Three Law Seniors Make Order of Coif

Huntley, Copen, Stump Elected to Membership

Three senior law students were selected for membership in the Order of the Coif, national legal honor society, at a meeting held yesterday. Those chosen were Robert Huntley, Noel Copen and John Stump.

Members of the Coif are elected from the top ten per cent of the senior law class. All three of those named this year compiled a straight A average in leading their class.

Huntley, a Delt from Winston-Salem, North Carolina, is co-editor of the Law Review and was vice-president of the student body last year. He is also a member of Phi Beta Kappa, ODK, Phi Delta Phi, and is listed in Who's Who. He received his B.A. degree from W&L in 1950.

A Kappa Alpha from Huntington, West Virginia, Copen is vice-president of the student body, chairman of the W&L Moot Court team, and co-editor of the Law Review. He graduated with a B.A. degree from Marshall College in 1954 and is also a member of Phi Beta Kappa, ODK, the Board of Governors of the law school, and Phi Delta Phi.

Stump is also a Kappa Alpha and is from Clarksburg, West Virginia. He received his B. S. degree from the University of North Carolina in 1951. He is past president of the Student Bar Association, was on the EC last year, and is a member of the Law Review, Phi Beta Kappa, ODK, Phi Delta Phi, law school Board of Governors, and Who's Who.

The Washington and Lee Chapter of the Coif was established in 1950. The Coif is a national honor society with chapters in forty-six law schools in the United States. Besides

Sazeracs To Appear at West Palm Beach Hotel during Spring Leave as Part of Tour

The Washington and Lee Sazeracs embark on the most ambitious venture of their relatively short existence next week when they journey to West Palm Beach, Florida, for a spring vacation singing engagement at the Colonnades Hotel.

The informal singing group, whose fame has been built around appearances at all the local women's colleges and performances in the annual W&L Minstrel show, hopes to set a precedent for future years with the southern tour and join the numerous universities around the country who make similar tours.

SAZERACS' DIRECTOR Jerry Miller said, "We feel that the reputation of both the Sazeracs and the University can benefit by this and other similar tours. We hope the success of this trip will insure even more extensive tours in the future."

The group, composed of 11 W&L students, will give two formal performances at the Colonnades, along with a number of appearances in the West Palm Beach area. Tentative plans call for a side trip to Fort Lauderdale between engagements.

The trip is being completely independent of university backing with proceeds from the engagements expected to cover all expenses. The group will stay at the Colonnades during the week-long visit, from March 30 till April 7.

ORGANIZED in 1955, the Sazeracs have maintained an active schedule of appearances in addition to the college trips and Minstrel shows.

They have performed at dance sets, house parties, and last year sang for a number of sales clinics at Natural Bridge. The group made a 10-inch LP recording also last year and hope to follow up with a 12-inch record later in the spring.

This year's schedule calls for an appearance in the forthcoming Minstrel show and performances for several alumni groups on campus during the spring term.

Composing the Sazeracs are seven juniors: Ralph Baucum, Tom Branch, Jack Lackmann, Jerry Miller, Ken Sadler, Tony Weeks and Watty Watring; and four sophomores: Bill Martin, Bob Moeller, Tom Gowenlock and Chris Rehlen. George Allen has served as accompanist for the group.

Commencement Invitations

All seniors who have not ordered caps and gowns or commencement invitations may do so next Tuesday.

Drum Named 1957 Valedictorian; Chemistry Major Has 2.8 Average

Charles M. Drum, senior Kappa Alpha from Richmond, has been named valedictorian of the class of 1957 by the faculty.

Drum, who will graduate in June with a B.S. degree in chemistry, has achieved the distinction of having the highest grades in his class. With an overall average of 2.828, he has compiled a total of 96 hours with the grade of A, and 20 hours with the grade of B.

$1,255 Collected In Charity Drive, ZBT Gives Most

Washington and Lee students contributed $1,255 to the Charity Chest during its week-long drive which ended Monday, drive chairman Davis Calvert announced yesterday.

