GENERALS TO CLASH WITH V. P. I. TEAM

V. P. I. HAS LIGHT GRIDIRON TEAM

The Generals Outweight Tech By Several Pounds—Gass to Referee

What may be the last battle with Virginia Polytechnic Institute will be a big day. Saturday morning, the Washington and Lee special train, which will convey the student body to the scene of conflict, will depart from Lexington at 8:30 and will arrive in Roanoke at 11 o'clock. The departure will be preceded by two rousing mass meetings of the student body.

The uncertainty that existed as to whether the game would be contested halted preparations. Within a few hours after the news was received Manager S. O. Laughlin had arranged for the special train, and it was announced that mass meetings would be held in the chapel Thursday and Friday nights. A band will be procured in Roanoke for Washington and Lee to cope with the V. P. I. corps of musicians.

The battle field, at the foot of a towering mountain, has been improved. Opposite the grandstand has been erected a bleacher that will accommodate nearly 800 people. An effort will be made to secure this point of vantage for Washington and Lee. In every other respect the field is the same.

Jack Gass of Lehigh, has been agreed upon by both teams to referee the game. The other two officials have not been named, although the matter is now under advisement. The past record of V. P. I. does not indicate strength. Roanoke held V. P. I. to a 7-7 score Saturday, while Randolph-Macon suffered a 13-0 defeat and Hampden-Sidney a 22-0. West Virginia Wesleyan downed the cadets 13 to 0.

V. P. I. has an eleven that lacks experience. Not a single player has participated more than one year on the team, while five of the regulars are first year men. The average weight of backfield is slightly over 149 pounds, but the average weight of the entire Varsity is 157 pounds. The Generals are expected to outweigh their opponents nine pounds to the man. In the backfield Washington and Lee will have an advantage of six pounds with Sweetland at fullback, or eighteen pounds with Beuhring in the lineup.

V. P. I.'s tentative lineup is:

	Varsity	Yrs. on team
Taylor, I. e.	5-6 145	20 2
Moore, I. t.	6-2 170	21 2
Benedict, I. g.	6-2 172	19 1

GENERALS ROLL UP BIG SCORE AGAINST WAKE FOREST TEAM

Game Saturday Marked by Many Penalties and Rough Tactics. W. and L. Plays Good Offensive and Has No Trouble Downing Carolina Eleven. Last Local Game

Intermingling terrific line plunges with sweeping end runs, Washington and Lee scored its fifth consecutive victory, by defeating Wake Forest Saturday 72 to 0. The battle was bitterly contested and characterized with rough tactics and frequent penalizations. The Generals opened strongly and continued the fast pace until the fourth quarter. Eleven touchdowns were scored, four falling to Beuhring, three to Donahue and Milner and one to Gallagher.

In the first period, sweeping end runs were resorted to, but soon gave way to vicious line plunges, with Beuhring in the stellar role. The forward pass was worked effectively for material gains and afforded two touchdowns. In the third quarter Donahue caught a pass and spurred fifty yards to touchdown, while Milner received a pass in the last period and raced seventy-two yards across the line with the eleventh touchdown.

Wake Forest played desperately to hold down the score. Its linesmen charged the Generals with a vigor that developed into a slugging match in the last periods and culminated in a fistic encounter between Miles and Blackman, opposing right tackles. Over 100 yards in penalties were inflicted on Washington and Lee, while Wake Forest suffered but twenty yards reverse.

"Cannon Ball" Beuhring ripped the Carolinians' line in old time form. The big fullback carried the ball over the line four times. In the third period, a slight injury gave Milner a chance at fullback and it proved timely, as he made long gains through the line and played strongly on the defense. Captain Donahue effected several long gains around the ends and starred, while Shultz and Scarry played strongly on the defense.

Young suffered an abrupt reversal of form in kicking. Out of the first six trials for goal after touchdown, Young scored but one. However he made several gains in the first half that aided in the Generals' advance. Wake Forest never seriously threatened the White and Blue goal line. Its offense was decidedly weak and met with little success against the

TRACK EVENTS ARE POSTPONED

Colleges Request That Cross Country Follow Football

Two track events have been postponed until after the football season is over. The South Atlantic Cross Country event is assured of five entrants: Virginia, Georgetown, Johns Hopkins, North Carolina and Washington and Lee having notified the authorities that they will enter teams in the event in case it was postponed until the football season was over.

Because of conflict with gridiron work, the fall handicap meet, scheduled for Oct. 26th, has been postponed until the week following the final clash with A. and M. A squad of over thirty track aspirants are gradually rounding to form under Coach Fletcher, while there is keen competition for positions on the cross country team. Johnson, Hastings, Moore and Englebert are showing to advantage in the running. Friday fourteen out of sixteen finished the course in good time.

