BASEBALL SQUAD

HARD AT WORK

Abundance of Good Material—No Trouble in Filling Vacancies on Varsity

A squad of over 50 men answered Coach Pollard's call for baseball candidates for the Washington and Lee 1911 baseball team last week. The men reported on Wilson Field and the work consisted of light batting and fielding practice. The batteries had been daily practicing in the gymnasium, for the past two weeks, but from now on when the weather permits the entire squad will practice on the field. The squad includes eight veterans of last year's Varsity and a number of stars from other colleges and prep schools, as well as six members of last year's scrubs. The positions left vacant by graduation are first base and left field. The failure of Wat Efrid, last year's star catcher to return to College, and the loss of Rectenwold, is causing the coaches some trouble. The most likely candidate for his position is Donahue, catcher on last season's Mercersburg team, who is handling himself like a veteran. Beddow, last year's second catcher, and outfielder, is showing improvement. Other good new men are Hereford of Epworth University, Oklahoma, and Harman of Randolph Macon, who played end on the football team last fall.

On the mound, the main reliance of the Blue and White will be Harry Moran, who went through the season without a defeat and established a new intercollegiate strike-out record against A. and M. of North Carolina last May in Raleigh, when he struck out 28 men in 15 innings. His phenomenal work throughout the season attracted the attention of the major league scouts throughout the country and brought him offers from the New York Nationals and Americans, Washington Americans and Connie Mack's Worlds Champions. A little over two weeks ago Sam Kennedy, veteran scout of the Cleveland Americans, was in Lexington to induce Moran to put his name to a flattering contract for the 1911 season. Moran, however, emphatically declares he will finish his college course before he enters the professional arena.

It is the hope of Coach Pollard that Ball, who twirled on the University of Wisconsin Varsity 1907 and 1908, will be able to get his arm in condition, in which case he will be a valuable addition to the team. Parades of the 1909 Varsity and Gwathmey, who has been on the Varsity for the past three years, are out again, but will have to work hard to beat out some of the new men. Of the new material the best are Moore of the Texarkana, Ark., High School, Thompson of Georgia Tech, Hill of Georgetown College, Ky., and Hamilton of Culver Military Academy. Hamilton stands six feet our and has lots of speed. If he can get good control, he will probably be the choice of the coaches for the Varsity.

The vacancy at first base, owing to

V. P. I. TAKES SECOND GAME

V. P. I. Led at Start of Second Half but Techs Set Too Fast a Pace, Winning by Good Margin—Boyd Plays Last Game of Four Year Career

The Washington and Lee 1911 basketball schedule of 19 games was concluded on the afternoon of March 4, when the Virginia Polytechnic Institute took the measure of the Blue and White quint for the second time this season. The game was played in the Dutch Barn at Blacksburg. The final score was 42 to 28.

When the squad left Lexington at 6:45 Friday night, they were confident of defeating the Techs and wreaking vengeance for the defeat administered them in Lexington on the 24th. From the score one would be led to think the game was one sided. However before the last five minutes it was anybody's game and things looked favorable for the Blue and White. But better physical condition won the game for the cadets and in that period they scored ten points, while the Blue and White failed to tally. Although many easy shots failed to count, owing to the eagerness of the men to win. The game was hard fought, and very rough throughout. Referee McCredy being obliged to call 13 fouls on the Techs, while very nearly that large a number were called on Washington and Lee.

Captain Hannis was the individual star of the game and has probably not played a more consistent game during his three years service for the University in the sport. He exhibited the best foul shooting a Blue and White player has shown this season, by caging 10 out of 13 fouls called. Besides tallying the one pointers he caged four difficult goals from the floor, bringing his sum towards the team's total to 18 points or four more than half of the team's score. Craig played the same consistent game the students have seen him play for the last few games in the rink. He was all over the floor and always back to intercept the Techs' long passes to their captain under the basket. Craig was all over the floor and around him the quint's team work was based, his fast under hand passes keeping the cadets on the jump. His opponent was Captain W. Legge, the best man on the Tech team. George Boyd played his last game for Washington and Lee, after four seasons of efficient playing. He tried hard throughout for the coveted victory and added eight points to the score by tallying four baskets. Next season he will be hard to replace and the coach will have to look long to develop a player of his ability. His thorough knowledge of the game was his great asset as well as his marked ability to cage baskets from any angle by shooting one handed. Boyd has been somewhat handicapped by being shifted to center in nearly every game, besides his not being in his usual perfect physical condition the last of the season. Bear at center outplayed his opponent, Piker Hughes, and did not allow him to play his usual visible star game. Hughes is a veteran at the game, while this is Bear's first year on the Varsity. Next season he will be valuable as a nucleus, around whom Coach Pollard can build the customary good team.

