WASHINGTON AND LEE UNIVERSITY, SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1906

NO. 7

Maryland Defeated

Washington and Lee won Monday's football game over the University of Maryland by the score 18 to 0. The day was almost an ideal one, but the field was a little hard and dry. W. & L. received the kick near our five-yard line, and by working a pretty pass the Marylanders were taken unawares and Shaek Bagley ran nearly the whole distance down the field for a touchdown, scoring 6 points for W. & L. in less than a minute.

The visitors did not make the mistake again of kicking off to us but chose to receive the ball themselves after this. Maryland received the ball but they were unable to advance very much and punted on their third down. The ball changed hands several times but was continually being advanced towards Maryland's goal line, which was crossed after about a minute's play. Moomaw kicked goal, making score 12 to 0.

The visitors received the ball again but were soon obliged to punt and this gave W. & L. the ball. The ball was advanced to within the thirty-yard line, and having only a few minutes play Bagley tried a drop kick, which failed to go over the goal posts, and Maryland brought out to twenty-five-yard line and punted. The half ended with a few downs with the ball in Maryland's possession and in her territory.

Throughout the second half Maryland seemed to be playing to kill time and keep W. & L. from piling up a large score. The visitors received the ball on the kick off but soon lost possession of it and W. & L. advanced to near the five-yard line. There Maryland braced up and held us for downs. Several times we were near the five-yard line and either fumbled or were held, and then Bagley tried a drop kick, which was blocked, but a W. & L. man fell on the ball and it was this time carried across the goal, scoring six more points, making eighteen in all. Again Maryland received the kick off and played very slow. Neither side had very much advantage in the remainder of this half and time was up with the ball on Maryland's thirty-yard line and in their possession.

C. F. Bagley hurt his shoulder severely about the middle of this half and will probably be out of the game for the remainder of the season.

Time of halves, 25 minutes.

The Legal "Ticker" (?)

It would be useless for anyone to attempt to argue that the Law School Library is not a busy place. No time is ever lost there. To the Juniors, time is worth a fortune; to the Seniors it cannot be estimated. One may go to the library before breakfast and there he will find Seniors hustling up cases they should have read the night before, and the clock will gravely inform you that it is 5:20. You may return after breakfast, read your text, sandwich on a few cases in corporations or pleading, argue a point or two with Moore or Micheler and leave just in time for dinner, and lo! it is still 5:20 by the "ticker" (?) on the wall.

On the 14th day of September, of the present session, the law library opened at 5:20, and strange to relate it is still there. The old clock gravely and silently (silence gives consent) declares week in and week out that it is 5:20. Next June, when the new "legal lights" go forth to fight and conquer, it will probably still be insisting on 5:20.

Florida Club

The Florida Club convened Thursday evening, Nov. 1st, in the large dining hall of the Ideal Cafe. About thirty minutes were consumed in dispensing with the business of the Club, after which a sumptuous feast was spread before the jovial sons of Florida, who showed their appreciation of the occasion and loyalty to the "Land of Flowers" by devouring the many good things with "gator" rapidity.

Orators were in evidence and some brilliant and witty toasts were given and responded to. All had an excellent time and left convinced that Florida is the home of the "keen herbs."

Wash. Society

The Washington Literary Society met on Saturday evening, Oct. 27, and officers for the ensuing term were elected as follows:

President, Mr. Smithson.
Vice-President, Mr. Larrick.
Secretary, Mr. Page.
Treasurer, Mr. Lease.
Critic, Mr. Raegan.

Our former worthy president, Mr. Grey Moore of Muskogee, I. T., was, amid tumultuous shouts and prolonged applause, chosen to the exalted position of censor by acclamation.

H. C. Burton was elected Wash. reporter for the Ring-tum Phi.

The Wash. Society convened in regular session on Saturday evening, Nov. 3, with President Grey Moore in the chair.

Mr. Moore delivered his farewell address, which was filled with good advice, lofty thoughts and gems of oratory.

The new officers were installed and President Smithson delivered his inaugural address, which was a masterpiece of logic and oratory.

Messrs. Carter and Gassman delivered splendid orations.

The remainder of the program was dispensed with, upon the invitation of the Graham-Lee, to hold a joint session of the two societies.

