

The Alumni Magazine

Washington and Lee University

JUNE, 1952

V.P.I. Band plays for Mock Convention

Naturally Ohio was strong for Taft

Dakota aptly expresses Republican feeling

Part of Ike's following—one of the many

THE ALUMNI MAGAZINE

Published quarterly by
The Washington and Lee University Alumni, Incorporated
Drawer 897, Lexington, Virginia

Entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office at Lexington, Virginia, September 15, 1924

Printed at the Journalism Laboratory Press
of Washington and Lee University

Editor . . . . . HARRY K. (CY) YOUNG, 1917

Assistant Editor . . . . . J. W. BENJAMIN, JR., 1954

---

Vol. XXVII

JUNE, 1952

No. 3

---

THE WASHINGTON AND LEE ALUMNI, INC.

President . . . . . PAUL C. BUFORD, 1913

Vice-President . . . . . HUGH J. BONINO, 1936

Secretary . . . . . HARRY K. (CY) YOUNG, 1917

Treasurer . . ARCHIBALD A. SPROUL, III, 1937

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

KENNETH P. LANE, 1936

ARCHIBALD A. SPROUL, 1937

PAUL C. BUFORD, 1913

HUGH J. BONINO, 1936

EMMETT W. POINDEXTER, 1920

WILLIAM L. WEBSTER, 1912

J. STEWART BUXTON, 1936

WYATT C. HEDRICK, 1910

ABOUT THE COVER

The Washington and Lee Mock Convention was inaugurated in 1908. The parade feature of this event is something new that has been added. It was begun in 1948 and repeated this year. Our cover shows one of the many State floats. Note cameraman in action—he was shooting for Ed Murrow's CBS television show, "See It Now."

- Appalachian—Allen Harris, '27, Box 300, Johnson City, Tennessee
- Augusta — Rockingham — Ed Moore, '25 Waynesboro, Virginia
- Atlanta—Thomas E. Schneider, '24, Box 173, Station C
- Baltimore—Frank C. Brooks, '46, 1206 West Lake Avenue
- Birmingham—Clifford B. Beasley, Jr., '46, 2824 Overhill Road
- Charleston, W. Va.—Ralph H. Smith, '39, Dominion Building
- Chattanooga—Charles L. Claunch, '27, Chattanooga Bank Building
- Chicago—W. H. Hillier, '38, 5521 Blackstone Avenue, Chicago 37
- Cincinnati—Robert B. Shreve, '40, 576 Howell Avenue
- Charlotte—Wilton M. Garrison, '28, The Charlotte Observer
- Cleveland—Dr. John Battle, Jr., '34, Cleveland Clinic, Euclid Avenue
- Danville, Virginia—Neely Young, '43, 309 Dudley
- Florida West Coast—W. E. Tucker, '48, Stovall Professional Building, Tampa
- Gulf Stream—L. L. Copley, '25, Security Building, Miami, Florida
- Houston—T. D. Anderson, '34, Union National Bank Building
- Jacksonville—Rhydon Latham, '28, Florida National Bank Building
- Louisville—Elbridge Barker, '26, Avon Road, RR 6
- Lynchburg—Edmund Schaefer, III, '42, 409 Krise Building
- Mid-South—Benton Wakefield, Jr., '41, First National Bank, Memphis, Tennessee
- New York—Rayford W. Alley, '10, 30 Broad St.
- New Orleans—William B. Wisdom, '21, American Bank Building
- New River and Greenbrier—Harry E. Moran, '13, Beckley, West Virginia
- Norfolk—Gilbert R. Swink, '35, National Bank of Commerce Building
- Northwest Louisiana—James W. Hammett, '40, Giddens-Lane Building, Shreveport
- North Texas—Harry Rand, '27, Universal Mills, Fort Worth
- Peninsula—Judge Herbert G. Smith, '17, Court House, Newport News, Virginia
- Philadelphia—Allen Snyder '39, 201 South Easton Road, Glenside, Pennsylvania
- Piedmont—Dr. J. P. Davis, '30, Winston-Salem, North Carolina
- Pittsburgh—Allen Harrelson, '35, 3955 Brandon Road
- Richmond—Cassell Adamson, '37, 900 Travelers Building
- Roanoke—Ed Ould, '29, First National Exchange Bank
- San Antonio—Carl C. Wurzbach, '15, 505 Brady Building
- St. Louis—John L. Patterson, '21, Pierce Bldg.
- Tri-State—H. Preston Henshaw, '39, Huntington, West Virginia
- Upper Potomac—William L. Wilson, Jr., '38, 525 Cumberland Street, Cumberland, Md.
- Washington, D. C.—B. C. Tolley, '48, 3924 "W" Street, N. W.

Chairman Oast speaks to assembled delegates

Boston Tea Party throws out Democrats

Texas, deep in the heart of Lexington

Utah float depicts Brigham Young and his clan

They Liked Ike at the '52 Convention

News item—Washington and Lee's 1952 Republican National Mock Convention nominated General Dwight D. Eisenhower as the Republican Party's presidential candidate, and Governor Earl E. Warren of California as his running mate.

* * *

The 1952 Republican National Mock Convention, held at Washington and Lee April 28 and 29, was the biggest thing to hit the campus in many a year.

First of all it came at a time when, more than ever before, the person elected to the Presidency of the United States will have an important effect upon the destiny of the world. It came at a time when, according to all reports, the country can expect a change in administrations. And it came at a time of political strife within the Republican Party between the followers of Taft and Eisenhower.

Secondly, the convention featured the largest and longest parade in the convention's 44-year history. More than sixty floats represented the forty-eight states, the five territories, and the District of Columbia. Bands from V.P.I.,

Virgin Island delegate makes his point

V.M.I., Hargrave Military Academy, Greenbrier Military School, Parry-McCluer High School of Buena Vista, and Augusta Military Academy, were in the procession along with student orchestras and hill-billy bands. The Augusta Roller's Rifles, crack drill team, was on hand. Students remarked that there were more beautiful females in the parade than they had seen in attendance at any dance set this year.

Third, the ninth convention was the best publicised in the school's history. For the first time it was televised. Edward R. Murrow, prominent news commentator and director of news events for the Columbia Broadcasting System, recorded the highlights of the election and used them as the highlight of his "See It Now" television program. Approximately 45 representatives of communication media were on hand for the event. Reporters and photographers from Virginia newspapers, radio announcers, wire-service feature writers, Washington correspondents, newsreel cameramen and network forecasters covered the two-day event.

And fourth, the convention had excellent student leadership. Townsend Oast, freshman law student from Portsmouth, Virginia, served as chairman, a job that took all year to prepare for. Tom Shepherd, senior law student from Washington, D. C, served as secretary. These two men performed an outstanding job of handling the rostrum in a business-like manner. State delegation heads kept constant check with the political trends of their representative states, and voted accordingly. Voting was as accurate a picture as could possibly have been made.

West Virginia was "red hot" for Taft

Secret Service guards official car as parade begins

The convention itself, after the first outburst of student exuberance had worn off, took on a surprisingly serious air. Senator Frank Carlson (R-Kansas), substituting for Senator James H. Duff, (R-Pa.) who became ill at the last minute, was the keynote speaker. Carlson said the Democrats would not be easy to defeat, regardless of their administrative blunders, as that party has more members than the Republican party. He stated 10,000,000 independent voters were needed to swing the election and called for a candidate who would appeal to these on-the-fence voters. In speaking of the present administration Carlson said, "Here is corruption rampant. Here is a wilderness into which we have been led by the policies, or rather the lack of them, of the Democrats . . . Here I see the taxpayer as a citizen second class, an object of exploitation, even mockery."

In addition to Eisenhower and Taft, Governor Warren, General Douglas MacArthur, Harold Stassen, Warren Austin, Senator Miliken (Colo.) and Governor Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland were nominated by the student delegations. Voting was tense through the first three ballots, pre-convention student predictions being evenly divided between Eisenhower and Taft. But it soon became apparent that Warren's votes held the key to the convention and nobody was surprised when, on the fourth ballot, Warren threw his votes to Eisenhower and the General suddenly landslided into the nomination.

On the first ballot Taft grabbed the lead with 484 votes to Eisenhower's 407. Warren showed surprising strength with 189. On the second ballot Eisenhower took over many of the favored sons' votes to move into a 425-507 lead with Warren dropping to 103. California stuck to Warren who on the third ballot kept 102 votes, while Eisenhower with 650 and Taft with 543, climbed steadily towards the 603 majority necessary to carry the nomination. On the fourth ballot California, and other states, passed. The Virgin Islands changed its one vote from Taft to Eisenhower giving the Ike forces 602 votes. Then the California chairman read a telegram from Warren freeing them from their vote, and the resulting 70 vote deluge for Eisenhower swung the nomination. The vote was made unanimous in the interest of a unified party at election time.

In the Vice-Presidential race Warren was nominated on the first ballot with McKeldin of Maryland

New Jersey went all the way for Ike and Senator Kim of Missouri showing strength.

The convention was enlivened by challenges and arguments from the floor, the Lexington Civic Band (W. and L. ROTC Band), student orchestras, demonstrations, confetti, snake dances, and two miniature atomic bombs set off by the New Mexico delegation.

Political leaders throughout the country appeared to pay much attention to the results of the election. The Roanoke Times of May 1, said in an editorial, "The national convention in July may well turn out to be an exact duplication of the W. and L. mock convention so far as the outcome is concerned, if not from start to finish."

The Richmond Times-Dispatch had half a page display on May 4, backing up the significance of the student convention, but perhaps the strongest testimony of all concerning the importance of the event can be taken from the reaction of the Republican leaders.

Senator Carlson, keynote speaker, said, "These young men have undertaken and accomplished a splendid thing. The method which they employed is bound to have significant results."

Florida sunshine visits Lexington

Robert H. Woods, Virginia GOP chairman: "The W. and L. mock convention beats anything I've ever seen or heard. I've attended four national conventions but this beats them all for spirit. Their work is commendable."

United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, campaign director for General Eisenhower: "The decision of the convention at W. and L. parallels that of young college men and women the country over. It pleases us and undoubtedly indicates a trend."

Virginia State Senator Ted Dalton: "It is great to see young men taking an active interest in politics. After all, they are the ones in whose hands the future of the nation must rest. Their findings are certainly based on conscientious work."

The "Minks" have been correct in their choice for the presidential candidates five times since its beginning in 1908.

The mock convention, always that of the party out of power, began in Lexington with the nomination of William Jennings Bryan in 1908. It missed Wilson in 1912 but picked Hughes correctly in 1916. No convention was held in 1920 because of the war aftermath, but in 1924 the students resumed by correctly nominating John W. Davis, a graduate of W. and L. The students were right again in 1928 and 1932, picking Al Smith and Franklin D. Roosevelt. They missed in 1936 by picking Senator

Officials in a relaxed moment

Senator Frank Carlson (R-Kansas), keynoter, was impressive

Vandenberg over Alf Landon, and in 1940 they were wrong again in nominating Charles McNarry instead of Wendell Wilkie. No convention was held in 1944 while the 1948 conclave nominated Arthur Vandenberg instead of Thomas E. Dewey.

The convention is an education in itself for the students. Correct balloting procedure is followed, and political intrigue is the order of the day. Although the students themselves make all arrangements, they are advised on technical matters by members of the political science, history, and law faculties.

Needless to say, students who attended this convention will be hanging by their radios this summer to see how closely the national convention will follow their own. And they'll have an amazing store of knowledge about which way the various states will swing, and of the behind-the-scenes maneuvering.

One important aspect not covered so far was of vital concern to the students. Classes were suspended for two afternoons and a morning!

Fifteen Years Later

By PARKE ROUSE, JR., '37

Fifteen years ago, as a senior at Washington and Lee, I circulated among my classmates a questionnaire designed to record their reaction to the school life they were leaving and to the world which lay ahead of them. The results were interesting and perhaps in some respects useful. Re-read today, it suggests that great changes have taken place in our thinking in the past decade and a half. And so it has occurred to me that a re-survey and a comparison of results might be worthwhile this year, so drastically different from the 1937 world into which we stepped from the campus, with Dr. Gaines' salutatory ringing in our memory.