The first half ended with the score 14 to 11 in favor of the Techs. But Washington and Lee started the second period with a rush and passed V. P. I. in the first few minutes by scoring five points to the Techs' nothing. The strain however was too great and the quint fell back never to take the lead again during the remainder of the game. The team however fought hard throughout and lost to a better five.

Virginia Tech has the undisputed championship of the state by a well earned victory over Washington and Lee, who before Saturday was the only other contestant for the honor.

DR. HOWERTON THE SPEAKER

Synopsis of His Address Before the Presbyterian Alliance in Washington

At the meeting of the Presbyterian Alliance in Washington, D. C., last week, Dr. J. R. Howerton, professor of Philosophy at Washington and Lee, was one of the chief speakers. Dr. Howerton's address, of which a synopsis is given below, was a notable one, and has evoked a great deal of newspaper comment. The speaker said:

"All great modern struggles for liberty have been at bottom struggles for liberty of conscience and were successful because they were so. There are two reasons for this. Mere material considerations could never have nerved men for the sacrifices necessary in order to secure them liberty, but when the tyrant undertook to subdue an enlightened conscience, he attempted to conquer that which is unconquerable. He presented an alternative worse than any privation, worse than death upon battlefields or at the stake. Furthermore none of these struggles would have been successful had it not been for the fact that the people's cause found champions among those whom selfish considerations would have allied with the ruling class. Nothing but the sense of the righteousness of the people's cause can explain this fact. This great awakening of conscience which made the success of modern revolutions possible, was due largely to the Reformation, and especially to that element of it led by John Calvin and known as the Reformed church. We are now forever free from the fear of the return of military despotism. But there is a new despotism threatening the liberties of men, far more powerful and more dangerous than the military despotisms of the past, the despotism of wealth. It is not indeed a new despotism. The real tyrant is human selfishness, and money is a more powerful means of securing its will than armies and navies. We are now in the midst of a revolution, bloodless in deed, but all the more significant on that account which is seeking to deliver men from this new form of the tyranny of human selfishness. But this revolution, like the revolutions of the past, cannot be successful unless it is at bottom a struggle for liberties of conscience; and for the same reasons, so long as the alternative is hard times, poor wages, depression of business, men would rather submit to the autocracy of wealth for the sake of material prosperity. This revolution, like those of the past, cannot be successful without sacrifices, privations, hardships for every class. Nothing but a reversal awakening of the public conscience to the fact that it is a struggle for Godgiven rights, will nerve men to endure the necessary hardships."

This revolution, like those in the past, will never be successful unless it finds leaders among that class whose selfish interest would ally them with the tyranny of money. Love of

WORK ON CALYX PROGRESSING

Year Book Makes Its Appearance
About May 15

The work on the 1911 Calyx is being pushed rapidly forward, and the staff expect to get all of the copy in the hands of the publishers within the next two weeks. No expense is being spared to make it a creditable book and several unique and original features are being carried out. The J. P. Bell Co., of Lynchburg, who published last year's annual, have the contract for the printing, and this fact insures a high quality of work. Gatchel and Manning, who are considered the finest half tone engravers in the country, will make the plates for the illustrations. The Charles H. Elliott Co. and E. A. Wright, both of Philadelphia, have the contracts for furnishing inserts.

