THE RING-TUM PHI.

BY THE STUDENTS AND FOR THE STUDENTS.

VOL. VII

WASHINGTON AND LEE UNIVERSITY, SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1904

NO. 16

Review of January Collegian

The first feature of the January Collegian, the poem "1904," is excellent both in sentiment and in technique.

An eminently readable bit of biography is the sketch of William Graham and his relation to the University. Such an article is of unusual value at a time when comparatively little is known of that pioneer of education.

"Theseus and Ariadne," the second poem of the issue, while quite faithful to the classic legend, is somewhat crude in execution, and gives an impression of faulty technique. The polarization of the word, "silly," for instance, makes that expression practically unintelligible to one not used in Anglo-Saxon root forms.

The story, "A Faithful Vision," contains some admirable character portrayal, and has an excellent general plot, though two incidents strike one as jarring. One is the description of conveying the body to the grave (p. 14) which is at least singular; the other is the account of the young lawyer's speech (p. 17), he begins by "arraigning the accused as the vilest of criminals, drawing him in bitter and awful terms. He played upon the passions of the jury, etc.—a means of possession that at most is not exalted, and has much in common with chicanery.

"What is Death?" is good in substance, but has some faults of form; for instance, the combination "t'ransgress is not only allowable by rules of English prosody, but is also unpronounceable. The polarization, too, of 'transgress' obscures somewhat the thought, the evident meaning ('cross over') being a trifle archaic, however classical.

The best story of the issue is "A Real Ghost;" the avowedly lugubrious theme is lighted up by numerous touches of real humor.

"The Follies of a Freshman" is an excellent farce, well conceived, though the originality shown at the first is not kept up to the end.

Glee Club Concert.

The arrangements for the concert to be given by the Glee Club at the Southern Seminary, in Buena Vista, on the night of February 15, have been completed.

Owing to the scarcity of musical material in college, and the lack of enthusiasm on the part of the student body in general, the Glee Club has had a great deal to contend with and many obstacles have been overcome in organizing and getting started successfully.

It is hoped now, however, after the club has shown such determination and perseverance in undertaking to ensure success to itself and credit to the university, that it will meet with the thorough approval, co-operation and help of both students and faculty.

The best way to encourage the efforts of the club and show your appreciation of what it is undertaking to accomplish is to attend the concert on the night of February 15th, at the Southern Seminary.

A special train will leave Lexington at 7 p. m., and returning immediately after the entertainment. Tickets will be on sale at McCrum's drug store next week.

Let all go, and give the club a full house for their first out-of-town performance. A full programme of the concert will appear in the next RING TUM PHI. For any further information refer to the management.

Mandolin and Guitar Club

An attempt has been made to organize a Mandolin and Guitar Club in connection with the Glee Club. If this club can be successfully started, as is hoped and confidently believed, it will prove to be of great assistance to the Glee Club in the future, as well as a source of pleasure to those connected with it.

"Why do you bring this to me?" thundered the weary editor, thrusting the MS. back into hands of the poet. "Because," replied the bard, timidly, "I have no stamp."—Ex-

Dr. Willis Speaks to Y. M. C. A.

SECOND "LIFE WORK" ADDRESS

The Y. M. C. A. of the University was addressed last Sunday afternoon by Dr. Willis upon the subject, "Problems of Conduct in Journalism." The address was a strong presentation of the subtle temptations and difficult problems of right of the man in control of the newspaper and the men under his control.

One of the greatest problems confronting the owner is as to what shall be the object and purpose of his paper. It may cater to the popular demand or it may propagate truth and righteousness. The popular demand cannot be altogether ignored. It is not the character of the material but the manner of treatment which does harm. Both should be adapted to average minds and tend to general purification. Another grave problem for the owner is the manner of conducting the advertising columns. The nice sense of the practical and right is demanded. Right should not surrender entirely to commercialism.

