SECOND V. P. I. GAME.

The second game of the series with Virginia Tech resulted in an overwhelming victory for W. & L. The playing was loose on both sides, but our team outplayed the other at every point. Johnson pitched a splendid game for us, striking out ten men and not making an error. Four scattered hits were made off of him, while ten were made off of Meeks.

THE GAME BY INNINGS

The toss was won by W. & L. Damman was first up for V. P. I. and struck out; Sheppard was next and was caught out at first, and Cooper fanned. Porter batted first for W. & L. and was put out at first; Ford found first on Lee's error; Trimble took his base on balls, Luhn made a sacrifice, bringing in Ford, who had stolen third, and Bagley was put out on a grounder to second base.

End of second inning. V. P. I., 0; W. & L., 1.

Meeks was first up coming in, but failed to reach first; Lee knocked a fly into left field which was caught by Porter, and Sheppard, J., struck out. Pipes reached first and stole second, but died there; Anthony getting out at first, Johnson's fly to left being caught and Temple being caught out at first.

End of second inning. Score: same.

Whitehurst's grounder to Ford was caught and the runner was put out at first; Powell reached first on Anthony's error; Feurstein struck out and Damman's fly to center caught. Porter led off with a two-bagger; Ford was cut off at first; Trimble reached first on Sheppard's (s. s.) error. Luhn knocked a fly to Damman and got out, Porter getting home before the ball could be thrown in; Bagley got out first.

End of third inning. Score: V. P. I., 0; W. & L., 2.

Sheppard, for V. P. I., knocked a hot grounder down first base line, Luhn fielding it, putting him out in good, quick style; Cooper reached first on Ford's error; Meeks on Pipe's; Lee made a pretty single, which brought Cooler in; Whitehurst fanned out and Powell got out at first. Pipes started his star hitting in this inning with a twobagger; Anthony knocked a grounder to Short and reached first on the latter's fumble; Johnson was put out at first, J. Sheppard assisting; Pipes scored; Temple knocked a pop fly to pitcher and got out; Porter got out at first, ending the inning. Score: V. P. I., 1; W. & L., 3.

Johnson, in the fifth inning, did the remarkable feat of striking out three men in succession. Ford, up for W. & L., knocked a fly to left, which was brilliantly fielded by Damman; Trimble's fly to second was caught; Luhn put the "wagon-tongue" to the ball for a double; Bagley followed with single, but in attempting to run to second was put out; Luhn reached home, however.

Ending of fifth inning. Score: V. P. I., 1; W. & L., 4.

Cooper brought in a run for V. P. I. on Lee's single, but nothing more could be made by them. Pipes made a single, Anthony reached first, Johnston struck out, Temple made good, bringing in Pipes. Porter's grounder was missed by second, Anthony coming in. Ford fanned and Trimble's fly caught by Powell in left field, bring the sixth inning to close.

Score: V. P. I., 3; W. & L., 6.

Johnson fanned Powell, Feurstein knocked an easy fly to Bagley and Sheppard got out at first. Luhn got base on balls, advanced to second and then third on Bagley's sacrifice to short and scored on Pipes single. Anthony's fly caught by Powell. Johnson brought in Pipes and Temple struck out.

In the eighth inning the fireworks began. Cooper arrived at first safely and scored on Meeks' three-bagger. Lee struck out. Sheppard made a hit, bringing Meeks in. The next two men struck out. Porter knocked a fly to first baseman and was put out. Ford reached first on shortstop's error; Trimble ditto; Luhn made a single, bringing in Ford; Bagley landed a two-bagger bringing in Luhn; Pipes made a clean three-bagger and scored Bagley; Anthony reached first on Powell's muff in left field but Pipes scored. Johnson knocked a fly to first and Temple did the same to second, both being caught.

End of eighth inning, score, V. P. I., 4; W. & L., 12.

The ninth inning was short and brought nothing to the Blacksburg boys. Feurstein got out attempting to reach second on Damman's grounder to Ford. Cooper's fly was caught and Johnson struck Mieks out.