Upon the termination of the joint session the Wash. reconvened and Messrs. Raegan, Smithson and Crews were chosen delegates to represent old Wash. in the joint celebration to be held in January, 1907.

Graham-Lee Society

Immediately after roll call the motion was made that the Washington Society be invited for joint session. The motion was carried and a committee appointed to extend an invitation to the other society. While this committee was absent attention was turned to regular business and the program. Messrs. Burks and Lucas rendered declamations.

On the arrival of the Washington Society President Larrick called President Smithson of that body, to the chair and B. F. Berry was elected joint recorder.

An animated discussion followed regarding the election of inter-collegiate debater. It was finally decided that a preliminary contest shall be held on the second Saturday night in January in which three debaters elected by each society and as many volunteers as desire shall participate.

The joint session ended we returned to business. The remainder of the program was moved up one week and the election of preliminary debaters held. Messrs. Pilkington, Jones and McGuire were elected. After the reading of certain portions of the new constitution, which will go into effect at the next meeting, the society adjourned.

Lexington-Star Course

EX-GOV. ROBERT L. TAYLOR

The third entertainment of the Lexington Star Course will be given tonight at 8 o'clock. Bob Taylor of Tennessee, senator-elect from that state, will present an entirely new lecture on the subject, "The Funny Side of Politics." Governor "Bob" is an orator of the first class, and as an entertainer is surpassed by none.

While Governor of Tennessee he was known as the "chicken-hearted governor," because of the great number he pardoned from the prison of that state. But "the man whose breast was tender enough to feel the tragedy of a mother's tears pleading for her convict boy, also had the broad sense of humor to see the funny side of politics."

The following is one of the many press comments on his ability on the lecture platform:

New York Herald (editorially): Whether with mouth or fiddle, Ex-Governor Robert L. Taylor, of Tennessee, is easily one of the most accomplished performers of the world. * * * As a Paganini among politicians and a Patrick Henry among fiddlers, the Ex-Governor is undoubtedly the most admirable product of the moonshine region of his admirable state. * * * Whether as fiddler, orator or patriot, he is an unqualified success, and a credit to the country of which his native moonlit mountains form so picturesque a part.

Y. M. C. A.

On next Sunday evening, Nov. 11, at 2.45, there will be a meeting in Engineering Hall, preparatory to the week of prayer, which will last throughout the week, excepting Saturday.

As these meetings will begin at 7.45 p. m. and last only thirty minutes no student will be inconvenienced by attending. Let every man show his interest in these services by being present.

In an issue of several weeks past the management offered a prize of five ($5.00) dollars to the person submitting the best college yell, and a like sum for the best college song. This contest was to close in one month, and one of the conditions of the contest was that, at least, twenty-five of each be handed in before the date of expiration.

Now it is evident from the number of songs and yells published that nothing like the number required has been submitted. We cannot understand why the men do not take an interest in this matter. There can be no doubt but that the college needs a good yell and a song or two. Why then is it that no one seems prone to enter the contest? It cannot be because we lack men who have the ability to do this kind of work.
Nor on the other hand can it be because the prize is insufficient.
Many beginners in the literary field are only too glad to have their "gems" published, much less receive anything in the way of compensation.

So come forth with your productions and give W. & L. some yells and songs with which to celebrate our victorious season on the gridiron and give us the material to usher in the baseball season with a vim that ever characterises
W. & L. rooters.

Game Proponed

As originally scheduled the Varsity football team was to play
George Washington University
eleven in Washington yesterday
Nov. 9th, 1906. But owing to the fact that certain other games are billed for that date in Washington our game has been changed to Tuesday, Nov. 13th, 1906.

George Washington has a fast team this year and one that has made a fine record during the season, but when they lock horns
with the boys that wear the white and blue they will meet their superiors on the gridiron. Our game with Georgetown was a credit to the school even though we lost by a mishap. Monday's game will be a good one and we wish our boys the best of success.

Rockingham Club

At a meeting of the Rockingham Club Saturday night the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: A. K. Hopkins, president; H. H. Chandler, vice-president; G. W. Ellinger, secretary; W. B. Keezel, treasurer.

The Club has the largest membership since its foundation, and the meetings promise to be full of interest. All members are requested to be present at the next meeting on Nov. 24. The place of meeting will be announced later.