One of the distinctive features of the book will be the unusually large number of illustrations particularly kodak pictures, snap shots of college groups and scenes. The insertion of class pictures and photographs of class teams is a departure from former custom and should serve to strengthen class spirit at Washington and Lee. The book will be of white paper, printed in black ink, with cover of light blue cowhide, made with stiff back with beveled edges. The border idea, which has been so prominent in annuals of recent years, has been dispensed with, but there will be an abundance of colored posters and many artistic drawings in black and white for headings. A sort of checkerboard lettering which will be used throughout the book will add to its novelty. Miss Paze Taylor and Miss Margaret Russell, of Washington, who have drawn color illustrations for the Calyx in former years, will again assist in this department of the work. Devall Gwathmey, editor in chief of the 1909 year book, is helping with both the posters and the black and white drawings. Other headings are being done by Miss M. A. Minor of Sweet Briar. Among the students who will contribute drawings are John Graham, R. J. Bear and L. E. Goldman. The frontispiece will possibly be by Henry Hutt.

In the wealth of illustrations, the literary department of the book will not be neglected, and in addition to several articles of a serious nature, there will be humorous matter, both prose and verse. Besides several students, R. P. Ashley and W. K. Ramsey, who have done much for the Calyx in recent years, are working up material of this kind.

The editors are not yet willing to divulge the name of the man to whom the book will be dedicated, except to say that he is a loyal and faithful son of Washington and Lee.

The publication of this year's Calyx will involve a larger amount of expenditure than any issue in the history of the institution and copies will be put on sale about the middle of May.

DRAMATIC CLUB ANNOUNCEMENT

The Dramatic Club has decided definitely to produce "Brown of Harvard," a college play of four acts, with special music. Scenery is now being made and the presentation promises to be the best and most elaborate ever produced by the University undergraduates. As said before in the Ring-tum-Phi, the cast is large, numbering about 30, and it is essential that candidates watch the bulletin board for tryout and rehearsal notices.

BASEBALL SQUAD

the graduation of Captain Stras will be hard to fill. Peeples, who subbed for him last season is out again, but will be hard pushed by Jennings, a new man, who played class ball at Annapolis. It is doubtful if Captain Smith, who injured his arm in the gymnasium sometime since, will be in condition to hold down his regular position at second. If not his position will be hard to fill, as last season he fielded perfectly and batted 322. Turbyfill will fill in nicely in left garden, the only other vacant position. His hitting will be indispensable in winning games. Last season he was used entirely as a pinch hitter and led the team with a grand average of 466.

Lemley, last season's utility man, is out for a birth in the infield. Another new man who is very likely to get a regular place on the Varsity is Branaman, heavy hitting outfielder on Roanoke College. However, on account of his law work, Branaman will be unable to get out until after the March examinations.

Erwin, last year's shortstop, is out again for his old position, and with Brown at third, completes the infield, which should be able to equal the brilliant work of last year. This will be Brown's third year on the Varsity, and both his hitting and fielding make him a valuable man.

Webster will, in all probability, be seen again in right field. While he is not a sensational player in the field his work is consistent, and his hitting is a tower of strength, figuring in the winning of many games. Waddill is pretty sure to take care of the center garden. His wonderful ground covering and speed on the bases put him in a class by himself, and if he should develop into a consistent hitter he would be unequalled by any college outfielder in the country.

Taken as a whole the squad is the best that has ever been out for baseball at Washington and Lee and brilliant as was the work of last year's nine, it should by present indications, be eclipsed this season. Daily work on Wilson Field is fast rounding the squad into shape and the first line-up will probably come sometime this week. With the opening game against Swarthmore only three weeks distant, much remains to be done. The first cut in the squad will be made tomorrow.

DUTCH TEA ROOM CHANGES HANDS

Mrs. Frank H. Brockenbrough has bought from Mrs. John A. Graham, two pieces of property on Washington street near Jackson avenue. One is what is known as the Dutch Tea room, which has been conducted as a restaurant; the other is the residence adjoining, for some time occupied by Professor Martin P. Burks. Possession will be given May 1st.

Mrs. Brockenbrough has, for 16 years been engaged in the hotel business in Lexington, in which she has shown much energy and capacity. On assuming ownership of her new purchase she will give up her lease of the Lexington hotel and devote her attention to conducting the restaurant. Under the management of Mrs. Graham it has been a popular resort for students, cadets and citizens, and it is her purpose to keep it up to the high standard it has enjoyed.