I have accordingly reconstructed the questions asked in 1937 as accurately as possible and added others to bring the record up to date. The Alumni Office has mimeographed and mailed the questionnaire to 135 class members, including both academic and law graduates, whose length of stay at Washington and Lee ranged from two to six years. Fifty-eight of the 135 replied in time to be included in this tabulation, as compared with 75 whose views were recorded in the 1937 survey. And whereas the technique used is admittedly not completely scientific, certain similarities between the results in 1937 and 1952 indicate that a measure of accuracy has been achieved.

The most startling contrasts occur in the realm of political belief. In 1937, more than half of the students replying favored socialism "as a desirable eventuality in American government." But in 1952 all of the men who answered think otherwise, including the ten who approve the Truman Fair Deal in greater or lesser degree and the ten—mostly the same ten men—who voted for Truman in the last presidential election. (Thirty-two others voted for Dewey, three for Thurmond, and one for Norman Thomas. The others couldn't or didn't vote.) Political scientists might well note this change, as well as the fact that whereas only 17 of 75 students in 1937 expressed willingness to fight in a foreign war, nearly all members of the class of '37 saw military service in World War II.

Inflation and a higher standard of living also show up plainly in the comparison of 1937 and 1952. In the earlier year the seniors' estimates of the "amount you expect to make at the height of your career" averaged $10,000, whereas the average income from their work of the 50 men who answered this question in 1952 was $10,166, ranging from a low of $3,500 to a high of $35,000. The same men had an average income of $1,557 in addition to earnings from their work. When it is remembered that the class members now average only 38 or 39 years and have another 15 years to go before they presumably reach their maximum earning power, it would appear that the '37's have already exceeded their financial expectations. But if the decline of the purchasing power of the dollar and the higher level of taxation are taken into account, it can be seen that the $10,000 of 1952 is hardly the luxurious $10,000 which the seniors of '37 envisioned.

The class of '37 is today much more aware of the political and economic developments than it was in college, judging by its newspaper reading habit. In those days only 77 per cent read a newspaper regularly and not all of those followed national and foreign news. In comparison all except one of the men polled this year read a paper regularly, and all of these affirm that they keep up with the world news and editorials. Fourteen of them, scattered across the country, regularly read the excellent coverage of The New York Times and eight, The Herald Tribune. Readership of the comics lags behind the news in spite of the very evident popularity with the '37's of Pogo, the Eisenhower of the comic strips.

It is a wry fact that the '37 graduate reads for pleasure more books (average: 15 a year) than he did when in college (average: 10 a year), and keeps up with more magazines (average: 4). Life is his favorite (62 per cent) closely followed by Time (58 per cent), Readers Digest (32 per cent), Saturday Evening Post (20 per cent), Newsweek, The New Yorker, U. S. News and World Report, Colliers, Fortune, National Geographic, Cosmopolitan, and other staples. Spicy Detective, which titillated six of the class as undergraduates, has lost its grip, or its spice.

The Average '37 Man has also less appetite for the movies, perhaps the result of the high cost of baby sitters or perhaps of the low calibre of current pictures. Whereas he saw 55 films in 1937, he estimates he saw only six in 1951.

"Don't forget they've invented television," notes one non-moviegoer. But his church attendance has improved in the past 15 years. Fifty-one per cent of those replying attend fairly regularly, whereas only 24 per cent did as undergraduates. Ninety-one per cent are now church members as compared with 76 per cent then. Undoubtedly matrimony (91 per cent) and children (74 per cent) have had a favorable effect on old '37's spiritual life.

To round out the picture, the 1952 survey revealed that '37 has two children; that he carries $27,627 of life insurance and that he has one automobile and owns or is paying off the mortgage on a home. In view of the high average incomes, it is perhaps notable that 43 per cent of the class lives in rented dwellings.

Turning to the Old Grad's relationship with his Alma Mater, one finds his enthusiasm generally undimmed at the 15-year mark. He still is of the opinion that Washington and Lee offered the education he needed (89 per cent said so); still feels he could not have derived equal benefit from four years' work (89 per cent said so); still would choose to go to W. and L. (86 per cent said so). He contributes at least now and then to his class fund (74 per cent), and would do so more often but for laziness, procrastination, forgetfulness, apathy, economy, neglect, other responsibilities, two children, five children, or an objection to W. and L. athletic policy. If he had the money he would contribute to his university's endowment; 83 per cent of the men polled said so. The same percentage unconditionally would send their sons to Washington and Lee, and the rest would leave the decision to their sons or would choose other institutions on the basis of curricular offerings, church-college affiliation, nearness, or lower costs.

In general, these replies correspond with the answers which the same group gave 15 years ago. There was one interesting exception: in 1937 only 33 per cent showed enough interest in Washington and Lee's existence to express a willingness, when able, to contribute to its endowment. It is a hopeful augury that 83 per cent today would contribute if they could and that 74 per cent give to their class fund, at least occasionally.

This does not mean that the men polled are uncritical of Washington and Lee. Campus politics impresses the class agent as the worst weakness, as in 1937, followed by intercollegiate athletics. The development of graduate work and the placing of more emphasis on scholarships were cited as the most needed changes of a list of nine provided by the questionnaire. (From the same alternatives in 1937 the class recommended the addition of more seminar or honors courses, a movement which has lately advanced at W. and L.) But all of the graduates, looking back today, put the interests of Washington and Lee above those of their fraternity, whereas in 1937 only 80 per cent did so, by their own admission.

As a revelation of the many changes in political and economic matters which have occurred in the past 15 years, the re-survey of the class of 1937 was well worth the time it consumed. Admittedly, the inadequacy of the original survey offered no basis for comparing some of the most interesting current findings. (Perhaps a thorough job of probing alumni opinion would prove worthwhile for the Alumni Office, or for certain courses.) But enough has been done to show that a representative group of Washington and Lee alumni compares favorably with college alumni in general, as depicted in the current book, They Went to College, which resulted from the extensive Time-Life studies. It also reflects in several ways a growth of responsibility, curiosity, and spiritual awareness among these men since those carefree col-

(Continued on page 9)

An Active Fine Arts Department

Washington and Lee has always been noted as a liberal arts school, devoted to giving students a cultural background and a general education rather than a strictly specialized education. However, it has only been in recent years that the Fine Arts Department has been developed. As part of their liberal education students are now required to take six hours in either this department or in philosophy. A large number take Fine Arts courses.

The department is divided into two sections: music and art. Oldest section is the music department. It was established in 1936 by the late Professor John A. Graham, formerly professor of romance languages at W. and L. and a composer in his own right. Classes were held in the living room of his home and later moved to the Student Union. The University purchased four albums and a victrola to aid the embryo music lovers.

In 1940 the Carnegie Foundation gave the school a large phonograph and a basic set of recordings and scores. At this same time the Anderson Music Room was opened on the second floor of McCormick Library, giving the department a classroom.

Since then the University has gradually acquired a large collection of records and scores which is classed as one of the outstanding and most complete collections in the country. The records on hand may be divided into five groups: the Carnegie unit; the acoustic records, a rare and valuable collection of vocal records given the department by Professor LeConte Stevens; a collection of records inherited from Professor Graham; and 45 albums contributed by students, plus new long-playing records contributed by the University.

The music course itself is

By J. W. BENJAMIN, '54

limited to about twenty students per year, plus many who audit, or "sit-in-on" sessions. It is a course for the layman in music appreciation, no previous knowledge of music being necessary. Mr. Stephenson, Assistant Professor of German, teaches the class. A large number of assignments consist of listening to records in the sound-proof record booths in Anderson Room. The records and the phonographs are open to students at all times.

In conjunction with the music department it might be interesting to note the formation of a new student organization on campus, the Washington and Lee Concert Guild. In the last three years this organization has presented a dozen concerts to the student body, including everything from jazz and string quartets to an opera, The Telephone, and the Apollo Boys Choir. The concerts are usually free of charge, the organization being supported primarily by donations from interested persons. Ken Rockwell of Asheville, N. C., served as president this year.

Marion Junkin, '27, at work on mural

In addition, the Rockbridge County Concert Series is open to students. They present at least four outstanding events yearly.

The Art Department is more recent. Although classes were held prior to 1949 it was in that year, with the arrival of Dr. Marion Junkin, that it began to grow and gain student interest. Dr. Junkin, a W. and L. graduate, had previously established an art department for Vanderbilt University and served as Assistant Director of the Richmond School of Art. He has exhibited his oils and water colors at two one-man shows in New York and in numerous exhibitions abroad and in the United States. A number of his works are in museums and private galleries.

The art section offers a variety of courses from "History of Modern Art," to "Renaissance Art in Northern Europe." In addition, courses in creative painting and drawing are offered. The classroom, located in McCormick Library, has slides, projectors, materials for study, and the Carnegie Collection of Prints. Two especially lighted exhibition rooms for the display of loan collections and sculpture are in use, many loans being obtained yearly from the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts, the Metropolitan Museum, and the Modern Museum of Art of New York.

Among the artistic assets of the University are an oil portrait of Washington as a colonial colonel, a portrait of Lafayette (both painted by Charles Peale, famous American colonial painter); Valentine's recumbent statue of Lee; the Lee collection of American portraits in oil; a handsome wooden statue of Washington carved by a local woodworker in the early nineteenth century; and the Vincent L. Bradford collection of oil paintings.

To aid in the interesting of students in art a lending library has been established. More than fifty prints and originals are available for students who may check them out just as they would a library book. The pictures may be taken to the student's room and hung, to be studied at leisure.

An impressive addition to the Fine Arts Department is the newly completed 340 square foot fresco mural in the basement of the Library. Dr. Junkin, who has placed his signature in the lower right-hand corner of the painting, spent a year of work and study on the project, even going to Mexico last summer to study methods of fresco painting. The pigments were applied over fresh plaster, and thus by penetrating, became part of the wall itself.

Theme of the mural is man's right to free his mind from persecution, fear, and superstition. The wall is divided into five distinct panels which blend into each other as the pageant of history progresses. The first part deals with primitive man, depicted by masks, totem poles, and a stone wet with blood of a human sacrifice, woven into a pattern of brilliant color. The second part, dealing with Greek thought, shows Socrates drinking his hemlock. The third section is dramatically introduced by the crucifixion of Christ, represented by a single arm and hand pierced with a huge nail. The rest of this section symbolizes the misuse of Jesus' ideas and shows men being tortured for their study of science. Next appears the "theme of revolution." Here Voltaire and Jefferson contributed to the breaking of the medieval fetters of free thought. Voltaire's famous slogan, "E'crasez l'fame" (crush the evil thing), is the final word before the modern theme is introduced. The first part of the final section introduces many of the great advances of our times in science, art, and politics. The second part of the last section, done entirely in black and white to symbolize the negative side of modern civilization, Dr. Junkin calls, "the age of propaganda."

Here is noted man's preoccupation with sex, war, comic books, television, and material life. The mural ends with a final burst of satire with man escaping his troubles by taking a rocket ship to the moon.

School officials say that interest in art and music has increased three-fold among students since the war. The University hopes, through curricular and extra curricular activities to increase the W. and L. students' knowledge and enjoyment of the great art and music which is a part of the natural heritage of the citizens of the Western World.

---

Alumni in Symphony

The Atlanta Symphony, as a full-fledged orchestra, is only five or six years old and last year was officially recognized as one of the 25 leading major symphony orchestras in the United States. Serving as officers in the Atlanta Symphony Guild are three Washington and Lee alumni, T. Erwin Schneider, '24, (president of the Atlanta Alumni Chapter), Joseph E. Birnie, '27, and Bruce F. Woodruff, '16 (past-presidents) of the Alumni Chapter).

---

Fifteen Years Later

(Continued from page 7)

lege days. Finally—and to the advantage of Washington and Lee—it indicates that the men of 1937 realize what a blessing they enjoyed in coming under the influence of this remarkable institution in the years when their ambitions were shaped and their characters influenced. This realization is the foundation on which Washington and Lee as a non-State, non-denominational, liberal arts college must survive and it is encouraging to see that many of those who benefitted from what Washington and Lee offered them have resolved that their sons and other future generations shall enjoy those same intangible values.