Zeta Beta Tau fraternity won first prize for giving the greatest amount to the charity, and Phi Delta Theta took top honors with the most contributed per person. ZBT gave $180 towards the goal while Phi Delt averaged $2.55 per person.

Wednesday night ZBT was served dinner by Deans Sensabaugh and Gilliam for taking top honors, and Norm Lord and Dick Miller catered to the Phi Delt for their generosity. In addition ZBT will receive a pair of cordovans from Earl N's, and Phi Delt a $20 gift certificate.

LAMBDA CHI contributed the second highest total amount to the drive and will receive six passes to the State Theatre. Phi Kappa Psi will receive five large pizzas from the College Inn for averaging the second largest donation per person.

Money contributed to the Charity Chest will be distributed to the Community Chest, Cancer Society, Heart Fund, Red Cross and the World University Service.

This is the last year the Christian Association will handle the drive.

chapter of Phi Beta Kappa at W&L. Dr. Pusey said the prominent American economist would concentrate his address on the cultural, political, and economical responsibilities imposed upon the United States by its present and foreseeable world position.

He also said that the speaker would be initiated into Phi Beta Kappa along with 17 W&L students named to the honor society on March 4. The ceremony will be held at 6 p.m. on April 12 in the Student Union and will be followed by a formal banquet.

DR. HAMILTON is presently in Holland, where he is finishing one book and working on another. He is studying abroad under a Guggenheim fellowship for France and Great Britain.

A native of Mississippi, the speaker received a B.S. degree with honors from Mississippi State College and his A.M. and Ph.D. degrees from Harvard.

His teaching career includes being an assistant professor of economics at Duke and professor of economics at Northwestern University, before assuming his present position at the University of Chicago in 1947.

Dr. Hamilton has written several books, including The First Fifty Years of the Bank of Spain, Economic Progress, and American Treasure and the Price Revolution in Spain from 1501 to 1650.

He has also served on the editorial board of the Journal of Modern History, and has contributed articles to American, English, and French journals of economics and history.

AN OUTSTANDING research professor, Dr. Hamilton has served as a member of the Committee on Research in Economic History, the Social Science Council, and the Committee on World Regions.

He is also a fellow of the Royal Economic Society, the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, and the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Phi Eps Win Keg In Blood Drive

Phi Epsilon Pi has won its second keg of beer for its participation in the March Red Cross Blood Drive, drive chairman Charlie McCormick said today. The fraternity won for almost 100 per cent participation in the blood drive.

McCormick added that Zeta Beta Tau again placed second in the drive, with Phi Delta Theta finishing third.

Eighty-five pints of blood were donated by Washington and Lee students as compared to 200 in the November drive.

A major cause of poor response is attributed to the amount of sickness on the campus at the time of the drive, McCormick said.

Minstrel Tickets Going Fast

"Tickets for the Minstrel show are going fast," says producer Moose Schafer. "Only 10 seats are left for Saturday night's performance, but 40 tickets are still available for the Thursday night show," Schafer added.

According to ticket sales chairman Fred Heina, senior Delta Tau Delta, blocks of tickets went on sale at 7 a.m. Wednesday and were completely sold out by 4 p.m. that afternoon.

Moose Schafer stated that rehearsals are under full swing, and that "everyone has been cooperating and working very hard."

Odds at Sea" will be performed April 11-13 at the Troubadour Theater. It is a parody of Homer's Greek Classic "The Odyssey."

Dr. Holborn To Speak Tuesday; Member of Yale History Faculty

Professor Hajo Holborn of the Department of History at Yale University will speak on "Unity and Division in European History" in duPont Hall at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Professor Holborn joined the Yale faculty in 1934, having previously lectured at the Universities of Heidelberg and Berlin. In the United States he has been visiting professor at the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, Harvard, Stanford, and Columbia.

During World War II Professor

Holborn was connected with the Office of Strategic Services, and from 1947 to 1949 served with the State Department. Most recently he was a lecturer at the University of Vienna under the Fulbright program.

Mr. Holborn has also attained prominence as an author, having written Germany and Turkey, 1878-99, Hutten and the German Reformation, American Military Government, The Political Collapse of Europe, and most recently a single volume history of Germany.

