CHARLES E. BURKS

ELECTED PRESIDENT

Executive Committee Meets and Exercises New Power

A full attendance was present at the Executive Committee meeting Wednesday afternoon when the important business of electing a president of the student body was taken up. The authority was given to the executive committee by the vote of the student body last fall to elect successors to those officers who failed to return to college. Mr. W. T. Delaplaine was elected president of the student body at the general election last spring, but his failure to return necessitated the election of a successor by the executive committee. This is the first time this authority has been exercised. Mr. Charles Burks of Mississippi was elected president by a majority vote of the committee.

The question of electing a cheer leader was next taken up. It seems that no candidates came out for this office last spring and consequently no one was elected. Therefore the executive committee exercised the authority given it by the student body and chose Mr. Thomas McP. Glasgow to fill this most important position. It was recommended that he appoint a regular squad of assistants to help him lead the rooting and it is hoped by so doing that the yelling will be done by more organized bodies than heretofore, and that it will be the aid to our teams that is should be.

V. P. I. CLUB REORGANIZES

Officers Elected for Present

Session

Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock the V. P. I. men in college met to reorganize their club. D. B. Earwood was made temporary chairman and the election of officers was proceeded with. Earwood was made president for the year, with E. P. Ainsworth vice-president; Mr. R. A. Russell was selected secretary-treasurer, and Mr. L. S. Pendleton, sergeant-at-arms, and reporter to the Ring-tum Phi.

Banquets being the chief function of clubs, and the V. P. I. club in particular having a reputation along this line to uphold, it was next in order to appoint a banquet committee. President Earwood appointed Ainsworth, Alder and Pendleton to act in this capacity.

The following are the V. P. I. men who attended the meeting with the classes of that institution of which they were members: J. D. Harman, '12; J. Nicholson, '08; H. P. Apperson, '13; B. P. Ainsworth, '06; J. W. Shiles, '13; E. H. Palmer, '13; R. A. Russell, '07; D. B. Earwood, '07; A. G. Alder, '10, and L. S. Pendleton, '11.

John Wesley Avery, a well known newspaper man of Richmond, died on Sept. 19th in Richmond. Mr. Avery graduated at Washington and Lee in 1890.

WASHINGTON AND LEE DEFEATS ROANOKE

First Opportunity to Witness Try-Out of New Rules—Line Shows Up Well at Carrying Ball—Captain Waddill Strong at Punting

Washington and Lee opened the 1910 football season on Oct. 1st with a victory over Roanoke college.

It was the first chance afforded to get a look at the new football, Washington and Lee did not show much of any kind of football, new or old, until the last quarter, when, seemingly hitting their stride, they scored two touchdowns and a safety.

But in the limited chance offered to gain an idea of what the revised game will be, the impression was distinctly favorable. The play was constantly open. It was not difficult to see just what was happening, and as soon as the spectators become familiar with the new regulations it is probable that popularity will be won for the game as revised in the interest of safety. Owing to unfamiliarity with the new rules the quarterbacks of both teams were guilty of slowness in executing their plays. The blue and white did not play together on the offensive; the interference being poor, the backs could not gain consistently around the ends. For gains the team had to rely on the line men to carry the ball.

The ability of Captain Waddill to punt over Anderson's head and the fast work of the ends in recovering the ball each time were features of the game. The work of the line men brought forth much favorable comment, Kinnear, Blackburn and Miller being particularly conspicuous. Harman, on left end, with more experience, bids fair to develop into a good man. The all around defensive work of the team was exceptionally strong. Roanoke failing to make a first down.

The game was called at 4 o'clock before a large crowd with Washington and Lee defending the west goal, a slight wind favoring them. Hollinsworth kicked off to Chatfield, who was downed in his tracks on the 35 yard line. Peters makes three yards around right end and Waddill adds two around left. The ball goes over when Davis fails to gain. Roanoke, however, is thrown for losses by Kinnear and Davis. By a well executed forward pass, Waddill to Davis, the ball was placed on the 40 yard line. Davis rips off three yards through the line and O'Quinn's quarter back run around right end nets him nine yards. Waddill gains four yards on a skin tackle play. Waddill barely misses a place kick from the 17 yard line.

Roanoke punts out from the 25 yard line. Harman returns seven yards, when the first period is at an end.

During the three minute intermission the players remained on the field, the coaches not being allowed to consult with them.

