DUAL TRACK MEET IS LOST TO JOHNS HOPKINS SQUAD

Generals Wind Up 1915 Season By Losing Dual Track Clash

The curtain fell on the 1915 track season when Johns Hopkins University scored a victory over Washington and Lee Saturday in Baltimore in a dual meet. A plucky fight by the twelve athletes, representing the Generals, failed to overcome the stars of Hopkins, who gained a 58 to 46 victory. Washington & Lee won first rank in five events, and second in seven contests. The marked ability of Ben Tappan virtually endowed Johns Hopkins with the decision, for the fleet-footed athlete won 22 points and captured three first places.

In the middle distances, the Generals proved unable to cope with the winners and also on the field events. The five first places came to Washington and Lee when Young won the 100 yard dash; Curtis, the 220-yard dash; Shultz, the 220-yard low hurdles; Pierotti, the shot put; and Captain Buck Miles the discus throw. Starnes finished second in the 120-yard high hurdles, Witt Fox was second in the two mile run. Wadsworth finished on the heels of the winner in the 880-yard run, while Hallman gained second rank in the pole vault. "Ken" Seeley ranked second in the broad jump. Young was second in the 440 and Curtis second in the 100. In the one mile run and the high jump, Hopkins contestants finished both first and second.

By a mutual agreement, only first and second place figured in the scoring. While the Generals had expected to aggregate a large total score, it was realized that Hopkins was strong from the outset. The records established in the dual conflict were not as fast as was expected though Miles tied the discus throw of 112 feet and Fox bettered the local time in both the mile and two mile runs.

Some surprises developed during the tourney. Hallman landed second place in the pole vault, after he had failed three times to cross the parallel at 10 feet, where he started vaulting. Young injured himself in finishing the 440-yard dash and was unable to compete in the 220-yard dash, but Curtis starred in the substitute role, winning his race over Straus by a scant margin.

The 220 and 880-yard runs were marked by close finishes. Curtis won the first race by a half foot margin, while Hall outdistanced Wadsworth in the 880-yard run by a mere yard at the tape. Young captured the 100-yard dash handily, covering the century mark in 10 1-5 seconds. Curtis finished second with Straus a close third. In the 440-yard run, Young, in attempting to finish just after Hall, toppled over the tape exhausted and spent. Hall won by a margin of a few yards.

JOGGER ELCOCK OUTLINES FOOTBALL POLICY FOR 1915

Washington and Lee Coach Writes to Remind One He Is on Job

Lest the followers of the Generals would perchance forget that Coach Jogger Elcock were "on the job," the unbeaten leader of the Washington and Lee football team has forwarded a note to the students body and the alumni. In this characteristic note the football mentor has outlined his policies for the approaching season. As usual, he fears none of his opponents and declares that Washington and Lee will "go clean through."

In speaking of his policies, Jogger declares that "the mere fact that you played on the 1914 team is no good indication that you are going to play on the 1915 team." He intends to keep the regulars on their toes at all moments and hopes that a large number will offer for the 'Varsity next fall. In his communication Coach Elcock states that he expects to be assisted by Raftery and Donahue next fall.

The letter, composed and forwarded from Rapid City, North Dakota, follows:

About one year ago, I wrote a letter to the alumni and student body of Washington and Lee, telling you what my plans were for the season of 1914, and lest you should think that for the reason that I am a long way off, I am not on the job. I want to write again. In that letter, I expressed the opinion that given a fair break of luck, we could win all our games—and even if we were unable to satisfy everyone in the matter of scores, nevertheless, the fact remains that we did win all our games, and to my mind, the season was a very successful one.

To those who were so unfortunate as to lose money on any scoring proposition, I want to say right now that I am not coaching any football team with the idea in my mind that I am doing so to win money for anyone, my purpose is to bring my team along to win games, and win as many games as possible. I make no apologies to disgruntled bettors. I draw my money for winning football games.

On one other point I wish to speak now. I have heard that some people were dissatisfied with the awarding of monograms last year, and I want to endeavor to make it clear to those people that it was not by any desire of mine that I had anything to do with the awarding of the monograms. Likes and dislikes can not enter into business of that kind, a man must be impersonal in doing it, and that was what I tried to be. Monograms were given to those who earned them, and those who did not earn them were not given them. It is only proper that the monograms should not be distributed carelessly, no man should have the privilege of wearing one unless he has absolutely earned it. In two cases, I gave long and serious thought to the

THE LATE 1915 CALYX IS DEDICATED TO GENIAL DR. DE LA WARR B. EASTER

Annuals Arrive But Distribution Is Delayed—Review of Calyx Shows Yearbook is Splendid Chronicle—Calyx is Well Edited and Above Usual High Standard

The 1915 Calyx, brimming over with dash and life, has been dedicated to Dr. de la Warr Benjamin Easter, Professor of the Romance languages. The annuals have been received from the printers—Brown-Morrison company, and will be placed on sale next Monday. A review of the year book shows that the Editor has compiled a chronicle of Washington and Lee that is above the high standard of the past and chock full of interesting features.

