BASEBALL OUTLOOK

Good Prospects for a Strong Team for This Season

The bad weather of the past month has retarded the practice considerably, but enough work has been done to give the coach and captain such hopes as to predict that W. & L. will have a team this year stronger than those of the past two seasons.

Every loyal fan is full of praise for his team at this time of the year and brags about the good material in sight. There is such good material in college that every one who is at all interested in baseball will undoubtedly see a team representing W. & L. this year which will come up to their expectations. There were many good ball players cut from the squad, but the number of candidates was so large that the best men only for each position were retained. These men will be given work all the season, so that positions left vacant next season by graduation will not lack suitable candidates. The coach has tried to plan for next season as well as this one.

Our prospects are bright. In Johnson and Porter W. & L. has two of the most experienced and seasoned pitchers in Southern colleges. Upon them will fall the brunt of the work, and they are equal to the task. Last year both were worked so hard and often that their effectiveness was little shown. From among Gwathney, Lambertson, Pyrates, Bagley and Warren two pitchers will be selected to help the other men. All will be kept on the squad, as they will be needed next year. So far they are of about equal ability, though Pyrates has had more experience than the others.

Anthony, Hood and Chenoweth are working hard for the catcher's position. Anthony should be better than last year. Hood, captain of last year's second team, is a good man, while Chenoweth is also a good catcher. He caught for Bingham school two seasons.

Luhn is about the only man in the infield all the sure of his position. His work as a fielder and batter is too well known to need any comment.

Bagley, T. O., and Knote are candidates for second. Bagley is a good hitter and a fair, sure fielder. Knote, a Freshman, is doing good work.

Miles, Brown and Glasgow are about equal in their fielding, and their batting will about decide their selection for short.

Chatham and Willis should strengthen the team where it was weakest last year—at third. Both field cleverly and are experienced.

The outfield at present is worrying both coach and captain. The men who field well are weak hitters, and the ones who hit well are not fast fielders. The material is only fair and will have to be developed.

Sulzbacher, Zentmyer, Williams, Streit, Whittington, Moomaw, Bagley, C. B., and Maxwell are the men left from about twenty candidates.

It is certain that the team will be stronger in its pitching staff. The infield will be faster and made up of better hitters than last year. The outfield last year was strong, and one can be developed this year which will be as strong. The whole team should be faster on bases and stronger in hitting. There are such good men working for every position that each man will have to do his best all the time in order to hold his place. Last year, at times, some of the team played indifferent ball, as they knew there were none to take their positions. This year it is far different and the team should be stronger.

In Captain Johnson we have a leader who not only himself works hard every minute of a game, but who will see that his team mates do likewise. There is a better spirit among the men, and if the student body does its part the team will be one that all will be proud of.

Kappa Sigma Banquet

The Kappa Sigma fraternity held its annual banquet on last Monday night, that date being the anniversary of the chapter's establishment at Washington & Lee. After a delightful repast had been served several enjoyable toasts were responded to. Besides the members of the chapter there were present Mr. H. E. D. Wilson of the University of Virginia, Mr. W. S. Foster of Norfolk, and Cadet Hobson of the V. M. I.

Those who have not paid their RING-TUM PHI subscriptions will oblige the manager by doing so at once, as he needs the money.

THE R. E. LEE MEMORIAL For the University

At a meeting held in Richmond Friday, March 8, a movement was projected for the purpose of raising $100,000, with which to establish and endow at Washington & Lee University the "Robert E. Lee Memorial Chair of American History," and to rehabilitate the Lee Memorial Chapel. The meeting was held under the auspices of a joint committee from the Confederate Veterans, the Confederate Memorial Literary Society, and the University Alumni in Richmond.

The idea of establishing a memorial at W. & L. was started by President Roosevelt's letter of Jan. 19, expressing the hope that a suitable memorial to General Lee be established at some great educational institution in the United States. The most fitting place for this memorial was conceded by everybody to be Washington and Lee.

Of the $100,000 endowment $25,000 is to be used in rehabilitating the chapel in which rest Lee's remains. Among those who spoke heartily commending the movement were Dr. Hamilton Mabie, scholar and litterateur, and Governor Swanson, who pledged his enthusiastic support and earnest co-operation in the memorial movement.

The work of raising subscriptions will be a national movement, the president of the Memorial Fund Association being Dr. George H. Denny; Mrs. Kate Minor, secretary, and Mr. John L. Campbell treasurer. When vice-presidents and board of directors for each of the Southern and Eastern States have been selected the association will apply for a charter, and a national movement will be inaugurated to raise by popular subscription the amount stated in the plan and devote it to the purposes indicated.

The University of North Carolina branch of the Y. M. C. A. recently dedicated their handsome new building at Chapel Hill. This is one of the most beautiful college Y. M. C. A. buildings in the South.

