W&L Host To Conclave Of AACSB

Final Session to Discuss Preparation for Services As Three-day Affair Ends

With two days of the all-important session history now, the curtain closes tomorrow noon on the 24th annual convention of the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business, to which Washington and Lee's School of Commerce is playing host this weekend.

Held in conjunction with the triennial meeting of Beta Gamma Sigma, national commerce and business administration society, the AACSB will focus the spotlight in tomorrow's final sessions on the training of university men for armed service, with particular reference to supply officers.

Welcomed by President Gaines on Thursday and feted with banquets, sight-seeing tours and teas, delegates representing 55 schools and 34 states have moved on Lexington for the conclave.

Two addresses on the relation of economics to the current war are scheduled for the annual convention banquet at the Dutch Inn tonight. The featured speakers are The Hon. Wayne Chatfield-Taylor, Under Secretary of Commerce, and Dr. Stacy May, director of the Statistics Division of the WPB.

After a business meeting devoted to committee reports and election of officers, the group will turn its attention tomorrow morning to the 1942 convention theme, "War Education Aims." Talks will be delivered by J. W. Barker, special assistant to the Under Secretary of Navy; Maj. A. L. Purinton, of the Training Division of the War Department; Dean Wallace B. Donham, of Harvard, and Col. Nathaniel Burnell, chief of the Defense Training Branch of the WPB.

Most of the first day's activity was centered upon the Beta Gamma Sigma session. All speakers Thursday were introduced by Dean Glover D. Hancock, of W&L, who is official host of the joint meeting. Reuben A. Lewis, executive vice-president of the Metropolitan Trust Company, was the initial guest speaker.

Panel discussions, open forums led by eight deans from eight different sections of the country and the first business meeting of AACSB were sidelights of today's sessions, which were featured by addresses from several high-ranking government representatives.

Included on this morning's speaking roster were: Dr. Francis J. Brown, prominent member of the National Committee on Education and Defense; Maj. Robert B. Coons, assistant chief of the Man Power Division of the Selective Service System; Dr. G. T. Schwenning, industrial management expert of the Office of Education and Leo M. Cherne, Editor-in-Chief, Research Institute of America.

Every phase of the role collegiate schools of business can play in the present conflict will have been covered when the convention is terminated tomorrow.

Noonan to Head Council; Sullivan, Smith Elected

Bill Noonan was chosen president of the Christian Council for next year in an election held this week.

Others who will serve as officers on the new council board are Larry Sullivan, vice-president; Holly Smith, secretary, and S. L. Kopald, treasurer.

Noonan, former council treasurer, won out over Neal Myers who has headed the Freshman Committee and conducted the University Vesper Series. Sullivan defeated Bobby Seal in the vice-presidential race while Tom Gilliland and Don Richardson provided opposition in the other two positions respectively.

Students Requested To Observe Rulings On Library Conduct

As a result of many criticisms which have come to the Library from alumni, the Student Advisory Committee in cooperation with the Librarian wishes to make the following recommendations concerning student decorum in the library building.

The reading room:
It is hoped that students will not place their feet on the tops of the tables or on the radiators or walls. In the rooms where smoking is permitted, ash trays are available and should be used. Waste baskets are also placed for use and not for decoration.

The browsing room:
This room is being furnished by the alumni for student use, and alumni will not be interested in further contributions unless proper use is made of the furniture. Students put their shoes on the leather chairs and sofas; removed cushions from chairs and sofas, and have pushed the chairs and sofas against the radiators so that the leather has been harmed. It seems hardly necessary to point out that these practices are not in accord with Washington and Lee standards.

Absolutely no caps and gowns may be rented after Monday afternoon from 2 to 4, it was announced today.

Spring Registration Set for Next Week

All students will be required to register for the summer session and for the next regular session of school work during the period, Monday, April 27 through Wednesday, April 29 in Washington Chapel, Professor Livingston W. Smith, chairman of the Registration Committee, announced yesterday.