A minute observation of the events of the 1914-15 session has resulted in a faultless record of the collegiate affairs. The various members of the faculty are shown in characteristic poses and a brief individual history of each accompanies the likeness. There is a profusion of illustrations, showing the many phases of college life.

The Calyx is bound in a massive blue calfskin, with "The Calyx 1915" imbedded in white on the cover. The annual is remarkably free from typographical errors, and is featured by splendid individual photos of the graduating members. For the most part, the cuts are distinct and faithful.

The art work on the annual has been fitfully done by the undergraduates and alumni. John Graham has contributed several of the most striking headings, while Gilbert Platt, the art editor, has drawn a number of clever illustrations. Jack Martin, Angus McKinnon, Frank Gilbreath, H. C. H. Fisher and Houston Barclay are numbered among the contributing artists.

Profuse illustrations of every phase of Washington and Lee are presented. Individual pictures of the 'Varsity members of the football and basketball teams are presented as usual, while the first oarsmen of the Harry Lee and Albert Sidney crews are contained in the athletic section.

Jiggs Donahue has written a clever sketch and appreciation of Coach Jogger Elcock, while Dr. T. J. Farrar has contributed an article about the Inter-fraternity Council. A detailed sketch of the new Doremus Memorial Gymnasium is contained in the Calyx, while the history of the Inter-Frater-

BACON APPROVES CAMPUS EXTENSION

Famous Landscape Architect Called to Lexington Last Week

After consultation with Henry V. Bacon, one of the most noted landscape architects in the United States, the plan for the development of the northern end of the campus has been definitely determined. As the result of his counsel, work will proceed at once on two new residences for Professor F. L. Riley and E. F. Shannon.

The landscape architect arrived in Lexington Thursday for a consultation with Dr. Henry Louis Smith. He approved heartily the plan of the Executive committee to place residences for professors on the old gymnasium site. Each of the two residences to be erected will cost $6,000.

Mr. Bacon is the designer of the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D. C. In this monument, over $2,500,000 has been placed and he gained the contract in competition with the best architects of the whole world. Although the expense of securing his advice was quite dear, President Smith felt that nothing but the most expert advice could be accepted. The two residences will be completed before next fall.

HARRY LEE CREWS ARE ANNOUNCED

Oglesby, Leith, Bear, Gooch and Penick to Compose Crew

The first and second Harry Lee crews for this year were chosen and posted for the first time yesterday. The blue crews, owing to the uncertainty of one or two positions on the second, will not be picked till the end of the week.

All previous prophecies as to the outcome of the annual race this year were utterly exploded by the announcement on the part of last year's oarsmen, L. T. White and L. B. Wales that they would be unable to go on the river this commencement. White was prevented from crew work by his extended duties as Manager of the 'Varsity baseball. His place as stroke of the first Harry Lee of last year will be taken by S. E. Oglesby, who was unable to take part in the race last June on account of sickness at the last moment. Wales, who rowed in number three last year, has been succeeded by T. B. Leith. Two will be held down this year by J. E. Bear, the only new man of the five. Gooch, who rowed in one last June, will hold down his old place this year, as will Penick at coxswain.

COX ELECTED TO HEAD GRAHAM-LEE

Washington Has Spicy Meeting— Election Only at Graham-Lee

The Graham-Lee constituents met in their Hall on Saturday night for the election of officers for the first team of next session and for the transaction of current business. The program for the evening was abolished and the election was held immediately after convening.

The following men will direct the destinies of the organization next year: President, W. J. Cox; Vice-President, T. A. Myles; Secretary-Treasurer, N. M. Bell; Censor, C. H. Millner. The members elected to serve on the Judiciary Committee were: H. M. Shumate, Chairman; R. N. Latture, W. M. Brown, J. S. Hansel, and H. J. Blackford. W. M. Brown will be the Graham-Lee's representative in the Debating Council next year.

