. Zirkle won the esteem and friendship of all his classmates.

That, as a student, he was faithful and industrious, as a friend he was true and loyal, and as a man he was worthy and upright.

That, in his death we feel the loss of one who, although called hence in the prime of life, has established a record worthy of imitation, and we shall ever cherish the memory of this our fellow student.

Be it further resolved, That, as a manifestation of our grief at his death and of our sympathy for his bereaved family, a copy of these resolutions be sent to them.

CLASS OF 1907.

Ball is a Phi Kappa Sigma goat. Walter Dunlap and Tarr are able to be out again.

Prof. H. Parker Willis went to Washington city today to be gone until the middle of next week.

Dr. Denny will address the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. His subject will be "Life Investment." This is a subject of interest to every student.

Invitations to the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Ross, of Lexington, to Mr. Frank Nelson of Chattanooga, Tenn., a son of Prof. A. L. Nelson, have been issued. The groom-to-be is an alumnus of W. & L.

This week Freshman Opie was awarded the $25 prize for the best essay on "Virginia Prior to the Revolution" by a committee of the Virginia Society of the Sons of the Revolution. This prize was open to any High School student in the state. Mr. Opie wrote the essay last spring when he was a student in the Staunton High School.

Miss Annie R. White has been appointed agent in Lexington and Rockbridge for the Virginia St. Louis Exposition to aid in securing the fund for the erection of the Virginia buildings at the approaching World's Fair. She has been furnished with neat souvenir certificates, on which are displayed an excellent representation of Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson, which will be reproduced at St. Louis as our state building. Every subscriber of one dollar to the fund will be furnished with one of these souvenirs.

W. & L. at St. Louis

Captain T. C. Morton, a Staunton Alumnus of W. & L., and press representative of the State World's Fair commission, visited the University during the week. He has proposed to exhibit certain of the fine engravings and pictures in possession of the authorities of the school, and to arrange a catalogue display for the St. Louis Monticello. It is expected that the board of trustees will act on these proposals at an early day. The University of Virginia will have a room in the State building at the Exposition.

No woman ever makes a fool out of a man; she merely develops him.

Y. M. C. A.—Week of Prayer

The Young Men's Christian Associations throughout the world have set aside November 8—14 as a week of prayer for young men. The student association here at W. & L. held special meetings on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights, which were conducted by Sloan, Armstrong and McPheeters respectively. These meetings were successful both in attendance and interest.

Those who were not at the meeting on last Sunday afternoon missed much. The singing was good, but the address on "Thoughtfulness" by McNulty, of the Sr. Law class, was better. The speaker brought out these three ideas very emphatically: First, David's life had this element of thoughtfulness; Second, We need it every day to aid happiness and right in the strife against evil; Third, It is most effective when coupled with God's will.

The meeting tomorrow will be of interest to every man in the University. Let us all turn out to the Y. M. C. A. at four tomorrow.

Dance at Gymnasium.

Last Tuesday night the students gave a subscription dance at the gymnasium which was attended by a half dozen girls and three or four dozen boys. While the difference in number was very great all managed to have a good time. Those present were Misses Lee, Dunlop, Haskins, White, Rogers, and Moore and the usual crowd of dancing men. The music was furnished by the V. M. I. orchestra. The dancing began at eight and ended at twelve.

Don't forget the Literary Societies tonight. Both of them have strong programs with live questions for debate and good speakers to argue them.