The exact time was not announced, but J. B. Johnson, the winner of the 1913 event, bettered his own record. He seems to have a splendid opportunity to finish first this year. Work will be continued until the date of the meets.

GENERALS SET A RECORD ON GRID

Have Not Been Scored On—Roll Up Record Score

Washington and Lee registered a fifth successive victory over Wake Forest and established a record. Today, the Generals are the only aggregation in the East or the South with an uncrossed goal line. Until Saturday, Brown and Pennsylvania State had defended their goal lines without permitting a score. However Cornell downed Brown 28 to 7, while Harvard registered two touchdowns against Penn State, and achieved a tie 13 to 13.

In the South, the University of Alabama and the University of Tennessee were scored on. The Generals are setting another record, that of running up the greatest aggregate score. In the first five games, 281 points have been registered, the fallen teams being Marshall, Morris-Harvey, Roanoke, Georgetown and Wake Forest.

Brown had defended its goal line successfully from Norwich, R. I. State, Amherst and Wesleyan. Westminster, Muhlenberg, Gettysburg, and Ursinus had failed to score on Penn State. Tufts is the college that nears Washington and Lee's score. It has registered 198 points in the first five battles. No team in the South Atlantic division approaches the feat of the Generals.

ASSURANCE OF GAME COMES LATE

Agreement Reached Late Tuesday In Blacksburg By Dr. Pollard

Final arrangements for the V. P. I.-W. and L. game were not completed until late Tuesday afternoon, when Dr. John William Hobbs Pollard, representing the Washington and Lee Athletic authorities, smoothed over what was termed "a slight misunderstanding" after a personal interview with the Virginia Polytechnic Institute authorities in Blacksburg. For some time it had not been definitely known whether or not the game would be played, but all doubt was removed when a telegram received last night stated that the game would be played as scheduled last spring.

No official view of the controversy which occurred between the two schools has been or will be given by the Athletic authorities of either institution.

Following the consummation of the contract, Dean Harry D. Campbell, acting in President's Smith's absence, announced that a holiday would be decreed for Saturday in order that the entire student body could attend the game. A number of the faculty expect to attend.

The entire football squad of thirty five men will accompany the student body in a special coach. After the encounter, the weary gridironists will leave the same night on the special bound for Lexington, arriving at midnight. Headquarters for the Washington and Lee team will be at the Ponce De Leon hotel.

GLEE CLUB PROSPECTS SEEM ENCOURAGING

The proposed reorganization of the Glee club, under the leadership of W. L. Carson and A. M. Birdsall, bids fair to become a reality. The call for a preliminary meeting last Friday afternoon met with a vigorous response, and about eighteen men were present in the Phi Delta Theta rooms to discuss plans for the year.

It was decided that for the present, meetings should be held each Friday afternoon for practice, and the following men signed up for the club: First tenor, R. S. Walker, J. A. Kellam, R. M. Curtis; second tenor, C. W. Camp, W. M. Minter, J. H. Sorrells, E. L. Junkin; first bass, K. B. Kellam, A. G. McKinnon, Pat. Anderson, E. B. Hallman, N. B. Adams; second bass, P. G. Thompson, E. F. Grossman, A. N. Williams. Carson and Birdsall will continue as leaders, and H. P. Magruder will be the pianist.

It is hoped that at the end of the football season several members of the squad will come out and help to make this year's Glee club the success which it deserves.

CAPTAIN LEE IS BURIED IN CHAPEL

Sole Surviving Son of General
Lee Passes to Great

The remains of Captain Robert E. Lee, the sole surviving son of Robert E. Lee, commander-in-chief of the Confederacy, were laid to rest in the family vault in Lee Memorial chapel Friday morning. At 10 o'clock simple funeral services were conducted at the Lee Memorial Episcopal church by Dr. Oscar DeWolf Randolph. At the conclusion of the services, the body was borne to the chapel between the ranks of Washington and Lee students on one side and the Virginia Military Institute cadets on the other.

The funeral train wended its way down the lane with the members of the Washington and Lee faculty serving as pallbearers, followed by the immediate family of the deceased and flowers borne by Confederate veterans. The members of the faculty of the two schools came in the rear with Sons of the Veterans and Daughters of the Confederacy. After a brief service in the chapel, the body was interred under a beautiful blanket of flowers in the vault beside his father and kinsmen.