In spite of the fact that the literary society work for the year is drawing to a close, yet a large number of the members of the Washington were present to listen to the program for the evening. The feature of this program was the original poetry by J. D. McCreedy and S. L. Robertson, both of whom showed some ability along the poetical line.

Although the orators and declaimers for the evening were absent, their places were very well filled by two extemporaneous speeches. J. C. Rivers took for the subject of his talk, "The Man and Crisis," explaining the position of President Woodrow concerning the present critical conditions existing between the United States and Germany. He was followed by A. L. Bennett, who gave a rather entertaining talk on "The Girl I shall Marry."

The question for debate was, Resolved, "That the United States should permanently retain the Philippine Islands." Notwithstanding the fact that this question has been debated many times, yet many new and interesting arguments were advanced by the various debaters. The question was opened by C. E. Worth for the affirmative, his colleague being M. S. Cannon. The negative, defended by W. O. Burtner and J. A. Rew, maintained that the United States should give the Islands their independence as soon as possible.

The judges G. B. Lampton, P. D. Barnes, and E. S. Smith, rendered their decision unanimously in favor of the affirmative.

matter before refusing it, but if the student body or alumni do not think that everything was done fairly I sincerely wish that they should take the matter out of my hands. I don't care for the job of awarding monograms any way. Having got that much off my mind, I'll take up some other matters.

Next season will be like the last in some ways, but it will be different in that we have no easy games.

Men can make their positions in 1915 in exactly the same way that they made them in 1914. It was my unpleasant duty to bench two men in 1914 on the eve of the A. and M. game and it was one of the hardest things I had to do, but they were not playing the game that they had at the first of the year, and other men had come through and beaten them out.

It took one man, an old-timer, all the year to find himself, and after sitting on the sidelines all fall, he found himself in his old position on Thanksgiving Day. It took almost twice as much work as any other man had to do, but he had the grit to stick to it and come through. It is one of the most bitter things that can happen to a man to play three years on a team and see himself beaten on the fourth year, but that is exactly what happened until almost the last game. That bears out the statement that I made last year that it makes no difference to me who a man is, or how long he has played—if he can't show me, and keep showing me that he has the goods, we'll pick out a nice warm spot on the side-lines for him. I'll bench the captain in just the same way that I will bench a fifth-string end, if he can't do what I want. Just the same holds good next year. The mere fact that you played on the 1914 team is no good indication that you are going to play on the 1915 team. In just the same way that I was boss last year—I'm boss again this coming year, and if anyone thinks that he will feel inclined to dispute that statement, don't bother about reporting as a candidate.

To prospective candidates I want to say too, that I want no one to appear on Wilson field unless he has every intention of sticking right there until we finish. I haven't the time to bother with anyone who is out there for a little exercise—keep away—I don't want you there—neither do my assistants, nor do the managers want to trouble to give you suits and then be forced to chase you around Lexington after you have decided to quit.

Training rules remain the same from the time you report on Wilson field, you're through with everything you are supposed to be through with—I'll tell you what personally next fall on Sept. 15—but because you are quitting them is no good reason for any unwise attempt to make up for lost time during the summer. I know of no breaking training last fall, but I have a healthy suspicion about one man. I was never able to catch him with the goods, in fact, I made no attempt to, but if it should so happen that I find that anyone has broken the rules, he goes—no matter who he is.

Practice will begin at just the same time—Sept. 15, at 10 a. m. and will continue until about Nov. 24, at 5 p. m.—and during that time no excuses are accepted for non-appearance. No one excuses anyone but myself. I must be seen personally before practice, and then I'll refuse—so make your mind up to that now. I expect that Mr. Raftery and Mr. Donahue will assist me next fall, and the word of either one is law—but they excuse no one. I must be seen.

There are prospective freshmen scattered all through the places where the student body will be this summer—get after them and use any legitimate means to bring them to W. and L. I want men for several positions, go get them, then get some more. We're proud of W. and L. and we want others to have the privilege of being proud of it; so let's get together and start with a bang next September and go clean through. We don't care who we're playing, they're only eleven men, just the same as ourselves—we fear neither red jersey, nor grey nor green nor any other color anyone may see fit to wear, we're after all of them, get me a couple of good men, and we'll show the country that we're just as good as the best of them. We haven't been beaten for a long time, and we don't want to learn the taste of it, so they might as well get out of our way. Come on—let's go.

strated his fitness at heaving the shot, hurling the weight 36 feet 5 inches, while Captain Robert Miles hurled the discus 112 feet, winning by a wide margin over his nearest opponent—Iddings. Tappan, the leading individual point scorer, endowed John Hopkins with the meet by his success in the pole vault, the high and broad jumps and both of the hurdle races. He won the pole vault with the miraculously low height of 10 feet 3 inches, did not enter into the competition until 10 feet. Tappan cleared the distance, but three trials proved futile to the General entrant.