ST. JOHNS GAME

The hitherto undefeated aggregation from St. Johns College met their Waterloo at the hands of our boys on Tuesday last, the score standing 5 to 0 in Washington and Lee's favor at the end of the ninth inning.

Probably a prettier game of ball has never been played on Wilson field. Both teams were in excellent condition, the game on W. & L's part being errorless, while our opponents made but two. St. John's team was a fast one, but they were slightly week in the pitchers box. On the other hand "Red" Porter twirled a star game allowing the visitors to get but three hits, giving only two base-on balls, and punching thirteen men. He rarely ever gave the infielders a chance but when he did they were there with the goods. Anthony made several good pickups at third, while Luhn proved himself to be a first baseman of high order. Capt. Trimble caught his usual good game.

The game came off in one, two, three order for the first three innings, but in the fourth inning Porter got in a timely hit and two men crossed the plate. The next run was scored in the sixth when Johnson made a beautiful hit to the right of centre, bringing Porter home. Luhn and Trimble scored in the next inning. At one other time earlier in the game it looked as if Washington and Lee would have to score, but with three men of the bags and no outs St. John's by good playing prevented us from sending a man across the plate.

SYRACUSE FIRST GAME

The first game with Syracuse University, which was played on Thursday, was a case of hard luck, Julius Caesar, (with an Irish accents). The day was excellent for ball playing, but some how our boys did not get together like they did in the first game of the week. Although we hit the visitor's pitcher very well it seem as if the hits would'nt come at the right time.

In the seventh inning with two men on bases and none down Davis, the visitors twirler, who had up to that time struck out only three men, took a card from up his sleeve and punched three in succession.

At one time when the ball had been batted out into centre and Porter tried to come home from second, a Syracuse fielder made a throw from for home that could'nt be duplicated in a month of Sundays and "Red" was tagged within a few feet of home plate.

Such was the luck Washington and Lee played in during the entire game. In addition we had up against us one of the pluckiest and by far the fastest team which we have met this season. The Syracuse players fielded well, threw with accuracy and speed, and were good hitters.

For Washington and Lee, Trimble did good work behind the bat; Porter played an excellent game in left field; and Luhn, except for a bad error, played a good, steady game on bag number one. Johnson's pitching was good but not up to his best. One of the features of the game was the sliding of Luhn to prevent being caught off base at first.

Score by Innings:

W. & L.	0	0	0

Summary: Batteries—Syracuse, Davis and Rutheford; W. & L., Johnson and Trimble. Struck out—By Davis 7; by Johnson 6. Umpire, Mr. Johnson of V. M. I.

Come to the Chadel To-Morrow

We have no desire to put ourselves on record as advocating betting; neither do we intend to moralize, nor preach a sermon on the evils of gambling. But we do wish to say that in our opinion the practice of betting against your team, as we are told some students at this institution have done recently, is an unpatriotic action and one which should be condemned. No man can go out on the ball field and root for a team and take pride in its success if he knows that his own financial interests are opposed to the interests of that team. Any student at Washington and Lee who wants to bet but has not the nerve, on the college patriotism, or the sportmanship, or the whatever name you may call it, to back the white and blue ought to do his gambling on something other than ball games. If you don't think your team is going to win you don't have to bet that it will, but certainly you should not bet on the other side. We do not mean that you must bet on W. & L. to show your college spirit; many of the best rooters we have never gamble at all; but we do mean that it is showing a decided anti-college spirit to make your own personal interests and those of W. & L.'s opponents identical.

Nothing definite has yet been done with regard to the proposed change in the Ring-tum Phi; but the board has considered all the plans and suggestion made thus far, (which by the way have been few,) and a faculty committee on student publications has been talked with. In all probability the board will arrange a plan without the next two weeks. If any student has a suggestion which he would like to make he will please do so at once. The plans decided upon by the board will of course, be referred to the student body for its approval.

No; seats in the grandstand are not free, tho' some people seem to think so. The management would do well to station another man at the other end of the grandstand for a great many people slip in that way.