SECOND CONCERT

Preparation Being Made for An Appearance the Latter Part of the Week

The Combined Musical Clubs are making preparations to give another entertainment the latter part of this week for the benefit of the baseball team. The proceeds of the concert will be used for the purpose of purchasing sweaters for the team, which will be presented in behalf of the musical clubs on the night of the entertainment. The exact date for this appearance has not been definitely settled upon, but it will be made sometime this week, in all probability on Friday. The High School Auditorium has been secured for the concert. The program will, it is understood, consist entirely of ragtime music and all the popular airs will be played.

The first entertainment given by the clubs was not so liberally patronized as it deserved, and for that reason was a disappointment to the men who had worked hard to make it a success. It is hoped that the students, realizing the patriotic purpose of this venture, will accord it their heartiest support. At the same time they can rest assured that they will get their money in the quality of the entertainment afforded.

MARYLAND CLUB ORGANIZES

The first meeting of the Maryland Club was held on Friday night, in Lees Dormitory. The purpose of the meeting was to elect officers, and attend to the Calyx representation. The meeting was attended by 18 Marylanders, among whom were several new members.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

- O. T. Kaylor, president.
- A. H. Jones, vice-president.
- T. F. Ordeman, secretary and treasurer.
- A. D. Hodgdon, historian.

The business meeting was followed by a hearty feed, after which the meeting was adjourned.

ALABAMA CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

The Alabama Club held a meeting last Wednesday for the election of officers and for the purpose of arranging suitable Calyx representation for the organization this year. The retiring president, R. G. Thach, appointed a committee of two, Messrs. Riviere and Hanna, to make the collections to cover cost of representation and the election which was then held resulted as follows:

- President, T. L. Ball.
- Vice-President, H. M. Satterfield
- Secretary and Treasurer, L. R. Hanna.

There are 20 men in the University from Alabama.

NORTH CAROLINA CLUB

The North Carolina Club banqueted at Varnon's apartments in the Dorm. last Wednesday evening. Turbyfill acted as toastmaster. The evening was thoroughly enjoyed and terminated with yells and songs to Carolina.

Princeton's 1911 football schedule includes games with Colgate, Lehigh, Navy, Harvard, Dartmouth and Yale. This is the first appearance of Harvard against Princeton since 1896.

TABLEAUX AND THEATRICALS AT THE AUDITORIUM

A beautiful entertainment was given Tuesday night at the auditorium under the management of Mrs. James W. Kern. It has been years since Lexington has witnessed an entertainment of this character and the audience plainly evinced its pleasure at the revival.

A charming play punctuated by tableaux, unusually beautiful, was the feature of the evening.

An amusing farce closed the program and sent the audience to their homes well pleased with an evening of unalloyed enjoyment. The roles in the farce were well filled by Miss Carrie Harman, Mr. Pyle and Mr. George White.

Those appearing in the tableaux were:

- Miss Lucy Patton, Miss Kittie Rogers, Miss Mattie Harman, Miss Jennie Hopkins, Miss Fannie Graham, Miss Webster, Miss Virginia Barclay, Miss Nell Brockenbrough, Miss Nancy Pendleton, little Miss Gertrude Pendleton.

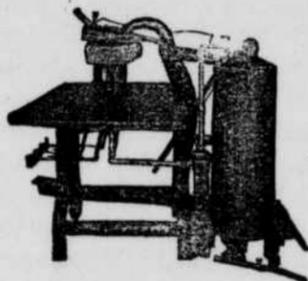

Mr. Temple, Thomas Glasgow, Jack Campbell, E. L. Graham, Jr., Mr. Patton, Roland Waddill, J. G. Pyle, F. B. Oates, Mr. Ryan, Master Billy Cox.

"Toots" Schultz, the University of Pennsylvania star pitcher, considered by many critics the best College twirler in the North, has signed with the Philadelphia Nationals. He formerly pitched for Mercersburg.

We are always glad to publish any communication that may be handed to us, but we desire to state that we will not be responsible for sentiment expressed.

We also desire to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published. Those who do not desire their names published should add a pen name and their wishes will be complied with.

The long promised and much heralded new constitution of the Athletic Association will probably come up for the consideration of the students in the near future. It is proposed to publish the document in the Ring-tum Phi in order that it may be thoroughly discussed and understood before the question of its adoption comes up, and we hope to be able to present the constitution to you in the next issue of the paper.