650 Delegates Attend SIPA

The 1952 Southern Interscholastic Press Association's Convention was the biggest in its twenty-three year history. Over 230 newspapers, yearbooks, magazines, and radio programs from 120 schools were entered in the publication contest held in connection with the three day session. More than 650 high school editors, staff editors, staff members, and advisors attended the convention. Some came from as far away as Texas and Florida to hear professional experts in Journalism, television, and radio.

The convention, held May 1, 2, 3, this year, is sponsored yearly by Washington and Lee's Lee Memorial Journalism Foundation. Purpose of the three-ring press circus is to give promising young journalists from all over the south a chance to meet each other and discuss mutual problems. Delegates are given constructive professional criticism on their school publications, and are given an opportunity to discuss practical problems and vocations with noted experts in the field of communications. While attending the convention delegates hear speeches by outstanding people.

Professor O. W. Riegel, SIPA Director, and his assistant, Charles O. Voigt, feel that the convention helps to inspire and encourage the journalism aspirations of the delegates, and that journalism as a whole gains prestige and betterment through the program. In addition, W. and L. journalism majors and Sigma Delta Chi (National Honorary Journalism Fraternity) help with the convention and gain much valuable experience. And also, everyone always has a good time.

This year's session was highlighted by speeches and round-table discussions. John Scott, author and foreign editor for Time magazine; Elliott Caplin and John Murphy, producers of the comic strip, "Big Ben"; Max Fullerton, Chief of the Baltimore Bureau of the Associated Press; and John Dos Passos, noted author, were among those who spoke to the delegates. In addition a tremendous number of round-table discussions and formal talks were conducted by experts. The young delegates took their choice of these informal gatherings, depending upon their individual interests. There was something on hand for everybody. Some of the meetings had as many as 200 delegates in attendance.

Two banquets were held. The first, held on Friday night, May 2, at the Mayflower Hotel, was the annual Quill and Scroll banquet. The second was held on Saturday night in the dining room at VMI. Dr. Gaines, President of W. and L., and Carl Knight, President of the Virginia Press Association, spoke prior to the presentation of 230 awards to various publications, including 14 first place winners.

To add variety to the fully packed program a current events contest was held, an SIPA president was elected, a trip to Natural Bridge for interested delegates was arranged, a track meet was held on Wilson field and a baseball game at VMI, a variety show was presented by talented W. and L. students, and a special issue of the local collegiate newspaper, The Ring-tum Phi, was published. Biggest event for many of the delegates was the big semi-formal SIPA dance held Friday night in Doremus Gymnasium.

The convention climaxed a big week for the University as the Mock Convention had just been held the preceding Monday and Tuesday. Weather for the weekend was perfect and many students pronounced the SIPA to be the best thing to come to W. and L. all year. For three wonderful days the local campus turned co-ed, and students sat on the campus or on the fraternity lawns and watched the passing parade.

SIPA session in Lee Chapel

Law Alumni Organize

The idea of a Law School Association originated with a small group of alumni who were concerned about the means of focusing the interest of practicing graduates upon the work and problems of the Law School, and who were also impressed with the success in this direction of similar organizations at other universities. The matter was informally discussed and studied by this group over a considerable period of time, was mentioned to Mr. Williams and Dr. Gaines, and finally culminated this spring in the enlistment of a sort of organizing committee composed of 50-odd lawyers in four or five nearby cities. It was this committee which met in Lexington on Tuesday, May 6, adopted a Constitution, and elected the following officers:

President, Martin P. Burks; Vice-President, Carter Glass, III; Secretary-Treasurer, E. McGruder Faris, Jr.

Members of Council: 3 year term, Walter E. Hoffman, J. Randolph Tucker, Jr.; 2 year term, Samuel H. Williams, Randolph G. Whittle; 1 year term, R. S. Kime, Paul C. Buford.

The officers, and indeed, all of the members of the organizing committee, are from a handful of Virginia cities. This resulted from the fact that it was necessary to recruit the first members from places where there was considerable concentration of W. and L. lawyers, many of whom would be willing to make the trip to Lexington to attend the organizing meeting. The object is to enlist the support of all Law School alumni and it is earnestly hoped that our alumni generally may become interested so that the association will be truly representative. Membership dues of $1.00 per year for men who have been practicing less than five years and $5.00 per year for those with more than five years practice should be mailed to E. McGruder Faris, Jr., Secretary-Treasurer, care of W. and L. Law School, Lexington, Va.

A copy of the Constitution adopted at the meeting held in Lexington on May 6, may be obtained from E. McGruder Faris, on request.

However, some of the outstanding Articles read as follows:

ARTICLE II

Purposes

The purposes of this Association are to enlist and encourage the interest of alumni in the instructional programs of the School of Law of Washington and Lee University, to promote the welfare and and increase the usefulness of the Law School and to encourage a mutuality of interest in sound and thorough legal training as well as a spirit of fellowship among the members of the Association.

ARTICLE III

Membership

The following classes of persons shall be eligible for active membership in the Association:

a. (1) All graduates, all former students honorably dismissed and all senior class students of the Law School;

(2) Members of the Faculty of the Law School;

(3) Members of the Bar who are former students honorably dismissed from any department of the University.

b. Honorary members may be elected by the Association on nomination by the Council.

ARTICLE IV

Finances

Funds necessary to the furtherance of the purposes of the Association may be raised by the assessment of annual dues as the Council may direct, but such dues shall not exceed the sum of $5.00 per an-

Dr. Franze E. Lund, '33

Dr. Lund Becomes College President

DR. FRANZE EDWARD LUND, presently dean of Florence, Alabama, State Teachers College, has been unanimously elected President of Alabama College of Montevallo, Alabama, by the trustees of the college and will take office on July 1, 1952.

Dr. Lund was born in China in 1909, where his father was serving as a missionary of the num per member; provided, however, that special provision may be made by the Council for the establishment of life membership. Members shall not be subject to special assessments.

(Continued on page 12)

ARTICLE VII

Meetings

a. An Annual Meeting shall be held at Washington and Lee University in each calendar year on a date to be fixed by the President of which at least ten days notice shall be given by publication in the Alumni Magazine or by mail.

b. Special meetings may be called at any time by the President or the Council upon like notice to that required for annual meetings.

Many College Presidents in Gaines Family

DR. FRANCIS PENDLETON GAINES, JR., '39, oldest son of the president of Washington and Lee and Mrs. Gaines, has accepted the presidency of Wofford College in Spartanburg, South Carolina, effective August 1, 1952.

Dr. Gaines, '33, who is now professor of history and Dean of Students at Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas, was reared on the campus of Washington and Lee. He was graduated from Woodberry Forest, attended Washington and Lee for two years, and after an illness of three years, was graduated from the University of Arizona where he stood first in his class.

He served four years during World War II as an officer in the Intelligence Corps, then took a position as Dean of Men at Birmingham Southern College. Subsequently he was professor of history and director of development at the University of Houston. He is married to the former Dorothy Bloomhardt, whose father is professor of history at Wittenberg College.

Dr. Francis Pendleton Gaines, Jr.

Dr. and Mrs. Gaines have two sons.

He is a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, Phi Beta Kappa, and the Raven Society of the University of Virginia, where he received his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees, and Phi Kappa Sigma social fraternity.

Mrs. Francis P. Gaines, Sr., should be much at home among college administrators. Her father for more than thirty years was dean of Mississippi State College. A cousin, Dr. Andrew Kincannon, was for a long time chancellor of the University of Mississippi, and another cousin, Dr. John F. Fant, served as president of Mississippi State College for Women. Her brother, Dr. J. C. Robert, is president of Coker College; her son, Dr. Francis P. Gaines, Jr., as of August 1, is president of Wofford College; and her husband is president of Washington and Lee University.

Sam Bell Steves Elected Mayor

SAM BELL STEVES was elected Mayor of the City of San Antonio, Texas, on March 6, 1952, by unanimous vote of the City Council.

An outstanding business man himself, serving in many capacities in the wide-spread Steves family lumber connections, he belongs to a pioneer family of city and region-builders. Though a newcomer in politics, he has served the community in various volunteer capacities. Even so, he takes the mayoralty as a sort of heritage. Four members of the family served before him: John Smith, a great-great-great grandfather, was the city's first mayor. Later, Sam C. Bell and Albert Steves, grandfathers, and John Tobin, a great uncle, filled the office. Thus Mayor Steves has both family and political traditions to uphold.

And speaking of traditions, the Steves' Washington and Lee tradition goes back almost as far. His grandfather, Albert Steves, was a student here, 1874-77, making the

(Continued on page 14)

Dr. Edward Lund

(Continued from page 11)

Episcopal Church. Dr. Lund, Sr., was born in Sweden and later became a naturalized American citizen. He died in Lexington, Virginia, after retiring from the Episcopal ministry.

Dr. Lund received his preparatory education at DeVaux Academy, Niagara Falls, N. Y., and entered Washington and Lee where he received the A.B. degree in 1933. He received a fellowship to work toward his master's degree which he received in 1934, and taught history and English here from 1934 to 1938. He then went to the University of Wisconsin to work toward his Ph.D., which he received in 1944, and while there did some teaching, also serving as professor of history in Wisconsin State College, Superior, Wisconsin. From 1944 to 1945 he studied under a fellowship at Yale University, then returned to Wisconsin. In 1946 Dr. Lund went to Florence, Alabama, State Teachers College to head its history department, and became dean of that school on January 1, 1947.

In 1934 Dr. Lund was married to Martha Louise Gray, who was a student at Mary Baldwin College in Staunton, Virginia, while he was at Washington and Lee, just 35 miles away. They have a daughter, Sigrid Gray, 13. His brother, Dr. Douglas Lund, '37, lives in Florence, Alabama.

While at Washington and Lee he was a member of Delta Upsilon social fraternity, Phi Beta Kappa, and honorary fraternities, Kappa Phi Kappa, and Tau Kappa Iota.

Cap'n Dick and his "Big Six" Champions

"Cap'n Dick" Retires from Coaching

"Cap'n Dick" Smith, Washington and Lee's "Connie Mack," ended his 29-year tenure as baseball coach on May 19, as the Generals took the Big Six Championship with a record of five wins and one loss.

The big rugged looking coach began his career at Washington and Lee as a star second baseman. He is classed, along with Cy Young, Gil Bocetti, and Jay Handlan, as one of the all-time athletic greats at the school. In 1923 he started coaching the team, and became graduate manager of athletics. In 1926 this title was changed to "athletic director." Smith now has the longest tenure in an athletic department in the Southern Conference.

During his 29-year hitch, "Cap'n Dick" won one Southern Conference championship and several Big Six titles. Emerson Dickman, Boston Red Sox hurler during the mid-1930's, was developed at W. and L. under Smith's tutelage. "Cap'n Dick" believes Dickman to be the finest pitcher the Generals ever had, while he rates former

By J. W. BENJAMIN, '54

W. and L. first baseman Harry Fitzgerald as the finest long-ball hitter he ever coached.

Smith announced his retirement from the coaching lines earlier this year, giving for a reason that he couldn't give the necessary time to the sport. Replacing the old mentor will be Bill McCann, former star at the University of Virginia, who will also coach basketball next year.

Players state they will sorely miss the balding fire-ball who sat at the extreme right on the bench for 29 years. Wearing an old blue hat and sweater, "Cap'n Dick" was famous for his constant pep and his "use your own judgment men, use your own judgment." Skilled as a baseball tactician, Smith loved "inside baseball." He was especially noted for his squeeze plays.

"Cap'n Dick" will continue as athletic director, but he states he will miss being coach due to his deep love for the game and the enjoyment of being around the boys.

In other news from the spring sports season, Ben Collins didn't fare so well in his first year as lacrosse coach. The Generals posted a 5-8 record. The track team was hampered by lack of a permanent coach and of interested personnel. They lost all matches, but considering their lack of depth and time for training they turned in a remarkable record of courage and faithfulness. The golf team broke even with a 4-4 record and one tie. They also placed second in a triangular match. The tennis team, under the mentoring of student coach Ken Rockwell, also broke even with a 7-7 record.

Best record for the spring was held by the baseball team who had an 11-8 record, won the Big Six Championship, and defeated the University of Virginia in the season's finale.

