Death of a Washington and Lee Alumnus

Colonel Joseph H. Sherrard Died Tuesday Morning

Colonel Joseph Holmes Sherrard died early Tuesday morning in Lexington, after an illness of some months from brights disease. In his death Lexington loses a man who has been an interesting figure for many years. Possessing a mind of superior culture and a disposition of hearty frankness and sociability, Colonel Sherrard was the life of any company in which he was found. He had a wonderful fund of incidents and jokes, which he related with rare attractiveness, so much so that his hearers were always entertained and instructed.

Colonel Sherrard was a son of Judge Joseph H. Sherrard of Winchester, Va., where he was born Nov. 14, 1835. He was, therefore, only a few days over 71 years of age. His early life was spent in Winchester, and during the session of 1860-61 he attended Judge John W. Brockenbrough's famous Law School in Lexington, which afterwards became the Washington and Lee University Law School. After graduation Colonel Sherrard spent some years in Illinois. He was a gallant soldier of the Confederacy and served with distinction in Company F, 2nd Virginia Infantry, Stonewall Brigade, and later as lieutenant in Company H, 11th Virginia Cavalry, Rosser's Brigade. He was several times wounded in battle, and for a time served as prisoner at Johnson's Island.

Colonel Sherrard in 1865 married Miss Rachel Primrose Cameron, daughter of the late Colonel A. W. Cameron of near Lexington, who died about 20 years ago and was buried in Bath county. For a while after his marriage he lived in Rockbridge, and later removed to Bath county, where he resided until the year 1886, when he returned to Rockbridge and located near Lexington. For the past 15 years he resided in Lexington. While living in Bath county he represented this district in the State Senate during the days of Readjusterism. Some years after the death of his first wife Colonel Sherrard married a Miss Cochran of Staunton, who survives.

Colonel Sherrard is survived by three children, Messrs. J. Holmes and A. Cameron Sherrard of Clinchport, Va., and Miss Rose Sherrard of Lexington. Another daughter, Mrs. Frank S. Coe, died some years ago. One sister also survives, Miss Lizzie Sherrard of Winchester.

The funeral took place Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock from R. E. Lee Memorial Episcopal church, conducted by the rector, Rev. W. Cosby Bell, and the remains were laid to rest in the Lexington cemetery. The pallbearers were Judge W. P. Houston, Colonel J. D. H. Ross, Captain J. Preston Moore, Captain J. A. McNeel, Captain A. M. Monroe, Captain D. E. Moore, Messrs. A. T. Barelay, W. C. Stuart, J. A. Jackson and J. Gassman.

"Charley's Aunt" to Appear Monday and Tuesday

"Charley's Aunt," the charming three-act farce to be presented by the Dramatic club of our institution on the nights of Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 26th and 27th, will open the season for the Dramatic club. It will be given in the new "Opera House," which has but lately been completed.

The story of the play is that of two college boys, and their love-making is greatly complicated by the failure of their aunt to appear as chaperone for a luncheon given by the boys. Lord Fencourt Babberly, their college chum, is prevailed upon to disguise himself and act the part of chaperone. The situations that follow are laughable to the last degree. The farce is continuous and an evening of entire enjoyment is promised.

Admission 50 and 75 cents. Tickets on sale at Stuart's bookstore.

West Virginia Men Organize

The West Virginia Club met last week and effected an organization by electing C. A. Engle president; C. S. Osbourn, vice-president; H. Anderson, secretary and treasurer, and W. Leese, historian.

Much enthusiasm was manifested, and if the club does not go astray it will likely get busy. Several speeches were delivered lauding the merits and accomplishments of our retiring president, Dr. A. F. White, and dwelling on the glories of the Little Mountain State in past, present and future, after which the meeting adjourned.

Mr. Lee Weds Miss Graham

One of the most beautiful weddings ever witnessed in Lexington, Va., took place at the home of Colonel and Mrs. N. Beverley Tucker this evening at 6 o'clock, when Mr. Archibald Cameron Lee led to the altar Miss Margaret Alexander Graham.

The scene was one of great beauty, the front drawing room being most artistically decorated for the occasion with numerous incandescent lights, palms and yellow and white chrysanthemums.

