ON THE COVER: This scene of Washington and Lee's historic front campus, with Washington Hall as the dominant feature, is an enlargement from an old copperplate engraving that was used extensively over the years by the University's Journalism Laboratory Press. It still appears frequently in various University publications.

A UNIVERSITY REPORT, 1982-83

From the President

Gifts to W&L: "we do something larger still"

This year's remarkable finish to another successful Annual Fund drive left us limp and yet grateful in Lexington. The long faces were very much in evidence as late as May, but things turned around as the year came to its close and, once again, the alumni and parents of Washington and Lee have cause to be deeply proud. And we have cause to be deeply grateful.

Amongst many other things, I have learned, in my first year here, that Washington and Lee people know how important the Annual Fund is to our institutional character. We could, I suppose, manage a pale imitation of what we have and what, truly, we are, by depending mainly on tuition and fees to meet our obligations. If we were compelled to do so, our student-faculty ratio would have to be nearly doubled and small classes would quickly disappear. So would the special courses and unusual majors we take pride in, for example, Far Eastern Studies, the Applied Ethics program, the work we offer in physics/engineering, the special courses we teach in African and Asian history, and on and on. Our library, too, would be required to reduce its periodical subscriptions by half and cut drastically into its purchase of new monographs. Varsity and intramural sports activity would also be diminished as would the visiting lecture and concert programs. There is, in fact, no way that Washington and Lee could make up for the loss of the Annual Fund dollars that flow directly to the support of our academic and co-curricular programs.

Our alumni and parents and close friends know these things. They know, too, that those who came before them made the richness of their own experience possible and so a chain of responsibility has been quietly formed, one generation reaching out to the younger one coming along. This notion of generational progress and responsibility cannot be far from the center of any reasonable explanation for our alumni loyalty. We know, each of us, that our time on the earth is strikingly brief. We try to use it well, preparing ourselves to shape our society in one or another helpful way, giving ourselves to our families and communities in a whole series of largely unrecorded acts of selflessness. But, then, we do something larger still, giving, not to our own children alone, but to an institution which we know will have a powerful influence upon some, at least, of the leaders of the next generation, leaders who will bear the stamp of their years here, not only in what they have learned, but in their carriage and confidence, and in their fidelity to the idea of honor and its responsibilities.

I cannot suppose there can be any other reason why Washington and Lee enjoys the loyalty and annual sacrifice of so many of its graduates. They give to record their thanks for a privilege experienced, but also to add something for a better time yet to come.

We in Lexington, current students and current faculty, tenants for a time in a timeless place, thank them most sincerely.

—JOHN D. WILSON
President

The Robert E. Lee Associates

The Robert E. Lee Associates was established by the Board of Trustees in 1967 to identify and recognize leadership in support of the University's educational program through the Annual Fund. Alumni and friends are cordially invited to join this fellowship.

Qualification for Membership: An alumnus, parent, or friend may join the Robert E. Lee Associates by contributing $1,000 or more to the University through its Annual Fund for support of current operations in the educational and general budget. This gift may be paid in one or more installments during the fiscal year—July 1 to June 30.

General's Council: A Lee Associate becomes a member of the General's Council for cumulative gifts totaling $10,000 or more in 12 consecutive years or less, or for a pledge to accomplish this result. Thus, a donor may fulfill this requirement by giving—or by pledging to give—$1,000 in any 10 years out of 12, by making larger gifts at less frequent intervals, or by a single gift of $10,000 or more.

Listed here are members of the General's Council and those Lee Associates who made a gift to the Annual Fund of $1,000 or more during 1982-83.

The Annual Fund: Academic Classes

The Annual Fund is Washington and Lee's most vital source of gift income. Again in 1982-83 the Annual Fund exceeded its goal and recorded an increase over the previous year (1981-82) of 8½%. Listed here are the names of alumni who contributed to the 1982-83 Annual Fund. Their gifts helped Washington and Lee continue the high quality of its educational program. The heading Lee Associate indicates gifts of $1,000 or more made in 1982-83; the heading Colonnade Club indicates gifts of $100-$999 made in 1982-83.

Washington and Lee University

Washington and Lee University was founded in 1749 as Augusta Academy. Successive institutions were Liberty Hall Academy (1776), Washington Academy (1798), Washington College (1813), and Washington and Lee University (1871).

George Washington saved the school from financial ruin in 1796 by making the first substantial gift to its endowment. Robert E. Lee saved the school from threatened obscurity after the Civil War by serving as its president from 1865 until his death in 1870.

Purpose: The University is a private college for men, devoted at the undergraduate level to educational excellence in the liberal arts and sciences and in business, and in the School of Law, which is coeducational, solely to the highest quality of professional legal education. It is dedicated to remaining one of the nation's outstanding teaching colleges. It remains small by choice, making possible close associations between students and faculty in a climate of learning that stresses the importance of the individual and his personal honor and his responsibility to serve society through the productivity of his training and talent.

Governance: The University is governed by a Board of Trustees of 25 members and is independently and privately financed.

President of the University:

John D. Wilson, B.A., M.A., Ph.D.