Coaching the Generals in this game was Cy Young. Cy used three pitchers in holding the hard hitting Wahos to 3 runs while the Big Blue scored 5.

Dr. S. C. Lind, '99

Dr. S. C. Lind Reaps Awards

At an age when most men are retired and puttering around in a garden, Dr. Samuel Colville Lind, B.A. '99, Phi Beta Kappa, is still picking up awards in his chosen field—chemistry.

The 72-year-old atomic scientist's latest is the 1952 Priestly Medal, highest honor of the American Chemical Society, which will be conferred upon Dr. Lind at the Atlantic City meeting of the American Society next September.

Dr. Lind has multiple duties at Oak Ridge, Tennessee. He is acting director of the chemistry division at Oak Ridge National Laboratory, research consultant at Oak Ridge National Laboratory, a director of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies and is on the staff of Clark E. Center, general manager of Carbide and Carbon Chemical Company. Carbide operates the laboratory chief nuclear research center, and other atomic plants at Oak Ridge for the Atomic Energy Commission.

A native of McMinnville, Tennessee, Dr. Lind received his formal education at Washington and Lee, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the University of Leipsic, which conferred a Ph.D. degree on him in 1905. The Universities of Colorado, Michigan and Washington and Lee have awarded him honorary doctor of science degrees. He has served as Dean of the Chemistry Department of the University of Minnesota, and as President of the American Chemical Society for 1940.

Dr. Payne, '11, Leaves Bequest to University

DR. MOSBY H. PAYNE, B.A. '11, who died in New York City on March 29, named Washington and Lee University in his will as the recipient of one of three scholarships for "deserving students from the State of Virginia." The Washington and Lee scholarship, to be known as Mosby H. Payne and Virginia Winter Payne Scholarship is for a student expecting to major in chemistry. The will stipulates this "shall be construed to mean one or more."

An estimated $200,000 estate was left to Mrs. Payne during her lifetime. Then, the three schools named will share equally in the income from the remainder of the estate.

After receiving the Bachelor of Arts degree from Washington and Lee in 1911, Dr. Payne completed his medical education at the University of Virginia and Johns Hopkins University. He practiced for two years in Lynchburg, Virginia; returned to New York and was a practicing physician there for 27 years. In July, 1949, he retired to his family home, "The Meadows," on Bent Creek in Appomattox County, Virginia, but returned to New York in 1951, to live but not to practice.

Mosby G. Perrow, Jr., '30, State Senator from Lynchburg, Virginia, was named as executor and trustee of the estate.

The ROTC Flag

A hand-embroidered flag depicting the official crest of Washington and Lee University has been presented to the School's Reserve Officer Training Corps by the United States Government.

It is shown in its natural colors, with the name of the school and the reserve unit sewn on red ribbon below. The flag will accompany the National Flag at all parades and similar functions and will be escorted by an armed color guard whenever uncased.

Sam Bell Steves, '33

(Continued from page 12)

trip from Texas in 9 days by various conveyances, the last on a stagecoach from Goshen. Two of his sons, Albert, '06, (father of Sam Bell) now deceased, and Walter, '13, deceased; and five grandsons; Albert, III, '30, Sam Bell, '33, Walter, II, '39 and Marshall, '44, and many collateral uncles and cousins have attended Washington and Lee.

Class

Notes

92 . . . .

John W. Davis was the recipient of the annual achievement award of the New York State Grand Lodge of the Free and Accepted Masons at a dinner at the Statler Hotel, New York, on May 6, 1952. This dinner was part of the 171st annual meeting of the Grand Lodge which opened earlier in the day, with some 2,000 delegates attending. The citation accompanying the award described Mr. Davis as dean of the American bar, a devoted public servant and a distinguished statesman, his life reflecting the highest principles of Masonry. Mr. Davis served for many years as a member of the University Board of Trustees.

95 . . . .

Rev. C. J. Boppell was honorably retired in March by the Presbytery of Seattle, Washington, after 54 years in the active ministry, 46 in the Synod of Washington and 28 in Seattle Presbytery. Address: 2666 37th St. S. W., Seattle 6, Washington.

98 . . . .

Edward A. O'Neal spent 25 years in public life as head of the Farm Bureau in Alabama and the American Farm Bureau Federation. He is now retired and living at 221 W. Tuscaloosa Street, Florence, Alabama. He was in Lexington for the Bicentennial celebration, and reports that he reads the Alumni Magazine with delight.

99 . . . .

Harlow S. Dixon and his wife were visitors to the campus on May 1, 1952. He is representing General Shale Products Corporation, Johnson City, Tennessee. Address: 802 Vickers Avenue, Durham, North Carolina.

02 . . . .

Robert F. Cooper, Vice-President and head of the Department of Social Sciences, Belhaven College, Jackson, Mississippi, will retire on July 1, 1952. Address: 1509 Ivy Street and Linden Place, Jackson 2, Mississippi.

05 . . . .

Dr. Robert Lapsley, Jr., retired from his active pastorate as Minister of the First Presbyterian Church, Roanoke, Virginia, last January 1, and expects to

---

Let us remind you again that the material from which these notes was compiled consists of letters received by the class agents during the past spring and summer and from questionnaires returned by alumni during that period. If notes are not up-to-date, we would appreciate any further information you can let us have.

---

give his time to writing, supplying vacant churches and keeping his regular Sunday morning radio program going (called Grandfather's Chair), lecturing, etc. His home is 2115 Crystal Spring Avenue, Roanoke, Virginia.

07 . . . .

Dr. Donald W. M. MacCluer has resigned after 32 years as pastor of Rose City Park Presbyterian Church, Portland, Oregon. When Dr. MacCluer went to Portland in June, 1920, Rose City Park Presbyterian Church had a membership of 585, a $9,000 debt on its building and owed $900 on current bills. The debt-free church plant now covers half a block, has a sizeable sum in the bank for building extension in the next two years, a membership of approximately 1650 members and a Sunday school enrollment of 1099, one of the largest in any Presbyterian church. Dr. MacCluer is an ardent fisherman and looks forward to spending his leisure time in the pursuit of his hobby.

E. Clyde Hoge is senior partner and manager of Hoge-Warren-Zimmermann Construction Company, 1426 Clay Street, Cincinnati 10, Ohio.

Dr. Frank McCutchan spent six years teaching in Marion Institute in Alabama with one year in the graduate school at Princeton. In 1916 he carried out his long desire to study medicine and went to the Medical School at the University of Virginia, graduating in 1920. Since finishing his internship he has been practicing eye, ear, nose and throat diseases in Salisbury, North Carolina. Before going to Salisbury he was married to Mary Rayburn Hutton of Jackson, Mississippi, and they have three sons, two of them enrolled at Davidson College and the third in Woodberry Forest School.

08 . . . .

Peyton Hobson is a member of the law firm of Hobson & Scott, First National Bank Building, Pikesville, Kentucky. He writes his class agent—"During my years at Washington and Lee, it was a great experience, as it has been for everyone else, to live in an atmosphere of honor and faith. I only wish that the leaven of these ideals might spread throughout all other colleges of the country."

Dozier A. DeVane is Federal judge of the Northern and Southern Districts of the State of Florida, with headquarters in Tallahassee.

09 . . . .

C. Irving Carey has been living in St. Petersburg, Florida, about 27 years. He has three sons, all of whom were in the service during the second World War. All of them are graduates of the University of Florida. One son, William H., is now in his father's law office, Carey and Harrison, Florida National Bank Building, St. Petersburg, Florida. Another son is now a Special Agent for J. Edgar Hoover, the third son is living in St. Petersburg and is in accounting work. All three of the boys are married and there are three grandchildren.

Beirne Stedman is Associate Editor, Editorial Department, The Michie Company, P. O. Box 57, Charlottesville, Virginia.

John J. Forrer, Assistant Chief Engineer, Virginia State Highway Commission, retired as of March 31, 1952, after 30 years service with the Commission. In a resolution unanimously adopted by the State Highway Commission on March 25, 1952, Mr. Forrer was commended for his outstanding contribution to the development of Virginia's highways.

10 . . . .

Charles P. (Chuck) Robinson is President of The Better Business Service Company, Suite 806-807 Park Building, Pittsburgh 22, Pennsylvania. He has been a widower since 1928. Both of his daughters are married and living away from home, but he is within fairly easy reach of four grandchildren who take turns spending the week-end with him.

H. A. (Tubby) Derr is President of Vanguard Paints and Finishes, Inc.,

Marietta, Ohio, and has his share of the extra responsibilities and cares that business in general faces these days, but does what he can within the limits of his available time in community affairs, with particular interest in church and Boy Scout activities.

Charles I. Dwiggins spent most of his adult life in the banking business and doing his part toward civic betterment of Lakeland, now about 40,000 population. He has given up business and is running his citrus plantation at Lake Gibson, Lakeland, Florida. His son, William Clay (Bill), B. S. '37, is now in business in New York City and his second son, Charles, is with the Army at Ladd Airforce Base, Alaska. Both of them served in World War II.

Rayford W. Alley is President of the Alumni Association of New York. He is a member of the law firm of Alley, Cole, Grimes and Friedman, 30 Broad Street, New York, New York. He devotes a great deal of his time to the American Assembly, an offshoot of Columbia University, located at Arden, New York, which is only a few miles from his home in Tuxedo Park.

11 . . . .

John T. Gray has been engaged in the practice of law since leaving the University up until several months ago when he was elected Chancellor of the Ninth Chancery District of Tennessee. This is the kind of work which he enjoys very much, but which is very demanding. Address: The Chancery Court, Brownsville, Tennessee.

Henry C. McGavack writes his Class Agent that he is happily married, interested in 18th Century American Furniture and works for the United States Lines; is greyhaired where he isn't bald, but feels as chipper as he did in 1908 when he was a freshman at Washington and Lee.

L. L. (Humps) Humphreys and his wife were in Lexington for Homecoming, October 1951. The last game of football he played in Lexington was against Davidson in 1911 when W. and L. won by a score of 14 to 12, and he enjoyed every minute of the Davidson-W. and L. game at Homecoming with a score of 34-0 in favor of W. and L. "Humps" is chairman of the board of the Security National Bank, Duncan, Alabama.

F. P. Guthrie is Assistant Vice-President of R.C.A. Communications, 1112 Connecticut Avenue, N. W. Washington, D. C. He was initiated as a member of Omnicron Delta Kappa here last December 7.

E. W. Reid is Vice-President and Cashier of The First National Bank, Troutville, Virginia. He has been with this bank 32 years. He and his wife have two grown daughters, both now teaching.

Omer T. Kaylor, Sr., is practicing law in Hagerstown, Maryland, with his son, Omer T., Jr., A.B. '45; LL.B. '49.

John F. Brown is a member of the law firm of Brown and Higginbotham, Elkins, West Virginia. For the past three years he and his wife have been spending February and March in Miami, Florida.

12 . . . .

Rt. Rev. Lloyd R. Craighill, D.D., is now Rector of St. James Parish, Herring Creek, Lothian, Maryland. After many years service as a Missionary of the Episcopal Church in China, (ordained as a Bishop there) and interned by the Japanese; he and his wife are now enjoying the comparative peace of a country parish with visits from many friends both Chinese and American. His two sons, Lloyd, Jr., and Peyton are students at the Virginia Theological Seminary at Alexandria, Virginia. The elder son, Lloyd, Jr., is going out with his wife in mission work in Japan this summer. His daughter, Kate, is married to a student in Yale Medical School, and they have two little daughters.

13 . . . .

Philip P. Gibson was awarded the title of "Knight of the Cancer Crusade" at the annual meeting of the West Virginia Cancer Society in Charleston on March 19, 1952. This title is conferred sparingly by the Society and is the first time it has been given to a West Virginian. Mr. Gibson was cited for his excellent achievements in furthering the work of the Campbell County Cancer Society and the West Virginia Cancer Society.

14 . . . .

Col. Francis Pickens Miller, of Charlottesville, Virginia, has been appointed by President Truman to the Board of Visitors of the United States Military Academy at West Point, New York.