This season marks the close of professional coaching in athletics at the Univ. of Va., as the faculty has just adopted a system by which only alumni coaches will be employed.

MOOT COURT

Hon. M.P. Burks on the bench. The following attorneys were fined for absence at last term of court: Darnell and McDonough, and MacDonald, absent from last roll call.

Court handed down decision in case of Seigal v. Norfolk & Western Railway Co., overruling demurrer of defendant.

In case of Wakefield's admr. v. Standard Oil Co., judgment was for plaintiff, and in case of Spencer's Admr. v. Southern Railway Co. and Maddox, operator, on question of joinder of the defendants, court held that it could be done.

Court adjourned until first April term.

The Alpine Entertainers

The last entertainment of the Lyceum courses for 1906-1907 was held in the chapel on Wednesday night. Though the musical was not so good as the former ones it was quite enjoyable and well patronized by the students and townspeople. The selections of the elocutionist were well rendered, especially the merciless mimic of the "Eternal Gossip." The songs and cornet selections of Miss Linn were well received, while the violinist brought forth much deserved applause.

It is very much regretted that some of the students should, by boisterous and unbecoming conduct, have made the entertainment disagreeable to those of refined manners. This has been cause of much comment, and the reader's attention is called to an editorial on the same.

Calyx Notice

The manager of the Calyx must, according to the terms of his contract, make a payment of $100 to the printers of the annual before March 19th, 1907. It is absolutely essential, therefore, that all fraternities, clubs, classes and seniors who have not paid up will do so at once.

The manager also desires to announce that so far only three hundred subscriptions have been received and this will be the total ordered. It is, therefore, necessary that every one desiring extra copies will sign subscription cards at once, so that orders may be placed with printers.

Rockbridge County News Print

This will be the last issue of the RING-TUM PHI until Saturday, March 30th, the issue of March 23rd being omitted because of the holding of examinations during that week.

It is indeed "to be regretted" that on the occasion of the entertainment in the Chapel on Wednesday night the conduct of a part of the students should have been so unseemly as to warrant just comment and harsh criticism. To say the least, the behavior of some students was "boisterous" and "unbecoming" of gentlemen having proper regard for the presence of ladies and others of refined manners. To put the complaint in plain terms, "a rough house was raised" by prolonged stamping, whistling, hissing and yelling. Such conduct might be excusable had there not been ladies in the entertaining company and audience, and the place another than a sacred chapel. Former offences are no grounds for excuse.

We hardly think that a cultured person who was present on Wednesday night carried away a high regard for the personnel of the student body of Washington and Lee. The fact that the disturbance may have been due to the infantile and thoughtless few lightens the burden of reproach that falls on the whole student body.

If the students of Washington and Lee University have to be reminded of the presence of ladies and gentlemen it seems advisable to turn the institution into a kindergarten training school, with a reformatory adjoining.

In conclusion, it is to be distinctly understood that this is not meant as pertaining to any person or persons save the general class who were causing the disturbance on the said night. As we have said, the matter has caused no little comment, and it is to be hoped that there will be no more causes for such complaints against the department of the members of our student body.

S. A. E. Banquet

According to their custom the members of the Virginia Sigma chapter of the S. A. E. fraternity commemorated the founding of their order with their Founders' Day banquet last Saturday evening at Mrs. Graham's.

The large round table was tastefully decorated with bands of old gold and royal purple ribbon, yellow chrysanthemums, purple hyacinths and yellow candles with a buttonhole bouquet of violets, their national flower, at each plate.

Mr. E. L. Graham presided as toastmaster, and in addition to the local chapter the following members of the fraternity were present: Captain Noland and Captain Newman of the V. M. I., Cadets Johnson and Charlton, Davant and McCredy of Roanoke.

Y. M. C. A.

Last Sunday afternoon the Young Men's Christian Association was addressed by Dr. James Lewis Howe. His speech supplimented the address delivered the Sunday previous by Mr. Ralston, his subject being "The choosing of a Life Work." Dr. Howe did not confine himself to any one profession or calling, but emphasized the fact that a man should try to choose his profession from unselfish motives, and should follow that in which he thinks he can do the most good for his fellowman. Too many men, whether they afterwards become highly useful to their fellow men or not, select their profession from a selfish standpoint. The address was very appropriate as we are nearing another college year.

Oh, the leanness of a Senior
When he is lean;
And the meanness of a Junior
When he is mean;
But the leanness of the Senior
And the meanness of the Junior
Can never equal the greenness of the Freshman
When he is green.