Captain Lee made his home on his estate in King William county, but died at the home of his brother-in-law, Mr. Dulaney, at Upperville, on Oct. 12th. The deceased was the author of "Recollections and Letters of Robert E. Lee." He was a very modest and unassuming gentleman, who is said to have resembled his illustrious father greatly in physical features.

Those of the immediate family present at the funeral were Mrs. R. E. Lee, his widow, her two daughters, Misses Mary Custis Lee and Ann Carter Lee, Mrs. W. H. F. Lee, Colonel Robert Lee of Washington, Thomas Carter and Spencer Carter of Richmond, and Mrs. Dulaney of Upperville, Va.

FIRST INFORMAL DANCE

The first informal dance of the year was given Saturday night at the University Commons, from 9 to 12 o'clock. Among those present to enjoy the evening were: Miss Nancy Pendleton, Miss Nell Carrington, Miss Eutha Young, Miss Augusta Pearce, Miss Ernestine Cutts, Miss Sallie Edmonds, Miss Elizabeth Anderson, Miss Mary Byrd, Miss Margaret Caldwell, Miss Frances Hamilton, Miss Vivian Barrow, Miss Ruth Barrow, Mrs. William Higgins, Miss Laura Carrington, Miss Maggie Graham, Miss Elizabeth Graham, Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. J. M. Young.

The dance was a subscription affair and attended by nearly forty students.

NO PLAYS AT THE LYRIC

Manager Preston of the Lyric, announces that no plays have been booked to appear here this week. The "Prodigal Judge" will show on Nov. 3rd, and no other company has been arranged for until Jan. 5th, when the "Prince of Tonight" will be presented.

ROBERT VANCE SUBMITS THE PRIZE WINNING SONG

Will Get Expenses to Roanoke From Executive Committee

Robert G. Vance, Jr., a member of the freshman class, has been awarded the prize offered by the Executive committee for the snappiest song or cheer for Washington and Lee. Announcement that a trip to Roanoke to view the V. P. I.-W. and L. game would be given the successful composer of a yell or song resulted in a number being submitted. However, after considering those offered, the committee decided that the winner's effort was the most meritorious.

The song, which is set to the music of "Mandalay," is:

We're glad to say, we're here today
To beat old V. P. I. on every play,
We'll circle their ends and smash
their line,

Smash 'em till they yell for time.
We're sentimental for our great big Generals

And we're going to lick 'em like hell

So give a yell for W. and L.
Then V. P. I. goodbye.

The bit of harmony fulfills all the requirements of a college yell, having "like hell," "yell" and "beat" contained in the lines.

SOUTHWEST VA. CLUB ORGANIZED

Twenty students from Southwest Virginia met in Professor Long's lecture room Friday afternoon and organized the Southwest Virginia club, with the following officers: President, R. M. Curtis; vice president, W. C. Lester, secretary, Morgan Keaton; treasurer, W. M. Minter. Plans for the annual banquet were discussed and it was decided that it would not be held until about the middle of February. An arrangement committee for the banquet will be appointed.

W. & L. PAINTINGS WORTH $200,000

Peale's "Washington" Valued at $100,000—Other Paintings Here

Although the average student is not acquainted with the fact, the art collection owned by the University is one of Washington and Lee's most valuable assets. Upwards of $200,000 worth of paintings and other art treasures are now deposited in the chapel and on the second floor of the library, and some of the best critics in the country have pronounced several of the pictures to be unsurpassed in historical interest and value.

The portrait of Washington as a colonial colonel, painted in 1772 by Charles Wilson Peale, is said to be worth no less than $100,000 alone by reputable judges of art. It now hangs in the chapel beside its companion picture, a portrait of Lafayette by the same artist and valued at $50,000. There is also in the chapel a series of paintings of past benefactors of the University and other great men of the nation. All these pictures were the gift of General Custis Lee from his own collection.

The major part of the collection in the library was the bequest of the late Vincent L. Bradford of Philadelphia, for whom the gallery is named. In addition to these there are a number loaned by General Custis Lee, and the Italian collection presented by Mrs. John Harvey Moore. Among the sixty or seventy, which are on the walls of the library, the "Entombment of Christ" by Corregio is easily the most valuable, provided it is an original. Its value would be inestimable were it the original. Among those which are known to be originals are the following: "Two Monks Reading the Holy Scriptures," by Angelica Kauffman of the Swiss school; two paintings by J. J. Pater entitled, "Lovers in a Garden" and "Blind Man's Buff," also two by Watteau, "The Courtship" and "Domestic Felicity," as representative of the French School. The Belgian school is represented by the "Reading the Village Newspaper" of De Brackelaer, and the Dutch by Droogstoot's "Festival in Flanders." There are several Italian paintings of which the best are Maratti's "Adoration of the Magi," and Carai's "Ecce Homo."