Arthur W. McCain has resigned as vice-chairman of the board of directors of the Chase National Bank of New York to become president of Union Planters National Bank and Trust Company of Memphis, Tennessee. Mr. McCain was elected president and a director of Chase in April 1946, and continued as president until January 1949, when he was appointed vice-chairman. He received the honorary degree of LL.D. from Washington and Lee in '49.

Ben F. Seward is with the Burger Engraving Company, Graphic Arts Building, Kansas City 6, Missouri.

16 . . . .

Thomas A. Myles is a member of the law firm of Myles and Myles, Fayetteville, West Virginia. He writes—"I am now a grandpa for the first time."

Echol S. Marshall is still in the Sales Department, Continental Can Company, Roanoke, Virginia. His son is in the Engineering School at Duke and his daughter is married and living in Birmingham, Alabama. Echol writes that his ambition is to some day be referred to as W. and L.'s oldest living alumnus.

18 . . . .

Adam B. Bowman is a member of the law firm of Simmons & Bowman, Sells Building, Johnson City, Tennessee. He joined the Navy a week after graduation and served in the Troop Transport service until the spring of 1919. He was married in 1923 and he and his wife have three daughters.

19 . . . .

James R. Fain, President of City National Bank, Winston-Salem, North Carolina, had a delightful Easter weekend trip to Myrtle Beach, South Carolina. His son, James R., B. A. '49, is in the Army and his daughter is married and living in Virginia.

20 . . . .

Edward G. Bailey is in his 18th year with Federal Home Administration and has recently taken examination to become Chief Underwriter. Address: 5504 Bewdley Road, Richmond, Virginia.

Pinkney Grissom has been with the firm of Thompson, Knight, Wright & Simmons, Attorneys and Counsellors, Republic Bank Building, Dallas, Texas, since graduation from Washington and Lee thirty-two years ago. He says that it does not seem that long, nor does he feel old enough to have four grandchildren, but that is a fact.

Joseph T. Engleby, Jr., is still practicing law in Roanoke, Virginia. His son, Joseph T. Engleby, III, received his A. B. degree from Washington and Lee in 1951 and is now in the Air Force at Pensacola, Florida.

21 . . . .

James W. Blanks is still practicing law in Clarksville, Virginia, and reports that he has the same wife, same house, the same office and the same clients, and says his wife told him at the breakfast table on the day his class letter was written, that he looked as if he had the same clothes. He reports the prospect of wonderful fishing when the basin at Bug Island Dam is finished and stocked, making it a fishing haven.

David C. Storey has lived in Atlanta, Georgia, since 1949, where he is Contracting Manager for American Bridge Division, United Steel Company. His son, Robert Wilson Storey, will graduate from W. and L. in June, and his father hopes to be present for the ceremony. Address: 1524 Healey Bldg., Atlanta, Georgia.

John Bell is still practicing law with the firm of Knight, Thompson and Bell, where he has been almost since graduation from Washington and Lee. He regrets that he is unable to get back to the campus as often as he would like, but keeps in touch with the progress of the school through the Alumni Magazine.

Howard Gibbons is still holding down the job as business manager at Madison College, Harrisonburg, Virginia. In his spare time he has been working with Harrisonburg's Cub Pack for 15 years, having served as leader the first five and since then as assistant. He has taken an active part in the work of the Methodist Church, having been Chairman of the Board of Stewards and superintendent of the Church School. He and Mrs. Gibbons have three sons still in school, the older working toward his Ph.D. degree at Princeton, the second at Duke in the Physics department in nuclear energy, and the third graduating this year from Randolph-Macon College, from which the other two graduated in '49. They also have a young daughter, Betsy, a sophomore in high school.

Philo Coco has been practicing law in Marksville, Louisiana, since 1924, when he formed a partnership with his uncle, ex-Judge and ex-Attorney General, A. V. Coco, who died in 1927, and since then Philo has been practicing alone. He spent two days in Lexington last June when his son, and namesake, received his A. B. degree. His second child, a daughter, is attending Newcomb College as a sophomore, and the third will finish high school in two years. He spends his spare time hunting and fishing and now has a houseboat, which adds greatly to his pleasure in these sports.

Morton Felsenthal has been connected with Beau Brummell Ties, Inc., for 25 years. He is married and has one daughter who is doing secretarial work in the Graduate School, University of Chicago. Address: 602 Key Korner, Brownsville, Tennessee.

22 . . . .

L. Waters Milbourne is now President of The Monumental Radio Company, WCAO of Baltimore, Maryland. Address: 1102 North Charles Street, Baltimore 1, Maryland.

23 . . . .

Frank Hurt, after graduation at Washington and Lee, went to Virginia, Princeton, Johns Hopkins and Harvard, acquiring several degrees on the way. He has taught history at the University of North Carolina, Western Maryland College and the College of Special and Continuing Studies of the University of Maryland. He is now head of the Department of Political Science at Western Maryland College, and lectures for the University of Maryland.

Rebels Bondurant, '28, and MacCorkle, '26, in Yankeeland

The above shows how two alumni contemporaries look "twenty-five years later." ARTHUR BONDURANT, '28, Vice-President of Glenmore Distilleries, Louisville, Kentucky, and EMMETT MACCORKLE, '26, Vice-President of Air Reduction Pacific Co., living in Portland, Oregon. These gentlemen were attending the Spring semester of the Advanced Management Program of the Graduate School of Business Administration at Harvard University. The Confederate flag and cap prove they are still "taking up for the South." Incidentally Emmett is Chairman of the Sessions Entertainment Committee and Bondy is Editor of the Year Book.

24 . . . .

Robert T. Merritt reports that he is still single and eligible. He is now Practices Supervisor for the Southern Bell Telephone Company, with which he has completed 26 years service, including time out for military service. Address: P. O. Box 2211, Atlanta 1, Georgia.

Thomas M. Wade, Jr., assistant to Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corporation's vice-president in charge of manufacturing, has been elected a Brown & Williamson director. Wade was a chemistry teacher at Washington and Lee when he went to work for the British-American Tobacco Company as a chemist in Petersburg, Virginia, in 1927. After working for British-American in Virginia and North Carolina, he went with Brown & Williamson, which is owned by British-American. Residence: 3309 Oriole Drive, Louisville, Kentucky.

J. Melvin Lovelace is still Commonwealth's Attorney for the City of Suffolk; still taking part in the various church and civic activities of the community, such as President of the Community Chest, active in Boy Scout work and Superintendent of his Sunday School. He has been awarded the distinction of being the First Citizen of the City of Suffolk for the year 1951.

W. Clyde Dennis has resigned as Trial Justice for Buchanan County, Virginia after having served as State President. He is practicing law in Grundy, Virginia. He has two sons one of whom was graduated from the St. Louis School of Fine Arts and is now employed by Hussman Refrigeration Company of St. Louis, Missouri, as a commercial designer and stylist. The other son is a freshman in college.

Dr. James Paul Brawner, of the English Department of the University of West Virginia faculty, was named by the West Virginia State Board of Education to the West Virginia Teacher Education Committee. Dr. Brawner, in addition to holding the A.B. and M.A. degrees from Washington and Lee, holds the Ph.D. degree from the University of Illinois.

25 . . . .

Clarence E. Hinkle, member of the law firm of Hervey, Dow & Hinkle, Roswell, New Mexico, has a son, James Lisle, who is now a junior at Washington and Lee.

Lindsay Henry is District Attorney for Suffolk County, 158 Fourth Avenue, Bay Shore, New York.

Richard Fritz is Sales Supervisor of the New Jersey Division of Tetley Tea Company. He has a son 10 years old. Address: Congers Road, New City, New York.

Dr. M. L. Llewellyn, after graduating from Emory University with a D.D.S., located in Gadsden, Alabama, and is practicing his profession there. He was married to Jane Stallworth of Monroeville, Alabama, in 1932 and they have two fine boys, Larry, age 13, and Jack, age eight.

Rev. Bruce F. Gannaway is District Superintendent of the Methodist Church Conference, Sarasota, Florida. There are nine Districts in the Conference with 34 preachers and 44 churches. He has a son, Tom, 10 years old, and a daughter, Jeanne, seven. Address: P. O. Box 2506, Sarasota, Florida.

26 . . . .

The Rev. Charles W. Lowry, D.D., Rector of All Saints Episcopal Church,

Chevy Chase, Maryland, will be the speaker at a conference of Faculty Episcopalians, on April 26, 1952, at Sweet Briar College, Sweet Briar, Virginia. The theme of the conference will center around the idea that "Religion is a Basic Component of Higher Education."

27 . . . .

Rhea Whitley is still busy raising a family and practicing law in Delray Beach, Florida. His home is at 118 Seabreeze Avenue, Delray Beach, Florida.

Leigh D. Bulluck is Vice-President and Sales Manager of Haines Hosiery, Incorporated, 350 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York.

28 . . . .

R. W. Jordan has lived in Richmond, Virginia, since 1928 and has been with Lawyer's Title Insurance Corporation since February, 1929. He is now Vice-President and counsel for the corporation.

Paul E. Daugherty, after taking his first year's law at Washington and Lee, completed his law work at Texas Law School, and practiced until entering the war in 1942. Since the end of the war he has been in the oil business.

29 . . . .

Harry E. Godwin is District Manager for the L. M. Hirsig Company, Ashland, Kentucky. He is married and has three boys and three girls, including one married daughter. Address: 2528 Auburn Avenue, Ashland, Kentucky.

William S. Price was elected Vice-President of the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland, at its annual stockholders meeting on March 12, 1952, in Baltimore, Maryland. A native of Roanoke, Virginia, Mr. Price became associated with the company in 1929, shortly after his graduation here. Following service in Atlanta and Louisville as an attorney and adjuster, he was appointed a special agent of the latter branch. Two years later he was made manager of the company's office in Houston, Texas, and in 1948 was named resident Vice-President. In his new capacity as Vice-President he will continue to supervise the company's activities in the State of Texas. Address: 916 City National Bank Building, Houston, Texas (marked Personal Attention).

William F. Chandler is Vice-President of Porter Paint Company, Louisville, Kentucky. Address: 2439 Ransdell, Louisville, Kentucky.

Addison Boyd Nickey and his brother are running a plantation in Crittenden and Desha Counties, Arkansas. Address: 218 Tuckahoe, Memphis, Tennessee.

30 . . . .

Stanley F. Hampton, M.D., is practicing his profession in St. Louis, specializing in allergy, on the faculty of the Washington University Medical School. He is also consultant to the Surgeon General of the Air Force in allergy and a regional consultant in internal medicine and allergy to the Veterans Administration. He was married in 1942 and has a six-year old daughter and a one-year old "superman" son. Address: Beaumont Medical Building, 3720 Washington Boulevard, St. Louis 8, Missouri.

George F. Ashworth is owner-manager of Belfort Farm, registered Hereford cattle, R.F.D. 1, Orange, Virginia.

James B. Merrick, Crumpton, Maryland has varied business and vacational interests; farm management, a small lime business, part ownership of a timber and excelsior business across the line in Delaware and some Washington real estate. He still plays tennis, playing on the courts of Washington College, some nine miles from his home; quail and duck hunting (fortunately it is a queer day which is not fit for one or the other); and swimming.

J. W. McDill is Assistant Division Manager, Sales Department, New York Division, The Texas Company, with offices at 205 East 42nd Street, New York 17, New York. He attended the Virginia-W. and L. game last fall and hopes to be in Lexington again for Homecoming.

John Little is Manager of the First National Bank, Louisville, Kentucky, "The oldest National bank in the South."

32 . . . .

James S. Shields is practicing law in Memphis, Tennessee, with offices in the Exchange Building. He has recently moved into a new home, and they have a 3-year old daughter.

Charles A. Wood is Lieutenant Colonel, QMC, State Procurement Officer, Selective Service, Charleston, West Virginia.

Albert G. Peery is practicing law in Tazewell, Virginia. He is married and has three boys and a girl, the oldest is ten and the youngest two.

Wayne H. Mathis returned from Navy service in 1946 and since that time has been engaged in the general practice of law in Peoria, Illinois. He has not been in Lexington since 1936, but hopes to visit the campus again within the next year. Address: Jefferson Building, Peoria, Illinois.

