Printed Placards Will Be Posted Explaining Rules Of Honor System

Campaign to Clarify Traditional Code Instituted

By E. C.

MAYNARD OUTLINES PRINCIPAL PHASES

Honor System Will Continue to Cover All Aspects of Student Life

In an effort to insure more complete understanding of the Honor System and its traditions, the Executive Committee of the student body announced today that placards explaining the Honor System and its operation would be posted on the campus early next week. The traditions of the Honor System already have been explained in Chapel addresses to the freshmen, and members of the faculty have been requested by the Executive Committee to give full explanations of the Honor System in each class.

The placards which are to be posted include a complete explanation of the Honor System and an outline of the procedure in Honor System cases.

Maynard Explains

In commenting on the plan to post this explanation of the Honor System, Fletcher Maynard, president of the student body, pointed out certain sections which, he said, were particularly important.

"The Honor System requires that a man shall act honorably in all the relations and phases of student life. Lying, cheating, stealing, or breaking one's word of honor under any circumstances are considered infringements of the Honor System. The result in such cases will always be dishonorable dismissal from the University. The pledge in classes on examinations, quizzes, written problems, and exercises, means that the work which the student hands in to his professor is his own, which he himself has done in accordance with the requirements of the course as laid down by the professor. . .

Report Suspects

"The Honor System requires in the second place that, when a student sees another student in suspicious circumstances, he shall investigate the matter as secretly and as speedily as possible, and if he finds evidence of guilt, shall notify some member of the Executive Committee who will report the act to the president of the student body, who shall then report the matter to the Executive Committee. It is imperative that everyone recognize this duty of protecting the Honor System and the student body. Anyone who sees a fellow student in suspicious circumstances, and fails to investigate the matter is himself guilty of a breach of honor. . . This can in no way be construed as spying or tale-bearing. It is the finest expression of loyalty to a cherished tradition of honor among a community of self-governing students. . . It is also important that every student should exercise the greatest care to keep himself free from the suspicion of evil. . .

"One of the greatest dangers to which an Honor System can be exposed is that of being 'overloaded.' To avoid this, and to preserve inviolate a precious heritage, it is essential that the Honor System shall concern itself solely with those offenses which are classified as dishonorable by the public opinion of the student generation involved."

Lang Skarda to Head Interfraternity Council

Lang Skarda, Kappa Alpha, was elected President of the Interfraternity Council at a meeting held yesterday afternoon. Oliver Lewis was made Vice-President, and Clark Winter chosen as Secretary-Treasurer.

A committee of three, composed of John Jones, Vaughn Beale and Castle Adamson was appointed to arrange with Captain Dick Smith to furnish season tickets to house mothers for all athletic contests.

The next meeting of the Council will be held the first Thursday in November.

LeBus Pushes Campaign For Sophomore Dance Set

Graham Completes Plans For Decorations At Openings

With the drive for payment of sophomore dues scheduled to be concluded tomorrow night, and with negotiations under way with Frederick Lynch, prominent Philadelphia designer, for the decorations for the dances, plans for the opening dance set were practically complete today.

Larry Funk and his "Band of a Thousand Melodies" have been signed to play for the sophomore prom on Friday night, October 6, while Jack Denny will play for the dansant and Cotillion Club formal on Saturday.

Denny is coming to Washington and Lee from the Sesquicentennial celebration at Lynchburg, where he is scheduled to play on Thursday and Friday nights. He is now featured in New York City, having recently completed an engagement at the Waldorf-Astoria.

Meanwhile, according to unofficial reports from V. M. I., Hal Kemp has been signed to play for the Keydets' opening dances on October 30-31.

"The drive for payment of sophomore dues has been fairly satisfactory," John LeBus, president of the sophomore class, reported this afternoon. "It is important that every second-year man should pay his dues before the end of the drive tomorrow night in order to insure a favor at the sophomore prom."

Members of the sophomore finance committee will be stationed at the Corner Store tonight from 7 until 9 o'clock and again tomorrow from 2 until 4 p. m. and from 7 till 9 p. m. to receive payment of the $2.50 dues.

Payment of the dues entitles a

Dr. Stow Outlines Summer Trip In Yellowstone Park

Dr. Marcellus Henry Stow, head of the Geology department, spent this summer "in the field," working with the Yellowstone-Big Horn Research Association, Incorporated, of which he is a charter member and one of the counsel. His work was to correlate, or classify systematically, the sedimentary rocks by the microscopic minerals in them.

Also with the association this summer was Dr. Edward C. H. Lammers, who was working on his Doctor's thesis at the time. Dr. Lammers' investigation dealt with the mountain structure at the North end of the Bear Tooth Mountains; and formed, along with the work of Dr. Stow and others, part of a large project of studying the origin of mountain ranges and basins. This is a continuation of work Dr. Stow has been doing for three years.

John Bierer acted as Dr. Stow's field assistant and his brother, James Bierer, was also with the group, but only for two weeks. The parties operated from a base camp at Red Lodge, Montana, at the beginning of the new Cooke City highway into Yellowstone National Park.