To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, exquisitely played by Mrs. Watts, the bridal party entered in the following order: First, the ribbon bearers, Masters Mercer Graham and Morgan Pendleton, dressed in white. Then came Miss Nannie Graham, sister of the bride, and maid of honor, wearing a beautiful gown of white sateen and baby Irish lace, carrying yellow chrysanthemums. The bride entered through the back drawing room on the arm of her brother-in-law, Colonel N. Beverley Tucker, looking lovely in an exquisite princess gown of white velvet and duchess lace with veil of tulle and an armful of white chrysanthemums. She was met, as she neared the altar, by the groom with his best man, Mr. Robert Glasgow of Charlotte, N. C., where they plighted their troth.

The ceremony was very impressively performed by her pastor, Rev. Thompson B. Southall.

Immediately following this they held a reception to about a hundred guests, at which delightful refreshments were served.

The bride is a member of one of Virginia's oldest families and a daughter of the late Dr. John Alexander Graham, who was one of Lexington's most prominent physicians. She is endowed with many charms and accomplishments, which have made her very popular in Lexington society. The groom is a promising young business man of Atlanta, Ga., who is well known here, having completed his education at Washington and Lee University. Every one gave them Goodspeed amidst a shower of rice and old shoes. They left on the evening train for an extended trip South and will be at home after December 1 at Charlotte, N. C.

THANKSGIVING DANCES

The Cotillion Club will give the Thanksgiving german next Wednesday night and hop on Thursday night.

The german will start at 9 o'clock and from then until the supper intermission it will be a regular german. One side, or half the couple out first, they will dance until the whistle, and each girl dancing will then lead out or favor another man, either from the opposite side or from the stags, and each man will favor a girl from the opposite side; they will dance until the whistle, when a simple figure will be led, then dance until the whistle for "seats," when each man dancing will take his partner to the seat she had at first. There will then be a very short intermission or breaks, and each girl will be with the man she came with during these breaks. When the music starts the other side will be led out as was the first side and go through the dance in the same manner. After both sides have been led out there will be a "stag" lead. Engagements for these may be made by the "stags" beforehand. After the first "stag" lead the first side will be led out again; dance, favor, go through a figure, dance, and then to their seats as before; then the second side out and then the second "stag" lead, etc. All couples will keep the same seats they have at first all during the dance up to the first "intermission," which will be about ten or fifteen minutes long, and will come during the middle of the german; they may then take different seats if they so desire. The second "intermission" will be at the end of the german proper and will be the supper break. Engagements may be made for these two intermissions for stag leads, and for hop breaks after the second intermission.

The hop will be the following night and will last from 8:15 to 12. Owing to the early hour of stopping the dance will have to start as early as possible.

Over twenty girls are expected in Lexington for these two dances and to see "Charlie's Aunt."

Brent E. Clark, B. S. '06, of Winchester, Va., is now doing engineering work near Madisonville, Ky.

Its a farce. What? "Charley's Aunt."

"The Honor System Downed"

is the somewhat amazing title of an article appearing in the West Virginia University Weekly, recounting the action of the Sophomore class of that institution in rejecting the "honor system."

We say amazing, because to those of us who have lived at an institution where that plan has always been in vogue, it can be nothing less than amazing that college men, men who are presumed to be the choice of young manhood, should reject a plan that rests its foundation on honor and integrity.

The question of the adoption of the "honor system" was first suggested by Dr. Purinton, head of the University. Some time ago the President called a meeting of the presidents of the various classes for the purpose of explaining to them the working of the "honor system" and the manner of introducing it into that University. He left it wholly with the student body whether they should adopt or reject this plan. He asked the presidents of the different classes to take it up at their next meeting.

"The result was," says the article referred to, "that the sophomore class voted unanimously to reject the honor system. Not a member ventured to register a vote in its behalf. Indeed, a very antagonistic sentiment concerning the proposition characterized the meeting."

At this same meeting a committee was appointed to "write and publish resolutions setting forth the reasons why the system was not adopted." We are anxious to see these resolutions, not that we believe there can be manufactured any plausible reason why college men should not stand upon their honor as men, but simply to see what reasons they may assign for the continuation of that plan, which means that "all's fair in love and—examinations."

FOOTBALL PROSPECTS

Although prospects for more football games this fall are not very bright there is still hope of a Thanksgiving game. The early part of the week Coach Brown went to Washington in hopes of settling the George Washington game but their manager refused him any terms. They claimed that although they would be glad to play us, the game was not a necessity with them, and as they would lose heavily they were not willing to give us the date.