The remainder of the collection is made up of a number of original and copies of masters of less note, including several of the best known English and American painters.

NO SCRUB SCHEDULE

Manager R. B. McDougle announces that so far he has been unable to arrange a definite schedule for the present season. A large number of preparatory schools were written to, but all had already completed their arrangements, and were not in a position to give any more games. A. M. A., Fishburne, Staunton high and Roanoke high announced that their schedules were closed, and as the scrubs will be needed for scrimmage on the field almost every afternoon from now on, there seems little likelihood that any further efforts will be made to secure contests for them.

One game has already been played with A. M. A. in Staunton, and the meet with Massanutten academy at Woodstock on Nov. 3rd, will probably close the scrub season.

SIAMESE SHINES FORTH IN ROLL OF BENEFACTOR

Presents Coach Elcock With Cigarette Case—As Usual He Profits

Siamese has blossomed forth into another role. Since time immemorial, the dark complexioned asset has been the best drilled cadet in Lexington. As a silver tongued orator, a musician of genius, and an advertising specialist he has shone forth. But Siamese is now a "benefactor for his own good."

In the awe inspiring moments of speculation preceding the Georgetown game, Siamese appealed to the freshmen for funds that he might witness the battle. After collecting an amount that soared near the twenty dollar mark, he remained in Lexington. Soon after the arrival of the victorious team, Siamese, the benefactor, appealed to the students for funds that he might present Coach Elcock with an appropriate memorial of the victory. Again the students responded and Siamese's coffers swelled to overflowing.

Behooving that it was expedient to make good in one instance, he procured a cigarette case that would have made six bits or 100 Octagon wrappers swell with righteous pride. The presentation took place immediately after the struggle when Siamese, mounting to the top row of the bleachers, gave vent to his pent up feelings in a burst of fiery eloquence.

After spending some time in extolling his own virtues, he spoke a few words regarding the merits of the coach and offered up a fervent prayer for his return to W. and L. next season. He then descended with military dignity and gave the coach a silver cigarette case engraved with the initials "W. B. E." After such eloquent oratory, Coach Elcock naturally hesitated at attempting any speech, but expressed his appreciation in a brief but sincere reply.

Rockbridge County News Print

On To Roanoke

After a prolonged period of doubt, it is announced that Washington and Lee will battle against V. P. I. Saturday in Roanoke. It may be the last time that the two traditional rivals will meet. Therefore let every man rally to his colors and witness the downfall of the Techs. For a decade, the followers of the Generals have journeyed to Roanoke to view the struggle and returned heavy hearted, crest fallen and light of purse. From the fall of 1902, when "Smut" Smith's touchdown humbled Tech, until 1912, Washington and Lee failed to register a victory.

During the past two years, the Generals have reversed the order. In 1912 a 20-6 victory was achieved, while last season Dowd's machine humbled V. P. I. 21-0. Enthused by the remarkable showing of the present eleven, some of the followers feel that V. P. I. will be overwhelmed and that they will not be needed to spur the Generals on. It is the first opportunity that the students have had to show their appreciation and a full quota should accompany the team.

The Techs have always fought harder against Washington and Lee than any other team. It would mean more to them to achieve a triumph over the White and Blue than to register decisive victories over any other opponent. Comparative scores can not be relied upon. Washington and Lee will have a battle from the start with the cadets.

Aside from the actual game, there are many attractions in Roanoke. The W. and L.-V. P. I. game is looked upon in Roanoke as the "big" gridiron game of the season. The presence of the cadet corps, their keen determination, their big military band and the volleying of yell after yell are enough to enthuse the most retiring and unenthusiastic spectator. The display of the school colors and the spirit of the town charges the air with snap and enthusiasm. The trip is a memorable event in the career of every student. It is a part of a college education.

The Washington and Lee special will leave at 8:30 Saturday morning. Let every man witness what may be the last game between V. P. I. and Washington and Lee.

Should Play Southern Schools

In drafting a schedule for 1915, the Athletic authorities should not overlook engagements with the representative schools of the South. Washington and Lee is looked upon throughout the South as a University of the South and the publicity resulting from a football game with either Vanderbilt, Auburn, Sewanee, Georgia or Georgia Tech would add strength to the belief.

The impression prevails that the Southern colleges are more formidable than those of South Atlantic division, but the victory of North Carolina over Vanderbilt and the triumph of Virginia over Vanderbilt in 1913 has done much to down these exaggerated views. There is little doubt but that either of the five Universities aforementioned would welcome relations with Washington and Lee.