The teams change goals, but the ball is put in play on the Roanoke 30 yard line, where it had been when the first period terminated. Roanoke's right half makes two gains around left end. Kinnear throws Anderson for a three yard loss on a right end run. Roanoke punts 22 yards, O'Quinn failing to get under the punt, falls on the ball in the center of the field. Peters gets one yard through the line. Waddill punts 20 yards, Anderson being thrown in his tracks. O'Quinn intercepts Roanoke's forward pass. Waddill makes four yards on a wide end run. After an exchange of punts time is up with the ball in Roanoke's possession.

After a 15 minute intermission the teams line up, Roanoke, shifting Miley to right tackle and French going on left end for Miley. Waddill kicks off to Anderson, who returns the ball 20 yards. Roanoke fails to complete a forward pass. Anderson gains six yards around right end. Anderson fumbles, Davis recovering the ball. O'Quinn throws a beautiful forward pass to Burke, who is thrown hard, losing the ball. Johnson recovers it on Roanoke's 25 yard line. Anderson gains six yards around left end, Miller tackling him. Brown fumbles and Peters falls on the ball. O'Quinn again completes a forward pass to Harman for a 12 yard gain. Waddill hits the line for one yard. O'Quinn fails to complete a forward pass to Burke. Roanoke on first down makes a short punt which Harman returns eight yards. Miller loses one yard on an off tackle play and Peters loses three. Waddill misses a place kick from the 17 yard line. Roanoke brings the ball out and punts from the 25 yard line, Waddill running it back 15 yards. Time is taken out for Waddill, who is hurt in a tackle from the rear. Harman loses three yards. Burke makes an excellent end run for eight yards. Time up.

The fourth quarter opens with Roanoke kicking off to Washington and Lee. Waddill brings the ball back 15 yards. Peters gains five yards around end. Waddill punts 45 yards. Anderson is downed in his tracks by Harman and O'Quinn. Blackburn throws Johnson for a three yard loss.

DEATH OF WILLIAM

A. GLASGOW

Former Trustee and Venerable Citizen of Lexington Passes Away

Mr. William A. Glasgow died at his home in Lexington at 10 o'clock Saturday night. He was in his 86th year, having been born on the 9th of February, 1825. Six years ago he fell on the steps of his former office and fractured his hip. Since that time he had been compelled to use crutches. For the past few months, preceding his death Mr. Glasgow had been confined to his bed, and when the end came, all but two of his children were at his bedside.

Mr. Glasgow received his Bachelor's degree from Washington College in 1874. He practiced at Lexington until his retirement some years ago, and was a member of the Virginia Senate from 1881 to 1885. While in the legislature he was always watchful of his constituents' interests. He was a faithful trustee of the university from 1865 to 1907, when he was succeeded by his son, Mr. Frank T. Glasgow of Lexington.

Mr. Glasgow was twice married, first to Mrs. Spears of Rockingham county and after her death, to Mrs. Gray C. Woodson. The surviving children by the first wife are Mrs. W. D. Armstrong of Staunton, Frank T. Glasgow, Dr. Robert Glasgow and Miss Betty Glasgow of Lexington. Those by the second wife are William A. Glasgow, Jr., of Philadelphia, J. G. Glasgow of Staunton, and Dr. McPheeters Glasgow of Nashville, Tenn.

He is also survived by one sister, Miss Rebecca Glasgow of Lexington. The funeral took place this morning at 10 o'clock.

Freshman Class Meeting

A meeting of the freshmen was held Monday afternoon in Reid Hall for the purpose of electing officers and effecting a permanent organization of the class. There were about 80 members of the class present and the enthusiasm was great. Henry Tressler was made chairman and J. Thomas secretary pro tempore. Nominations were called for, and the balloting for the different offices resulted as follows:

President, T. S. White.
Vice President, J. H. Miller.
Secretary, H. Tressler.
Treasurer, E. L. Graham.
Executive committee representative, J. Bauserman.

The president then took the chair and appointed A. S. White, Bryan and Dabney a committee to select class colors and flower. After this the meeting was adjourned. The selection of a historian was postponed until a later meeting, when he will be chosen from the members of the class most proficient in English, nominations to be made by Dr. Gurrell, professor of English.

George Miles, '07, is with the Virginia Coal Iron & Coke company in Roanoke.