The preparation of such a constitution has been needed for some time; the powers and duties of the committee have never been well defined, and no permanent record of business transacted has been preserved. More than this no provision has ever been made for publicity with regard to athletic transactions. The student body has been kept in ignorance of the financial matters handled by the committee, not because of any designed secrecy on the part of anybody, but simply because no provision was made for public reports. This and other defects in the old system will be remedied in the proposed constitution.

The basketball season was successful. It is true that the last games played were disappointing, and that the team did not play up to its standard in at least two of them. But taking the games altogether and considering the season as a whole, we have reason to be proud of the showing made. Six hundred and forty-eight points were scored against 547 by our opponents. Good teams were played all the way through, and good teams were defeated. A larger number of games was played and more interest taken in the sport than ever.

The defeats towards the close of the season constitute the only feature which detracts from the year's record. While of course winning is a secondary matter in college athletics, it is hard to accept defeat when a team has not played the game it is capable of; and this seems to have been the case in two defeats at least. There was adequate reason for a slump. Tired out by a long string of games, and especially by the Northern trip, the squad could not take the interest in the game of mid-season.

With this season several stars who have done hard, faithful work for basketball here, have played their last games, and we feel it proper to say in behalf of the college at large that the work of Captain Hannis, Glasgow, Boyd and Craig, who will probably not be seen in basketball games again, that their work has earned the deserved appreciation of the student body.

It now seems that no baseball game with V. P. I. can be played this spring. Manager Stough made an effort to get a release from the Trinity date on the trip in order to play V. P. I. at home then, but was met by a refusal on the part of the Trinity manager to call off the game. On account of their schedule being unusually short, and the fact that two games have already been cancelled on them they could not release Washington and Lee.

There remains only one chance for meeting V. P. I.,—the holiday on April 1. Inasmuch as the objection on the part of the faculty is that all allowable time away from college work has already been granted, it would seem that no objection could be made to the team's going away on a holiday. In the case of April 1, which is Saturday, the team could leave Lexington Friday night, play in Roanoke or Blacksburg on Saturday, and return to Lexington the night of April 2. In this way not one hour of college work would be missed. We understand, however, that no permission can be obtained for the team to leave on April 1, although it is a holiday, on the theory that for them to leave town on a holiday will break into college work just as much as if they should miss a regular day from college.

It is a source of general regret here that this game is not on the schedule. As stated in last week's issue, we believe that V. P. takes the right stand in insisting that the W. & L. team appear this season in Blacksburg if there is to be a game this season. We are also free to state that the fault in not arranging for a game if here. The fault, however, is one of oversight and not of intention. While it is a perfectly valid argument that Manager Stough should have closed for this game first, or left his trip unarranged until he settled the matter of time allowance out of Lexington, it must be remembered that the strict limit provided has not always been rigidly adhered to, and he is not blameable for overlooking the matter. In fact he evidently went forward with his schedule so confident that the V. P. I. game was a matter of course, that no question ever arose in his mind as to the possibility of playing it. Further than that who would ever dream that a holiday is not, after all, a holiday?

In this week's issue is an announcement from the manager of the gymnasium team that the annual exhibition will take place on March 17. This organization deserves more credit from the University than it has ever received. This branch of athletics gets not one cent from the students of the University, except what comes in from the annual exhibitions. The members of the team are not in the public eye, nor do they have the opportunity to evoke the plaudits of assembled throngs. Yet they work quietly, consistently, steadily through the year, in spite of poor accommodations and inadequate equipment. Their appearance next week should be greeted by a representative audience, not only because the cause deserves support, but because the quality of the exhibition will be excellent.

The Cornell Daily Sun has given a signal proof of its efficiency as a newspaper. Although the press building in which it is published, which is owned by the Cornell Daily Sun Corporation, burned Sunday evening, the paper was issued on time Monday morning. The Sun has always been considered the best college newspaper published, and this accomplishment will serve to strengthen that opinion.

The University of Arkansas weekly advises correspondents to avoid the use of reformed spelling—an injunction which might not be out of place here.