Lloyd H. Richmond has been associated with Marshall Field & Company for the past eight years, handling employee and labor relations. Although he is not actively engaged in the practice of law, a good deal of his work is in the field of labor law. He is married and has two sons and a daughter. Address: Care of Marshall Field & Co., 111 North State Street, Chicago 90, Illinois.

James D. Sparks won the Democratic nomination for the Thirtieth Senatorial District in Louisiana for the office of State Senator. This is tantamount to election as he does not have a Republican opponent, and he will almost certainly win the election on April 22. Gilbert Faulk, '33 of Monroe, was elected Representative. Jim is a member of the law firm of Thompson, Thompson & Sparks, Bernhardt Building, Monroe, Louisiana.

Richard O. Parmelee is Manager of Hotel Ventura, Ashland, Kentucky.

33 . . . .

John L. Ericson is a member of the law firm of Ericson, Politis and Gleason, City Hall Building, New Britain, Connecticut. The Ericsons have a second child, a son, born October 22, 1951.

Cavett Robert is a member of the law firm of Robert and Price, Luhrs Tower, Phoenix, Arizona. He has a fine family, his wife, Trudy, Joan, the oldest daughter, 13, Cavett, Jr., 12, Bill, five, and twin daughters, Lyn and Lee, 22 months.

E. H. (Eddie) Bacon has recently been elected Vice-President of the firm of Marsh and McLennan, Inc., Insurance, Price Building, St. Louis 2, Missouri.

J. Hodge (Toby) Tyler, III, is still practicing law in Norfolk as a member of the firm of Mann & Tyler, with offices in the Citizens Bank Building, Norfolk 10, Virginia.

George H. Strouse, Jr., is still practicing law in Norwich, Connecticut. Last July he was appointed Deputy Judge of the Norwich City Court and since January he has been Acting Judge. This is a part time position and does not interfere appreciably with his private practice. He has three sons, 11, nine, and three, who are good baseball and football material for W. and L. a few years hence.

Loring M. Garrison is advertising manager for Ballentine Grocery Stores, a chain of super markets, with headquarters in Easley, South Carolina.

Bernard B. (Dusty) Davis is practicing law in Shelbyville, Kentucky, with offices in the Bank of Shelbyville Building. He is recovering from the effects of an operation on his nose which, incidentally, was performed by Dr. Alex M. Forrester, '32, who was his classmate in Biology at W. and L. Dusty claims the beginning of the trouble which necessitated the nasal reaming was a solid right hand punch landed on his "scnozoola" by Tex Tilson when they were sparring in preparation for intra-mural boxing. Dusty was readying himself as a contender in the flashy 135-pound class—Tex for the heavyweight diadem. He says Tex lured him into the squared circle under the pretext of Dusty attempting to punch him, so he could sharpen his defense, and with the express understanding that he, Tex, would not punch back. The agreement was faithfully performed for two and nine-tenths rounds, but the temptation was more than Tex could bear.

34 . . . .

Rev. Darby W. Betts, assistant Chaplain of Columbia University, New York, assumed the duties of Acting Chaplain during the Spring Session, when Chaplain James A. Pike became dean of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine on February 1, 1952.

Frank Young has been named director of the Press Department of the National Broadcasting Company as of April 21. In his new capacity he will be in charge of the network's publicity and exploitation staff.

Foster Palmer is in the reference department of the Harvard College Library. This year he is Chairman of the Subscription Books Committee of the American Library Association. This is the committee that examines encyclopedias, etc., and publishes reviews of them in the Subscription Books Bulletins which appear four times a year. His spare time is spent in photography and he has progressed to the point of doing his own processing.

35 . . . .

Ed Coulbourn has turned over his law practice in Suffolk, Virginia, to his partner, who is still practicing under the firm name of Coulbourn & Mc-Lemore, and is devoting all of his time to the Greenfield Dairy and lumber manufacturing business in partnership with his brothers. After having four daughters, Ed had almost given up hope of having a son to go to Washington and Lee. However, the young man arrived, and now at one and a half years of age "is boss of the works."

Norman S. Fitzhugh, Jr., is still practicing as a Certified Public Accountant in Charleston, West Virginia, in partnership with his father, who has retired. Mr. Fitzhugh, Sr., is an alumnus of W. and L., class of '98.

36 . . . .

Jacob S. Seligman is in the department store business in Bastrop, Columbia and Bonita, Louisiana.

W. T. Alsop is president of Pillans & Smith Company, wholesale groceries, 5th and Osceola Streets, Ocala, Florida.

A former professor at W. and L. meets a present professor at W. and L., south of the equator. Reading from left to right, Dr. Barrett, daughter Ellen, Mrs. Barrett, Mrs. Varner and Jack Varner.

DR. L. L. BARRETT, writing from the American Embassy, Quito, Ecuador, where he is on leave from Washington and Lee for two years with the State Department, tells of a visit to his home in Quito from Mr. and Mrs. John Varner, who had run the binational center in Caracas for four years, after Jack had taught English at Washington and Lee, 1938-42. The picture is taken on the steps of the monument standing squarely on the equator about 15 miles from Quito.

He is married and has two lovely daughters, Katherine Fair, 12, and Mary Palmer, five.

I. Glenn Shiveley is in the automobile business—Packard and Hudson—at 204 Lincoln Way West, Chambersburg, Pennsylvania.

37 . . . .

C. A. Butterworth, Jr., has left the firm of Certified Public Accountants he was with in Philadelphia and is now with E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company as an Auditing Department Representative located at the Atomic Energy Commission's Savannah River Project. Address: 618 Orangeburg Street, Aiken, South Carolina.

Robert P. Kingsbury is Cost Accountant for the Pacific District of the Finishes Division of the Interchemical Corporation, 1366 Willow Street, Los Angeles, California. He is married and has a son, William Charles, born July 6, 1946, and a daughter, Barbara Diane, born March 20, 1950.

Albert A. Radcliffe, Jr., is a bank examiner with headquarters in Clarksburg, West Virginia, where he has been for the past three years.

Ken Dustin is associated with Lacquer, Rhode Island Co., in management and sales capacity. He is now directing new asphalt flameproofing division. He says his wife, Mary Lee (formerly of St. Louis) and daughter, Debby (Florida born six years ago) "are surprisingly content." He is building a new home in Warwick, Rhode Island, on the theory that Republicans will win in 1952. Address: 20 Brewster Drive, Hoxsie, Rhode Island.

Earle Jennings is proprietor of "Jennings, The Ladies Shop," at 32 East Main Street, Bozeman, Montana.

Walter G. (Tex) Lehr, Jr., is in partnership with his brother, Ralph E. Lehr, '41, under the firm name of Lehr Brothers, Real Estate—Mortgage Loans, Alamo National Bank Building, San Antonio, Texas. "Tex" writes that he is going back to school this summer taking an advanced course in real estate appraising to be conducted at Northwestern University during June and July. He has a son, Larry, three years old, and a little daughter, born November 20, 1951.

A. Erskine Sproul, M. D., has been practicing in his home town, Staunton, Virginia, for a little over three years. In his medical course he specialized in Obstetrics and Gynecology last summer. He has recently moved into a new home and has four sons ranging in age from eight to two years.

Norman Cutler Smith is a consulting geologist, specializing in the interpretation of aerial photographs. He and his wife, Phyllis, and daughter, Roxanne (age two and one-half), have bought a home at 5112 Horseshoe Trail in Dallas. Incidentally this house is just across the street from Pete Pridham, '42, and they have reunions almost every Saturday over spades, lawnmowers and a can of beer. Business address: 317 Mercantile Commerce Building, Dallas, Texas.

Howell W. Roberts, Jr., was called up from the Reserve list last June and has a 17-month contract—with the customary option to be considered in the light of world conditions next Fall. He has returned to statistical analysis concerning the air transport functions of MATS, much the same type of work he was doing during World War II. With a room in the permanent BOQ and the Officers' Club handy, living on the base has not been at all uncomfortable. He has a car and finds that he can negotiate the ten miles to Washington, that paradise for bachelors, in short order. Address: Office of the Comptroller, Military Air Transportation Service, Andrews Air Force Base, Washington 25, D. C.

Charles M. Williams writes that he has become fairly well settled in New England. Last year he became Associate Professor at the Harvard Business School and recently completed his doctoral work. He and his wife, with their ten months old son, Holland, live at 108 Mayo Road, Wellesley 81, Massachusetts. He was awarded the degree of Doctor of Commercial Science from Harvard University on March 31, 1952.

38 . . . .

William Henry Hudgins is now serving as Aide to Admiral Robert B. Carney who is our top American Admiral in Europe with the title of Commander-in-Chief, U. S. Naval Forces, Eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean, and also serves as Commander-in-Chief of one of the three big commands under General Eisenhower; namely, Commander-in-Chief, Allied Forces, Southern Europe, which means he has a large international staff under his second command. Billy lived in London for about a year when our U. S. Naval Headquarters was there, but now lives at the Excelsior Hotel in Naples but travels (usually by air in order to save time) throughout Europe, the Middle East, and North Africa. He would like to settle down in one place for at least a week sometime.

C. W. ("Bill") Karraker is still serving as a Pilot with Pan American Airways, flying out of LaGuardia Airport, New York. However, he has been out of the sky since Christmas with a mild dose of rheumatoid arthritis. He and his wife and three children live in Redding Ridge, Connecticut.

Ted H. Riggs has formed a partnership with Garth C. Bates for the general practice of law under the firm name of Bates and Riggs, with offices at 1618 Second National Bank Building, Houston 2, Texas.

Gilbert Meem is President of Meem-Haskins Coal Corporation, Bluefield, West Virginia, having many problems as the result of government regulations, taxes and the steel strike. He was married to Ruth Anne Brammer in 1948 and they have a son who was 17-months old in April.

Charles R. Skinner, formerly assistant to the purchasing manager, has been promoted to purchasing agent of raw materials for Pratt and Whitney Aircraft, Division of United Aircraft Corporation, East Hartford 8, Connecticut. In his new position he will have charge of procurement of all raw materials, including sheet metal, bar stock, tubing, castings, forgings, and structural and maintenance steel. Joining Pratt and Whitney in November 1941, as an expeditor, Mr. Skinner was promoted to buyer in 1942, and in 1943 was named assistant to the purchasing agent. Since January 1947, he has been assistant to the purchasing manager. Mr. Skinner lives at 145 Whiting Lane, West Hartford, with his wife and three children.

Charles R. Skinner, '38

39 . . . .

Henry Ruffin Horne has recently opened the glamorous new Horne's Drug store at 124 Hay Street, Fayetteville, North Carolina. The store was founded 86 years ago and has been in the Horne family continuously since that time.

Dr. Thornton R. Cleek is now practicing medicine in Asheboro, North Carolina.

Joe Willis Lydick has been elected president of Lydick Roofing Company, Dallas, Texas. He is also Vice-President of Lydick-Barmann Company, mechanical contractor; director of Union Bank & Trust Company and is president of the Texas Chapter of the National Roofing Contractors Association. The company has branches in Houston, Brownwood, Abilene, Lubbock, Amarillo, Wichita Falls, Texas, and Albuquerque, and Sante Fe, New Mexico.

Bill Weidman is now with Belleville Shoe Manufacturing Company, Belleville, Illinois.

40 . . . .

Edward E. Brown, Jr., associate general agent for the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company of Chattanooga, Tennessee, has qualified for 1952 membership in the Million Dollar Round Table. The round table is an organization in Chicago which audits the production of those life insurance agents in the United States who during the previous year have written and paid for at least $1,000,000 of new life insurance. Brown entered the life insurance business with his father, Edward E. Brown, Sr., '11, general agent for Penn Mutual in Chattanooga and vicinity. In February, 1941, he entered military service as second lieutenant of field artillery; served 18 months in Germany and France during World War II, and was discharged as a major in March, 1946, when he rejoined Penn Mutual.

Alton D. Farber has been appointed assistant manager of the public relations department of J. Walter Thompson Company in the Chicago office.

Gilbert Gardner, with the Chicago office of the Journal of Commerce, 516 Wrigley Building, Chicago 11, has changed his residence address to 921 Fair Oaks Avenue, Deerfield, Illinois.