The findings of the association, a non-profit-research institution, financed by grants, are to be published as individual papers and as a monograph by the Geological Society of America. Dr. Stow's grants have been from the Society and the Scott Fund of Princeton University.

Dr. Stow said he plans to continue his work with the association next summer.

Chemistry Fraternity Plans For Lectures

Chi Gamma Theta, honorary chemistry society, met last Tuesday night for the first time to reorganize their ranks and to outline a program for the coming months.

A lecture every other week is planned for the club, beginning October 13. Dr. J. L. Howe will be the first speaker.

Chi Gamma Theta will not elect new members for several months. Membership depends on marks in chemistry and recommendation by the student's professor. Approximately twenty-five students are now enrolled in the fraternity.

Notice

Subscribers who have not been receiving their copies of The Ring-tum Phi are requested to notify Ernest Barrett, business manager, at the Phi Delta Theta house immediately.

If you are receiving your paper but the address stamped on it is not correct, please notify Barrett and the error will be corrected.

Non-Fraternity Men Organize

Social, Political, Athletic Union Advocated In Student Meeting

By ROBERT NICHOLSON

Applauding at every turn the proposals for strengthening their position in campus life, nearly one hundred interested non-fraternity men cheered Wednesday night the announcement of a permanent Non-Fraternity Union, and the walls of historic Washington Chapel rang with a spirit which conquered the depressing rain falling outside Washington Hall.

At the opening, Joe Taylor, chairman of the Non-Fraternity Central Committee, said: "Other non-fraternity organizations have been started in the past but only at the time of political events when certain minority groups felt such organizations could be used to exploit their interest. Today the Non-Fraternity Union does not represent personal ambition, but the expression of a group spirit to promote the welfare of non-fraternity men. It is not social; it is not political; it is not athletic; but it is an organization to knit its members into a unified group and to express the desires and fulfill the needs of non-fraternity men."

The most important point on the program was the announcement of the group dinner for non-fraternity men and their dates during the opening dance set. Taylor said that members of the Non-Fraternity Central Committee would contact all who were in attendance last night; and that others who were interested should see him or some other member of the NFCC. He pointed out that only a limited number of reservations were available and that

W.-L. Christian Council Welcomes Freshmen; Plans Year's Program

Two new members will be elected to the senior council, and the freshmen will be organized into a body similar to the Hi-Y, with their own organization, when the Christian Council meets Wednesday night for its first meeting of the year.

The Council will soon move into its new home in the Student Union building. According to Harry Philipp, president, the furniture and equipment for the new home has been ordered, and is expected next week.

Every student, upon paying his tuition, becomes a member of the Christian society, which is directly affiliated with the Y. M. C. A., and is welcome to play, loaf, read, and pass the time in the Council's rooms and with its members.

Student Union Nearly Ready; Activity Program Still Indefinite

Rooms Assigned to Societies, Committees as Building Nears Completion

FURNITURE GIVEN FOR GAME ROOM

Faculty-Student Committee To Plan Union Activities

In a statement issued late last night, Dr. J. S. Moffatt, chairman of the faculty committee on Student Union activities, said that the Union program would be based on co-operation between the faculty committee and the Student Union council. Members on the faculty board are Dr. Moffatt, Professor Lature, and Mr. Paul Penick; on the student committee, Fletcher Maynard, Latham Weber, and Joseph Arnold.

Although plans for the various Union activities are rather indefinite, the building program is progressing rapidly. Rooms in the house have already been assigned to the Literary societies, the Student Body Executive Committee, the Publications Board, the Christian Work Committee, and O. D. K. In addition, there will be several general committee rooms upstairs, to be placed at the disposal of any other University organizations. To the right of the entrance on the first floor will be a game room to be used for indoor recreations, and on the left a reception room. At the back of the first floor a room has been set aside for a lounge, and in the basement will be a kitchen for student use.

The Committee has no definite plan at present for furnishing the house, except the game room, for which furnishings have already been donated by the Christian Work Council. Three N. Y. A. boys will be in charge during the daylight hours, while Saxby Taylor will be on duty at night. Dr. Moffatt added that the policy of the administration will be to concentrate as many student activities as possible around the building, which, of course, open to all students and student organizations.

Few Attend Literary Society Joint Meeting; Call Second Session

Less than half the number expected attended a joint meeting of the Graham-Lee and Washington Literary societies, held Monday night in Washington Chapel at 7:30 p. m. About thirty new men and fifteen old men were present. Professor G. S. Jackson attributed the small attendance to not enough advertisement of the meeting.

A second joint meeting is planned for Monday at 7:30 p. m., in the new Student Union building. All men interested in affiliating are urged to be present.

At the meeting Monday Professor Jackson outlined the program for the coming year. New members expressed their preference for either the Graham-Lee or Washington society. Prospective members distributed their preferences equally between the two.

Both societies will use a room in the new Student Union building which was designed especially to answer their needs. The Graham-Lee society will meet regularly on Mondays at 7:30 p. m., and the Washington society will meet at the same hour on Tuesdays.