Divisions: The College (humanities and natural sciences); The School of Commerce, Economics, and Politics (economics, politics, accounting, and administration); The School of Law.

Location: Lexington, Virginia is a historic city of 7,500 population situated in the central part of the Great Valley of Virginia, one of the nation's most scenic areas. Lexington is also the home of Virginia Military Institute, the post of which abuts the campus of the University.

Campus: The main campus consists of approximately 55 acres. In addition, there are about 40 acres of playing fields and 210 acres of unimproved land.

There are 29 principal buildings, including the historic and picturesque Washington College group that forms the familiar Colonnade, facing famous Lee Chapel.

The front campus was designated a National Historic Landmark in 1972, joining Lee Chapel which had already been so designated.

Academic

More than 700 different undergraduate courses are taught each year at Washington and Lee. An extensive faculty advisor system provides counseling, but undergraduate students are allowed maximum freedom in selecting courses.

Degrees Offered: In The College — Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Science with Special Attainments in Chemistry; in the School of Commerce, Economics, and Politics — Bachelor of Arts with major in economics or politics, Bachelor of Science with major in business administration; in the School of Law — Juris Doctor.

Freshmen: Of the 373 students entering in the fall of 1983, 80 percent ranked in the top two-fifths of their high school classes. The average Scholastic Aptitude Test scores of the entering class were 555 Verbal and 595 Math.

Honor System: The most enduring influence on the lives of Washington and Lee men is an Honor System which is administered entirely by the students themselves. The only penalty for violation of the Honor System is permanent dismissal from the University.

Student Government: Students are given a large measure of freedom in governing their own affairs and have representatives on most faculty committees. A 12-member Executive Committee of the Student Body, elected by the students, is the principal student government organization and the sole administrator of the Honor System. The Student Activities Board and the Interfraternity Council are active in helping students plan social, cultural, and recreational functions.

Financial Aid

The University's objective is to be able to award student financial aid equal to the demonstrated need to all who require it. In the typical aid package, a student is required to borrow no more than $1,500 of his computed need and receives the balance in the form of scholarship grants and an on-campus job.

Percentage of undergraduate faculty with earned doctorates (excluding physical education, military science, and library): 83 percent.

Although faculty members regard teaching as their primary duty, virtually all engage in research or creative work. In 1981-82, faculty members produced 12 books and monographs, 64 published articles, 65 papers, and a number of book reviews, poems, musical compositions, and works of art. Many faculty members are editors or contributing editors of learned publications and hold offices in academic or professional societies.

Development Program

The University completed a ten year Development Program in December 1981 by exceeding the $62-million goal by $5 million. The principal improvements provided were Lewis Hall, new home of the School of Law; Warner Center, an addition to the gymnasium; a new University library building; a new home for the School of Commerce, Economics, and Politics; the remodeling and restoration of Tucker and Newcomb Halls, and many other campus improvements including expanded student housing; $23 million was added to the endowment; the Annual Fund was nearly quadrupled during the ten-year period. Since the completion of the Development Program, emphasis has been placed on increasing the number and size of Washington and Lee's scholarships and on the continued enlargement of the Annual Fund and the endowment.

University Library

The University's new library, which opened in January 1979, is the largest academic building on the campus, holding more than 750,000 books, government documents, serials, A-V materials and microforms. The library also contains the Lee Archives, the University Archives, and important family papers of those who have contributed to the development of the Valley of Virginia, the State of Virginia, and the nation.

The building has space for 500,000 books alone, plus all other collections, and provides seating for as many as 800 students, including individual study areas for more than 600. Locked study rooms, seminars, smoking lounges, and an auditorium are also within the facility.

Athletics

Washington and Lee bases its intercollegiate athletic program on the premise that sports are an integral part of the total educational process. As a member of the NCAA Division III the University does not award athletic scholarships; all financial aid is determined by need and academic merit.

Over 270 undergraduates compete in W&L's 13 varsity sports: baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, indoor track, lacrosse, outdoor track, soccer, swimming, tennis, water polo, and wrestling. The University also sponsors junior varsity teams in several sports.

W&L is a charter member of the 14-college Old Dominion Athletic Conference founded in 1976. The Generals compete in nine of the ODAC's ten men's sports.

The J.W. Warner Center, with its main gymnasium, pool, locker rooms, weight rooms and handball/racquetball/squash courts, is the hub of athletic activity. Outdoor facilities include Wilson Field (stadium, natural surface field, and track), Smith Baseball Field, an eight-court tennis center, 8000-meter cross country course, and several practice fields.

Fraternities

There are 17 national social fraternities on campus, and a large portion of social life revolves around the fraternity chapters. About 65 percent of students affiliate with fraternities.

The chapters are Beta Theta Pi, Chi Psi, Delta Tau Delta, Kappa Alpha, Kappa Sigma, Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Kappa Psi, Phi Kappa Sigma, Pi Kappa Alpha, Pi Kappa Phi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Chi, Sigma Nu, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Zeta Beta Tau.

Alumni

The University's 17,000 alumni are widely dispersed throughout the nation. The Washington and Lee Alumni Association is the organization of all alumni and it is represented by a 17-man Alumni Board of Directors, elected by the membership.