Six Southern Sem Girls To Star in Minstrel

Six curvaceous Southern Seminary students will fill the female parts in this year's SWMSFC Minstrel Show, "Odds at Sea," co-director Phil Brown announced today.

According to Brown, the girls are "intimately associated with the endmen in the show." He added that they will appear throughout the entire second act, and will be the center of all action in that act.

TONIE ROCKSTRAW, a high school junior from Charlottesville, has the female lead in the show, playing the part of Queen Penelope. She is president of her class at Southern Seminary, a member of the student council, a cheerleader, and is on the drama club.

Also active in high school plays, she had leading roles in Southern Sem's productions of Mrs. McThing and Boy With a Cart.

Filling out the second lead in the show is Bonnie Bull, a high school senior from Rochester, New York. Otherwise known as "Sweet Georgia" in the Minstrel production, she has been active at Southern Sem in the German Club, the Music Appreciation Club and in cheerleading.

PAULA KUEBLER, nicknamed "P. J.," will play the part of "Mopsey" in the show. She is from Sea Girt, New Jersey, and is a college senior. She has modeled in several manufacturer shows, and at Southern Seminary she is a disc-jockey on the school's "Music Just for You" radio program. She is also active in the Glee Club and the Saddle Club at the school.

Also a model, Cindy Harris, a college senior from Cleveland Heights, Ohio, is "Jensen" in the show. She is president of the school's Vogue Club and is a member of the Hop Committee. She was named Queen of the Colonial Ball, held at Southern Seminary last month.

VICKI AKERS, from Hillside, New Jersey, is called "Dancer" in the show. She is a college senior, and has attended Benedictine Academy in Elizabeth, New Jersey. She also has worked in New York City as a model for manufacturing companies.

At Southern Sem, she appears regularly with Paula Kuebler on the school's radio program.

Playing the part of "Getsen," Nancy Gaudreaux is a college senior from Wantagh, New York. She

Results of Charity Drive Are Disappointing

The results of the Christian Association's 1957 Charity Drive are not as rosy as we had hoped. The drive fell $1,200 short of its $2,500 goal. Last year the Christian Council set its sights at $3,000. It collected $2,200.

The success of a charity drive is only naturally determined by the enthusiasm of its supporters. The men who ran last year's drive say that it had this enthusiasm. They claim that the idea of having a couple of University deans and a treasurer serve as waiters for one meal in the winning fraternity was a novel idea; it gave the fraternity man an added incentive to contribute.

What happened this year? The gimmick was the same, but the novelty of it had worn off and the result was a lesser amount of enthusiasm.

We believe that the drive failed because it was merely one of several similar drives, all conducted in the same year. The IFC sponsored three student drives earlier this year, all of which netted a total of approximately $1,165 in contributions. On top of all this, the Christian Association expected the student body to get up enough enthusiasm to help make its $2,500 goal a realization.

The IFC has already officially taken charge of this charity drive beginning next year.

We feel that one big charity drive during the year, organized by one body exclusively, the Interfraternity Council, and run by men appointed by that body, would be the answer to the charity problem. Such a drive would demand a bigger contribution than have any single drives in the past, but it would answer all charity needs at one time, and being the only charity drive of the school year, it would, backed by enthusiastic and conscientious leadership, have the importance and prestige needed to gain widespread student support.

The most prevailing accusation leveled at the Interfraternity Council in recent years is that it lacks leadership. Let's give the Council the chance to demonstrate its leadership by leading and furthering a worthy cause in the future.

The slogan, "Give once for all," does not seem to be such a bad one when it is given some thought. —K. W.

Troubadour President Lands in Jail But Mayor Holstein Dismisses Case with a Laugh

By Jerry Hopkins

Last weekend was a good one here in Lexington. I'm sorry now that I missed it and had to be out of town. It seems Washington and Lee's gentlemen kept the jail full and the courts busy.

Out of all the stories that came from the police department this week, this is my favorite.