Tappan won the broad jump with a record of 22 feet 1 1/2 inches. Seeley did not closely approach his mark, but won second position for the Generals. Neither Seeley nor Shultz could place in the high jump, which resulted in a deadlock between Tappan and Connolly, who cleared 5 feet 6 inches.

In the hurdle events, the Generals broke even. Shultz outdistanced his rivals in the 220 low hurdles, but Tappan gained the call over Starnes on the high hurdles on the last few yards. Starnes fouled the last hurdle and this retarded him sufficiently to permit Tappan to win.

Besides Coach Forest Fletcher and Manager N. C. Evans, the following journeyed to Baltimore: Captain Buck Miles, "Ken" Seeley, Roger Starnes, Witt Fox, Ted Shultz, Marion Saunders, Cy Young, Al Pierotti, Robert Curtis, Jesse Wadsworth, Eric Hallman, and Bob Schulz.

A Striking Departure

THE class baseball contest between the Senior and Junior baseball teams served as a means of showing quite emphatically that there was abundant class spirit and loyalty in the law school. In the bitter fight that was waged for the decision, the rooting and pulling of the opposing contingents was marked. When the Juniors won, it was the occasion for a rare outburst of enthusiasm.

For the first time in years, the law classes have evinced interest in inter-class athletics and we feel that the display of spirit is a healthful sign. The Junior lawyers have loomed up as a power in athletics, having downed the four academic classes in the inter-class meet. A march was stolen over the academic school by participating in baseball. Never before has such activity been known in legal circles, although the law classes have always afforded members of varsity teams.

With the institution of the three year law course, the law classes will embrace a greater number of members and will consequently take a more prominent stand in college activities. And from the indications of the present, the sally of the law students into the realm of inter-class athletics is a permanent departure from the staid and fixed rule of the past non-participation.

the various colleges concerning the favor with which military drills, summer camps and tactical lectures were regarded in the respective institutions.

According to the league's report, approximately 63,000 students in 37 colleges are opposed to the practice of military drill and summer camps for college men, while about 17,000 favor it. Of the nine colleges which already have military drill, seven were in favor of its continuance. Of the twenty-seven which had no form of drill, twenty-two were opposed to its introduction.

From these statistics, the Anti-Militarism League concludes that the colleges are opposed to increased military measures. However, in Washington and Lee, the opposite proved true. Dr. Hancock, in presenting these same questions to three classes embracing over 100 academic students, gained statistics that reflected a warlike spirit in the university. Especially did this number feel that the military reserve ought to be increased and the standing army made larger.

Seventy favored the introduction of the military drill against forty. The question of whether the students felt the summer camp was beneficial met with 84 affirmative votes and 26 against. Lectures on tactical subjects were favored by 89 and opposed by 21. While these were the only three questions directed by the Anti-Militarism League, two additional questions were put which were even more significant.

By a vote of 71 to 39, an increase in the numerical strength of the army was declared as desirable. Ninety-four were in favor of a larger trained army reserve against sixteen on the opposition. However, when the question of whether they favored universal military training was directed, it brought a majority against the plan, 59 being opposed and 51 in favor.

NEW FEATURES FOR 1915 FINAL WEEK

As the college year draws to a close, the thoughts of the student body are turning toward Final Week and the various social events connected with this season. Indications point to a larger number of visiting girls and alumni than ever before, and no pains have been spared to make their entertainment a success. On Saturday night, June 12, the Interfraternity Dance will open the festivities of Finals. This dance will be led by L. T. White of Raleigh, North Carolina, with Miss Frances Dietrick of Washington, D. C.

On Sunday morning, the Baccalaureate Sermon will be preached to the graduating classes. On Monday morning at 11 o'clock the Sigma German led by E. P. Davis with Miss Eutha Young of Lexington, will be given in the gymnasium, after which a Sigma stag luncheon will be held. Meyer-Davis Band will give a concert on the campus, and will also play at the Island, during the boat races, which will be held late on Monday afternoon. At 8 p. m. on Monday, the Annual Joint Celebration of the Graham-Lee and Washington Literary Societies will be held in the Lee Memorial Chapel, and at 9:30 the Senior Ball will be the centre of social interest for the day. This will be led by Dick Fowlkes with Miss Laura Noell of Danville, Va.