Syracuse—Second Game

Urged on to exert themselves by the sting of defeat of the previous day our fellows hooked up together Friday and turned the tables on Syracuse, defeating the visitors by a score of 7 to 4. Our opponents played a game every bit as good as the one put up the day before, but Washington and Lee fielded better and did not run up against the same hard luck. Although we did not get many more hits off Stein than off of Reynolds, they came in at more opportune times, especially four in the seventh inning which scored as many runs.

The game started off looking a little bad for Washington and Lee. Our team seemed to be slightly nervous and several bad errors were made. Both teams scored one run in the first inning. In the second inning both sides went down in one, two, three order. Syracuse added two more runs to their score in the third, neither of which were earned. With the exception of a hit by Capt. Trimble this inning counted nothing for W. & L. Only one man made first bag for the visitors in the fourth and he got no further. Three men were put out for W. & L. in rapid succession. The fifth was uneventful, both sides being quickly returned. In the sixth our stock began to rise, Ford and Porter getting a two and three-bagger respectively, and two runs being scored. The visitors did nothing in this inning, but added one more to their score in the seventh. With W. & L. it was truly a case of the "lucky seventh," for our fellows got on to the curves of their opponent's slab artist and landed four hits, one being a three bagger and two two-baggers. Four men crossed the home plate. The remainder of the game was uneventful, W. & L. being speedily returned in the eighth and the visitors getting only one hit in the last two innings.

Our victory of yesterday was largely due to the playing of Captain Trimble. Out of four times up Kelly made three hits, behind the bat he caught his usual good, steady game, and in running bases he "used his bun" and showed that he knows the game well. "Red" Porter in the box pitched a fine game of ball and proved himself to be a slab artist of no mean ability. Ford at shortstop played good ball. The whole team showed up very well at bat.

We are to be congratulated upon having taken one of the two games from Syracuse, for they were undoubtedly a fast bunch and good with the stick. Many say that it is the best team which has come to Lexington for some years.

The wisdom of Manager Toms plan of selling season tickets at a small price provided that a certain number take them is apparent to all. Large crowds now come out to the games; in consequence the rooting is better and thus the team is spurred on to greater efforts. In addition the manager by this system has some idea at the beginning of the season as to how he stands financially. It would be well for all future managers to carry out Manager Toms' scheme.

Evangelistic Services

The meeting of the association last Sunday was devoted to a service of song and of prayer for the success of the meetings which Dr. T. M. Hawes is holding in our midst. Dr. Quarles and President Larrick both made instructive talk as to how the work should be conducted.

These meetings were begun on Sunday, and are being held twice a day in the spacious Presbyterian church, and they will be continued there a part of next week.

No Game Monday

The Lynchburg nine arrived in Lexington on the early C. & O. last Monday and left again at 10:25 as it was raining too hard to have a game. We may arrange another game with Lynchburg late in the season.

The S. B. C. ribbon society will give a German Tuesday night in the McCrum hall.

It may be of interest to the students to know that Lexington will probably have an operahouse in the near future. Our authority is the Lexington Gazette.

The University of Georgia had an extremely unsuccessful football season last fall but they are making up with a vengeance having won every game on the diamond this season up to the present writing. Among the victims is her old rival, Georgia Tech.

April 7th the "Wash" started its third term of a successful year by listening to the inaugural address of Mr. William Finley Semple of Oklahoma, after which, Mr. Light, the retiring president, gave a well prepared report of the past term's work and in his usual optimistic vein talked about many needed and proposed improvements for the organization as a whole.

The treasurer, Mr. Witt, gave his report, and then the program was taken up.

The orations showed a political trend, Mr. Gabriel eulogizing Henry Clay as the "American Peace Maker," and Mr. Koontz talking about "The Optimism in American Politics." Mr. Witten gave a fine declamation.

The debate, Resolved, That small colleges are preferable to large ones, was upheld by Mr. Larrick on the affirmative and Mr. Moore on the negative. This was soon passed over and the members proceeded to discuss the Buena Vista trip, until the cool night breezes reminded them Sunday was near at hand and time for adjournment.

The Easter german will be given Monday night and the hop will be pulled off Wednesday. Present indications are that there will be an unusually large number of the fair sex present.