As regards the employees, many subtle temptations beset their careers. Personal conduct amid a varied and new environment is a serious problem. A high character of right conduct is possible and always desirable here. There are also many temptations to abandon the path of honesty and truth, which is after all the best policy here.

Great responsibility rests upon such men. Every day demands illustrations of fidelity, courage and self-denial. Promotion and approval of conscience must eventually depend upon right and merit.

For a clear, comprehensive epitome of "pure and undefiled religion" see Epistle of James 1: 27.

Said a young man to his Juliet
"I'm a ship at sea;

Ex-mas are near and much I fear
That I shall bustled be."

"Oh, no," she said, "Ashore I'll be;
Come rest, our journey o'er."

Then silence fell, and all was well,
For the ship had hugged the shore.

Gymnastic Contest

W. & L. VS. V. M. I.

Arrangements have been made for a "gym" contest between our team and one from the V. M. I. Both schools have good material, and skilled instructors. Dr. Bitzer, the physical director at the Institute, won several medals while a student at the University of Virginia, one of them being awarded to the best all-around gymnast, while Mr. McPheeters holds an all-around medal from W. & L. Both schools will go into the contest with well-trained teams and an abundance of enthusiasm. The date has not been fixed, but it will probably be held after the winter examinations.

The Varsity team, as usual, will give its annual exhibition in the Gymnasium some time in March, but the date for this tourney has not been definitely decided upon.

"Hot Air" on Hot Rooms

Editor Ring-tum Phi:

The professional kicker soon becomes a mere monotonous nuisance, but as previous kicks on unheated rooms in the university are unheeded it might be well to register one more complaint before this exceptionally severe winter has run its course.

The class in junior economics and political science should either be abolished or the room in which they are held should be made decently comfortable. Repeated efforts on the part of the professor in that department have availed nothing. Cannot the whole faculty then organize and descend in a body upon the one lone janitor at fault and do something to protect the health of the students in the above named classes? Doctors bills should at least be kept down to an amount equal to that paid for tuition.

EDITORIAL

While it is sometime until Commencement a suggestion at this time as to a certain feature that should enter into this year's festivities, is not out of place. We speak of some celebration in honor of the fiftieth anniversary of Professor Nelson's entering Washington & Lee University as a professor.

Fifty years mark a long period, and during this time many students have taken junior math, and possibly calculus and other of the higher branches of mathematics under "Old Alec," who would be glad to come back and congratulate him on his fiftieth anniversary of teaching and bid him god speed and good health for years to come.

With the dedication of the new Science Hall, we are looking to the future; the numerous improvements, present and prospective, are indicative of a life of greater activity and prosperity for the University, and while celebrating this as we should do, let us also honor one whose faithful service for a half century has done so much place to the University in its present firm and honorable condition and make even a brighter future possible.

All of the students who can do so, should go to both Staunton and Buena Vista to hear the Glee Club. The music will be enjoyed, and the management encouraged, as it should be, for Manager Mosely is undoubtedly doing all within his power for the Club.

Oral Debates—Feb. 8, 1904

Harry Hamilton has the measles.

Graham-Lee Society.

The meeting was called to order in Prof. Staple's lecture room, in the law building. As much business had to be transacted, the regular program was postponed.

The following men were elected officers for the coming term: President, J. H. Wills; Vice-President, J. W. Addison; Treasurer, S. W. Schaefer.

A committee from the Washington Society invited the Graham-Lee into joint session with them, to hear the preliminary debate of the candidates for the Randolph-Macon debate. The invitation was accepted and the society adjourned to Prof. Long's lecture room where the Washington Society was in session.

A New Bank

The student body will doubtless be interested to learn that Lexington is to have another bank, to be known as the People's National.

The promoters of this new enterprise are Messrs. W. M. McElwee and J. W. McClung. Mr. McElwee is an alumnus of the University, and was a member of the famous base ball nine of '73, which defeated the University of Virginia.

The practical experience of those gentleman assures the success which their many friends among the students wish for them in their new undertaking.