Cotillion Club Pledges

Bob Graham announced twenty-four pledges to the Cotillion Club. They are:

L. E. Long, Jr., A. C. Broders, Jr., J. B. Edwards, J. G. Lamb, Jr., J. S. Haselden, Jr., J. R. Howard, E. A. Basse, Jr., N. T. Houston, W. H. Edwards, J. L. Campbell, Jr., E. C. Rankin, A. T. Snyder, E. D. Axton, Jr., T. N. Tennant, W. G. Weber, S. B. Harper, Jr., P. F. Gaines, Jr., H. R. Stevenson, Jr., L. Y. Jones, R. T. Crawford, S. P. McChesney, Jr., W. H. Daniel, W. W. Brown and S. E. Kerkow.

Game Traced On Gridgraph

Miniature Field Will Re-count Blue's Fortunes Against Army

All Washington and Lee men will be able to follow the home team's stand against Army Saturday afternoon in Doremus gymnasium at 3:15 p. m., when the University's gridgraph machine will give a play-by-play description of the game.

The gridgraph, a new machine which has been used for describing out-of-town football games for the past few years, will be managed by experienced operators. They are having preliminary practice tomorrow night. The plays will come directly to the audience immediately after they are executed on the field at West Point. A direct wire from Western Union will be leased so that the gridgraph will show what is happening.

The machine is a miniature football field and will be placed at the end of the gym on the balcony, where it can easily be seen by all. A light behind the miniature field will represent the ball and its position, and lights on either end will announce the plays and their results.

During the half other big football games will be announced over the public address system, and World Series reports and details will be supplied throughout the afternoon.

Admission will be twenty-five cents, and the turnout will decide whether or not the gridgraph will be used for the rest of the season.

Survey Reveals Number of Cars In Fraternities

It was revealed yesterday in a survey made of the number of cars in each fraternity house on the campus, that the total number of motor vehicles owned by fraternity members was 86, being an average, for the nineteen fraternities, of 4.5. Leading the list was Phi Kappa Psi with 8, and Pi Kappa Alpha and Kappa Sigma with 7 each. Every one of the nineteen fraternities at Washington and Lee was represented.

Following is a tabulation of the number of cars in each fraternity house:

Phi Kappa Psi, 8; Pi Kappa Alpha, 7; Kappa Sigma, 7; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 6; Phi Gamma Delta, 6; Kappa Alpha, 5; Alpha Tau Omega, 5; Phi Delta Theta, 5; Phi Kappa Sigma, 5; Delta Upsilon, 5; Beta Theta Pi, 4; Delta Tau Delta, 4; Lambda Chi Alpha, 4; Sigma Chi, 3; Sigma Nu, 3; Sigma Phi Epsilon, 3; Phi Kappa Phi, 3; Phi Epsilon Pi, 2; Zeta Beta Tau, 1. Total—86.

Sale of Auto Licenses Expected to Jump As City Council Cuts Cost

Automobile licenses for the City of Lexington are now $2.50. Mayor Rhodes announced yesterday. This reduction from the regular price of $4.00 was effective October 1, and will continue until April 1.

These tags are required by all students who intend to operate a car in the city this year. Several members of the student body have already had to pay fines under this law.

The Mayor stressed the fact that the city administration is always ready to meet the students of Washington and Lee more than half-way. If co-operation is given, Mr. Rhodes stated, the undergraduate will be able to realize the advantages Lexington has to offer Washington and Lee.

To Renew Feud

Bill Borries, sophomore end and brother of "Buzz" Borries, who plans to renew his brother's feud against the Army eleven tomorrow.

Collegian Ready For Good Year

Rider Optimistic Over Interest Shown at First Editorial Meeting

"It looks as though The Southern Collegian ought to have a pretty good year," was the comment of Cowl Rider, editor, after the first meeting of the editorial staff in Tucker Hall basement on Charles Clarke, Jay Reid and Aubrey Simpson were tentatively placed on the editorial board. The staff personnel depends on the contributors. One or two men may be added to the board later, said Rider.

At the meeting, Rider outlined the policy of The Collegian, accentuating the fact that though any type of material, "literature or otherwise," will be considered, originality and cleverness will be given preference. He stressed the need for better written material than that published in the past.

The deadline for copy was set for October 30, with another meeting of the staff called for October 20 to check progress. Copy may be left with Mr. Lauck in the journalism print shop directly behind Washington Hall up to the deadline, after which any unsuitable material will be returned to contributors with comments and suggestions by the editor.

Despite the fact that two other organizations met on the same night, about fifteen men turned out for The Collegian meeting. "This is the largest number that has turned out for some time," Rider stated. "This year's freshman class shows far more interest in publications than last year's. Right now The Collegian hasn't one regular sophomore contributor or possibility for the editorship in the '38 elections. This freshman class, though, has three or four good possibilities."

Among the new men attending the meeting was Francis Sgrue, brother of Tom Sgrue, once editor of The Collegian.

Sophomore Dues Exempt Juniors, Seniors From Payment of Dance Fees

This year's Juniors and Seniors who have paid their Sophomore dues will be admitted to the Friday night dance free of charge. Bob Graham, president of the Cotillion Club, said this afternoon. However, no statement was made as to whether this exemption would hold true next year.