CONGRESSIONAL BANQUET

The Congressionals, the organization of men from the Washington, D. C., prep schools, banqueted at the Dutch Tea Room on the evening of March 4th. The banquet was a most enjoyable occasion, and while good cheer enlivened the spirit of the banqueters, enthusiasm ran high, finding expression in fitting after dinner speeches from the accomplished orators of the club. President J. G. Herndon began the speechmaking with a welcome to the members present, after which the toastmaster called on Mr. Thom to speak of the alumni. "Fellows from My Home Town," was responded to by J. A. Bowman. The banquet was brought to a fitting close by Big Jim Miller's roast to "The Ladies" which was received with prolonged applause from the listeners.

THE MENU

Olives	Oyster Cocktails	Almonds
	Crouquettes
French Peas	Grape Fruit Salad
	Sandwiches
Orange Ice	Coffee	Cakes

The officers and members of the club are:

J. G. Herndon, president.
T. Y. Milbern, vice-president.
J. W. Shiles, treasurer.
H. Hanna, historian.
T. Thom, H. Hanna, J. H. Miller, J. W. Shiles, J. H. Willis, M. F. Trimble, O. H. Herring, R. S. Walters, K. R. Cobb, A. M. Hitz, J. A. Bowman, R. E. Royall, W. J. Wilkins, J. G. Herndon, S. R. Walters, T. Y. Milbern, B. W. Jennings, J. W. Shiles, N. A. Burgess.

Cornell has lost six more good athletes. John High, the leading hurdler on the track team, has been dropped; S. F. Cornell, a good sprinter, has been placed on probation; H. E. Eyrich, the crack football end, has left college, and Harold Gouinlook, the leading broad jumper, has gone home.

GYM EXHIBITION

Annual Event to Be Held
March 17

The annual exhibition of the gymnasium team will be held on March 17 at 8 p. m. A large squad has been working every afternoon in the gymnasium, under the supervision of Captain W. G. Wood. Nine members of last year's team are back in College and are out to retain their old positions in their specialties. The most promising of the new men are Campbell, of the 1910 Davidson team, who has been practicing with the basketball squad, Bush, T. M. Wood and Seward.

Medals will be awarded the winner in each event. These together with the all around champion cup have arrived and are now on exhibition in Jahrke's window. Besides the contests for the cup and medals an exhibition in double tumbling and some spectacular work in pyramid building will be given during the evening. Several boxing and wrestling bouts will also be pulled off.

Among the old men from last year's team still in College are Captain Wood, winner on the rings, Larrick on the parallel bars, Prichett on the mats, Moore on the horse. Former Captain Tucker, who was the all around champion last year is not in College. It is expected that there will be a number of contestants for the cup and the winner cannot yet be picked. The old men besides the above mentioned are McGill, Bridenbach, W. McE. Miller, Ghiselin and Robbins.

TO THE STUDENTS OF W. L. U.

As is generally known the undersigned students have taken over the management of the Lyric motion picture show, and in doing so we wish to solicit the co-operation of our fellow students.

It is our purpose to provide the best and highest type of entertainment possible. An entirely new machine has been installed and we hope for good results. The contract with the former vaudeville company has been cancelled and we have a place on the Norman Jeffries circuit, which is considered one of the highest toned circuits in the country. Their performances have both refinement and tone. It is our further purpose to conduct the entertainment in such a way that the most sensitive feelings will be unmarred. We sincerely hope that our fellow students will support us in this venture and that they will never let their enthusiasm exceed their thoughtfulness in the presence of ladies.

DATES FOR EASTER DANCES FIXED

Junior Prom Comes Monday, April
17th—Cotillion Club Dance
April 18th

At a recent meeting of the Cotillion club, it was decided that the Easter dance of this organization should be held Tuesday night, April 18 and Monday night, April 17, was assigned to the Junior class for its Annual Prom. It is understood that the Phi Kapp Psi fraternity will give a german on Wednesday.

Heretofore the Easter Dances at Washington and Lee have begun one week following Easter Monday, but the lateness of Easter this year made the above change advisable. As matters now stand the entire week will be a gala one for Lexington; Easter Sunday comes on April 16, the Washington and Lee dances April 17, 18 and 19. The Dramatic Club will probably give a performance on April 20 and the V. M. I. hops will be held April 21 and 22. There will be base ball games on April 21 and 22 with Maryland Agricultural College and the University of South Carolina.