The schedule for registration of academic, commerce and science sophomores and juniors follows:

Monday, April 27: Names beginning A to E, 2:00-3:00; F to K, 3:00-4:00. Tuesday, April 28: Names beginning L to R, 2:00-3:00; S to Z, 3:00-4:00.

Freshmen will register on Wednesday, April 29, according to the (See REGISTRATION, page 4)

The Cotillion Club will elect officers for next year at a meeting to be held in the Student Union, Tuesday night at 7:30. Bob Gage, retiring president of the group, announced today.

Assembly May 1 Will Interpret Army Program

The details of the Army's new aviation cadet training program will be explained to the W&L student body at a compulsory assembly in the gym on Friday, May 1 at 8 o'clock by Lieutenant-Colonel Hoyt L. Prindle, from the ir corps base at Langley Field, Virginia.

The program will include talks by Col. Prindle and Lt. Kayhoe, a recent graduate of the training program, and a motion picture about the plan, as well as a recent March of Time release on the United States army war activity.

Under the air corps' plan any student over 17 may enlist and will be deferred until graduation unless the exigencies of war demand that he be inducted.

Prof. Allen W. Moger has been appointed faculty adviser to those students who enlist.

Regarding the Navy, Marine, and Air Corps reserve programs, Dr. Gaines has expressed "a great satisfaction," and said, "all educators feel, that under these programs, students may normally continue their college work to graduation, subject always to emergency calls, and then have the opportunity for earning commissions upon their entrance to national defense."

W&L is one of five focal points for the aviation cadet enlistment program in Virginia. The others are the University of Virginia, William and Mary, the University of Richmond and VPI.

On Saturday following the assembly Col Prindle will be available for conferences with students concerning the cadet training plan and on May 15 Col. Prindle and an Army examining board will return to Lexington to examine students and swear in those accepted.

50 Glee Club Members Leave For Washington Weekend Tour

Fifty members of the W&L Glee Club, under the direction of Prof. J. G. Varner, will leave tomorrow for their annual Northern concert tour, which this year will feature engagements in and around Washington.

Highlight of the four-day trip will be an appearance in the National Episcopal Cathedral in the capitol to conduct the music for the regular Sunday evening services. Concert appearances have also been scheduled for National Park College at Forest Glen, Md. and Mary Washington College at Fredericksburg.

In announcing the trek, Paul Brown, club president, pointed out that it is "one of the most important tours made by the organization in several years, because it not only embraces concerts as well-known girls' schools, but it also presents the rare opportunity of singing at one of the largest and most famous cathedrals in this country."

The club will give its first performance Saturday evening at National Park. Following the concert, the group will be entertained at a dance given by the school.

Culmination of the Washington tour will be the recital at the cathedral, where the club will sing

Finals Week Officers, Committees Named; Two-day Set Planned

Hotly-Contested Class Elections Set for Monday

More than a score of candidates for class offices have thrown their hats into the political arena during the past week, in preparation for class elections which will be held Monday.

Leading the ticket of class elections is the position of president of the senior lawyers, which is being sought by Tyke Bryan, PiKA, Paul Brown, DU, and Bill Soule, Kappa Sig, are slated to run for the Senior Law Executive post. Paul Ganas, NFU, is unopposed for vice-president of the class. Ken Rippetoe, Lambda Chi, and Bobby Vaughan, NFU, will run for Intermediate Law class president. Phi Eta Sigma to Initiate 16 Freshmen Next Week

Sixteen freshmen will be initiated into Phi Eta Sigma, freshman honorary society at the next meeting of the organization which will be held in the Student Union next Tuesday, April 28, at 7:30 p.m.

The society will also elect officers for next year and will lay plans for the annual banquet to be held in October.

All spring initiates of the group made both the first semester and mid-semester of the second half honor rolls.

Our Policy

According to the rules of the game every new editor, whether on a metropolitan daily or a small campus weekly, must present to his readers a statement of policy—an outline of the ideas in which he believes and a summary of what he believes the place and purpose of his newspaper should be.