Generals Hold Weight Advantage of Over Ten Pounds

26 MAKE TRIP TO WEST POINT

Tilson Confident of Perfect Condition of The Team

According to reports from West Point today, Washington and Lee will outweigh the Army by more than ten pounds to the man when they meet in Michie stadium tomorrow afternoon. The General line, averaging 198 pounds per man, will be pitted against a Cadet wall averaging 186 pounds, while the backfield shows 178 to 182 pounds in favor of the Big Blue.

The twenty-six men who left Lexington at 7:15 this morning were in high spirits, feeling sure of their ability to make it rough going for the Army. Coach Tilson himself was confident that the team is in perfect shape for the contest. With Roger Williams the only man out of the line-up, chances are most favorable for a Washington and Lee upset that will make football history. While sports writers give the Generals only the barest chance for victory, discouragement was certainly not present when the team left Lexington.

Tilson Comments

Coach Tilson provided a note of genuine interest when asked about his fears of what Army scout might have seen in the Elon game last Saturday.

"True," said Tilson, "they saw the fake reverse which was so effective last week, but that is only one of four of our potential touchdown plays. Three of these the scouts did not see. If they spend the afternoon waiting for Sample on a fake through tackle, they will certainly miss some nice offensive tries in other spots."

The spearhead of the Cadet attack will undoubtedly be Monk Meyer, the 147-pound half-back who was mentioned as a possible all-American on several selections last fall. Also outstanding in the Army backfield is James Craig, triple-threat fullback who is expected to provide trouble for the Generals.

In the line Woody Stromberg and Maurice Preston will provide a veteran combination at the end positions, while the tackle jobs will be left to Isbell and Eriksen. Both of these boys are big and rangy with reputations for good work last year.

Army Players Rangy

While the Army linemen do not have the weight of the Generals, they are probably unique in that no man in the starting line-up is less than six feet tall.

Against these offerings of the Army Coach Tilson's boys will have two complete teams ready for the fray. If the line plunging activities of the first squad should fail, the fast backfield and strong line of the second eleven will be on hand.

The players who made the trip along with coaches, manager, trainers, etc., are as follows: Allen, Berry, Borries, Brown, Brashers, Carson, Craft, Dickinson, Dunlap, Fishback, Harper, Morton Howard, Jones, Lindsey, Long, Lykes, Moore, Ochsie, Owings, Parrish, Rogers, Sample, Spessard, Szymanski, White, and Bob Howard.

University Professors Will Meet October 8th

"The Future of the University" will be the title of a round-table discussion at the first meeting of the American Association of University Professors, Thursday, October 8.

AN OPEN FORUM ON UNIVERSITY IMPROVEMENTS

With the University coffers soon to be swelled by the Doremus bequest, speculation as to what use will be made of the money is a favorite amusement...

Of the suggestions which have been advanced as to ways in which the bequest could be utilized, some are fantastic, others are of only secondary importance...

There are certain factors, however, which we think must be taken into consideration before any definite decision is made as to the disposal of the money.

Our second point is, perhaps, more controversial. We believe that no matter what improvements are planned, the funds from the Doremus bequest should be set aside as part of the endowment...

The income from this part of the endowment would be ample to insure the increase in salary which has long been due the members of the faculty.

At the same time and by judicious planning, the construction of any new buildings which the University needs could be financed out of this income.

The improvements will come slowly, it is true, if the program of expansion is financed entirely from income from endowment.

But to return to the specific nature of the improvements planned, we think that the best suggestions for such improvements will naturally come from those most vitally concerned...

OLD GEORGE'S NEW COMPANION—THE MECHANICAL BELL RINGER

It is with a feeling half-way between sadness and alarm that we first listened to the bell on Washington College tolling out the hours on Saturdays and Sundays as well as on week days.

No longer will a faithful ringer, proud of his record for accuracy and being on time, march once each week-day hour down the old corridor on the second floor of Washington College.

Perhaps it is better that it should have thus quietly gone; the old order changeth, and it is fitting that the very latest engine should be installed inside shining new walls. Somehow or other though, we can't help but wonder how "Old George," now ignominiously stored in the Law School vault, is going to feel about all these mechanical goings on beneath him...

THE INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL—WILL IT HAVE A PROGRAM?

Meeting for the first time this fall, the Interfraternity Council last night elected its new officers, appointed one committee, and then adjourned until after the first of November.

We presume that during the month to come before the next meeting, the new officers will evolve some sort of a program for the work of the Council this year.

Will the Council attempt to substitute order and regulation instead of the existing chaos of Rush Week?

Will it consider the question of co-operative buying for fraternity houses—a plan once so widely discussed on the campus?

Will it put into effect the plan approved last year for the collection of fraternity debts through the University?

Will the Council attempt to aid the freshman in his choice of fraternities by publishing an adequate explanation of Washington and Lee's fraternity system and the expenses involved in joining each fraternity?

Will the Council endeavor to raise the standards of fraternity scholarship by insisting that a freshman have a "C" average to be eligible for initiation?