It is also believed that the Generals will meet one of the most successful teams in the east. In years past Princeton, Bucknell, W. and J., Cornell and Pennsylvania were willing to meet Washington and Lee and at least one battle with a big eastern team is anticipated for 1915. But it would be even more beneficial to encounter the leading elevens of the South.

A Progressive Change

Wake Forest deserves little commendation for either the spirit or game displayed against Washington and Lee. At all stages of the game the captain of the Wake Forest eleven disputed every ruling of the referee, the players added epithets to almost every tackle and could hardly be commended for sportsmanlike playing. When a fistcuff occurred in the last quarter, the students became aroused.

The engagement with Wake Forest is one of the most expensive on the home schedule. A victory means little to Washington and Lee, neither in the satisfaction of knowing that a formidable team has been humbled nor that a high score creates general approbation. If the Athletic authorities adhere to the announced progressive policy of scheduling games, another college will replace it on the schedule.

The display of unpleasant tactics did not occur for the first time in the past contest. In 1913, a personal encounter with one of the officials was narrowly averted, while almost every decision of the referee was disputed and dilatory tactics employed. A repetition of such a performance should be guarded against in future seasons.

There is no dearth of worthy rivals. Many elevens would eagerly bid for engagements. And sportsmanlike elevens too.

For a round trip ticket and admission to the game and to the grandstand, $3.50 will cover all expenses. Tickets will be placed on sale at McCrum's and also will be sold en route to Roanoke. Arm bands and megaphones, which are purchased for the event annually, will be placed on sale. While it is expected that a dance will follow the game Saturday, no definite announcement has been made.

The Generals are fit for the game, with the exception of Ira Simms. The plucky little left end is out with injuries, but may be in condition to play. To balance the strength of the line, Coach Elcock has shifted the linesmen. Scarry who has played on the left side of the line, has been shifted to right guard, while Bryan is filling left guard. It is not known who will begin at fullback. Pierotti will start at center.

COPYING PEALE'S WASHINGTON

Mrs. Winslow, a prominent artist of New York city, has been commissioned by the National Society of the Colonial Dames of America, to make a copy of Peale's portrait of Washington, which now hangs in the Lee Memorial chapel. The artist has been at work on the picture during the past few days, and when finished it will be presented to the British government as a perpetual memorial of the hundred years' peace between England and the United States. The portrait will be eventually placed in Sulgrave Manor, the ancestral home of the Washington family in England.

The original painting was made in 1772. Washington is shown as a young man, wearing the uniform of a colonial volunteer, he being then in the service of the British government. He himself made several sittings for the work, and the picture was first placed in the Washington library at Mount Vernon. Later it came into the possession of the Lees, and was subsequently hung in the University chapel as the gift of General Custis Lee.

Some of the most eminent critics declare this portrait to be the most authentic likeness of Washington in existence. The National Society of the Colonial Dames studied all of the famous portraits of Washington in the country, and finally decided on that by Peale, which is one of the most valuable art treasures of Washington and Lee.

Invitations have been received in Lexington to the marriage of Miss Edna Menear of Fairmont, W. Va., to Thomas Russell Cather, '10, of Winchester, Va. The wedding will take place at Fairmont, W. Va., on Nov. 4th.

PRaises MISS COMBS

To the Editor:

On Nov. 3rd a famous quartette—the New York Artists' Concert company—is to give a concert in Lexington. As many of the students have probably never heard these singers, I feel that I am in a position to say a few words of introduction for them.

In the beginning, Washington and Lee will never get a chance to hear a greater quartette. Indeed I doubt very much, whether any student will ever hear a sweeter voice than that of Miss Combs. Speaking from my own experience—and I have been fortunate in hearing Semrich, Melba, Tetrazzini, Eames and some others—I can state positively that I have never heard a voice which pleased me as much. The memory of her singing, "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," has lingered with me for the past five years, a musical jewel of the first water.

Mr. Dunsby and Mr. Martin, too, are artists through and through. It is a treat to hear them. It is a question whether there are any Americans on the concert stage today who surpass them.

Of the contralto, Miss Hardie, I can say little. I have not heard her and therefore cannot express myself one way or the other. The fact that she sings with Miss Combs is enough, however, to second them any complimentary things that have already been said.

The program will not be any super classical affair capable of being appreciated only by that too abundant class of long haired enigmas usually associated with music. On the contrary, it will be in English—understandable English—and will consist of numbers which have only to be heard to be liked. It is with absolute confidence that I say, that once a person has heard melodies like "Beauties Eyes," or "Answer," he will find such trash as the Berlin and Snyder rag factory turns out, very flat.