There is no denying that a newspaper—any newspaper—can in its own sphere influence thought and action, and sway opinion. It can instill understanding and promote tolerance, or it can breed misunderstanding and intolerance. We are fully aware of this power which is possessed even by a paper as small as the Ring-tum Phi, and we intend to conduct the editorial policy during the coming year in an objective manner—free from narrow prejudice and personal temperament.

The coming months will perhaps be the most trying period in generations for the students and for Washington and Lee University. It will be a period which will demand sanity, judgment, foresight, calmness and integrity on the part of every man on the campus. Complete cooperation and understanding between administration and students and between all groups on the campus will be necessary, and in matters which promote this end we shall attempt to lead student thinking.

In other matters we shall endeavor to mirror student opinion. Certain columns of the paper will remain open to any student who has anything to say to the campus publicly. In such times as these there must be some things which everyone of you would like to get off your chest, and for that purpose we will continue and enlarge upon the Personal Opinions and Letters to the Editor departments.

Editorially, the Ring-tum Phi will be independent of any outside influence. We shall be dedicated to the progress and improvement of the University. We shall be liberal and impartial in our approach to student problems, and we shall pledge the columns and influence of this paper to the national victory effort with all that it stands for—the preservation and spread of the democratic life.

In news coverage and features we hope to give complete satisfaction. We will back to the limit any plans or efforts designed for the welfare of any worthwhile group or organization at W&L, but we shall not fail to condemn and discourage an activity which would prove detrimental to the interest of the University or its students.

To sum up, we believe that the Ring-tum Phi is a campus service, not a campus activity. And so long as it continues to roll from the press twice weekly, you may rest assured it will endeavor to fulfill its obligations—presentation of unbiased news, freedom of comment and criticism, tolerant leadership and devotion to the ideals of Washington and Lee.

Campus Comment

By MAL DEANS

Mixed up Somewhat: Good old Red Bassett went to the hospital last week. Arriving unprepared as usual, Bassett finally managed to bum a half length nightgown for his six-foot-four frame and also mooched an old shee to use as a bathrobe. Now the hospital is famous for having trouble with names, but never have they had as much trouble as with old Red Bassett. When time came for the first meal, into the ward tramped a big buck, with a tray, who smilingly asked, "This here lunch fo' Mr. Basswood. Which one he?"

"I am Bassett, not Basswood, give me my food," demanded the red-headed one.

"Sorry. Dis ain't yours. Dis here fo' Mr. Basswood." Thus saying he left.

When supertime came another smiling waiter came into the room. "Dis here tray fo' Mr. Bazzard. Which one he?"

"My name is Bassett. B-A-S-S-E-E-T-T. It's mine. Fork it over," roared Red, at whom the pangs of hunger were now beginning to gnaw.

"Tain't yo' supper, captain. Dis Mr. Bazzard's. See yo' latuh!"

The next morning at breakfast Red was wide awake. He couldn't sleep with nothing in his stomach. In came the waiter as usual. "Ah!" said Bassett, deciding to try a different approach, "My breakfast I presume?"

"Yo' name Beazley?"

"No, dammit, my name isn't Beazley! It's Bassett! Bassett! Bassett! I'm perfectly sure that is my breakfast. I'm hungry. Give it to me!"

"Take it easy, captain, yo' breakfast be along directly, but dis here fo' Mr. Beazley. I bettuh go find him."

At this point Bassett gave up. Jumping out of bed, and throwing caution to the winds, he got dressed and headed for McCrum's. The last words that came to him as he went out the hospital door were: "Mr. Basie! Mr. Basie! Did the doctor say you could get up."

Around and About: The Navy must really have had confidence in Doug McCammish's speed. Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock he gets an order to be in Dallas by noon. McCammish blew town as quick as he could, but he's probably in the jug for being late... Back in town now are Marines Luther Jordan and Dick Smith... Those buck and a half checks for the forest fire "fighters" probably did more harm than good. All the boys who missed out on their dough are really crying their eyes out. "How'd you get a check? Jeez! I was out there as long as you were. Yeah, you need it. You need it like I need snow-shoes!"