In short, will the Council have any definite program—or, as so often in the past, will it go through the year in haphazard fashion, arguing over trivialities, accomplishing nothing?

THE FORUM

TRADING TOYS FOR RIFLES... AND A BOAST

Word of very distressing nature to pacifist-minded people on this side of the ocean has again come from two of Europe's capitals.

Both dispatches only serve to re-emphasize the fears with which the large nations to the east and west of Nazi Germany look upon Herr Hitler's growing imperialistic disposition.

From France arrives news that high government officials will shortly introduce a bill providing for compulsory military training for its youth of grammar school age.

It is true, of course, that this compulsory training for youth under the age of fourteen will be primarily in the nature of physical development rather than actual military training.

French shrug their shoulders at this decision, however, and say philosophically that they must do everything possible to offset Germany's superior, and still-growing, man-power.

And from the opposite corner of Europe comes another dispatch which also reveals this constant watchfulness and worry with which Germany is watched. Only, this second bit of news reveals a bold, in fact defiant, attitude toward German militarism.

Klementi Voroshilov, Commissar of War and Navy, to the acclaim of thousands who heard him last week at Kiev, said in the event of war Russia will fight her opponent on the latter's own soil rather than within the bounds of the Soviets.

With these words ringing in the listener's ears, his reiteration later that Russia would be only too glad to unite with other world powers in disarmament sound hollow.

America can hardly blame European nations for their militaristic outlooks. Trouble is imminent on all sides, particularly during these present days. But such arrogance as some of the capitals demonstrate, particularly in the case just cited, is entirely unpardonable.

We are sorry that France is so beset with fears that she must call upon her little children as converts into future cannon-fodder even before they have wearied of their brightly-colored toys.

CAMPUS COMMENT

By JAMES FISHEL

Huh? . . .

Thank God for the freshmen! What humor and witticisms escape from the halls of Washington and Lee are, on the whole, due to the presence of these gangling strangers.

"The great Derby crowd at Churchill Downs is the most spectacular of all. There are those who own horses in their boxes along with movie stars and others of importance."

Glamour Girl . . .

Under the bold caption of "Washington and Lee's Glamour Girl," beautiful Mrs. John Neely crashed through the printed matter of The New York Daily News with a two column picture of herself.

Dreary . . .

Along with the rainy days that we're having is the drab report that the administration is thinking of painting the walls of Washington Hall grey.

Welcome Home . . .

President Denny of Alabama University and former president of Washington and Lee will return to Lexington immediately after the Christmas holidays to make his permanent home here.

Undernourished . . .

After a week of careful physical scrutiny of the freshman class, Mr. Cy Twombly reports that the physical make-up of the boys of '40 is below average.

Ray! . . .

This time there may be a solution to our perplexing rushing problem. The rumor winds carry tales of a workmanlike Date Bureau to be rigged up for next year's slaughter.

PREVUES

The New

Friday—"Things to Come," by H. G. Wells. There are some very striking scenes, predicting the fate of the innocent bystander in the next war, in this picture, but the most of it seems a trifle far-fetched.

Saturday—"Lady Be Careful," with Lew Ayres and Mary Carlisle. A revised version of "Sailor Beware," with Ayres cast in the role of a shy sailor with the reputation of a Don Juan.

Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday—"Anthony Adverse." Your enjoyment of this picture depends entirely upon whether or not you have read the book.

The Lyric

Saturday—"Silver Spurs," and chapter one of "The Phantom Rider." Standard stuff, cowboys, horses, gun fights, and a maiden in distress.

THE EASY CHAIR

By STANFORD SCHEWEL

When Freddy Freshman comes to college, nothing is more forcefully thrust into his face and down his throat than fraternities. A crusade against the evils of Rush Week (the upperclassmen's "Hell Week") would be useless, but there are ways of making freshmen more acquainted with fraternities before they come to college.

In the last issue of The Ring-tum Phi appeared an excellent editorial advocating that pay (more politely termed, "certain monetary consideration") be awarded the junior editors of The Ring-tum Phi.

This policy has a good deal of merit, but unfortunately it produces a good many complications.

Last year the University set itself upon a policy of strict amateurism as regards football players.

Very few new men, especially boys from smaller towns, know Alpha Beta Chi from Kappa Beta Phi. They have a vague idea that Greek letter fraternities are somehow mixed with paddles and drunks. Parents, when they think about fraternities at all, often regard them as vicious dens of iniquity that encourage drinking, immorality, and vice of all sorts, as breeders of snobbishness, as needlessly expensive, and as worthy of only of abolition.

The entire matter is delicate and complicated. Let the Publication Board carefully consider the reverberations of any action it may take.

We suggest that perhaps a pamphlet explaining fraternities be drawn up and sent to all incoming students. Let this pamphlet explain the fraternity in its true light, the house mother system, the part fraternities play on the campus.

Intramural Program To Open Next Week With Touch Football

Tennis and Horseshoe Pairings to Be Made Over Week-end

OFFICERS NAMED FOR I.-M. BOARD

New Rulings Passed Governing Forfeiture of Individual Matches

Intramural athletics will get under way next week with opening of touch football on Tuesday. Pairings for tennis and horseshoe pitching will also be made over the week-end and these two tournaments will begin sometime during the week.