On Tuesday morning, the White Friar-Pan German will be led by Stuart Moore with Miss Cornelia Christian of Lynchburg. In the afternoon the chief event of interest will be a baseball game between the varsity and alumni. For the alumni, many old stars, such as Harry Moran, "Jiggs" Donahue, Henry Peeples, Dick Smith, Bill Raftery, Charlie Campbell, Walter Hood, may play. An effort is being made toward keeping the varsity over for this performance. Immediately after the game, the visiting alumni will be entertained at a reception given by Miss Annie White.

The Senior Banquet will be held at 7:30, and from 8 o'clock until 10, a promenade will be held on the campus. This is a feature which has not been witnessed at Finals here for some time, and should prove highly enjoyable. It is the revival of an old custom in vogue here before the days of so many dances, and is similar to those held at Dartmouth and Princeton. This will take the place of the usual Formal Address to the Alumni. The campus and buildings will be brightly illuminated, and the Meyer-Davis Band will render music for the promenaders.

On Wednesday morning, the Commencement exercises will take place in the chapel, and in the afternoon, opportunity will be offered for drives and motor parties to Natural Bridge and other points of interest. On Wednesday night, the big event of Finals will be held in the gymnasium. The Final Ball, led by the President, J. R. Neal, with Miss Virginia Moore of Lexington, Va., promises to eclipse all previous events in brilliancy and magnificence. The plans for decorations are more elaborate than ever before. An interesting feature of this dance will be the large number of old Final Ball Presidents who will be on hand, among these, Jim Cowan, '00, Roscoe Stephenson, '08, Walter Hood, '09, John Izard, '10, Bob Thach, '11, R. R. Witt, '13, R. D. Ramsey, '14, and others. An Alumni Figure will be led by John Izard with Mrs. Watts of Lynchburg, with whom Izard led the Final Ball in 1910. The Final Ball Figure and Final Ball Supper will be more brilliant than ever before.

WILLIS SPEAKS OF FAIR ARGENTINA

A most interesting and instructive address was delivered at the Chapel last night by Hon. Bailey Willis of the United States Geologic survey and consulting geologist to the government of the Argentine Republic. This address took the place of the regular May University Assembly, but attendance was not compulsory.

President Smith introduced the speaker.

The subject of Mr. Willis' address was, "Our Work in Argentina." Although the greater part of his address was illustrated by numerous stereopticon slides, he told of how he had come to work in Argentina and what he had done there for the government. He stated that that country was in especial need of engineers, because its young men there were not educated along that line, and that American engineers were in great demand. "Argentina is the greatest and strongest nation in South America," said the speaker, "because it is the only one there situated in a temperate climate."

The speaker then explained the types of the inhabitants and related part of their history. He said that the Italians were the most influential in the republic and generally control the government.

The stereopticon views illustrated the geography and geology of the country and its industrial development. The expenses of the lecturer were met by the Alumni Association, Inc., which has repeatedly sent prominent scientific men here to address the students of the university.

Inadvertently the name of Benjamin Harrison Farquhar was omitted from the Honor List published in the Ring-tum Phi. He was one of the few honor students to attain the mark of A in all his studies. The Ring-tum Phi takes great pleasure in correcting its mistake.

THE LATE 1915 CALYX IS DEDICATED TO DR. EASTER

nity baseball league has been compiled for the first time.

A social resume of the collegiate year, containing accounts of all the dances, is presented in this year's annual, with a striking picture of the Fancy Dress Ball in all its radiance and riot of colors. The photographs of each of the fair leaders of the various dances are embraced in the annual.

No feature of Washington and Lee has been slighted. The pushball fight, class football and basketball have been chronicled in a masterly manner, while the activities of the track team have been more liberally covered than heretofore.

The humorous section abounds with clever quips and cranks concerning college affairs. Under the direction of Angus McKinnon the "Odds and Ends" department has some keenly humorous stories and poetry. "The Good Old Days"—a poetic reminiscence of the late regime—is offered with a few pertinent illustrations. The Suicide League comes in for its inning, while the Ribbon Society Meeting, the Final Ball and The Faculty Meetings are reported graphically by the able correspondent of the yearbook. And the artists have not failed to lend a faithful touch to the section with their facile pens.

A review of the Calyx has impressed the writer with the fact that the annual is carefully and well edited. It is a distinct tribute to the editor—Stuart Moore. The material is well arranged and well presented. The Calyx is well worth possessing and should be disposed of readily when the sale is started next Monday at the Calyx office.