Adrian L. Bendheim, Jr., connected with Morton G. Thalhimer, Inc., of Richmond, Virginia, since 1945, has been elected secretary of the firm. He was elected a member of the board of directors at the annual meeting of stockholders and immediately following the board named him secretary.

42 . . . .

Evan A. Chriss (formerly Evangelos Christ Alevizatos) received the LL.B. degree from the University of Maryland Law School in June, 1949, and is now an associate in the office of Simon E. Sobeloff in the general practice of law. He was married to Miss Ceres Andrea Rogokos on January 15, 1950, and they have a son, Timothy Dimitri, born October 26, 1950. Address: Baltimore Life Building, Tenth Floor, Charles and Saratoga Streets, Baltimore 1, Maryland.

Howard W. Wilson is with Wilson Motor Co., Carlinville, Illinois, and is also farming. He has two daughters, nine and six respectively.

Leon Worms, Jr., is now divisional merchandise manager with Strouss Hirshberg's merchandising hard lines. He married Ruth Hanstein in 1947 and they have two daughters. Address: 2505 Elm Street, Youngstown, Ohio.

Bob Isgrigg is practicing law with his brother at 518 Community National Bank Building, Pontiac, Michigan. He married Narine MacDonald of Pontiac, and they have two sons aged two and four.

B. B. Armstrong is now with Armstrong & Armstrong, general contractors of Roswell, New Mexico.

43 . . . .

E. Waller Dudley, after receiving the A.B. and LL.B. degrees from Washington and Lee, began practicing law in Alexandria, Virginia, in 1947. He and his wife and three-year old daughter live at 512 W. Braddock Road, Alexandria, Virginia.

William A. Webster, Jr., is now President of William A. Webster Company, manufacturers of pharmaceuticals and chemicals. He is married, has two sons, Billy and Danny, and lives at 939 Audubon Drive, Memphis, Tennessee.

Hudson C. Millar, Jr., and his brother bought the Cullman, Alabama, Banner, a weekly newspaper, and WKUL radio station about two and a half years ago. He married a local Cullman girl, Barbara Jean Carpenter, in 1946, and they now have a small son.

Leo J. Signaigo, Jr., is living at Welch, West Virginia, and operating a coal mine out in the country. Address: Riverside Drive, Welch, West Virginia.

John Wofford Stanley is Vice-President of Stanley Clothing Company, 111-113-115 Main Street, Evansville, Indiana.

Frederick William Bauer was awarded the Ph.D. degree in Chemistry on January 14, 1952, from Princeton University.

Frederick O. Byrer is practicing law in Charles Town, Jefferson County, West Virginia. After leaving Washington and Lee he completed his work for the A. B. and LL. B. degrees at West Virginia University. He married Margaret Elizabeth Thompson and they have one daughter, Margie, two years old.

J. Roland Camm is in the jewelry business in Santa Monica, California, under the firm name of Camm's Jewellers at 1339 Fourth Street.

James H. Blaikie is representing Stanley Works in the four Northern States. This is a large territory and he is kept busy covering it. Address: c/o Stanley Works, 618 Second Avenue, Seattle, Washington.

Al Darby has been with The News, Cumberland, Maryland, since October 1950. Address: 325 Holland Street, Cumberland, Maryland.

Dr. Conrad L. Inman, Jr., has been doing Oral Surgery in Baltimore, Maryland, practicing with his father, after interning a year in Philadelphia and two years in the Navy Dental Corps. Address: 112 Goodale Road, Baltimore 12, Md.

44 . . . .

A. Linwood Holton is the new Roanoke City Republican chairman. Address: 611-613 Shenandoah Building, Roanoke, Virginia.

Neil Tasher is Assistant Attorney General and Inheritance Tax Commissioner for the State of Colorado, Department of Law, Denver Colorado.

Gordon L. Sibley, Jr., is with Commerce Clearing House, selling their publications in central Illinois. Address: 14 Walnut Street, Springfield, Illinois.

George T. Wood is Appliance Sales Manager, Graybar Electric Company, Inc., 416 Ellamae Street, Tampa, 1, Florida.

45 . . . .

Robert H. Bertini is now in the wholesale lumber business with the R. J. Smith Lumber Company of Charlotte, North Carolina. Business address: P. O. Box 96, Charlotte 1, North Carolina; residence, 519 Willoughby Street, Apartment No. 1, Charlotte 7, North Carolina.

46 . . . .

Jim Scott received his M.D. from Duke University Medical School and is now interning at Salt Lake General Hospital, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Ray Harris Dovell, after graduation here, attended V. P. I., and graduated with a B.S. degree in chemical engineering in June, '50. Upon graduation he went to work for the Socony-Vacuum Oil Company, in the Refinery Engineering Division. After 18 months in the New York office, he was transferred to the Magnolia Refinery in Beaumont, Texas, where he expects to be for about two years. In August, 1950, he was married to the former Mildred Lee Morin of Petersburg, Virginia, and they now have a daughter, Susan Harris, who boasts red hair and blue eyes. Address: 1126-14th Street, Apt. 1, Beaumont, Texas.

47 . . . .

Rev. L. Roper Shamhart graduated from the Virginia Theological Seminary last June with a Bachelor in Divinity degree; was ordained Deacon on May 1, 1951, in R. E. Lee Memorial Episcopal Church, Lexington, Virginia; ordained Priest, December 21, 1951, in St. Thomas' Episcopal Church, Christiansburg, Virginia, and is now Rector of that Parish.

John Schuber, Jr., was recently named Assistant Trust Officer of the Wachovia Bank and Trust Company of Charlotte, North Carolina. He served with the Marine Corps in the Pacific campaigns during World War II, holding the rank of captain. In 1949, he became a member of the Administrative Staff of Wachovia's Trust Department in Charlotte.

48 . . . .

Paul G. Cavaliere and John Mangan, '42, were recently appointed police court prosecutors in New Britain, Connecticut, for a term of two years beginning July 1. Address: City Hall Building, New Britain, Connecticut.

Robert Tebbs Bosserman passed the C.P.A. examination in November, 1951, and is now on the staff of Yount & Hyde, C.P.A.'s, Winchester, Virginia.

Robert Kent Smith is now a member of the law firm of Hall, Charnock and Smith, with offices in the Peoples Building, Charleston, West Virginia. Cyrus W. Hall, '23, senior member of the firm, was formerly Judge of the Intermediate Court of Kanawha County, West Virginia.

Jesse Turner, upon graduation, joined the staff of A. M. Pullen & Co., Certified Public Accountants, Richmond, Virginia; passed C.P.A. examinations in 1949.

Fred L. Rush was married to Miss Jeannine Bearss, a former Southern Seminary girl, on August 25, 1951. Stan Livesay, '50, was his best man and Lin Pease, '50, was an usher. He was taken into the law firm with which he had been practicing, which is now Pobst, Coleman and Rush, and was elected to the office of Commonwealth Attorney on November 6, 1951. Address: Grundy, Virginia.

Jon Rugel is now permanently stationed in Europe, with American Export Lines. He spent the months of February and March aboard the "Independence" on her Gala Cruise. Address: Via Cairoli 6, Genoa, Italy.

49 . . . .

First Lieutenant James P. Gilman, after receiving his Masters in Bacteriology at Kent State University, was called by the Army from his reserve status, and is now in charge of the Bacteriology Section, Third Army Medical Laboratories, Ft. McPherson, Georgia. He and his family are settled in Atlanta at 2014 McClellan Drive, South West.

Eustace Clarence Mullins is the author of "Mullins on the Federal Reserve," published by Kasper & Horton, Box 552, General Post Office, New York 1, New York. It includes a careful presentation of the origins, purposes and activities of the Federal Reserve Board of Governors. Address: 331 North Lewis Street, Staunton, Virginia.

Champe Raftery is practicing law in Phoenix, Arizona, with offices at 313 Goodrich Building.

David Keller Caldwell received his Master of Science degree from the University of Michigan in June 1950 and spent last year at the Marine Laboratory of the University of Miami, Florida. He hopes to begin work on a Ph. D. degree in February at the University of Florida in cooperation with the University of Miami. His interests have been narrowed down to Fisheries Biology, which he hopes to make his life work.

Emmett Epley is with the Standard Vacuum Oil Company in Cebu City, Philippine Islands, where he will probably be stationed for about a year.

Matthew W. Paxton, Jr., was a visiting instructor in journalism for the spring semester of The Lee Journalism Foundation at Washington and Lee. Son of Matthew W. Paxton, Sr., '18, publisher of The Rockbridge County News, Lexington, Va., Paxton taught for one year at McCallie School, Chattanooga, Tenn., and afterwards took graduate work in journalism at Columbia University. He has been with the Lynchburg, (Va.) News since June, 1951.

50 . . . .

Chapin Morse Boyd was recently married to Mary Jo Davis in Houston, Texas. Previous to his enlistment in the U.S. Air Force he was associated with the Recordak Corporation of New York City. At present he is stationed at Ellington Air Force Base in Houston, Texas.

H. Paxton Moore, II, in May, 1951, gave his address as Personnel Office, Q-05, Willott Annex, USNTC, San Diego 44, California. Home address: 2550 Shirley Avenue, Ft. Worth 4, Texas.

Howard L. Steele is working toward his Master's degree at Penn State.

Winston Clay Thompson began pilot training with the Air Force at Goodfellow Air Force Base, Texas, in March, 1951.

Allen H. Chappel is doing post-graduate work in German literature at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, North Carolina. He is teaching one undergraduate class of German each quarter.

Francis Alfred Hare was called back in the Army, as a reservist. He is now serving at Valley Forge Army Hospital in Phoenixville, Pennsylvania, where he is doing Psychiatric Social Work on the Nuro-Psychiatric wards.

James E. Cantler is studying at Virginia Theological Seminary in Alexandria, Virginia, preparing for the Episcopal ministry. Henry Barton and Sam Odom, also of the class of '50, are quartered in the same dormitory with him. They expect to be at the Seminary for two more years after this and then have a year of field training before final ordination.

Atwell Dugger is now with Kimberly Clark Corporation of Neenah, Wisconsin, as a sales representative.

Luther Wannamaker, Jr., is doing post-graduate work at St. Andrews

Richmond Williamson, '51

University in Scotland. He has ample opportunity for travel and hopes to see a few European countries before leaving, concentrating on Germany as much as possible.

Carl Grammer Croyder, B.A. (magna cum laude, '50) was awarded the Master of Arts degree from the University of Minnesota on December 20, 1951.

Franklin S. Pease, Jr., is a salesman for the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company in New York City. His particular line is fibre board and he is covering the New York State area. Address: 99 Cooper Avenue, Upper Montclair, New Jersey.

Lt. William Howard Townsend, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Townsend, LL.B. '20, has been assigned to duty in the Third Army Judge Advocate Section, Fort McPherson, Georgia. Lt. Townsend received his A.B. degree from Washington and Lee in 1950, and his LL.B. degree from the University of South Carolina Law School in 1952, was commissioned a First Lieutenant in the Judge Advocate General Corps on February 18, 1952. His commission is in the Army Reserve Corps, and he was called to duty immediately after being commissioned.

Sam Hollis reported to the Navy O.C.S., Newport, Rhode Island, on April 8, for two months training.

Robert H. Mauck is now a medical student at the University of Virginia. His brother Billy, a senior here, is pitcher on the W. and L. baseball team.

George Thomas Alexander, Jr., has been in the Air Force for the past nine months and is presently stationed in the Headquarters Department at Amarillo Air Force Base, Amarillo, Texas. He received his Bachelor of Business Administration degree from the University of Georgia, in June, 1951. He was married to Miss Martha Zellars of Atlanta, Georgia, on January 19, 1952.

Bill Ledbetter is with Cravath, Swaine and Moore, 15 Broad Street, New York 5, New York.

John B. Sturges, Jr., entered the U. S. Naval Academy two years ago after completing his junior year at Washington and Lee.

A. H. ("Hop") Hamel had completed advance training at Camp Lejeune, North Carolina, last May, and was awaiting transfer orders. Home address: Jefferson Road, Webster Groves, Missouri.

51 . . . .