Representatives of the twenty intramural teams, meeting in Dorremus Gymnasium last Tuesday night, elected officers for the succeeding session, discussed several proposed activities and passed two significant resolutions relating to forfeiture of matches.

The officers chosen to serve on the Intramural Board were Russ Doane, Pi Kappa Phi; Bill Swift, Alpha Tau Omega; and Art Buck, Non-Fraternity Union.

After tabling several motions for including doubles in tennis and handball and a soccer tournament, the representatives took up the question of forfeiture of matches when one of the contestants did not appear at the appointed time.

The following resolutions were adopted:

1. Any contestant who is unable to play his match as scheduled must notify the Intramural Board by noon of the day of the match. If his excuse is reasonable, he shall be allowed two days in which to play the match. In no event may a match be postponed longer than two days. Failure to comply with this requirement is accepted as forfeiture of the match.

2. Any contestant, who fails to appear within twenty minutes of the scheduled time for his match, automatically forfeits the match, unless he has complied with the requirements of Rule 1.

Football Holiday Termed Improbable by University

Administration officials termed as 'very improbable' today the possibility of a football holiday this fall.

It was pointed out that the University ruling adopted two years ago, which gives upperclassmen a week of cuts and freshmen one day's leave, was primarily adopted to do away with the constant agitation for such a holiday.

Rowers Need Fall Practice

Sproul Announces Additional Workouts Necessary for Schedule

Faced with the prospect of a hard schedule next spring, the Washington and Lee oarsmen will engage in a fall practice session on North River, Erskine Sproul, crew manager, announced today. A definite date will be fixed at the completion of the repair work now in progress on the shells.

The 1936-37 editions of the Albert Sidney and Harry Lee crews of four men each will be captained by Al Lustbader and Joe Taylor, respectively. The two shells will later combine into the University eight-oared boat which will be led by Sproul.

A pair of races with Asheville School on a home-and-home basis have been scheduled. Negotiations are now under way with three other prospective opponents.

The loss of Jim Akers, Luke Robbins, Dave Phelps, and Jacob Seligman will be felt, but Sproul has high hopes of replacing these men with competent sophomores. Howard Hickey, Johnny LeBus, Bill Kates, and Bill Kesel are some of the possibilities among the second-year men.

Tryouts for the freshmen crew will be held next spring.

Freshman Eleven to Play First Game in Staunton Today

With only a comparatively small eight-day training schedule accomplished, Washington and Lee's freshman football squad went to Staunton this afternoon to launch their college athletic careers in a tilt with the Staunton Military Academy gridmen.

Coach Cy Young pointed out yesterday that his club was not in the best of condition with the meagre training period they have been exposed to, however he could assure plenty of fight and added that the eleven was showing a timely improvement and pointed to a fairly good ball club within a couple of weeks. It was intimated that the starting eleven this afternoon was to be a light one but not lax in speed merchants.

In the Little Generals' starting forward wall will be seen Monroe Emmerick or Joe Billingsley and Joe Dietz on the flanks, with Dick Boisseau and Kelley Littrell at tackles, and Paul Muldoon and Jim Sheridan completing the line at guards. "Steve" Brodie is the best possibility for a starting pivot man. Emmerick has been hampered a little by a trick knee thus far during the season and may not be risked this afternoon. Boisseau tips the scales at slightly over 200.

Either little Jim Humphrey or Bobby Hobson will take the quarterback job with Ralph Baker, Bill Wood, and Harrison Hogan completing the quartet of backs. Humphrey and Hogan have both seen action in past year with the S. M. A. athletes. The former was at Fork Union prep, while Hogan sang his swan song last season with Bowling Green.

University License Tags University tags will not be required on student automobiles, Dean Frank J. Gilliam said today. Nor does the University plan to supply tags for voluntary use by students unless there is sufficient demand to justify the expense of having the licenses made.

Staff Selects Generals, Kentucky, Pitt as Victors Tomorrow

At this point the year's football season is coming to a head, and there are many games in the lime-light Saturday.

Washington and Lee is going to show her goods at West Point. The Cadets are big, strong, and deceptive, but so are the Generals. Maybe there will be a repetition of the Princeton game, only this time Army doesn't score in the last minute.

Duke takes on South Carolina. Despite the Gamecocks' defeat last week at the hands of V. M. I., they will still give the Blue Devils a hard fight. Unfalteringly enough, Duke's power will prevail.

Old Kaintuck tackles the Flying Squadron at Lexington, Ky. The Kentucky coach is quite confident of a victory, and why shouldn't he be. He has one of the most powerful offensive aggregations in the country. All Kentucky.

Maryland and V. P. I. meet in an even match. Maryland gets the toss.

West Virginia is due for a hard beating. They play Pitt. Virginia and William-Mary play the Dedicating game at the new William-Mary stadium at Norfolk.

William-Mary looks very strong, but Virginia is definitely on the up-grade. Another toss-up, Virginia.