Alumni Chapters, organizations of local alumni, have been established in 75 localities or areas.

Alumni, through an annual giving program, provide funds which cover about 10 percent of the University's current operating expenses.

Special Programs

The University offers a variety of programs of exceptional academic merit and practical value: Honors Work, Robert E. Lee Undergraduate Research Program, Six-week Spring Term, Combined Plan Program in Engineering, Independent Work and Interdepartmental Majors, Area College Exchange Program, East Asian Study Program, Pre-Professional Ethics Program, Foreign Study Programs, 3-3 Program in Law, and 3-2 Forestry Program leading to a Master's Degree at Duke University.

Distinctive Features

A century-old, cherished Honor System that works.

Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa and Omicron Delta Kappa (founded at W&L in 1914).

An enviable record of achievement in national post-graduate fellowship competitions. Since 1977, Washington and Lee graduates have received recognition in the following competitions: Fulbright (13 awards), Luce (2), NCAA (6), Rhodes (2), Rotary (7), St. Andrews Society (1), and Truman (2).

The Annual Fund: Parents

Gifts by parents are especially significant because they represent a generous "extra" investment in the quality of education offered by Washington and Lee. The University is especially grateful for this demonstration of confidence. Listed here are the names of parents who contributed to the 1982-83 Annual Fund. The heading Lee Associate indicates gifts of $1,000 or more made in 1982-83; the heading Colonnade Club indicates gifts of $100-$999 made in 1982-83.

The Annual Fund: Friends

Each year, Washington and Lee receives many gifts in support of current operations from persons who are neither alumni nor parents. Most of the gifts from these "friends" are unrestricted and are given in the form of direct grants or in the form of memorials. Washington and Lee is deeply grateful for these gifts. The heading Lee Associate indicates gifts of $1,000 or more made in 1982-83; Colonnade Club indicates gifts of $100-$999 made in 1982-83.

Virginia Foundation for Independent Colleges

A record of $2,285,000 was contributed by business and industry to 14 private Virginia colleges through the VFIC during 1982-83. Washington and Lee University's share was $202,173. (Member colleges' shares are based on undergraduate enrollment.)

Under the direction of a board that includes 38 business leaders and the presidents of the 14 independent colleges, the VFIC enlisted nearly 1,000 supporters, primarily corporations doing business in Virginia who are concerned with strengthening private higher education. Although, because of space limitations, the full listing of donor sources published annually in the VFIC annual report is not repeated here, Washington and Lee acknowledges with gratitude the concern and leadership of the companies, foundations, and individuals, who made generous contributions through the VFIC.

Business and Industry

Washington and Lee University was assisted in large measure during 1982-83 by direct grants from corporations in addition to corporate assistance received through the Virginia Foundation for Independent Colleges (VFIC). Investments by private business in private education take on special meaning and importance. The total of these gifts during the 1982-83 year was $39,419.

Estates and Irrevocable Deferred Gifts

The following persons have either created an irrevocable deferred gift on behalf of Washington and Lee or have informed the trustees that they have included the University in their wills or estate plans.

Irrevocable deferred gifts are charitable arrangements whereby income is retained for the lifetime of the donor and/or his or her beneficiaries. An income tax deduction is available at the time the deferred gift is created even though the principal does not pass to Washington and Lee until the death of the donor or beneficiaries.

Gifts for Restricted Current Purposes, 1982-83

Each year generous gifts are made for expenditure on specific projects on programs within the current year's educational and general budget. As such these gifts are restricted as to use by the donors and are, therefore, not included in the unrestricted Annual Fund. Such gifts are vitally important to support academic enterprises of special focus.

Alumni Admissions Program Chairmen

Washington and Lee's Alumni Admissions Program, with alumni chairmen in 62 cities or areas, assists the University in identifying qualified young men for Washington and Lee and in providing information and assistance to these prospective students and their parents. In their work these volunteers provide a valuable service to Washington and Lee. Alumni knowing of a qualified prospective student should not hesitate to refer the prospect to the area alumni admissions chairman. They are listed here:

Class Agents—Heroes of the Annual Fund

Washington and Lee's Annual Fund has been among the most successful in the nation for at least the last decade. The heroes of that success have been the Class Agents because each year reaching the Annual Fund goal depends almost entirely on their efforts. No one has done more than the Class Agents to help Washington and Lee maintain its strength and the quality of its educational program.

Very few institutions place as much trust and reliance in Class Agents as does Washington and Lee. It can truly be said that if the Class Agents don't do the job, it doesn't get done. Under the leadership and guidance of the Annual Fund Chairman and the Steering Committee, the Class Agents set their own class goals; plan and manage their own class campaigns; and handle their own mailings, from writing the letters to getting them stuffed, stamped, and posted. The Class Agent who does more than is asked is the rule, not the exception. Their outstanding record of success testifies to their devotion, dedication, and plain hard work.

Once again in 1983-84 they face a formidable task—the Annual Fund goal is $1,525,000, an increase of 10 percent over the amount raised last year. Those whose names are listed below deserve both the support and the gratitude of all who care for Washington and Lee.