Public drunkenness charges against Mike Norell, Troubadour president, were dismissed Tuesday in Police Court after it was established that he had not had anything to drink in several weeks.

Norell was arrested late Saturday night when he was found walking south on Main Street. His face looked as if someone "had taken a bottle to it," according to one of his companions and Norell said he looked as though one of his eyes was falling out.

But nothing was actually wrong with Norell. He had been appearing in the drama group's production of "The Man Who Came to Dinner" and after the final curtain call, had applied putty and stage make-up to his face as a practical joke.

Norell said in court he had merely been walking along Main Street "scaring the hell out of people" when he was stopped by the police. He said he tried to inform the law officers of his civil rights but added he was rapidly propelled into a squad car.

He was taken to the Lexington jail and kept there for two hours before someone posted the necessary bail. By then he had peeled most of the make-up from his face but the police still refused to believe him.

ON MONDAY Norell went in to see Dean Gilliam to ask for an excuse from classes to go to court. Norell says the good dean laughed at the story and said, "OK!"

When Judge Paul A. Holstein (who will be remembered forever for his welcoming speech at the mock convention last spring) heard the story, he too laughed. His only comment was, "Case dismissed."

SOMEBODY'S SLIPPING: According to an editorial in last week's Randolph-Macon student newspaper, a likely spot for dating is going unused. This room, the old newspaper office, is just off the Skeller, R-M coffee and snack bar.

The editorial reads, "The 'back room' has, however, been virtually ignored by the few girls who do bring dates to the Skeller. To take a date into that gloomy den (the only light fixture, a glaring bulb in the ceiling, is never on), lined with those austere shiny black booths, gives one the feeling of forsaking all light and conviviality for the black inner-sanctums of an underground cavern."

That isn't what dark "back rooms" at Macon might suggest to some people around here. They might forsake the light but I'm not so sure about the conviviality.

Spencer Tracy Is at His Best In 'Bad Day'

By John Boone

As the Lyric opens its doors for business on the Sabbath, Spencer Tracy steps from the train and walks down the dusty street into the unfriendly town of Black Rock.

"Bad Day at Black Rock" is one of the best of Tracy's long line of fine flicks. It is a powerful story imaginatively told with the lead role solidly bolstered by Robert Ryan and Ernest Borgnine rendering excellent support as two of the town's citizens who fight to keep Tracy from learning the truth about the Japanese farmer they killed during the war.

This is a big year for Judy Holliday. After finishing "The Solid Gold Cadillac," she made "Full of Life" and then took over the lead in "Bells Are Ringing."

"Full of Life" is a comedy about sex and pregnancy and proves to be good entertainment even though it is often dull and overly sentimental. Judy is tops as the pregnant young gal who wants a proper marriage rather than her dull courthouse ceremony, while Richard Conte turns in an unusually good job as the husband who can't quite see what was wrong with the first wedding.

OSCAR HAMMERSTEIN'S musical, "Carmen Jones," has always been a great show. With the addition of Harry Belafonte and Dorothy Dandridge to the motion picture cast it is even greater.

The sergeant who hates the lieutenant is a standard movie plot for standard war stories. However, "Men in War" is a better than average film based on this tired theme. Good performances by Robert Ryan and Aldo Ray, who owns a chunk of the gate receipts, helps to carry it through the debris of numerous battles.

The amazing thing about this picture is that it moves at all. Its plot was taken from the book "Combat" by Van Praag which is a deathly dull tale of dull individuals.

FOREWARNING: Tony Curtis is coming to town.

This statement alone should scare thousands away from the boxoffice. Their fear is not unfounded.

Universal - International's own greaseball stars as a real tough toughguy in "Mister Cory," a picture that might easily be the worst of his wretched career.

Louis Armstrong To Play Dance And Concert at VMI April 5-6

By Bill Miller

With mid-term exams pressing hard upon them, students at Washington and Lee will see a temporary slacking of social activity.

The next big social affair around W&L will be April 5 and 6. Any students who plan to return early from Spring Vacation will find Lexington a little more active than usual.