University Assembly

The next meeting of the University Assembly will be held Wednesday morning, Nov. 14, at 10 o'clock. The address will be delivered by Mr. John L. Williams of Richmond, Va. Lectures will be suspended from 10 to 11 o'clock.

THE RING-TUM PHI

LEXINGTON, VA., NOV. 10, 1906

Y. M. C. A.

The regular weekly meeting of the Association was addressed on Sunday afternoon by Mr. J. H. Larrick. He took for his theme "Forgiveness" as set forth in St. John 18, beginning at the 21st verse. We get a better idea of the true meaning of forgiveness, said Mr. Larrick, if we substitute "forgiveness" for "mercy" in Portia's famous words, "The quality of mercy is not strained." In forgiveness there are two classes of conditions—the conditions with God and the conditions with man. The conditions with God are impartial, purely gracious, equitable, absolute. The conditions with man are represented by five words,—repentance, renunciation, restitution, faith in Christ, forgiving spirit. "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and all other things shall be added unto you. Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy."

We wish to call attention to the fact that these meetings are for the student body in general. They are for YOU. We want to see YOU out tomorrow and every Sunday afternoon. Reid Hall 2:45 p. m.

Mr. Daingerfield Entertains

On Thursday night Mr. Daingerfield gave an informal but delightful party in the K. A. fraternity room in honor of Miss Fay Daingerfield of Kentucky, and Miss Frances Lucas of Pennsylvania. A delightful collation was served and enjoyed by all. Those present were charmingly chaperoned by Miss Bessie Daingerfield of Kentucky; and among them were Misses Fay Daingerfield, Frances Lucas, Mary and Elizabeth Barclay, May Haskins, Nell Brockenbrough, Emma Staples and Miss Hotchkiss of Richmond, Messrs. Branch Johnson, Ted Barclay, Pile, Snead, and the members of the Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Kentucky Club

The members of the Kentucky Club were delightfully entertained at the regular meeting Thursday evening as guests of Col. Strassel. Few matters of importance requiring immediate consideration presented themselves and the executive session was therefore short. The remainder of the evening, until a late hour, was spent around the festal board.

Invitations are out for the marriage of Mr. David Edward Witt, of the class of '02, to Miss Belle Almond, at the home of the bride's parents in Lynchburg, Va., Nov. 14th, '06.

MISS STAPLES' DEBUT

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Staples Introduce Their Daughter, Miss Emma Staples, to Lexington Society

There is this advantage in an old order that changeth not, that when the Fairy Queen waves her wand and a new order is introduced a thrill of untarnished joy goes through the order.

Such a thrill ran through the throng of young people gathered in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Staples last night. For Lexington society was not only introduced to their lovely daughter, Miss Emma Staples, but to a form of entertainment novel to Lexington society, a home german.

As the couples came tripping down the stairs their eyes were immediately drawn to the beautiful young hostess as she stood with her arms filled with gorgeous chrysanthemums, almost hiding her exquisite white frock—a joy to all eyes and a disturbing sight to many hearts. Mrs. Staples was on one hand and Miss Mary Staples of Roanoke, on the other; Mrs. Nichols, Miss White and Mrs. Stevens completing the receiving line.

Was the debutante a mascot?

Surely this spirit of fresh, exuberant joy caught the entire company and carried them through to the end.

The first german figure was led by Miss Staples and Mr. A. T. Barclay, Jr., and in and out of the beautiful large rooms and spacious hall, the line of prettily gowned girls with their partners wound.

Other german figures followed later in the evening; all were extremely pretty and gone through with enthusiasm.

There was one mark of the old order still present in this charming entertainment, for there were four men to a girl, as has long been customary in this village by the college walls.

When throats had begun to grow thirsty a glimpse was caught of a big bowl of frozen "something," and immediately that corner was very popular, and because of the deliciousness of the ice continued to be so. This cooling taste was to whet the appetites for a delightful supper which soon followed.

The spirit of the company rose so high that it sought expression and from opposite sides of the hall came the sound of voices joined in song.

As the clock on the stairs struck one the couples again came down the steps, this time with reluctant feet.

Enthusiastic congratulations were showered upon the pretty belle of the ball as the goodbyes were said.

Lexington society has not only a hearty welcome to tender to Miss Staples, but much thanks for the most charming evening.