Other games predicted by the Ring-tum Phi Sport Staff are as follows:

- Washington and Lee, 7; Army 6
- Duke, 20; South Carolina 7
- Kentucky, 19; V. M. I. 7
- Maryland, 13; V. P. I. 7
- Virginia, 20; William-Mary 13
- Pitt, 21; West Virginia 0
- Alabama, 14; Clemson 7
- Arkansas, 13; T. C. U. 10
- Auburn, 7; Tulane 0
- Chicago, 14; Vanderbilt 7
- Yale, 13; Cornell 6
- Louisiana, 19; Texas 7
- Wake Forest, 13; N. C. State 7

Track Team Prospects Look Very Promising As Season Approaches

Prospects for this year's track team are most promising, according to Forrest Fletcher, head track coach. Coach Fletcher bases his hopes on the excellent crop of sophomores which composed last season's freshman team.

Fletcher's hopes for a successful year are strengthened by the return of Kingsbury and Brasher, co-captains this year, and Rogers, high-hurdles champion. Along with these stellar performers are Duane Berry, Tom Berry, Spessard, Edwards, Skarda and Prater.

Among the outstanding members of the freshman track team last year who will be in varsity competition this season, are Allen, Harvey, Hillier, Ragon, Nielson, and Kately. All of these men will be able to fill gaps left from last year's graduating class.

Coach Fletcher wished it announced that there will be no official practice until after Thanksgiving.

Following the BIG BLUE

By SAM McCHESNEY

When the Generals take the field tomorrow, they will meet their first real test of the season. Army has the reputation of having A-1 football teams, and last year was no exception to that rule. The West Pointers went through the season with six victories, two defeats, and one tie.

According to advance reports, the Army team didn't show up well against either the plebes or the "B" squads last Saturday in a practice scrimmage. Of course that doesn't have any great bearing on tomorrow's game, but it does indicate that Army has concentrated its efforts during the past week in order to polish up weaknesses.

Army's backfield, which averages 162 pounds per man, concentrates on deceptive plays. The aerial attack is well up to par.

Four Army scouts were here at the Elon game, but Coach Tilson has six or seven new plays that he has designed particularly for the Army's type of game. Sports critics may predict an Army victory tomorrow, but the Generals have a determination that is even better than entering the game as favorites and that determination is destined to put wrinkles in some of those critics' brows.

Head Coach Gar Davidson has had an enviable record since he took over the coaching reins in 1932. Over that four-year period the Army teams have won 21 games, tied one, and lost six. Davidson graduated from West Point in 1927; he played end on the Army varsity for two years. He acted as assistant coach of the plebe team for four years. He moved up to head coach of the "B" squad in 1930 and was coach of the plebe team the year before he came up to the varsity.

Monk Meyer, Army's contribution for all-American laurels, tips the scales at only 147 pounds. Meyer has gained much weight over the summer and, according to Army publicity men, can boot the ball ten yards farther than last year.

No bigger than an organ-grinder's monkey, Cadet Meyer has cut capers against almost every team that he has faced. It was his speedy legs that swept the Yale flank for a touchdown. It was his arm that tossed the pass that tied Notre Dame last year.

He is a coach's dream and his opponents' nightmare. The Generals will have a real job on their hands to try to bottle up Meyer; but should the Big Blue forward wall, which holds a seven-pound advantage over the Army line, stop him, the outcome will not be so interesting from Army's point of view.

Al Szymanski may be slow getting started at the first of the season, but once he gets under way there's no stopping. Last fall Al started out the season as of a relief tackle. Before three games had been played, he was a regular.

Out at football camp Al had trouble getting down to brass tacks. Last Saturday Joe Oschie opened the game in Al's old tackle position. During the practice this week Szymanski was again up to his old form. Tomorrow Al stands a good chance to start the game. His added incentive to play then is because his mother is going to West Point.

Of all the games on Washington and Lee's tough schedule, Bill Borries, pass-snagging end, is more interested in the Army tilt than any of the others. It all goes back to the fact that he has inherited from his brother some of that feeling toward Army.

While "Buzz" was at Annapolis, one of his chief ambitions was to topple the Army team. The Tars were leading the future Lieutenants, 3-0, with only seconds left to play. Monk Meyer, who became famous in football for the first time that year, broke away with a clear field in front of him. From out of nowhere "Buzz" Borries came cutting across the field, downed Meyer, and ruined Army's hopes.

On this Army subject Bill stands the same way as his brother. Who knows—perhaps the younger Borries may catch the pass that will spell defeat for the Army.

Chapel Attracts Large Number During Summer

Many old questions were asked the guide at Lee Chapel this summer by approximately 20,000 American visitors. The number of visitors shows a substantial increase over last year. On Labor Day alone there were more than 500 visitors to the Chapel.

While the majority of the visitors were intelligent enough, and the questions asked by them were in sincerity, many so-called boners were pulled.

The fee charged visitors is twenty-five cents. This assessment is being made to cover necessary expenses, to redecorate the building, and to refinish the oil paintings. Washington and Lee and V. M. I. boys and their parents are admitted free.

