Dear Mrs. Wood:

Mr. Royster Lyle recently showed me a letter that you sent him thanking him for the paper on your octagon cottage. You mentioned in the letter that you had never received a copy of the paper that Leonard Eager did on yourhouse, Blandome, for my American Architecture class last spring. I am so sorry that this happened and am enclosing a copy for you now. I and my students were extremely grateful for the help you gave them, not only on the Blandome buildings but also on the White Columns Inn. It is regretful that Mr. Eager graduated without thanking you properly. I hope you will find the paper interesting and if there is anything else I can do to make up for this unintentional rudeness, please let me know.

Thank you again for your kind assistance.

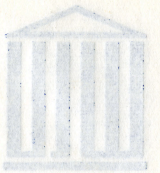

Sincerely,