Patriotism must be slowing down. There hasn't been a farewell party at El Patio for three nights. Speaking of El Patio—Joanne thinks Chuck Sardeson is the cutest thing that goes up there... Quotes from Herb Weed: "I'm a picked chicken. I have no girl. I have no good grades. They are rationing gas and all my relatives are dying. I have nothing left now but my money—absolutely nothing!"... Pete Day nursing some badly cut knuckles as a result of hitting either Cal Bond or a pane of glass. Day isn't sure which, but he likes to think it was Bond... From the lips of a freshman: "Somehow Evans Jasper and that guy he's always with look a helluva lot alike to me"... This gas rationing idea ought to raise the summer school enrollment here considerably. It seems as if there isn't much sense in going home anymore.

FILMS . . .

Veronica Lake—the best place to spend your vacation—has left the State and we must pull ourselves together and herald in a new anticfl gagantia of "Hellzapoppin," Saturday. Coming at the end of a week of books this ninety minute flash of utter dementia praecox ought to help us all out of the rut and into the gutter.

Olsen and Johnson, Martha Raye (you name it and she'll do it) and Mischa Auer try out every known form of guffaw-getter; there is so much coming off that it doesn't make any difference when you come in or go out. With no story, plot, or fluent dialogue (to speak of) this is the acme of fanciful antics.

Next week we all will be floundered in good movies for the Lyric has two shows that will keep you sitting still even if they aren't on the list of the higher movies (we almost said Movies 102 there but we thought we'd better not). "The Wolf Man" comes there Monday and Tuesday with its chamber of horrors including Lon Chaney, Jr., Bela Lugosi, Ralph Bellamy (he's not one) and others who will give you enough chills to thicken your Preston.

Carole Lombard's last picture, "To Be or Not to Be" with Jackson Benny plays at the State Monday-Wednesday. This is smooth satire played by a top cast. There's plenty of comedy as an actors guild gets mixed up in the intricate Nazi occupation machine.

Things get pretty tense when the Nazi discover they are being led by Nazis who aren't really Nazis at all. There are some remarks thrown around that keen minds will make the best of. You won't go wrong by seeing "To Be or Not to Be."

Thinclads Seek Win Tomorrow In Indian Meet

Washington and Lee varsity trackmen will go after their initial "Big Six" win of the current campaign tomorrow afternoon when they match strides with William and Mary's thinclads after dropping their opening meet to Richmond here last Saturday.

Paced by Captain Bud Yeomans' brilliant performance of four first places, the Generals showed promise Saturday though the visitors emerged on the long end of a 69-57 score.

In William and Mary the Blue cindermen will run up against a squad that has already shown its power this season. The Indians trounced Apprentice School Wednesday as a tune-up for the W&L meet, and Coach Forest Fletcher's men will be pushed to the limit in achieving victory over their W&M hosts.

The Generals have shown up best in the sprints and hurdles, with Captain Yeomans and Sophomore Chuck Wooters leading the way. The versatile senior copped both the hurdle events, the 220-yard dash and the broad jump against the Spiders Saturday, while Wooters broke the tape in the 100.

Sammy Graham is counted on for points in the distance events after taking seconds in both the mile and two mile races, while Jay Silverstein in the 4440 and Earl Brown in the half mile provide strength in the middle distance runs.

Hank Woods heads the W&L contingent in the other field events, breaking the old W&L discus record Saturday in placing second to Richmond's stellar John Griffin. Lillard Ailor will again take over the shot put, and Hal Keller and Walter Pope are ready for action in the high jump and pole vault.

Markoe Leads Stickmen To Decisive 8-1 Defeat Of Strong Wahoo Squad

Washington and Lee's lacrosse team broke a two game losing streak when it overpowered the University of Virginia stickmen 8-1 on Wilson Field yesterday in the first home game of the season.

The Blue stickmen, minus the services of Jim O'Connor who was injured in the Duke game, took the opening minutes of the first quarter and never relinquished it to the Wahos.

Frank Markoe scored three goals for the victors and played one of the best games on the field.