The alumni must act quickly to secure a copy of the yearbook, but a few have been printed in anticipation of a desire on their part and may be secured by writing to the Business manager.

It would be amiss if the reviewer did not comment on the clever individual histories as compiled by the class historians. Bill Keleher, representing the Senior law class, has delved into his vast store of humor and has written histories that are keenly appreciative and personal in touch. P. C. Thomas, as Senior Historian, has rendered faithfully a resume of the careers of the graduating class and naturally has compiled a series of luminating incidents. Giles M. Penick has composed the histories of the Senior scientists.

At the present time, the Calyx are in Lexington, but the management has announced that they will be held until the many unpaid representations are met by the delinquent societies and classes.

KAPPA ALPHA PLAYS SIGMA CHI FOR CUP

Deciding Game of Inter-Frat Season to Be Fought

The deciding clash in the Inter-fraternity baseball season will be staged tomorrow when the Sigma Chis and the Kappa Alphas do battle on Wilson Field. With Sorrells twirling for the Kappa Alphas and Pat Riley pitching for the Sigma Chis, a fierce setto should ensue. McClintock and Twyman will do the receiving for the two aggregations.

The Kappa Alphas have demonstrated that they can hit and field while the Sigma Chis have shown up almost as strong, with the redoubtable Guy Laughon as clean-up hitter. The game will begin at 3:30.

Kappa Alphas Qualify

Gaining only one hit off Sorrells, the Sigma Phi Epsilons went down in defeat before the Kappa Alphas 7 to 0 yesterday afternoon. Sorrells was in great part responsible for the Kappa Alpha victory. He forced sixteen batsmen to fan the air in vain and did not permit a single opponent to pass second base. Calloway yielded ten singles and one two-bagger. The S. P. E.'s only hit was a single to third by Malloy in the first frame.

The K. A.'s first tallied in the first inning. Hill singled to left; Childers followed with a double in the same direction; McClintock fanned and Sorrells' single brought in two runs. Calloway struck out the next two batsmen and retired the side.

In the second round Schmoele reached first on an infield hit; Tillar walked; Schmoele scored on S. Shore's error after stealing two bases, while Childers' single scored Tillar. McClintock and Finlayson scored two more tallies in the fifth, while an error allowed Paxton to score in the seventh.

Score: R. H. E.
S. P. E. 000 000 000—0 1 5
K. A. 220 020 10x—7 11 4
Batteries: Calloway and Malloy; Sorrells and McClintock.

Struck out: Calloway, 8; Sorrells, 14. Base on balls: Calloway, 1; Sorrells, 1. Hit by pitched ball: Miles, Platt. Stolen bases: Malloy, Childers, Finlayson, Schmoele, 3; Platt. Umpire: Bob Porter.

Sigma Chis Win

Guy Laughon's timely wallop in the ninth inning with the bases filled enabled the Sigma Chis to cinch the game with the Phi Kappa Psis Friday and qualify for the deciding battle in the Inter-fraternity league. With Billy Wright twirling for the Phi Psis and Pat Riley working for the victors, a tense conflict resulted.

In the opening inning, the Phi Psis scored two runs when they were aided by errors. The Sigma Chis came back strongly, scoring three runs. After this inning, the game was devoid of runs until the fateful seventh. In this round, the score was swelled to five runs.

Wright twirled a strong game for the losers, fanning fifteen batsmen. Riley held his adversaries to one lone hit, McMillan getting this wallop. He received faulty support, seven errors being registered. Riley retired eight on strikes.

Phi Kappa Psi 200 000 0—2 1 2
Sigma Chi 300 000 2—5 6 7

A strong address is promised all those who go to hear C. A. Keyser speak at the library tonight at the weekly meeting of the Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Keyser is General Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Staunton Military Academy and is said to be a splendid speaker. There will be special music including a solo by J. N. Birdsall. The meeting will start promptly at 7:45 and will last three quarters of an hour.

Dr. J. W. H. Pollard was elected president of the Virginia Health Association at the last meeting. He was elevated from the vice-presidency to this high position.

Win Over Seniors by Garrison Finish
--Was Great Battle

Rallying in the ninth inning, the Junior Lawyers surmounted the one run lead maintained by the Senior barristers and acored a 3 to 2 victory Saturday. The inter-class battle proved to be a gruelling pitchers' battle, in which were a few rare bits of fielding and dazzling base maneuvers. Luna pitched a strong game for the Seniors, holding the Juniors in check until the fateful ninth when, with two out, a hit and an error endowed his opponents with a triumph.