Richmond Williamson was one of 51 commissioned on May 2, with the rank of Ensign, U. S. Coast Guard Reserve, after successful completion of an intensive four month course at the Coast Guard Academy, New London, Connecticut. He enlisted in the Coast Guard on October 18, 1951, and was sent to the Coast Guard Receiving Station, Cape May, New Jersey, for boot training. He later qualified for Reserve Officer Candidate School. Home Address: 1012 Main St., Danville, Virginia.

Harry Edmond Webb, Jr., is now serving as Law Clerk to Judge Albert V. Bryan, Eastern District of Virginia. Address: 462 Bellview Drive, Falls Church, Virginia.

Beaufort Lafon Clarke, Jr., was selected for the February Class of the U.S. Navy Officer Candidate School at Newport, Rhode Island.

Morton B. Solomon hopes to have an M.B.A. from Wharton School of Finance, University of Pennsylvania, in June, 1952.

Fontaine Gilliam, now Ensign Gilliam, is stationed at Bainbridge, Maryland. After graduation he went with Dan River Mills, Danville, Virginia, in employee relations.

Wilson Straley Mahood has been assigned to a residence agency with the F.B.I., Ft. Wayne, Indiana. Address: 422 Archer Avenue, Ft. Wayne, Indiana.

E. M. ("Mac") Faris, Jr., is now Law Librarian, Washington and Lee Law School. He is married and living at 25-A Hillside Terrace, Lexington, Virginia.

Eldrige C. Hubert is now in the auditing department of Republic National Bank, Dallas, Texas, having formerly been with the First National Bank, Orange, Texas. Address: P. O. Box 2972, Dallas, Texas.

Gordon Iler, U.S. Army, is now stationed at Fort Knox, Kentucky.

William H. Kyle is with W. R. Grace & Co., in New York. He is married and his home address is 330 First Avenue, Apartment 4-E, Stuyvesant Town, New York 9, New York.

J. Alan Cross was commissioned an Ensign in the U.S. Naval Reserve upon graduation from the Officer's Candidate School, Newport, Rhode Island, on January 25, 1952.

Upton Beall is now in the food brokerage business with his father, Allein Beall, '18, in Helena, Arkansas. He stopped in Lexington in January on his way home from a food broker's national convention. He is taking an active part in community activities in Helena.

R. W. ("Bob") Pettigrew joined the U. S. Air Force last June, took his basic at Sampson Air Force Base, New York, and is now stationed at Hq. U. S. Air Force, Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama, in the Management Analysis Section. The base is about ten or twelve miles from Montgomery.

Ed Newton is at Wharton School of Business Administration, University of Pennsylvania for post-graduate work.

Fred M. Vinson, Jr., has recently become associated with James M. Earnest in the practice of law before the Federal courts and the departments and agencies of the United States government with offices at 1000 Woodward Building, Washington, D. C.

54 . . . .

Herwig Brandstetter is now back at his home, Elizabethstrasse 77, Graz, III, Austria.

Local Chapter Meeting

UPPER POTOMAC

The annual spring dinner meeting of the Upper Potomac Alumni Chapter was held on Saturday, March 29, at the Ali Chan Shrine Country Club, at Cumberland, Maryland, with approximately 50 members, students and guests present.

Mr. J. Goodloe Jackson, President of the Chapter, presided and acted as toastmaster and introduced the students and guests as well as the speakers, Coach Carl Wise and Gil Bocetti, both of whom gave a brief report on the conditions of the University and prospects for the coming year. The President on behalf of the Chapter presented a gift to Gil Bocetti in recognition of his services to Washington and Lee. Eddie Landis and Wes Abrams, both members of the varsity squad, were also introduced.

Mr. Jackson made the announcement at the dinner that the West Virginia - Washington and Lee football game would be played in Fort Hill Stadium, in Cumberland on Saturday, October 18, and that the committees would be appointed in the near future to organize plans for the game.

Monte Harris Promoted

WILMOT L. (MONTE) HARRIS, B.S., '28, has recently been made president of Mail Pouch Tobacco Company of Wheeling, West Virginia. Monte joined the Mail Pouch organization in 1934, as assistant sales manager, and in 1945 was elected Vice-President. Before joining the Mail Pouch organization he was associated with du Pont, and took a prominent part in that concern's experimenting with cellophane for wrapping cigars and cigarettes, following which he was with the national bank examining department of the U. S. Treasury. He served with distinction as a Major in the Air Corps.

Graduating from Washington and Lee in 1928, he had been on the swimming team for four years, tennis team for three years, was a member of Sigma Chi social fraternity, and was president of the Senior Commerce Class. He served successfully for three consecutive years as Class Agent for the Academic Class of '28. He is married and has four children.

Wilmot L. Harris, '28

An Alumnus Writes . . .

An alumnus of the Class of '02 writes—"Speaking of the money's giving out, I had to keep an accurate record of expenses on account of help from various sources. I well recall that my total expense for the first scholastic year, 1898-99, was the sum of $195.00. Included in that amount was $35.00 paid to the University as tuition (a $50.00 scholarship having been obtained), $11.00 per month table board at the Old Blue Hotel (always painted red), plus $2.00 a month rent up town. Here's something for the book."

Births

1933

Mr. and Mrs. William Howard Flowers of Merrily Plantation, Thomasville, Georgia, are the parents of a daughter, Thornton Taliaferro, born April 2, 1952. This is their fourth daughter, making quite a bouquet.

1937

Mr. and Mrs. K. Malcolm McCardell are the parents of a son, Charles, born January 24, 1952. Their son, Johnny, is three years old.

1942

Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Vaughan are the proud parents of a son, Aaron Hugh Vaughan, III, born January 14, 1952, in South Boston, Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Burke, III, are the parents of a daughter, Marian Deborah Burke, born April, 1951.

Mr. and Mrs. Miner Atlee are the parents of a son, Kenyon Scott Atlee, born March 10, 1952.

Dr. and Mrs. George F. Parton, Jr., are the parents of a daughter, Patricia Dean, born March 18, 1952.

1943

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Cory are the parents of a daughter, Nina Bingham Cory, born August 2, 1951. They have a new address at 2853 Regan Road, Louisville, Kentucky.

1945

Mr. and Mrs. Peter M. Fetterolf are the parents of a daughter, Shirley, born April 14, 1952.

1948

Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Glasgow, Jr., of Griffin, Georgia, are the parents of a daughter, Deborah, born April 22, 1952.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Duffield are the parents of a son, George Curtis Duffield, born March 24, 1952, Charleston, West Virginia.

1949

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Eugene Foster are the parents of a daughter, Joan Agnor Foster, born March 4, 1952.

---

Marriages

---

1938

John Howard Shoaf was married to Mrs. Elizabeth Andison Freisenbruch on March 7, 1952.

1941

Gerhart S. Suppiger, Jr., was married to Mary Jeanne Bradley, of Kirkwood, Missouri, on March 8, 1952. Residence address: No. 9 Commodore Drive, Belleville, Illinois.

Allen T. Snyder was married to Constance Munro on April 19, 1952. Home address: 2114 Benezel Road, Abington, Pennsylvania.

1943

James Sidney Parsons was married to Eleanor Viola Hutchins on May 10, 1952, in Ellenburg Center, New York.

1944

Eugene Russell Marable, Jr., was married to Martha Mitchell Kinsey on May 22, 1952, in Petersburg, Virginia.

1946

Donald S. Hillman was married to Sara Jane Arons on January 28, in Scarsdale, New York.

Joseph Nance Moffatt was married to Adelee Marie Miller on April 19, 1952, in Roanoke, Virginia.

1948

Charles Rice McDowell, Jr., was married to Ann Lewis Webb on April 26, 1952, in Richmond, Virginia.

Henry Joyce Foresman was married to Helen Tilden Williamson on April 19, 1952, in Lexington, Virginia.

Andrew H. McCutcheon was married to Miss Charlotte Andrews of Suffolk, Virginia, on January 26, 1952.

1950

John Craig Carmichael, Lieutenant, United States Air Force, was married to Sara Alice Booker on May 17, 1952, in Bowling Green, Kentucky.

John MacGregor McKelway was married to Katherine Elizabeth Berthier on March 15, 1952, in San Antonio, Texas.

1951

Wesley George Brown was married to Pocahontas Lipscomb Whitaker on March 29, 1952, in Kingston, North Carolina.

---

In Memoriam

---

1873

Dr. Thomas B. Pugh, Washington and Lee's oldest alumnus, died Sunday, May 4, 1952, at the home of his daughter in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. Dr. Pugh celebrated his 99th birthday on Saturday, May 3. Born on Woodlawn Plantation in Assumption Parish, Dr. Pugh was the son of a sugar planter. He was attending Washington College, now Washington and Lee University, when the depression of 1873 necessitated his return to Woodlawn. When he decided to study medicine, he entered the Medical School at the University of Virginia but illness prevented his taking his degree there. He finished his medical studies at Charity Hospital medical school in New Orleans and returned to Assumption Parish as a general practitioner which he kept up until he was 83. He made his calls in a horse and buggy until his retirement. On his golden wedding anniversary his friends bought him a car, but the doctor gave it up after a few tries, saying he couldn't stop the contraction and feared he would wind up in the bayou.

1888

Dr. Pendleton Tompkins died Sunday, May 25, 1952, in Lexington, Virginia.

1900

Edward McDowell Moore died May 20, 1952, in Salerno, Florida. Services were conducted at the grave in Lexington Presbyterian Cemetery.

1902

J. Wood Glass died April 2, 1952, at his home in Nowata, Oklahoma.

1905

Harvey C. Crabill died of a heart attack June 24, 1951, at his home in Middletown, Virginia, three days after he and Mrs. Crabill had moved to Middle-town from their former home in Monroeville, Indiana.

1908

Donald P. Boyer died April 19, 1952, in Richmond, Virginia. He received his

A. B. degree here in 1908, and the M.A. degree from the University of Virginia in 1946, at the age of 55.

1911

John N. Harman died November 24, 1951, after a prolonged illness. His home was in Welch, West Virginia.

1912

John Randolph Tucker died September 10, 1951, after a lengthy heart illness. His home was in Pensacola, Florida.

Byron LeRoy Ballard died May 25, 1952. His home was in Lansing, Michigan. At the time of his death he was Class Agent for the Law Class of 1912.

1913

John Dillard, of Lynchburg, Virginia, died March 13, 1952.

1914

Charles B. Gates died December 27, 1951, of a coronary occlusion. His home was in Charleston, West Virginia.

1918

William Ewing McClintock died April 22, 1952, at his home in Marianna, Arkansas.

1919

John A. Johnson died May 8, 1952. He was former Cashier of the Federal Reserve Bank of Baltimore, Maryland.

1922

Floyd J. Daughtrey died July 11, 1951. His home was in Emporia, Virginia.

1925

William Nevyn Rankin died March 13, 1952, following a heart attack. His home was in Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

1932

James W. Clopton died April 5, 1952, in a hospital in Memphis, where he had been a patient since February 23. He was a lifelong resident of Helena, Arkansas, and had been in the job printing business since 1939. At the time of his death he was president of Nichols Printing Company of Helena. During World War II, he served as a Lieutenant Commander in the Navy.

1941

Leland H. Lord was killed in an airplane crash at Los Angeles, California, March 4, 1952. An airplane designer for Fletcher Aircraft Company of California, he was testing a new plane when the crash occurred. He was the son of W. Leland Lord, '07, assistant headmaster of Woodberry Forest School, Orange, Virginia.

1941

Richard Paul Southworth died April 27, 1952. He was an attorney for the Chicago Title & Trust Company.

THE ALUMNI MAGAZINE

THE
Washington and Lee
University
Alumni Fund

THE ALUMNI FUND is your fund. Organized and directed by the alumni themselves, it provides the channel through which all men of Washington and Lee can express their confidence in, and contribute to the well being of their Alma Mater. And further, the appeal is made only once a year. Your Class Agent is doing an unselfish and loyal job for the University. He will do his part. Do your part by replying to his letter.

WASHINGTON AND LEE

Commemorative Plates

(Wedgwood)

Sold only in sets of eight different scenes

Price, $18.00 per set

Express Charges Collect

---

WASHINGTON AND LEE ALUMNI, INC.

Lexington, Virginia