Milton Morrison, the guide, and Jack Gooch, the caretaker, will attest to the humorous questions asked by visitors this summer. Many people are under the impression that Washington and Lee is a natural park and some have gone so far as to believe it is a new hotel.

Several travelers with perfect seriousness show their obvious lack of historical knowledge by almost unbelievably foolish questions. One rather dull looking person wanted to know what this Civil War was all about anyway. An elderly gentleman came in and after seeking apparently in vain asked where the "lying down statue" was.

Dances

Seeking the co-operation of all members of the sophomore class, LeBus pointed out that the class dues must be paid immediately in order to adjust the budget for the dance set. The increased appropriation for orchestras this year makes it especially necessary to have the co-operation of all members of the class, he said, in order to meet the increased expenditures.

Plans for decorations for the dance set neared completion today as Bob Graham, president of the Cotillion Club, reported that he hoped to engage as decorator for this set, Frederick Lynch, who designed the decorations for last year's Fancy Dress and Finals.

The following committees for the sophomore prom were announced last night by John LeBus:

Arrangements: Bob Newell, chairman, Gerald Abernathy, Harry Redenbaugh, Homer Carmichael, Bill Borries.

Invitations: Pete Metcalf, chairman, Fred Bartenstein, Charlie Eaton, Ed Shannon and Walter Webber.

Students Asked Not To Visit Friends in Hospital

Dr. Reid White, the University physician, and the staff of the Jackson Memorial Hospital, have asked that attention be called to the ruling which requests all students to refrain from visiting any of their friends who may be patients in the hospital, unless the patient has special permission from the University physician to receive visitors.

The large number of colds now prevalent in the student body makes it strongly advisable that every precaution be taken to prevent the men who are now sick from infecting others. This situation is the sole reason for the request relative to visiting in the hospital.

Membership Drive Will Begin For National Concert Association

Arnold Lovejoy, Managing Director of the National Concert Association, announced recently that the drive for memberships in the association would begin on October 19th with a reception. The place for the reception has not been announced but it is rumored that it will take place at the Robert E. Lee Hotel. Invitations will be sent to a large number of enthusiasts.

The membership prices will be as follows: The adult membership will be three dollars; for two persons living in the same family, the price will be five dollars; and for students the nominal sum of 1.50 will be charged. The memberships are transferable. The company will put on concerts in Clifton Forge and Harrisonburg.

The number of concerts and the type of entertainment will depend entirely upon the number of memberships bought. The artists are limited due to the fact that auditorium facilities are not up to standard in Lexington.

No memberships can be purchased before October 19th or after October 24th.

New French Course Is Organized by Mr. Wall

A French conversational course will be started under the supervision of Professor Walls.

This course will be given in room 31, Washington Hall, between five and six o'clock every Monday and Friday afternoon. The course will be extra-curricular, no credit being given. The course is for the students' own edification, and no roll will be taken. Both elementary and advanced students are invited.

The University has been contemplating a French pronunciation course for some time, and the ingenious device secured by Professor Walls makes such a course possible. The Translaphon, the name of the pronouncing machine, plays sound records made by Frenchmen. Its advantage over other sound machines is in its ability to repeat any part of the record at any time.

This is Professor Walls' first year on the faculty. In addition to teaching French, he is also teaching Spanish and German.

Non-Fraternity

Continued from page one those who knew they were going to the dances should sign up immediately to insure a place.

Robert Nicholson, presenting the NFU intramural policy, said, "We are out to win the Intramural Athletic Championship this year. To do this we need the participation of every available man so we can enter every event to the limit."

Then the enthusiastic audience heard Don Heatherington outline the political program of the Union. "We do not propose to affiliate," he said, "with any political group nor to represent ourselves as a political party. However, we do plan to work with the fraternities in furthering such activities as we feel are compatible

Twenty-one proud possessors of new black, silver bound canes are seen gravely marching Tucker Hallwards these days. These gentlemen, Mr. Freshman, are the senior lawyers, wrapped up in Burke's "Pleading and Practice" and the ponderous tones of the

"Federal Reporter."

On a silver band around each lawyer's cane is his name, his class, and the name of the school. The canes first appeared on Thursday.

Students Urged to Vote In Presidential Election

If any of the student body were bewildered by the mysterious telegram on the bulletin board yesterday they should be enlightened by this discovery. The telegram was written by John D. Neff, of Staunton College, secretary of the Young Democratic Clubs of Virginia, urging all men and women students attending colleges and universities in this state to vote in the coming election. "There is still plenty of time," he said, "for them to go home, pay their poll tax and register." Mr. Neff sent the following telegram to fifteen presidents of colleges and universities in the state: "Staunton, Va., Sept. 29, 1936—To President Gaines of W. and L.

University, Lexington Va. — Will you at your convocation tomorrow inform or delegate a professor to explain to the student body that those who have become twenty-one since January 2, 1935, can vote in the November election, provided they go home, register and pay poll tax before October 3. I know that you will welcome this opportunity to impress upon your students this first duty of citizenship.—John D. Neff."