Y. M. C. A. Convention

The State Convention of the Y. M. C. A. will meet this year in Richmond March 3-5. Delegates will be sent, as usual, from all the associations, — railroad, city, and college, in Virginia. Our association will be represented by about five men.

The following special speakers have been engaged: John R. Mott, Secretary World's Student Federation; Cornelius Woelfkin, D. D., a noted Baptist divine; W. M. Wood, Supt. Education, Chicago Association; L. L. Pierce, Sec'y, Washington; C. S. Ward, Sec'y Internat'l Com. Many others have been invited.

The music will be a feature. The Va. Glee Club will sing.

Jas. E. Irvine, the Charlottesville tailor, will be at the "Lexington" on Tuesday with a full line of samples.

The Spirit of '76

PRESENTED BY W. & L. U. DRAMATIC CLUB

Miss White has announced that the Dramatic Club will soon give another play in Newcomb, "The Spirit of '76." Neither the date nor the cast has been definitely fixed. That the play will be a success cannot be doubted, for our energetic librarian has never failed in getting the best play possible, and in discovering and training the best talent in college.

Notice—University Assembly

The next meeting of the University assembly will be held Wednesday morning, Feb. 17, at 8.45, instead of Wednesday, Feb. 10.

The address will be delivered by the Hon. Allen Caperton Braxton, one of the foremost orators in Virginia and a leading member of the late Constitutional convention.

Excuses for absence or tardiness on account of late breakfast, or for any except providential reasons, will not be accepted.

GEORGE H. DENNY

President.

Editor Ring-tun Phi:

In the autumn Howell and Reily Wilson were elected, respectively, Chief Rooter and Songster-in-Chief for the purpose of making a noise, scaring the enemy and encouraging our own team. Did this election have to do only with foot-ball? If so, wouldn't it do well to affirm the same appointments for base-ball, have the sub-rooters appointed, and get down to work? Spring is approaching, and other colleges have long since begun operations along this line.

HATCH O. TUT.

Last Wednesday morning Mr. Burks delivered a very interesting address to the law students on the chief justices of the U. S. Supreme Court.

 Riley Wilson and his saxophone will be a feature of the Seminary Concert on February 15.
 Don't forget the concert at Buena Vista. Go, see the "calie"; and give the Glee Club a lift.
 The next two or three weeks have in store many pleasures in the way of society celebrations, concerts, plays and minstrel shows. Besides all this, we have the visit of the Southern Seminary girls, Feb. 22, to look forward to.

Enjoyable Sleigh Ride.

Last Saturday night Messrs. Hamilton, Osburn, Steves, Thomas, and Nall, gave quite an enjoyable sleigh ride to Misses Dunlap, Clayton, Rust, Brockenbrough, White, Booker and Moore. Miss Annie White chaperoned, and after the ride gave an informal little supper for the party.
 It is reported that a certain student, having read the suggestion of the calyx editors in the last RING-TUM PUN, determined to ask his latest friend at the the Southern Seminary to do some drawing for our annual. Being entirely ignorant of artistic ability, he thought best to find out if she was an art student or not, and so he asked rather pointedly: "Do you paint?" Now the poor fellow is wondering what is wrong with "Dear Bessie."

Last night in Washington the debating team of the University of Virginia was beaten by one from Columbian University. Virginia's team had the affirmative of the question:—"Resolved, That ownership, control and operation by the Federal Government of the steam railroads would be to the best interests of the people."

Weather permitting, there will be a dance by the Cotillion Club in the Gym. next Tuesday evening. get your tickets from Burks or Steves.

Preliminary Debate Held

Last Saturday night the two literary societies in joint session heard the first preliminary debate for the contest with R.-M. C. Of the six contestants, Drs. Willis and Currell, as judges, chose Messrs. Hartman, McPheeters, Sells, and McClure to enter with Mr. Anders, of the Graham-Lee Society, the second preliminary contest, to be held later, in which Washington & Lee's two representatives will be finally chosen.