Again I repeat the hope that the students will not let this opportunity pass by, even if they go for nothing else than merely to say that they had heard America's greatest quartette.

WADSWORTH WILL LEAD

SOPHOMORE COTILLION

Jesse B. Wadsworth will lead the Sophomore Cotillion, the opening event of the Thanksgiving dances. At a meeting of the Sophomore class last Tuesday afternoon, President Ben Rives announced that he had made the appointment. The Cotillion, which is the first given by '17, was discussed and the assessments levied, four dollars for members who dance and two dollars for those who are less fortunate.

The following committee was appointed to engineer the finances: H. C. Holden, chairman; T. C. Waters, P. D. Pickens, W. B. Rogers and Luke Williams. Other committees will be announced later.

Ted Waters was elected to manage the Sophomore football team in the class tournament. Jesse Wadsworth was elected captain last year at the close of the class football season. Practice has already started. The Sophomores adopted gold and black as the class color.

Invitations have been issued to the wedding of Miss Margaret Burnett Waddey of Richmond, Va., to Littleberry James Boxley, '10. The wedding will take place in the latter part of November in Richmond.

GYMNASIUM CLASSES TO START AFTER FOOTBALL

Coach Fletcher Will Have Charge of Gymnasts' Work for the Winter

With the approach of winter, Coach Fletcher is beginning to formulate plans for the gymnasium class which is to be held throughout the winter months under his leadership. He expects to organize this class shortly after the close of the football season when the weather becomes too uncertain for regular outdoor exercise of any sort. To avoid conflict with basketball practice, meetings of the class will be held between 5 and 6 o'clock, after the basketball squad has left the floor.

Coach Fletcher's purpose in this class is not to develop a small team of trained gymnasts, nor to train a larger squad for exhibition work, but to offer the whole student body, and especially those men who are not candidates for any team, a means of attaining a well rounded physical development through systematic exercise. To further this end the larger part of the time is to be given over to class drills and floor work, with a small amount of apparatus work to finish off with. Coach Fletcher will have entire charge of all gym work this winter, no student assistants having been appointed.

LITERARY SOCIETIES

The Washington Literary society held its regular weekly meeting on Saturday night. The vice president, J. C. Rivers, presided.

C. C. Chambers delivered an oration on "War and Peace," while J. W. Blake spoke on the "Force of Public Opinion." The debate, Resolved, "That all Corporation Engaging in Interstate Commerce Should Be Required to Make Out a Federal Charter, Granting Such Legislation Constitutional," was upheld by Rivers and Grossman on the affirmative side, against Barnes and Burtner on the negative. The judges, Cannon, Worth and Wolsy, decided two to one in favor of the negative.

D. A. Folk and T. M. Glasgow delivered extemporaneous speeches.

The following new men have become members of the society, A. L. Bennett, J. D. McCreedy, J. M. Wells, Jr., Edmund Magers and Samuel Wofsy.

The Graham Lee Literary society held its regular meeting Saturday night. R. E. Kirkpatrick, L. D. Arnold, C. H. Miller and Allen Beall, Jr., took the oath and were admitted to membership. A number of men were nominated and referred to the Judiciary committee.

After the admission of new members, the customary program was offered. C. L. Junkin delivered an oration entitled, "The Past," in which he compared the value of the Past, Present and Future, respectively. Henry W. Grady's "The Future of the South" was declaimed by E. D. Smathers. W. J. Cox and H. M. Rowan spoke extemporaneously on "The Power of the Press," and the "Necessity of the Political Game." The trite debate, Resolved that the Philippine Islands Should be Given their Independence, was interesting. C. P. Heavener and N. M. Bealle on the affirmative, gained a decision over H. M. Shumate and A. E. Crutherford.

SCHOLASTIC COMPARISON OF COLLEGE ORGANIZATIONS

Phi Delta Thetas Leads the Frats—
Albert Sidney Crew Tops Athletics

A report of the scholastic standing of the various fraternities, athletic organizations, and ribbon societies in school has been given out for publication by President Smith. The Phi Delta Thetas, among the fraternities, and the Albert Sidney boat crew, as representative of the athletic organizations, easily head the list in scholarship, with the exception of the honorary fraternities. The P. K. A's are a close second, with an average of eighty for each member, and the S. A. E.'s bring up the rear, with a grade of approximately sixty three for each man.