THE SINS OF THE FATHER

Fair Sized Crowd Greet Thomas Dixon's Latest Work—Mr. Dixon Not With Troupe

"The Sins of The Father," Thomas Dixon's latest drama, was presented at the Lyric theatre on Thursday evening, Sept. 29th. The house was comfortably filled, and the play was well received.

One noticeable feature was the good order that prevailed throughout the performance, something which in years gone by was unheard of. The management is to be congratulated on the excellent arrangement, for it has seemingly accomplished the impossible.

The interior of the theatre has been renovated and a patron may now enjoy a show in comfort and with pleasure; none of the rowdiness of former days exists; no longer does the leading lady dodge H. O's peanuts and selected fruits; no longer will the black faced comedian be found to side step a well directed coal scuttle; chewing gum will no longer caress the varnished hair of the chorus maid. Love scenes will not be interrupted by such expressions as, "Turn on the hose," "Break away," and the like. All such happenings are now ancient history, owing to the determined stand of the manager to produce nothing but the best under the most favorable conditions.

The play itself is something along the same line as "The Clansman," though not up to the standard of Mr. Dixon's first venture with the drama. It attempts to show the evil that threatens the white race, owing to contact with the Negro. The extremest of cases is portrayed, which will not correct the evil it attempts to, but serves only to arouse those feelings which should lie dormant. With all justice to Mr. Dixon it cannot be seen how such a play can be productive of any good, especially in the South, where such conditions could never exist. The Negro of the South knows his place, and such a play tends only to poison his mind, as well as that of his next friend, the Southerner.

The caste was exceptionally strong and the drama was well presented. Especial mention should be made of the excellent work done by J. J. Pierson as Maj. Norton, A. J. Pickens as Andy, and Mrs. Craig as Aunt Milerva. The general consensus of opinion pronounced it the best play seen this year.

Masonic Club

At a preliminary meeting of the Masons in college on last Wednesday, the following men were chosen to act as officers of the Masonic club for the ensuing session: H. K. Dickenson, president; H. B. Gregory, vice-president; R. J. Page, secretary and treasurer; J. N. Harman, Jr., Tyler. The club has quite an extensive membership. The next meeting will be held Wednesday, Oct. 3, and all Masons are invited to attend and become members of the club.

THE METHODIST RECEPTION

The Methodist reception to students and cadets was held in the Sunday School room on the evening of Sept. 30th, from 8 until 10. Miss Crigler was chairman of the reception committee. Mr. Eley played some classical solos on the piano. Ice cream and cake were served. The evening was pleasantly spent and the affair was enjoyed by all present.

A conference of representatives from the colleges of Virginia and North Carolina will be held in Danville Friday, Oct. 7th. The purpose of this meeting is the consideration of the question of eligibility requirements for athletes who represent the colleges of this section, and it is possible that steps will be taken leading to the formation of an association to be composed of the institutions of these states. The meeting was called by Washington and Lee, the Virginia Polytechnic Institute and the University of North Carolina. Dr. L. W. Smith, graduate manager of athletics, will go to Danville as Washington and Lee's representative at this conference.

Work of the Year Outlined

The Washington and Graham-Lee literary societies held their first joint meeting of the year last Saturday night. Hereafter this joint session will be held once each month. Its purpose is to stir up a friendly rivalry between the two organizations and thus to spur each man on to better efforts.

Mr. Arnold, president of Graham-Lee, called the meeting to order and made an appropriate talk, outlining the purposes of the coming together of the two societies. He explained also the cause for the limitation of the number of members to 40. Last year, after starting out in September with more than half a hundred on the roll of each organization, the attendance became so small and so many became negligent of their duties, that each society agreed that something must be done to correct this evil. Accordingly the number of members has been limited to 40 to eliminate, as one of the members expressed it, the drones.

Mr. Newsam delivered an impressive oration upon "The Status of the Forest Preserve." He was followed by Mr. Somerville, who gave a declamation upon the visit of Lafayette to America in 1824.

The question for the joint debate was, "Resolved, Washington and Lee should require an A. B. degree as a prerequisite to admittance to the law school." The affirmative was ably supported by Messrs. Saxe and Schlossberg. They were opposed by Messrs. Dickinson and Russell, who made a strong and convincing argument. The question was decided in favor of the negative.