THE REASON? Virginia Military Institute's spring dance set will be in progress.

Usually this does not concern the W&L student, but this year's weekend is of especial interest. Louis Armstrong and his concert group will be playing for the Institute. Coming down with Armstrong will be Trummy Young, trombone; Edmund Hall, clarinet; Billy Kyle, piano; Barrett Deems, drums; and Squire Gersh, bass. Velma Middleton will share the vocals with Louis Armstrong—who will, of course, bring his trumpet.

Some of the songs Satchmo is expected to sing are: "Indiana," "High Society," "St. James Infirmary Blues," "Mack the Knife," "Margie" and "Muskrat Ramble."

THE AMBASSADOR gained world-wide fame when at a special performance for Princess Margaret he said, "We've got one of our special fans in the house, and we're really gonna lay this one on for the Princess." (Continued on page four)

W&L Faces VMI Saturday As Key Berths Are Named

By SID WHIPPLE
Baseball coach Billy McCann is having his troubles. Two key positions were left vacant this year when centerfielder Bob Phelon joined the Marines and second baseman Charlie Broll injured his knee in basketball.
Another gap McCann had to fill when practice opened was that of pitcher Dick Newberg. The tall righthander became ineligible to play collegiate baseball after he signed a contract with the Pittsburgh Pirates last July.
Right now McCann likes Dom Flora in centerfield and feels freshman Fred Williams has the inside track on the second base job. However, he is not counting out Tom Kerns and Fred Fox for that position. Jack Daughtrey, long ball hitting first baseman, is being groomed for the rightfield spot. He may also be asked to take up some of the pitching duties formerly assumed by Newberg.

Practice Game With VMI

Tomorrow afternoon McCann will air his experimental lineup in a practice game with VMI. Frank Hoopes will open at first base, Fred Williams at second, Dick Belden at short stop, and John Turner at third base.

From the Stands Lacrosse Interest Has Increased

By DEREK SCHOEN
The lacrosse clinic scheduled by Coach Gene Corrigan for Saturday should inaugurate this season in fine style. As a spectator sport, lacrosse has probably made the most rapid strides seen in these parts in years.

Holding the clinic was an especially good idea, since most freshmen have never come into contact with the old Indian game. Combining elements of basketball, football, ice hockey, and soccer, the game appears, at first glance to be more intricate than it really is—if you're still not too sure just what it's all about, get out to Wilson Field on Saturday and catch the ensuing mayhem.

And, speaking of lacrosse, it might do well to mention what a lot of people are beginning to realize. The sport's growth on campus has not been accidental or lucky. It has, rather, been the result of a great deal of individual effort on the part of Corrigan and his predecessor, Charley Herbert. The clinic is merely the latest gimmick on the part of the lacrosse staff to bring the game to the students, once again proving that good publicity and public relations is a paying investment.

Herbert is actually responsible for the revival of lacrosse here, and Corrigan has been more than willing to continue building on the drive the former started. The team's trip to England paid off in good will and oversees recognition for the school, as well as providing an unforgettable experience for those who made the trip.

Stuart, Hurt, Gowenlock Win Net Challenges

The varsity tennis ladder for 1957 was set up last Monday, and coach Bill Chipley has been arranging challenge matches this past week. Challenges in singles and doubles will be continued every day, excluding the Spring Vacation period, until the Generals' season opener with Virginia Tech at Blacksburg April 13.

Chipley arranged the ladder on the basis of his own impression of each player's ability. He placed George Stuart, captain John Peale, Kim Wood, Tom Gowenlock, Charlie Hurt, and Bill Boyle in the top six positions in that order.

Gowenlock Moves Up

Stuart justified his top rating by whipping Peale in two quick sets earlier in the week, 6-2, 6-1. Tom Gowenlock moved up to the number 3 position on the ladder by outstroking Kim Wood, 6-1, 6-4, while Charlie Hurt retained his number 5 spot, beating Bill Boyle, 6-4, 6-3.

Boyle redeemed himself, however, in the only doubles challenge held so far. Teaming with Gowenlock, he gave a good account of himself as the two whipped last year's number 2 doubles combination, Stuart and Hurt, 6-3, 6-4 yesterday.