Following is the table of averages:

Fraternity	Grade
Phi Delta Theta	8.2
Pi Kappa Alpha	8.0
Phi Gamma Delta	7.76
Phi Kappa Psi	7.66
Sigma Phi Epsilon	7.63
Alpha Chi Rho	7.38
Alpha Tau Omega	7.38
Sigma Chi	7.2
Kappa Sigma	7.06
Delta Tau Delta	6.95
Sigma Nu	6.93
Phi Kappa Sigma	6.79
Kappa Alpha	6.75
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	6.29

Average of fraternities 7.28
Average standing of Athletic Organizations:

Albert Sidney boat crew	8.21
Harry Lee boat crew	7.46
Baseball team	7.3
Track team	6.75
Football team	6.62

Average standing of Ribbon Societies:

White Friars	7.28
Pan	6.9

The average of the members of the Delta Sigma Rho was 8.2. Of the Phi Beta Kappa men in school last year the Alpha Chi Rho's had two, and the following fraternities had one each: Alpha Tau Omega, Delta Tau Delta, Kappa Alpha, Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Kappa Psi, and Pi Kappa Alpha.

The averages for the present year will probably be considerably in excess of the above, and there is manifest a noteworthy tendency to give to scholarship the place it should hold in college life.

GLASGOW ELECTED HEAD OF JUNIOR LAW CLASS

Lawyers Have Stormy Session In Choosing Officers

In a meeting resembling a Bull Moose National convention, the Junior Law class Saturday elected a full quota of officers to guide the class through the year. The meeting was called for the recess period at 10:30, but at the end of the half hour, the presidency was the only office filled, so the proceedings adjourned to reconvene at 12:30. After many sordid, hotly contested ballots a compete ticket was finally selected. The affair was featured by many brilliant flights of oratory by embryo statesmen.

The officers elected are:

President, T. McP. Glasgow; vice president, George D. Shore, Jr.; secretary, E. S. Marshall; treasurer, Ripley S. Walker; historian, M. L. Masinter.

The executive committeeman was elected prior to the general election of officers.

GENERALS ROLL UP BIG SCORE

Generals, despite the weight. It was the last gridiron engagement of the season on Wilson field.

Wake Forest won the toss and decided to receive the kick. Young kicked fifty five yards to Riddick, who advanced five yards. Moore punted forty yards to Donahue, who returned the pigskin fifteen yards. Donahue circled left end for ten yards, while Gallagher made ten through the line. On the third down, Gallagher advanced sixteen yards around right end for touchdown. Young failed to kick goal. Watkins relieved Powell.

Young kicked fifty five yards to Holding and a fifteen yard advance followed. Billings was hurled backward for an eleven yard loss. Billings attempted to punt, but the ball was blocked and recovered by Scarry on the six yard line. On the first down, Donahue skirted right end for touchdown. Again Young failed to kick goal.

Young booted fifty yards to Trust, who fumbled but recovered without advance. Billings made two futile attempts to gain, while Beam was held. Moore punted thirty yards to Donahue, whose fumble permitted Blackman to recover mid field. Trust lost, but Holding made ten yards on a forward pass. Gallagher recovered Billings' fumble. Young circled right end for twenty yards, while Gallagher added ten, only to be recalled when W. and L. was offside. Young failed to gain through the line, but Donahue made eleven yards around left end. Beuhring bucked five, and Young made seven yards. Gallagher gained three yards, while Beuhring ripped through the line for one yard and touchdown. Young kicked goal easily.

Trust's fumble of Young's thirty-five yard kick was recovered by Seeley. Donahue received a forward pass for five yards. The forward pass failed on the second down and Young lost seven on the third attempt. However Shultz grabbed a fumbled forward pass and made twelve yards. As Miles failed on a forward heave, the period closed.

With Sweetland at half, the second quarter opened. Donahue failed to gain but his forward pass to Graham, who had just relieved Harrison, netted five yards. Sweetland failed to make first downs. Billings and Beam failed, forcing Moore to kick thirty yards to Donahue. Lee relieved Riddick. Wake Forest interfered with Miles, who was endeavoring to catch a forward pass, and was penalized ten yards. Young's forward pass to Donahue added three yards. Barrow supplanted Pierotti. Sweetland added a yard, but Beuhring plunged ten yards. Young's five yard gain preceded Beuhring's seven yard drive. With another plunge of six yards, the big fullback scored. Young's effort for goal was unsuccessful.

Young booted fifty two yards to Trust, who returned seven yards. Billings gained three yards, but Beuhring threw Holding for seven yard loss on a double pass. The forward pass succeeded, but Wake Forest was penalized five yards as only six men were on the line of scrimmage. Donahue made a fair catch of Moore's twenty five yard punt. Donahue and Young were held, but Young's forward pass to Shultz netted thirty yards. Sweetland advanced four yards, while Beuhring plunged seven yards to touchdown. Young's kick was low.