While away Brown also notified Swathmore, Baltimore Medical College and Johns Hopkins University that we could offer them a date, and it is from one of these that we hope to get a game. We also have made Richmond College another offer but there is little hope of success from that source.

The cancelling of the Hampden Sidney and the George Washington game was very unfortunate and the team deserves all kinds of credit for holding together the way it has through the long stretches without games.

Wash. Society

The Wash. Society convened in regular session Saturday, Nov. 17.

Officers and contestants for the annual celebration to be held Feb. 22, were elected, viz:

President, Mr. Grey Moore.
Chief Marshal, Mr. H. Mann Page.

Vice-President, Mr. Turnbull.
Secretary, Mr. F. Marvin Durance.
Orators, Mr. Raegan and Mr. Berry.

Debaters, Messrs. Crews, Randolph, Richardson and Kenney.

Excellent orations were delivered by Mr. Thompson on "American Manhood" and Mr. Koontz on "Energy." Both handled their subjects well and were unusually good. The remainder of the program was dispensed with and the Graham-Lee were invited to hold a joint session with us.

After adjournment of the joint session Mr. Spahr delivered an oration. The usual debate was postponed one week and society adjourned.

M. Caraballo, Jr., spent Sunday at the home of his wife's parents.

Mr. Beatty, member of the senior law class, will make a flying visit to Buena Vista tomorrow.

"Buster" Brown paid Washington, D. C., a visit this week in the interest of football.

Wade Lease, the efficient Economics librarian, is on the sick list this week.

"Boots" Fleming has left college for a few days on account of illness. We hope "Boots" will soon be able to be with us again.

Miss Brockenbrough, who has been visiting Miss Wilson in Norfolk for the past ten days, will return to Lexington in a few days.

Among the visiting girls for the Thanksgiving days will be: Misses Marie Neill, Peggie Neill, Bagley, Stevenson, Blackburn, Terry, Forbes, Heald, Caskie, Williams and Miles.

J. O. Faulkner of Winchester, Va., has been elected by the senior academics to fill the vacancy on the Ring-tum Phi board, caused by the withdrawal of Mr. W. R. Shields.

The Fortnightly Club held its regular meeting last Friday night and was entertained at Mrs. Graham's by Mr. B. E. Vaughan. The paper for the evening's discussion was on "Aesthetics" and rendered by Professor D. C. Humphreys.

Grids.

Ask Dinges how he enjoyed the trip to Washington with the football squad. He will answer either in English or flavored Tennesseean.

Couldn't the manager of the football team arrange a game with the Sunny Jims for Thanksgiving to be played either at Lexington or Buena Vista? W. & M. wouldn't get in ahead of him on that deal. We would all root for Captain "Monk" during the game.

If you desire warm meals at late hours, and other favors at the hands of the lady of the ranch, don't call her biscuits sinkers. Do your thinking in silence. If you eat them for supper you will have plenty of time to do your thinking during wakeful hours of the night.

Y. M. C. A. Sunday Afternoon

The meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association was addressed on Sunday afternoon by Professor Addison Hogue. The subject of Mr. Hogue's talk was "Sunday Study," and he stated in a plain, clear, straightforward way why he thought Sunday study was wrong. There are those who argue that the fourth commandment is not binding upon us on the ground that Christ healed on the Sabbath day; but, said Mr. Hogue, "Unless you can show plainly that it is not binding upon us; we should obey it until some wiser man gives us another." The other nine commandments did not go into obscurity with the Jewish ritual and neither did the fourth. Christ's healing on the Sabbath day was a necessity. There is no sharp line of distinction between what may be considered by different individuals as to what is right and what is wrong, but it is certain that the student who voluntarily and constantly makes a practice of Sunday study is breaking God's commandment. You don't have to study on Sunday.

Kentucky "Colonels"

The regular by-weekly meeting of the "Colonels" was held in the rooms of Cols, Lord and Dorsey, at the home of Major Houston, on Thursday night.

The business part of the meeting might be mentioned were it not for the fact that the delightful collation served overshadowed all else. Many of the good things placed before the appreciative "Colonels" came from our grand old "Blue grass State."