Freshman Charley Stieff, whose play so far this season has been only mediocre, seemed to be all over the place and handled his midfield position well. Roy Witte, another freshman, tossed in two goals for the Blue stickmen, while Jack Brooks accounted for one and Gordon Long garnered two.

Mudge scored the lone goal for the losers.

Bill Tyson made a "goal" during a time out and thought it was the real thing.

Linksmen Battle Indians Today With Bud Bowie Back in Ranks

After dropping an 11-7 decision to the Apprentice School on the wind-swept local course Monday, W&L's linksmen matched strokes here this afternoon with a William and Mary four that already had two victories to its credit this week.

Despite the loss to Apprentice, Coach Cy Twombly was in a jubilant mood today over the news that last year's captain, Bud Bowie, had been declared eligible after his recent return to school.

Simmons' Last-inning Hit Gives Phi Kaps 8-7 Win Over Betas in I-M Ball

A single by Perry Simmons with two out in the last of the seventh climaxed a big five-run rally and sent the Phi Kaps to a hard-fought 8-7 victory over the Betas in an intramural quarter-final game Wednesday afternoon.

The Betas got off to a flying start with four runs in the opening round as Evans Jasper singled two markers home. Bill Jasper's timely bingle in the following inning highlighted another rally which netted the Betas another pair of tallies. Their final run came in the top of the seventh when Jack Barrie slapped a home run deep into center field.

Meanwhile, the Phi Kaps were being held in check by the steady hurling of Hank Woods. A run in the first and two in the fifth constituted their total until the last inning. The Beta defense then fell apart and allowed four runs to score before an out was made. Woods bore down and retired the next two men, but Simmons broke the deadlock with his hit, scoring the run easily from third.

The Kappa Sigs had very little trouble as they trounced the ZBTs, 18-8, in another battle on Wednesday. Jack Evans, Kappa Sig twirler, was never called on to bear down as his mates' hitting won the game.

The Kappa Sigs, PiKAs, and Phi Kaps have already qualified for the semi-finals. The SAEs are in the quarter-finals and will meet the winner of the Pi Phi-DU tilt for the fourth semi-final slot.

He is expected to take part in the go against William and Mary Friday.

Captain Bill Noonan was low man for the second consecutive match yesterday. Although the prevailing wind shot his total to 76, each of the other seven men participating ran into trouble.

S. L. Kopald and Junie Rappold, Apprentice's number one man, followed with 77s.

Noonan's round gave him a 2-1 margin over Rappold, but Gordon Sibley was held to one-half point while his opponent, Frank Gerard garnered 2 1-2. The best ball of the top foursome went to the visitors, 2-1.

Kopald prevailed over Harry Wheeler, 2 1-2 to 1-2, but Felix Smart was whitewashed by Edmund Rappold, 3-0. The best ball in this group also went to Apprentice, 2-1.

Barrie Elected Captain Of W&L Tennis Squad

Jack Barrie was elected captain of the tennis team this afternoon to succeed Jack Mallory who has joined the armed forces. Barrie, a senior from Webster Groves, Missouri, has been a mainstay on the W&L net team for the last three years and is undefeated this year in his number one singles position.

Meanwhile the net men, still seeking their first win in history over the Wahos, continued practice this week for their return match with Virginia here next Wednesday.

Sigma Chi's Lead Track

Sigma Chi's thinclad team took an early lead at the half-way point of the intramural track tourney Wednesday with a score of 10 1-2 points to the second place SAE's 10.

General Nine After Win In W&M Tilt Tomorrow

Washington and Lee's varsity baseball team, soundly kicked around in their last three games, all with "Big Six" foes, will attempt to avenge their earlier 10-2 loss to William and Mary when the Indians meet Cap'n Dick Smith's men at 3:30 tomorrow afternoon.

Teddy Ciesla, who has been out of action since the Virginia game in Charlottesville, will again hold down the third base slot for the Generals. Undoubtedly, Ciesla's return will strengthen the attacking power of the Blue as well as stiffen their infield defense.

Smith is undecided as to his starting pitcher but he will almost certainly come from the threesome that has done most of the hurling all season—Bud Cook, Ev Schneider and Captain Brown.