Herndon inaugurated the setto for the Juniors and pitched strongly during his stay. He had plentiful curves and speedy slants, but retired in favor of Zack Brown in the seventh. Brown did not yield a run, while his teammates came from the rear and grabbed the battle. The timely hitting of Davis, Dotson and Glasgow accounted for the runs scored.

The Seniors gained the lead in the sixth round. After Herndon had mowed down the swatsmen for five consecutive innings without yielding a run, Childers walked and was advanced by Chamber's single. Following the Senior captain's theft of second, Eddie Parks Davis singled sharply to center and both tallied.

Little "Shorty" de la Haba scored the first tally for the victors. In the sixth, he walked and advanced to third on Jim Payne's single. On Kirkpatrick's passed ball, Haba scored. Brown blanked the Seniors in the remaining rounds. Luna, who had fanned nine and who had proved invincible, put down the first two batsmen in the ninth, but Porter reached first on an error, and stole second. Glasgow singled sharply to left field and sent Porter over with the run that deadlocked the count. On Rhodes' throw in, Glasgow sped to second base. Dotson drove a liner to right field, which Martin muffed, and Glasgow scored the deciding run.

There were several bits of clever fielding during the game, as the Senior completed three double plays. Payne and Chambers were the only sluggers to rap out two hits. Chambers and Brown fielded brilliantly on short, while Glasgow was clever at second.

INEZ BUCK TO LEAD IN BEN GREET PLAYS

Outdoor Players Will Play "Twelfth Night"—New Features

With Inez Buck in the leading role, the Ben Greet Woodland players will appear in Lexington on Tuesday, May 25. In the afternoon, the players will present "Twelfth Night," while "Masks and Faces" will be offered at the night performance in the outdoor theater, which will be arranged on the campus.

An added feature of this season's presentation will be the appearance of a string quartette of soloists from the New York Symphony Orchestra, who will play the celebrated musical settings of Shakespere's plays, written by such famous composers as Mendelssohn, Sir Arthur Sullivan, Tschai-kowski and Gounod. This is a feature never before offered by the Ben Greets.

It had been expected that Ben Greet, himself, would be with the company, which is the original one, but he has refused to come to America this season, on account of England's participation in the European conflict. However, the personnel of the first company will remain intact, excepting Greet.

The sale of seats for the two performances will open at 9 o'clock on Tuesday, May 25, at McCrum's.

PRESIDENT SMITH WILL ATTEND INAUGURATION

President Henry Louis Smith will represent Washington and Lee University at the formal installation of Dr. Frank Goodnow as president of Johns Hopkins university at Baltimore. The inaugural events will occur on Thursday and Friday, and Dr. Smith will leave Wednesday.

Returning to Lexington Saturday, the president's stay will be one of short duration as he will leave next Monday for North Carolina to deliver two commencement addresses. He has accepted the invitation to make a commencement address at the College for Women at Greensboro and at Davidson College, where he was formerly chief executive.

MEMBERS OF PUBLICATIONS TO RECEIVE CERTIFICATES

As a reward of merit the Executive Committee has decided to award to the members of the various publication staffs a certificate stating that they have served on the staff of the publication with distinction and giving them the privilege of wearing the official emblem.

It had been intended to award the emblems, but owing to the scarcity of funds this was found to be impossible and the certificates were adopted instead. However each editor and manager will be given a special emblem in addition to the certificate.

TEN LOCAL TRACK RECORDS BROKEN DURING PAST SEASON BY GENERALS

Fox, Shultz, Young and Hallman Set New Records—Plans For Next Season

Ten local track records were broken and two new ones set during the 1915 season, which was brought to a close with the dual meet in Baltimore last Saturday. Considering that these records were made by a squad that was composed almost entirely of new college material the season was a decided success in spite of the fact that the team was defeated in its two dual meets. A total of 142 points was amassed by nineteen contestants in six meets and the cross country run, these resulted in the point trophy in the George Washington indoor meet and the championship in the cross country.

Hallman, Young, Shultz and Fox are each credited with two records, while Starnes and Pierrotti have one each and Miles shares the honors in the discus throw with Shultz. Johnson is credited with the record for the six mile cross country and Curtis with the 50 yard indoor dash, both new events this season.

Cy Young set aside the existing marks in the 100 yard and 220 yard dashes when he made the distances in 9 4-5 seconds and 21 4-5 seconds respectively in the dual meet with V. P. I. The former marks in these events were 10 seconds for the 100 held by E. Maley since 1909, and 22 4-5 for the 220 held by Carter Glass, Jr. since 1912.