DR. HENNEMAN

Addresses University Assembly

The University assembly Friday morning was addressed by Dr. Jno. B. Henneman, professor of Literature at the University of the South, Sewanee, Tenn., and editor of the Sewanee Review. Dr. Henneman chose a literary topic, selecting as his theme the genius of Shakespeare's as manifested in his ability to unite the comic and the tragic. After brief introductory remarks in which he compared Shakespeare with other great poets, ancient and modern, Dr. Henneman proceeded to trace the development and perfection of his genius as evidenced in his portrayal of the great characters in his successive plays. Dr. Henneman paid particular attention to the tragedies. We regret that a more detailed report of the address cannot be given, as Dr. Henneman's treatment of his subject was both very entertaining and exceedingly instructive.

Wash. Society

One of the most enjoyable and instructive meetings of the year was held last Saturday night in "Old Wash." hall. Every one seemed to be in a "speeling" humor, so that interest never lagged. The program as rendered was as follows:

Anderson gave a very carefully prepared oration on "The Status of the Negro." This was followed by two excellent declamations by Messrs. Spahr and Page. The question,

"Resolved, That legislation requiring all corporations to take out Federal charters should be enacted," was ably defended by Mr. Alexander and Izard on the affirmative, while Messrs. Somerville and Sterret argued in favor of the negative. The judges decided in favor of the negative. Officers of the society were elected as follows:

- President, Speight.
  - Vice President, Turnbull.
  - Secretary, Kenney.
  - Treasurer, Koontz.
  - Censor, Batten.
  - Critic, D. S. MacDonald.
  - Ring-tum Phi reporter, Burton.
- Final orators elected were, Messrs. Osbourn and Berry.

While in Richmond last week President Denny received assurance from Governor Swanson that the battleflag of the Fourth Virginia regiment, behind which many Rockbridge boys fought and suffered, will be among those deposited for preservation at the Lee Mausoleum at Washington and Lee.

On to Lynchburg March 29th.

On to Lynchburg March 29th.

Dr. Jas. A. Quarles of W. & L., will occupy the pulpit of Trinity Methodist church tomorrow morning and probably in the evening also.

The Willingsport Baseball team of the Tri-State League, will be in Lexington ready for practice by the time exams. are over. Let all men go out and aid our boys in showing the "Leaguers" a few trick of the game.

The many friends of William Finley Semple will be glad to learn of his debut into the professional world. "Bill" has opened a law office in Durant, Ind. Ter., and though he says he has not chased many clients away from his office, yet we believe he will ultimately meet with that success which is justly his.

Tennesseans Treated Well at W. & L.

The "Orange and White," the weekly paper, of University of Tennessee, is high in its praise of the manner in which the debating team of that University was treated while in Lexington, and were fully satisfied with the decision of the judges in the inter-collegiate debate with W. & L. on March 2. The "Orange and Blue" says in part:

"The Tennessee boys were given a hearty reception, and the applause given them from time to time by the audience demonstrated the fact that Virginians can be as generous as enemies as they are as friends.

"The Tennessee debaters were entertained with all the hospitality that a Virginian can bestow. Every courtesy was extended them, and their stay at the quaint old town of Lexington was one of continuous pleasure, not even excepting the defeat, for it was administered so delicately and good-naturedly that most of its sting was lost."

Cotillion Club Notice

There will be two dances given by the Cotillion Club Easter week.

Monday, April 1, 9 to 1. Admission $1.50; Club members $1.00.

Tuesday, April 2, 8:15 to 12. Admission, $1.25; Club members $1.00.

Owing to the expenses of these dances it is requested that all men bring money with them to the dancers.

On to Lynchburg March 29th.

Texas Banquet

All the cowboys from the Lone Star State held a banquet on the night of March 2, to celebrate the 71st anniversary of the Declaration of Independence of Texas. The banquet was held at the University Inn and was most excellently served. After every one had done due justice to the supper and had gotten his Turkish cigarette or briar into good working order, Toastmaster Boyette with the aid of his six-shooter succeeded in maintaining silence for a few moments, there began a flow of eloquence in eulogy of Texas and her heroes, the like of which was never heard before.

Sometime between midnight and dawn the company adjourned mid the salvo of its own artillery.

On to Lynchburg March 29th.

An election being on hand for last Saturday night the attendance was good. The society was pleased to have present as visitors Mr. C. F. Bagley and Mr. Menctree. Attendance of Mr. D. W. Pipes, though he is an old member, deserves also special mention.

The program as carried out was as follows:

Declamation of Xenophon's Speech at Byzantium, by Mr. Stevenson.

A humorous reading by Mr. McMullen.

An oration on Modern Implements of War, by Mr. Beddow.

Debate: Resolved, That athletics are being given undue importance at Washington and Lee University. Affirmative, Keebler and Leach; negative, Pipes and Desha. Decision rendered 2 to 1 in favor of the negative.

Mr. Bagley, in response to an invitation, gave a short speech favoring the negative side of the debate.

The exercises throughout were very interesting.

Messrs. Flannagan and Larrick were elected final orators.

There will be no further meeting of the society until after examinations.