Young kicked fifty yards to Trust, who fumbled the ball. A lively scramble for it followed, and Young recovered. Donahue hit left end for fifteen yards, while Beuhring annexed eleven. With slightly over fourteen yards to go, Young gained two, Beuhring three, but Sweetland failed. Beuhring made first downs with five yards advance, while Donahue spurred through center for touchdown. Young's kick hit the bar. Just as Scarry recovered Beam's fumble, following Trust's fourteen yard return of Young's forty eight yard kick, the first half closed.

Gallagher replaced Young at the opening of the third quarter. Sweetland returned Billings' forty five yard kick, forty yards, only to be recalled and a ten yard penalty inflicted for tripping. Donahue circled left end for thirty four yards. Gallagher plunged six and Beuhring nine yards. Gallagher annexed three yards on a buck and followed with a twenty six yard run to touchdown, but was recalled and the Generals again penalized. Beuhring gained four yards, while Donahue added five and a half. A. Riddick was substituted for Lee and Trust for Beam, but as the substitutions were illegal, a ten yard penalty was inflicted.

Beuhring made six yards off tackle, while Sweetland gained one. On the third down, Beuhring went five yards and for touchdown. Donahue kicked out to Gallagher, who kicked goal.

Beuhring hurt himself and was relieved by Milner. Billings kicked fifty five yards to Donahue, who advanced fifteen yards. He made six yards on the first down, while Gallagher added three. Milner's first plunge netted ten yards. Gallagher failed, but Donahue received a forward pass and ran fifty yards to touchdown, after which Gallagher kicked goal.

Milner returned Billings' fifty five yard kick to the thirty yard line. On three successive trials, Milner, Gallagher and Sweetland failed, forcing Dingwall to kick thirty seven yards to Billings, who did not advance. Trust failed, while Milner made a sensational one hand interception of a forward pass and advanced within forty five yards of goal. Gallagher failed, while a forward pass to Harrison was incomplete. On a second trial, Harrison made twenty yards. Donahue added thirteen around left end. Milner made downs on two plunges. Seeley was disabled and replaced by Wadsworth. Milner forced his way through tackle and guard for two yards and touchdown. Gallagher kicked goal.

Further scoring in the third period was prevented by penalties on W. and L., fifteen yards for tripping and fifteen yards for illegal use of hands. Smith went in the game, just in time to punt forty seven yards.

In the fourth quarter, the game grew rougher. Wake Forest opened with the ball in her possession, but could not gain on the first three downs. Witherington punted thirty five yards to Donahue, who advanced five yards. The forward pass, to Miles failed. Smith gained two yards, while Milner plunged six. Smith punted thirty eight yards to Carrick, whom Scarry nailed. Witherington, Pace and Billings could not advance, and Witherington kicked thirty yards to Donahue. Donahue lost three yards, but regained them, only to be penalized fifteen yards for hurdling. The forward pass failed, while Smith was thrown for a loss. Smith booted fifty one yards to Riddick, who was downed in his tracks. Trust gained one yard, while Billings added five. Riddick was hurled back for a loss, while Donahue returned Witherington's thirty five yard kick twenty five yards. Smith hit end for two yards, while Donahue circled right end for seven. Milner made downs with a seven yard advance. Sweetland annexed eight around right end. Donahue gained half a yard, while Milner made downs on two successive plunges. On another down, he plunged a yard to touchdown. Donahue kicked goal.

Billings kicked fifty five yards to Donahue, who returned the oval twenty yards. As Sweetland circled right end for twenty three yards, Miles and Blackman staged a one round bout on the sidelines and both were banished. Following a futile down, Izard was banished for slugging and W. and L. penalized half the distance from the goal line, thirty one yards. Donahue and Smith failed, Barrow relieved Pierotti. Sweetland made twenty yards, but Harrison used his hands on an opponent and a fifteen yard penalty followed. Donahue's forward pass to Milner resulted in a perfect catch and a seventy two yard run to touchdown for the final score.

CHANGES AT LIBRARY

Miss Annie White reports that the new books ordered for this year have not yet arrived, the only new books being a gift of about fifteen, presented to the school by John R. Anderson of New York.

Several changes have been made in the arrangements of the different Seminars. The room, which was formerly the French and German Seminar, has been turned over to the debaters and those desiring material for debates will find it there. The large room in the basement has been fitted up and is being used as the History Seminar room.