Tuesday afternoon the Generals suffered their third successive loss when Virginia Tech's "Big Six" pace-setters piled up a 7-0 lead in the first three innings and went on to record an 8-2 victory.

Joe Moody, the Gobbler's highly regarded soph pitcher, held W&L to three hits in Tuesday's fracas. However, with the exception of the first inning when Cook allowed five hits and as many runs, the opposing pitchers were virtually on even terms.

It was senior Bob Cavanna, scorer of both W&L runs, who started the Generals' offensive in the fifth inning with a triple. Moments later, Cook drove him home with a long fly to left field. In the seventh inning, W&L got its final run when Bill Van Buren, a sophomore playing in right field, tagged one of Moody's pitches for a single that scored Cavanna.

The Indians are currently making a tour of the three western Virginia "Big Six" schools. Yesterday they clashed with VMI here and today are scheduled to meet Virginia Tech in Blacksburg.

returning tomorrow for their game on Wilson field.

Monday night the Blue returns to action again when Cap'n Dick takes his men to Lynchburg to meet the professional team there. Wes Ferrell, the one-time major league pitcher, who manages the Senators, may take a few turns on the mound.

Brigadiers Encounter Virginia Contingent, Top Buena Vista, 5-4

After losing to Bedford High School last week, the freshman baseball team returned to its winning ways by flattening Buena Vista, Tuesday, 5-4.

Jack Coulter was the winning pitcher, going the whole way for the Brigs. Sam DiBlasi, hard hitting third baseman, led the freshmen batting assault by smashing out two long home runs and a single in three times at bat.

The Brigs' slim lead was narrowly maintained in two instances when the visitors lost two home runs because the runners failed to touch all bases.

This afternoon, the freshmen played the University of Virginia frosh on Wilson Field, and at the same time hoped to maintain their successful record of four wins and one loss.

Students who cannot register in the designated period because of class schedules will be allowed to register with any of the other groups. All students must work out courses in advance before appearing for registration.

Students in the School of Law who are planning to continue their studies are requested to report to Dean Moreland on Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday, April 27, 28 or 29, and students in other departments who are planning to enter the law school in September, 1942 are requested to report to the Registrar at Payne Hall 4 sometime during the same period.

No student will be fully registered until his blank has the signature of Professor John A. Graham, in charge of registering sections. Students who fail to register at this time will be required to pay an extra registration fee of $10 in the fall, unless the Registrar is notified of the student's intention to return, before July 15.

LEE DINNER FORUM TO MEET

The Lee Dinner Forum will hold its last meeting under this year's officers tonight at the home of Dean Gilliam when Jim Foard will lead a discussion on the topic, "Can There be a Lasting Peace?" Officers for the 1942-43 term will be selected a week from Sunday.

Navy Changes V-1 Program; Commissions Open to All Men

Three changes in the Navy's new V-1 Accredited College Program were effected this week as the Navy Department made it possible for every one of the 80,000 men enlisted under the plan to become commissioned officers.

Under the original provisions of the V-1 setup, any student who failed for any reason to remain in college for two years or who failed to pass the classification examination at the end of two calendar years with a sufficiently high grade was immediately placed into active service as an apprentice seaman.

While the top-ranking 35,000 men will be shifted to either V-5 or V-7, the remaining 45,000 will now be permitted to go to one of the navy's flight training centers, providing these applicants are able to pass physical and mental examinations for prospective aviation officers. Thus, they have been given the opportunity to receive commissions in the Naval Air Corps.

This and two other changes were disclosed this morning by Prof. R. W. Royston, representative of the program at W&L, who received the information in a special V-1 bulletin from the Bureau of Navigation today.

The other changes are:

(1) A student at the time of his enlistment will indicate his choice of either V-5 or V-7. The student may change his choice later if he desires.

(2) Students who thus indicate their desire for the V-5 status will thereby become eligible to take civilian pilot training during their freshman or sophomore year.