UNIVERSITY ASSEMBLY

In former years the university assembly was an occasion of interest. It was recognized by both faculty and students as a means of broadening the field of vision of the students by giving them the opportunity of hearing men who have accomplished much in the world. It filled the necessity of some formal gathering during the college session for the purpose of bringing the student body into a feeling of closer relationship. An example of the prominence of this function in past years is the list of lecturers for 1906. There were seven assemblies and the names of Oswald G. Villard, editor of the New York Evening Post, Dr. Howard A. Kelley of Johns Hopkins University, Dr. Albert Bushnell Hart of Harvard, and Mr. Herbert Welsh of Philadelphia are among the speakers. But since that time less attention has been paid to this very important phase of education. In 1907 only four assemblies were held, and but two of them were addressed by men from other points than Lexington; in 1908 three speakers from other colleges were heard; the special lectures of 1909 were not seemingly deemed of sufficient importance to be recorded in the last catalogue, as had been the custom until that time.

The plans of the administration on this subject, for the present year are not known; but it seems that nothing could be more beneficial than to hear noted men on topics of general interest. For his proper development the student needs information regarding the world of action, and in no way can he get that knowledge better than by coming in touch with men who have been prominent in the outside world. Topics of law, of science, of politics, become more vitally real when presented by men who are actively engaged in settling the questions they present. It is to be hoped that during the present year the privilege of hearing such men will be afforded.

POINDEXTER CARRIES WASHINGTON

When Representative Poindexter, of the State of Washington, who has been one of the most aggressive of the insurgents in the present House at Washington, announced his candidacy for the United States Senate, he was greatly ridiculed by the conservatives. His aspirations were looked upon as absurd. He made his fight, however, before the voters of the State, and on September 13th, he carried every county, rolling up a large aggregate plurality. All of the Congressional districts were also carried by insurgent candidates, excepting one. Mr. Poindexter and the insurgents of Washington have been extreme opponents of Secretary Ballinger, and have not been cordial supporters of the Taft administration. The insurgent sweep in Washington was too complete to leave any doubt about the nature of public opinion in the Northwest. The October "Review of Reviews."

Mr. Poindexter's election to the senate brings the number of Washington and Lee alumni in that body to three. The other two are also from the West, Robt. L. Owen who was the choice of the people of Oklahoma in a state-wide primary, receiving the largest vote of any candidate in the primary, and elected by the legislature of Oklahoma in Dec., 1907, and George Earle Chamberlain of Oregon. Mr. Chamberlain was nominated by the people in the primaries over the Republican candidate, and elected by a Republican legislature, although himself a Democrat.

Since his graduation from the law school here in 1891, Mr. Poindexter's rise has been extremely rapid. In October of that year he located in Wallawalla, Wash., for the practice of law, and the following year was elected prosecuting attorney of Wallawalla county. Having moved in 1897 to Spokane Mr. Poindexter was for six years assistant prosecuting attorney for Spokane county, until elected judge of the superior court of the district, in Nov. 1904. When, in 1908, the third congressional district was created he was nominated and elected to the 61st congress by a majority of 15,000 votes. His connection with the insurgent movement has drawn the attention of the country to him, and his career in the senate will be watched with interest, particularly by Washington and Lee alumni.

During the Roanoke game Saturday the sideline in front of the grandstand was at times so crowded with spectators that the view of those in the grandstand was obstructed. With fifteen or twenty boys running up and down the side of the field, and a dozen or two men following the plays it is impossible to see what is being done when the teams are lined up on the north side of the field. It would be a great improvement if all except the officials and reporters were made to sit in the stand or stand behind the fence with the rest of the crowd. If one man goes upon the sidelines, he is followed by three more, and they by six. The solution is to let no one remain on the field.

The rooting Saturday was good, for the first game of the season, but it needs to be improved upon for future games. Practice is necessary to perfect the art of cheering, and some means should be devised to get practice. The new men have not yet had time to learn the yells and songs, and some of them have possibly not been accustomed to organized rooting. As suggested by the Executive committee, it would be well for the cheer leader to appoint a squad of assistants; and it would work well to divide the crowd on the side-lines into three sections, each in charge of an assistant. Some definite plan should be worked out before the next game and tried in practice to eliminate confusion.