THE MUSICAL GEORGETTES

The Musical Georgettes, introducing many novel instruments, gave an interesting entertainment at the High School auditorium Thursday night. The performance of this family of accomplished musicians was both interesting and instructive and was an enjoyable treat to a fair sized audience. This appearance was under the auspices of the High School Improvement Committee and the proceeds will go towards equipping the auditorium. The program rendered was as follows:

YOU CAN SAVE MONEY

as shirts, collars and cuffs are injured more by improper washing and ironing than by actual wear. This is an absolute fact, as you probably know. It is also an absolute fact that your linen will wear twice as long and look better by having it laundered by the Lexington Steam Laundry, No. 1164 N. Main St. Branch office, Model Barber Shop. This you can prove by giving us your work regularly, and finding out how much you can save by it. Students get a special discount on all their work.

justice, love of truth and patriotism, which means love of the people who compose one's country, are the only motives which will ever enlist such leaders against all their selfish interests. Is the question then involved one of principle and righteousness or one of mere material considerations? The new despotism unlike the old is absolutely indifferent to all creeds and confessions and all forms of church government so long as they only respect salvation in the life to come. But when you undertake to save men from the hells that are in this world and put into practice here the principals of the kingdom of heaven it becomes a different matter. The principles of the kingdom of Heaven agree with the decrees of the God mammon as James I said presbytery did with monarchy, as God with the devil.

The speaker then traced the connection between social evils such as polygamy, organized prostitution, the liquor traffic, child labor and other forms of economic slavery with political corruption. He showed that these things are protected by political bosses in order that they may maintain their hold upon party machines, municipal, state, and national. These in turn are the instruments of the money power, first to protect itself against hostile legislation, then to secure positive legislation enabling it to stifle competition, dictate wages to its employees, and prices to its consumer; and finally, growing bolder with success, to secure and control all the sources of wealth from the public domain.

The speaker further showed that even the churches and institutions of learning are not free from the corruption of this power. A considerable portion of the revenues of the churches, the endowments of colleges and universities, and even of the theological seminaries is drawn from watered stocks and exorbitant dividends. This must necessarily affect both religious liberties in the pulpit and academic freedom in the institutions of learning.

But it is impossible to draw the line between so called tainted money and that which is honestly earned. Since the whole system is more or less corrupt the only alternative is to purify such money by putting it to a noble use and to accept it with the distinct understanding, however, that it does not purchase the freedom of conscience of statesmen, judges, preachers or professors.

The church then must enlarge her message to suit the conditions of the times, but the new theology must grow out of the old. Retributive justice may have been over emphasized in the past, but the church of today must not leave it out of her preaching. We cannot dispense with either hell or the penitentiary in dealing with human selfishness. But the corruption of justice must be enlarged. We have not risen to the divine ideal of justice when we regard it as the mere arbiter between conflicting claims of human selfishness.

But selfishness can never cure selfishness. Individual selfishness is no remedy for corporate selfishness. The selfishness of organized labor is no cure for the selfishness of organized wealth.

The speaker then sketched Jesus' ideal of a kingdom of heaven on earth in which men are governed not by their baser but by their nobler motives. It is not true that selfishness is the strongest incentive in human conduct. When the love of God and man, the love of truth and justice have been awakened, they have proved stronger than all selfish motives. Those who say that the ideal of Jesus is impossible of realization, help to make it impossible by saying so. Faith creates no conditions of success, but unbelief may nullify them when they do exist. The speaker illustrated this from the scientific inventions of modern times. But the miracles of science, converting impossibilities into facts, have changed our scepticism into credulity. The speaker showed that the power of the ideals of Jesus and of the forces which he has revealed have wrought greater miracles in human history than any which science has ever wrought. He argued that the facts wrought by the power of Jesus which would have seemed baseless dreams to his generation, should overcome our incredulity as to the possibility of the realization of the Kingdom of Heaven on earth.

The Naps boast of more college players this year than at any time in the club's history. Birmingham went to Cornell, Falkenberg to Illinois, Joss to Wisconsin, De Mott to Lafayette, Blanding to Michigan, Kaler to Ohio State, Griggs to Pittsburgh, Mitchell to Miss. Agricultural and Mechanical. Doane and Olsen are also college men.