Bill Burns, W&L, '40, of Lebanon, Va., became a Navy pilot last week when he received his wings and Ensign's commission at the U. S. Naval Air Station, Jacksonville, Fla., the Navy Department announced today.

Burns graduated from W&L with A.B. and LL.B. degrees after attending Emory and Henry college prior to his acceptance here.

Alpha Tau Omega Names Wood, Evans to Offices

At a recent meeting George Wood, sophomore of Louisville, Kentucky, was chosen president of Alpha Tau Omega for next semester. The vice-presidency went to Jim Evans of Tarentum, Pennsylvania.

Ed Devol, also of Louisville, was elected house manager for the coming year. Leon Harris, Curd Miller, Charles Devine and Charles Coe received other fraternity offices.

Elections

the Executive Committee post. Earl Brown, Pi Phi, will run in the vice-presidential race. Although still uncertain, Clancy Johnson, Beta, may oppose Brown in the elections. No one has come out as yet for the secretaryship.

Sophomore class posts as usual seem to be drawing the hottest campaigns in the elections, with Holly Smith, Delta, and Dave Clark, Phi Delta, running for president of the class. Bob Crockett, KA, is unopposed for the Executive Committee. Earl Vickers, Lambda Chi, and Sam DiBlasi, NFU, are both on the ticket for vice-president of the class. Jerry Shamhart, Jim Young and Owen Easley are in a three-way race for the secretaryship of the sophomore class.

Sophomore and junior elections will be held in Lee Chapel and Washington Chapel respectively while the senior elections will be conducted in the accounting room of Newcomb Hall. Elections will be supervised by members of the Executive Committee. Howard Dobbins, Student Body president, announced. He also stated that only proxies which represent boys either out of town or sick will be honored. Each proxy must have stated reasons for not attending elections and the signatures of two witnesses.

Executive Committee members chosen in the elections will take office with those chosen last week at the end of the present semester and will serve during the summer session. Dobbins said. The committee will appoint students to fill vacancies on the committee during the summer.

DON'T QUIT COLLEGE
if you are 17^{THRU} 19 and want to become a Naval Officer!

You can serve your country best by acting on this new Navy Plan now!

YOU WANT to fight for your country! Are you willing to work for it? To toughen yourself physically? To train yourself mentally for a real job in the United States Navy? If you are, the Navy wants you to enlist now. You don't have to quit college. You can stay in college, continue your studies to prepare for active duty in the air or on the sea.

And your college will help you do it! In cooperation with the Navy, it offers all freshmen and sophomores who are seventeen and not yet twenty, special training that may win for you the coveted Wings of Gold of a Naval Aviation Officer or a commission as a Deck or Engineering Officer.

How to Become an Officer

To get this special Navy training, you enlist now as an Apprentice Seaman. Then you may continue in college, but you will include special courses stressing physical development, mathematics and physics. After you successfully complete 1½ calendar years in college, you will be given a classification test.

Aviation Officers

If you qualify by this test, you may volunteer to become a Naval Aviation Officer. In this case, you will be permitted to finish the second calendar year of college work before you start your training to become a Flying Officer.

However, at any time during this two-year period, you may have the option to take immediately the prescribed examination for Aviation Officer... and, if successful, be assigned for Aviation training. Students who fail in their college courses or who withdraw from college will also have the privilege of taking the Aviation examination. Applicants who fail to qualify in this test will be ordered to active duty as Apprentice Seamen.

Deck or Engineering Officers

Those who qualify in the classification test and do not volunteer for Aviation will be selected for training to be Deck or Engineering Officers. In that case, you will continue your college program until you receive your bachelor's degree, provided you maintain the established university standards.

Those whose grades are not high enough to qualify them for Deck or Engineering Officer training will be permitted to finish their second calendar year of college. After this, they will be ordered to duty as Apprentice Seamen, but because of their college training, they will have a better chance for rapid advancement. At any time, if a student should fail in his college courses, he may be ordered to active duty as an Apprentice Seaman.

Pay starts with active duty. It's a real challenge! It's a real opportunity! Make every minute count by doing something about this new Navy plan today.