To Ted Shultz belongs the new low hurdle mark and a joint ownership of the new discus distance. In the hurdles Shultz broke the record of Satterfield of 26 4-5 by making the course in 25 1-5 seconds. Shultz also broke Miles' 1913 record of 111 feet in the discus throw by adding one foot to it, but Miles made an equal hurl last Saturday so the record in this event is held jointly by the two football tackles at 112 feet.

Both of Hallman's records are in the pole vault, having set new marks in the indoor as well as the outdoor event. He cleared the bar at 11 feet 3 3-4 inches in the Hopkins indoor meet and at 11 feet 1 3-4 inches in the South Atlantic Championship tourney. The former records in these two events were 10 feet 9 inches made by C. A. Robbins indoors in 1908 and D. L. Anderson outdoors in 1906.

Fox set aside the records for both the mile and the two mile runs in the Hopkins dual meet bettering G. M. Anderton's 1910 mark of 4:52 by making 4:51 for the mile and W. T. Thom's 1912 mark of 10:57 4-5 for the two mile run by making 10:36 3-5.

Roger Starnes broke Satterfield's high hurdle mark of 16 2-5 seconds which has stood since 1910 by making 15 4-5 in the preliminaries at the South Atlantic Championship meet.

Al Pierrotti made a new mark for the tenth event by putting the shot 36 feet 5 inches, which broke the record of 35 feet 11 1/2 inches made by C. M. Peck in 1912.

J. B. Johnson, winner of the first six mile cross country run, gained the record for that event with the time of 34 minutes 4 seconds adding a new event. The second new mark is for the 50 yard indoor dash of 5 2-5 seconds made by Robert M. Curtis in the semi-finals in the George Washington meet in February.

In the matter of individual point scoring, Ted Shultz is in the lead with a total of 36. Hallman is second with 27, all secured through the pole vault, while Curtis is third with 25 tallies, resulting from his work in the dashes.

Cy Young has a record of 18 points made in four races in two meets. Roger Starnes is tied with Young, having registered 18 points in the hurdles. Seeley has 12 points in the jumps from two meets, and approached the broad jump record. The other points made were: Fox 6, Johnson, Miles and Pierrotti 5 each, Wadsworth 4, Hastings 3, Adams 2, and Johnston, McNitt, Schulz, Hansel, Sweetland and Kerr 1 each.

By the slightest of margins, several members of the track squad have failed to score in the tournaments. Englebert has fought gamely, while Gladney has served on the relay team. Sanders, Rogers, Green, Showell, Myles, Crymble and Watson have been on the squad as reliable substitutes.

The squad for next season will be almost exactly the same and with this year's experience a successful season should be in store.

Already arrangements have been made for the Generals to enter the three indoor meets in Washington and Baltimore, the cross country run in Charlottesville, the South Atlantic Championship meet in Richmond and dual meets in Lexington with Johns Hopkins and V. P. I. Meets with Georgetown and North Carolina may be added to the schedule if satisfactory arrangements can be made.

Coach Fletcher will have charge of the squad again and an effort will be made to get new material from the students entering college next fall. Coach Fletcher hopes that a cinder track and a 220 yard straightaway will be built before another season begins and this, with the indoor track in the new gymnasium, will serve to place track on an equal basis with the other branches of college athletics here.

The Crew, as picked, will probably outweigh last year's by about three pounds to the man when the race comes off. The present register on the scales are: Oglesby 154, Leith 165, Bear 155, Gooch 142, and Penick 105. This makes an average oarsman of 154. This is expected to sink to about 149 by June 15, as compared with last year's final register of 146 1/2 pounds.

The Harry Lee Second will be stroked by S. H. Showell, weighing— at present—145 pounds. Thompson, in three, registers 155. H. M. Rowan, in two, stands at 147, and C. L. Christian, in one, at 143 pounds. The Crew will be coxswained by C. R. Stribling at 115 pounds. The average per oarsman is then 147 1/2 as compared with last year's average of 148 pounds, at the time of the race.

Both boat clubs are hard at work on the river, and all conditions are said to point to hard-fought and splendid races in June.

Charles Ghiselin, class of 1912, of Shepherdstown, W. Va., has just finished his course at the Princeton Theological Seminary. He will reside at Blackie, Alberta, Canada, where he will be engaged in home missionary work for the Presbyterian church in that locality.