The University Hatchet of George Washington is issued this year as a bi-weekly instead of weekly, and under the name of the "George Washington News." In explanation of the change of name the News says:

"It was felt by the trustees that the name 'Hatchet' was a little disrespectful to the memory of Washington, and that it would therefore be wise at this time to select a new name. In this decision the editor and business manager acquiesced."

The Hatchet having been buried, will the "Cherry Tree" be allowed to stand?

WITH OTHER COLLEGES

Kemper W. Yancey, ex-Captain of Virginia and all-Southern fullback for 1909, is coaching Hampden-Sidney.

Robert Hunter of Yale won the individual inter-collegiate golf championship of America by defeating Albert Seckels of Princeton, former champion.

The Carlisle Indians have fourteen games to play this fall. Seven of these are with the best teams in the country—a rough road, indeed, to travel.

Admiral Charles Herbert Stockton has been inaugurated as President of George Washington to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. Charles W. Needham.

Six seniors and nine juniors at the University of Wisconsin have been elected to compose the first student court to try their fellow students charged with violation of the university rules.

"During the summer Dean McBain resigned from the headship of the College of the Political Sciences and the vacancy was filled by Professor Willis."—George Washington News.

This item is of especial interest to Washington and Lee students inasmuch as Professor Willis was for some years head of the department of Political and Economics here.

Walter Johnson, Washington's star pitcher, has broken the world's strike-out for a season with a total of 307. The former record was 301, made by "Rube" Waddell in 1903 while pitching for the "athletics."

Pendleton, former Episcopal High School athlete, bids fair to make the Princeton varsity. According to the New York Evening Post, Pendleton's speed and dodging ability are the most brilliant seen on Brokaw Field this year.

Columbia University has an endowment fund of $28,500,000. This is larger than that of any other school in the country. Leland Stanford is second with the sum of $24,000,000, and then follow Harvard, Chicago, Yale, Cornell, and Pennsylvania.

This year's football eleven at the Naval academy is an aggregation of Captains. At the end of last season Henry Clay, a halfback, was elected captain, but having some trouble with the authorities on the cruise, he was invited to resign, or give up football for the year. His successor is T. S. King, a Californian, who plays tackle. At the other tackle is Loftin, who is captain and stroke oar of the eight oared crew. He is also captain of the wrestling team and heavyweight champion of the academy. Erwin, quarterback, is captain and second baseman of the nine. Carey, captain and crack sprinter of the track team, is a leading candidate for half back; and Scott the leader of the fencing team, is trying for the same position.

President William Graham To Be Reinterred Here

The remains of the Rev. William Graham, the first president of the institution, will be removed from Richmond by the authorities of Washington and Lee to the campus of the University and there reinterred.

This was determined yesterday by the executive committee of the University, to whom the matter had been left by the board. It is not expected that the removal will be made until next summer. In the meantime Hon. William A. Anderson will be asked to get the authority in Richmond for the removal of the body and plans will be secured for the erection of a monument to be submitted to the board at its June meeting.

Near a corner of the campus, in front of Tucker Hall, rest the remains of John Robinson, whose bequest to the struggling college made its establishment secure. A chaste shaft of Italian marble marks the grave. The idea is to make the monument over the newly made grave of William Graham a duplicate of this. The spot may be near the Robinson shaft or more likely will offset the shaft by being placed in a corresponding position on the opposite side of the campus in front of Newcomb hall.

President William Graham died in Richmond in 1799 and his body now lies under St. Johns church.

Dr. Currell Makes an Address to the Y. M. C. A.

A large crowd of students assembled at the library last Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock to hear the address of Dr. Currell before the Y. M. C. A. The lights in the building went out, owing to the burning out of a fuse, but the crowd adjourned to the English room, where the meeting was held. The speaker had for his subject the Bible. He pointed out the great interest of the Bible from a literary point of view, saying that nowhere in literature could poetry, short stories, or orations be found which could surpass those found in the Bible. He next pointed out the great benefits derived from systematic, diligent, and daily study of the Bible. Being the word of God, it is there that we must look for the will of God and the rules for the conduct of our lives. He said that the man who will study this book and follow its teachings will become an educated man, as his physical, mental, and moral natures are trained and developed.

After this address a canvass of the student body was made to enroll as many men as possible in the study of the Bible. It is the object of the association this year to co-operate with various Sunday schools instead of having Bible classes led by students. There are connected with the Sunday school five Bible classes for students, led by professors and men of the town. Those students who have not enrolled will find a welcome in any one of these classes.