Stickmen Face Williams Here Next Friday

—Washington and Lee's lacrosse team opens the 1957 season against Williams College exactly one week from today.

Three new teams appear on this season's slate. Williams, Dartmouth, and Colgate have been added, while Mt. Washington and Maryland Lacrosse Club have been dropped.

Aliotti Wins Medley In State Tournament

Lou Aliotti established a new swimming record in winning the individual medley event of the state's AAU tournament last week in Richmond. He swam the event in 2:35.7. Aliotti also placed second in the 100-yard freestyle event. He was W&L's sole representative in the tournament.

To Defend Volleyball Title

W&L's volleyball team will defend its state title in Richmond March 29. Stalwarts back from last year's team are captain Zeb Holbrook, Derek Schoen, Frank Hoss, Gene Girard and Jim Stofer.

Williams and Dartmouth should not provide too much of a problem for the stickmen.

In sizing up the rest of the schedule, Loyola College appears weaker, having lost the services of its fine goalie. Delaware's top scorer, Tait, is ineligible this season, and his loss will hurt the team considerably. The Generals dumped both these squads last year, in addition to Duke, which seldom poses as much of a threat.

On the tougher side of the schedule, there is perennially powerful Maryland, 1956 national champs and W&L conquerors by an 18-5 margin. Baltimore University features a strong attack and a good goalie, with many returnees from last year's aggregation which defeated the Generals, 13-9.

Johns Hopkins, whom experts have picked as their pre-season choice for number 1 team in the nation, is studded with sophomores who have come up from last year's undefeated freshman club. Hofstra, Washington College, and Virginia have fairly strong teams, but none is of exceptional caliber.

Top Five Golf Berths Are Filled

Ned Baber, captain Ted Kerr, Don Farris, Dick Vedder and Ollie Cook earned themselves starting berths on the golf team as a result of intersquad competition held yesterday on the Lexington Golf Course.

The sixth position is still up for grabs. Five men are vying for the spot, and none have completed their qualifying rounds. Charlie McCormick, Pete Haiman, D. Allen Penick, Bob Cairnes and Art Blank comprise this group.

The golfers open their season against Lynchburg there on April 11.

O'Brien To Address Seminar

Professor Justin O'Brien of Columbia University will address the twenty-first Seminar in Literature on Thursday evening, March 28, at 8 p.m. in duPont auditorium.

A professor of French at Columbia and a recognized authority on contemporary French literature, Dr. O'Brien has chosen as his topic: "Andre Gide, Complete Man of Letters."

Professor O'Brien holds a Ph.D. from Harvard University and has both written several books on Gide and translated some of his works into English. "A big company works for me..."

JOHN D. EVANS, University of Pennsylvania, 1952

"I began working on a training program for General Electric in the summer of '52. Right now, I'm 'Employee and Plant Community Relations Manager' of my company's new plant in Burlington, Iowa. One of the advantages I found in working for a big company such as General Electric is that, because of its size, it is able to give me, and other college-graduate employees like me, a wide variety of training and experience in any one of 159 plants all over the country. Through an extensive on-the-job training program, it is providing me with the opportunity to become one of the top men in my field, and I know that as long as I apply myself to each job, I'll keep moving up. The way I look at it, General Electric is helping me help myself. That's why I say I'm working for a big company, but a big company works for me, too."

size. 27-year-old John Evans is just one example of the thousands of college graduates at General Electric, each being given the opportunity for self-development so that he may grow and realize his full potential.

As our nation's economy continues to expand in the years ahead, thousands of young people of leadership caliber will be needed to fill new positions of responsibility in American industry. General Electric feels that by assisting young people like John Evans in a planned program of personal growth, we have found one way of meeting this need.

A Manager of Employee and Plant Community Relations at General Electric holds a responsible position: he handles employee benefits, health and safety, training, wage and salary administration, and community relations.

Progress Is Our Most Important Product

This wide framework of opportunity is a unique characteristic of a company of General Electric's