Tidewater Club

Quite a number of students, who reside in the Tidewater district of Virginia, met in Reid hall Monday Sept. 26, and organized a club to be known as the Tidewater club. The object is to bring those men into a class relationship and to this end regular social meetings will be held. The officers elected for the first year are R. P. Beaman, president; E. E. Robey, vice-president; P. W. Murray, secretary and treasurer; Moncure Hope, sergeant at arms.

MISS LANIER DROWNED

Lost Her Life When Boat Capsized at North Hartley, Canada

"Miss Lanier Dunn, the 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lanier Dunn, of Washington, but who has spent several winters in Richmond, was drowned Sunday afternoon in the lake on which North Hartley, Canada, is situated, when the boat in which she was riding capsized. The news of the death was received here yesterday by Colonel A. S. Buford, Jr. No details of the accident were received.

Miss Dunn was the sister of Mrs. George Cole Scott and Mrs. A. S. Buford, Jr., of this city, and was very well known. She was a student in Sweet Brier College last year, and spent the holidays and made several visits in Richmond. She was the granddaughter of General Dunn of the United States army.

At the time of the accident Miss Dunn was spending the summer in North Hartley, a summer colony, with her parents and her brother, McKee Dunn, who is also well known in this city."—Richmond Times Dispatch.

Miss Dunn was a visitor here during finals last June and the sad news of her death will cause sincere regret among her numerous friends in the University.

Anderson drops back to punt from the shadow of his goal line. Scarcely has he received the ball when Kinnear breaks through the line, blocking the punt. Hobson gets the ball and runs eight yards for a touchdown. Miller misses an easy goal. Score, Washington and Lee, 5; Roanoke, 0.

Roanoke kicks off to Kinnear, who is downed in his tracks. The line fails to hold for Waddill to punt, a Roanoke man blocking. In the scramble Blackburn falls on the ball. Waddill punts 56 yards, the ball going by Anderson. Harman, who is down the field like a flash, recovers it for Washington and Lee. After a series of fumbles Washington and Lee obtains the ball. Blackburn scores a touchdown from the six yard line. Miller kicks goal. Score, Washington and Lee, 11; Roanoke, 0.

At this point Simms is substituted for Burke and Jalonick for Peters.

Roanoke kicks off to Waddill, who comes back eight yards. After a couple of line bucks, Waddill gets off a beautiful punt for 55 yards, the ball soaring over Anderson's head and bounding over the fence. Simms, who is down the field like a flash, races through the gate and recovers the ball for Washington and Lee on Roanoke's 15 yard line. O'Quinn, on a bad pass, loses the ball. Anderson, not having time to punt, is thrown for a safety. Score Washington and Lee, 13; Roanoke, 0.

Roanoke punts from the 25 yard line to Simms, who on a beautiful open field run, passes the whole Roanoke team, but is downed from behind.

After a series of end runs and off tackle plays time is called with the ball in Washington and Lee's possession, on Roanoke's five yard line.

Columbia to Play Football Again

New football rules seem to hit President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia University, all right. Listen to this: "President Butler has called the student board into consultation to ask its advice on the question of restoring football to the list of sports, and again instituting inter-class games which were abolished two years ago. Advocates of the game at the university believe that under the new rules the ban on football may be safely raised. It is expected that if inter-class games are restored, Columbia will again become a contestant with the larger colleges for gridiron honors."—Richmond News Leader.

MUCH MATERIAL FOR UNIVERSITY BAND

Bootay Selected Director

The University band held its first practice of the year in the Carnegie library on Friday night in preparation for the Roanoke game. On many occasions last year blue and white teams were cheered on to victory by the band and we are glad to see them get an early start this year in an endeavor to carry on the good work. The services of Leader Allen will be greatly missed, but Mr. Bootay has been prevailed upon to take his place and will undoubtedly be of great assistance in getting the new men started.

Mr. C. P. Light is already making arrangements for the purchase of several instruments for the new men.

The old men to report to practice were Messrs. Bowman, Thornton, West, J. F., Grizzard, Groseclose, Mell, Bootay and Manager Lantz. The material of the entering class is very good, several men having had previous experience on bands. The following new men reported: Messrs. Dunn, Carson, Weire, Dean, Siler, Smith and McDonald.

If anyone can play a band instrument at all come out in an endeavor to improve the band.
